However, any production of corn, oats, Irish potatoes, or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirments if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provisions of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation for insurance shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. Where vetch is grown with an insured small grain crop all production of vetch shall be counted as production of such grain crop on a weight-equivalent basis. Any production of soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn shall not be counted as production.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels, crates, pounds, or tons determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production, or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel, crate, pound, or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels, crates, pounds or tons by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel, crate, pound or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels, crates, pounds or tons harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn, oats, soybeans, and sweet potatoes; in crates (24-quart) for strawberries; in pounds for cotton and potatoes (Irish); and in tons (rounded to tenths) for hay.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.
Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: August 31.

9. Definitions. (a) For all purposes under the contract volunteer lespedeza and strawberries for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of the beginning of the insurance period for that crop year.

(b) Notwithstanding the provisions of section 24 (d) of the policy, "crop year" with respect to strawberries means the period beginning the first day of the insurance period and ending upon completion of harvest and shall be designated by reference to the calendar year in which the strawberries are normally harvested.

10. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Jefferson County, Fla., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans or velvetbeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(d) Peanuts (Spanish and runner) planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(e) Sweetpotatoes (excluding acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(f) Tobacco, type 14.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), or weighing of the tobacco for casing, (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the oat and peanut crops upon threshing, the sweet potato crop upon digging or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than October 31 following harvest, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.27 per pound.
Oats: $0.70 per bushel.
Sweetpotatoes: $1.25 per bushel.
Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $168 per ton (Runner).
Tobacco: Fair market value as determined by the Corporation.

However, any production of corn, oats or peanuts which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation for insurance shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop). However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production, or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applied bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applied bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn, oats and sweetpotatoes, and in pounds for cotton, peanuts and tobacco.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.
Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 15.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

§ 420.59–1 Colquit County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Colquitt County Ga., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

(1) Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Peanuts, Spanish and runner planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(d) Tobacco, type 14.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.45 per bushel.

Cotton: $0.27 per pound.

Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $168 per ton (Runner).

Tobacco: Fair market value as determined by the Corporation.

However, any production of corn or peanuts which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and pounds for cotton, peanuts, and tobacco.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.

Maturity date: July 31.

Interest date: October 31.

Cancellation date: February 15.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.59–2 Jenkins County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Jenkins County, Ga., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Peanuts, Spanish and Runner, planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre of an insurance unit).

(d) Tobacco, type 14.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured corp, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), or weighing of the tobacco for easing, (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the peanut crop upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than October 31 unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1 per bushel.

Cotton: $0.27 per pound.

Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $168 per ton (Runner).

Tobacco: Fair market value as determined by the Corporation.

However, any production of corn or peanuts which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and pounds for cotton, peanuts, and tobacco.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton, shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.59–3 Emanuel County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Emanuel County, Ga., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Peanuts, Spanish and Runner planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(d) Tobacco, type 14.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 26 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing, or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), or weighing of the tobacco for casing, (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the peanut crop upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than October 31 unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.27 per pound.
Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $168 per ton (Runner).
Tobacco: Fair market value as determined by the Corporation.

However, any production of corn or peanuts which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop). However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and pounds for cotton, peanuts, and tobacco.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.59–4 Jefferson County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Jefferson County, Ga., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans or velvetbeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Oats (fall seeded only) planted for harvest as grain. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before November 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.)

(d) Peanuts, Spanish and Runner planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(e) Winter wheat seeded for harvest as grain. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is filed on or before November 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.)

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10 unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.27 per pound.
Oats: $.070 per bushel.
Peanuts:
Spanish: $188 per ton.
Runner: $168 per ton.
Wheat: $1.95 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, peanuts or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation for insurance shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop). However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. Where vetch is grown with an insured small grain crop all production of vetch shall be counted as production of such grain crop on a weight-equivalent basis.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, for such acreage, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.

[1] Production and allowances shall be in bushels for corn, oats and wheat, and pounds for cotton and peanuts.

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production and allowances shall be in bushels for corn, oats and wheat; and pounds for cotton and peanuts.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) of such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount dates: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: October 31.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.59–5 Mitchell County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Mitchell County, Ga., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Peanuts, Spanish and runner planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit)

(d) Tobacco, type 14.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine, or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the peanut crop upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than October 31 unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.27 per pound.
Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $168 per ton (Runner).
Tobacco: Fair market value as determined by the Corporation.

However, any production of corn or peanuts which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and pounds for cotton, peanuts, and tobacco.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 15.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contracting. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.59–6 Sumter County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Sumter County, Ga., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Oats (fall seeded only) planted for harvest as grain (insurance to attach beginning with oats planted for harvest in 1952).

(d) Peanuts (Spanish and Runner) planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(e) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans excluding soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn.

(f) Winter wheat seeded for harvest as grain (insurance to attach beginning with wheat seeded for harvest in 1952).

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance also will not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.27 per pound.
Oats (not insured in 1951): $0.70 per bushel.
Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $168 per ton (Runner).
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Wheat (not insured in 1951): $1.95 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, peanuts, soybeans or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation for insurance shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. Any production of soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn shall not be counted as production.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production for such acreage, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production and allowances shall be in bushels for corn, oats, soybeans, and wheat, and in pounds for cotton and peanuts.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.
Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: October 31.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.30 per bushel.
Oats: $0.60 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.85 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, soybeans, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Delaware County, Iowa, Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(c) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (1) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Oats: $0.60 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) substracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.
Maturity date: July 31.

Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Tama County, Iowa, Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(c) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Oats: $0.60 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.
Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

§ 420.63–8 Union County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Union County, Iowa, Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(c) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Lafayette Parish, La., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Rice planted for harvest.

(d) Sugarcane, including acreage harvested for seed, and excluding (i) acreage of less than one acre on an insurance unit and (ii) acreage on which three successive crops have been harvested from one planting. (Insurance to attach the first crop year of the contract only if the application is field on or before November 30 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.)

(e) Sweetpotatoes (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 75 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or rice in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or rice under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the rice crop upon threshing, the sugarcane crop upon cutting, the sweetpotato crop upon digging, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10 (January 31 following the normal time of harvest for sugarcane) unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.40 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.26 per pound.
Rice: $4.35 per hundredweight.
Sugarcane: $7.25 per ton.
Sweetpotatoes $0.80 per bushel.

However, any production of corn or rice which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels, tons, or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn and sweetpotatoes left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel, ton, or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels, tons, or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel, ton, or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels, tons, or pounds harvested.

[1] Production and allowances shall be in bushels for corn and sweetpotatoes, pounds for cotton and rice, and tons (rounded to tenths), for sugarcane. Production of sugarcane for sugar shall be standard sugarcane as determined in accordance with regulations (applicable to the crop year involved) issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.
Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: October 31.

9. Definitions. (a) "County" means parish in Louisiana.

(b) For all purposes under the contract sugarcane for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as follows: (1) the first crop from seed, on the date the planting operation is actually accomplished, and (2) second and third year crops on November 1 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.

10. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

§ 420.66–2 St. Landry Parish.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in St. Landry Parish, La., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Lespedeza (annual only) for hay (including volunteer lespedeza).

(d) Sweetpotatoes (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(e) Sugarcane, including acreage harvested for seed, and excluding (i) acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit and (ii) acreage on which three successive crops have been harvested from one planting.

(f) Rice planted for harvest.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop, and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop, except volunteer lespedeza, in which case insurance shall attach on April 1 provided there is a stand at that time sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest the following harvest season, and except for the second or third year crop of sugarcane in which case insurance shall attach on November 1 provided there is a stand at that time sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the rice crop upon threshing, the cotton crop upon picking, the hay crop upon baling or stacking, the sugarcane crop upon cutting, the sweetpotato crop upon digging, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10 (January 31 following the normal time of harvest for sugarcane) unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.40 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.26 per pound.
Lespedeza hay: $20 per ton.
Rice: $4.35 per hundredweight.
Sugarcane: $7.25 per ton.
Sweetpotatoes: $0.80 per bushel.

However, any production of corn or rice which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels, pounds, or tons determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn and sweetpotatoes left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and sweetpotatoes; pounds for cotton and rice; and tons (rounded to tenths) for hay and sugarcane. Production of sugarcane for sugar shall be standard sugarcane as determined in accordance with regulations (applicable to the crop year involved) issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
4. Cottou	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel, pound or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels, pounds or tons by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel, pound, or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels, pounds or tons harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and sweetpotatoes; pounds for cotton and rice; and tons (rounded to tenths) for hay and sugarcane. Production of sugarcane for sugar shall be standard sugarcane as determined in accordance with regulations (applicable to the crop year involved) issued by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Definitions. (a) "County" means Parish in Louisiana.

(b) "Flood" as a cause of loss insured against shall not include damage caused by the use or overflow of the Atchafalaya River Spillway.

(c) For all purposes under the contract sugarcane for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as follows: (1) the first crop from seed, on the date the planting operation is actually accomplished, and (2) second and third year crops on November 1 preceding the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.

(d) For all purposes under the contract volunteer lespedeza for hay for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of April 1.

(e) In addition to the causes of loss not insured against as stated in section 8 of the policy, the contract also will not cover loss of the rice crop due to a shortage of irrigation water where the acreage planted to rice is in excess of the acreage which could be irrigated properly with the irrigation facilities available and with a supply of irrigation water which reasonably could be expected.

(f) In addition to the provisions of section 13 of the policy, any share of an insured crop paid or to be paid for irrigation water shall be considered for the purpose of determining insurance units only as a part of the share of the insured.

10. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Dakota County, Minn., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.

(b) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(c) Flax planted for harvest as seed.

(d) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(e) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.

(f) Spring wheat seeded for harvest as grain.

(g) Mixtures of flax and spring wheat.

(h) Mixtures of spring wheat and oats.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Determining coverage(s) and premium rate(s) for mixtures. (a) If a mixture of flax and spring wheat is seeded the flax coverage shall apply. If a mixture of spring wheat and oats is seeded, the oats coverage shall apply.

(b) For the purpose of determining the amount of premium a mixture of flax and spring wheat shall be considered as flax and a mixture of spring wheat and oats shall be considered as oats.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Barley: $1.00 per bushel.
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Flax: $2.65 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.85 per bushel.

However, any production of barley, corn, flax, oats, soybeans or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at the value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Barley: $0.95 per bushel.
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Flax: $2.65 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.85 per bushel.

However, any production of barley, corn, flax, oats, soybeans, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. In determining production on acreage where a mixture of flax and spring wheat is insured, the production of each commodity shall be determined and handled separately. In determining production on acreage where a mixture of spring wheat and oats is insured, all production shall be counted as oats on a weight-equivalent basis. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production[1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

(Applicable in Goodhue County, Minn., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.
(b) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.
(c) Flax planted for harvest as seed.
(d) Oats planted for harvest as grain.
(e) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.
(f) Spring wheat seeded for harvest as grain.
(g) Mixtures of flax and spring wheat.
(h) Mixtures of spring wheat and oats.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Determining coverage(s) and premium rate(s) for mixtures. (a) If a mixture of flax and spring wheat is seeded the flax coverage shall apply. If a mixture of spring wheat and oats is seeded, the oats coverage shall apply.

For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop or any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

§ 420.71–7 Stevens County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Stevens County, Minn., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.
(b) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.
(c) Flax planted for harvest as seed.
(d) Oats planted for harvest as grain.
(e) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.
(f) Spring wheat seeded for harvest as grain.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Barley: $0.95 per bushel.
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Flax: $2.65 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.85 per bushel.

However, any production of barley, corn, flax, oats, soybeans, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at the value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.)

However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

§ 420.72–1 Panola County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Panola County, Miss., beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Oats (fall seeded only) planted for harvest as grain.

(d) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, excluding soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage (a) planted to cotton in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton under the provisions of such program, or (b) planted to soybeans following in the same crop year a small grain crop which reaches the heading stage.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10 unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.45 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.26 per pound.
Oats: $0.70 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop. Any production of soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn shall not be counted as production.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn, oats, and soybeans, and pounds for cotton.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

§ 420.72–2 Alcorn County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Alcorn County, Miss., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Lespedeza (annual only) for hay, including volunteer lespedeza.

(d) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, excluding soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop, except volunteer lespedeza in which case insurance shall attach on April 15 provided there is a stand at that time sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave it for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the hay crop upon baling or stacking, the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the soybean crop upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10 unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.26 per pound.
Hay: $15 per ton.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.

However, any production of corn or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation for insurance shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Any production of soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn shall not be counted as production.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or tons determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel, pound, or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels, pounds, or tons by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel, pound, or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels, pounds, or tons harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and soybeans; pounds for cotton, and tons (rounded to tenths) for hay.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Definitions. For all purposes under the contract volunteer lespedeza for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of April 15.

10. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweetcorn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(c) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans.

(d) Winter wheat seeded for harvest as grain.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. 4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.25 per bushel.
Oats: $0.60 per bushel.
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.85 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, oats, soybeans, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year, notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

However the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and soybeans, and pounds for cotton and peanuts.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (1) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Barley: $0.90 per bushel.
Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Flax: $2.60 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Rye: $1.05 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.80 per bushel.

However, any production of barley, corn, flax, oats, rye, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corportation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the field.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. However, if the appraised or actual production of corn which was used or could have been used for pasture, fodder or ensilage is one ton or more to the acre (on the basis of ensilage), the value of the production to be counted for such acreage shall be not less than $3.00 per acre. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for pasture, fodder, or ensilage.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insured's share or declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

However, any production of barley, flax, oats, rye, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production and allowances shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Aiken County, S. C., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Peanuts, Spanish and Virginia, planted for harvest as nuts (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(d) Soybeans planted for harvest as beans, excluding soybeans interplanted in the same row with corn.

(e) Sweetpotatoes (excluding acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the sweetpotato crop upon digging, all other crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any insured crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (1) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

Corn: $1.10 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.27 per pound.
Peanuts: $188 per ton (Spanish), $179 per ton (Virginia).
Soybeans: $1.90 per bushel.
Sweetpotatoes: $1.25 per bushel.

However, any production of corn, peanuts, or soybeans which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop). However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Any production of soybeans interplanted in the same row with the corn shall not be counted.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels, or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels, or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn, soybeans, and sweetpotatoes, and pounds for cotton and peanuts.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: October 31.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

§ 420.89–1 Bon Homme County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Bon Homme County, S. Dak., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.

(b) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(c) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(d) Rye planted for harvest as grain.

(e) Wheat seeded for harvest as grain.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. 4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Barley: $0.95 per bushel.
Corn: $1.15 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Rye: $1.05 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.80 per bushel.

However, any production of barley, corn, oats, rye, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss, and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

Corn: $1.20 per bushel.
Flax: $2.60 per bushel.
Oats: $0.55 per bushel.
Rye: $1.05 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.80 per bushel.

However, any production of barley, corn, flax, oats, rye or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support, because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest and an appraisal of corn used for ensilage or fodder.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production and allowances shall be in bushels for all crops.

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels harvested.
5. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due partially to cause(s) not insured against and partially to cause(s) insured against.	Appraised number of bushels by which production for such acreage has been reduced because of cause(s) not insured against.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for all crops.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.
Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

§ 420.89–4 Deuel County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Deuel County, S. Dak., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:
(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.
(b) Corn normally regarded as field corn. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.
(c) Flax planted for harvest as seed.
(d) Oats planted for harvest as grain.
(e) Rye planted for harvest as grain.
(f) Spring wheat seeded for harvest as grain.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (1) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:
Barley: $0.95 per bushel.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Henry County, Tenn., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn, or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(b) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(c) Sweetpotatoes (including acreages of less than one acre on an insurance unit).

(d) Tobacco, types 23 and 35.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop, and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), or weighing of the tobacco for easing, (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the sweetpotato crop upon digging, or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than March 31 following harvest, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 31, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Corn: $1.35 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.26 per pound.
Sweetpotatoes: $1.25 per bushel.
Tobacco: Fair market value as determined by the Corporation.

However, any production of corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the insured interest, and the result by the applicable coverage per acre, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop). However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or pounds by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or pound equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or pounds harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn and sweetpotatoes, and pounds for cotton and tobacco.

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

[SEAL] FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE CORPORATION.

§ 420.90–2 Lincoln County.

RIDER NO. 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Lincoln County, Tenn., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Alfalfa hay.

(b) Lespedeza (annual only) for hay, including volunteer lespedeza.

(c) Corn normally regarded as field corn, including corn with which soybeans are interplanted. The contract will not provide insurance for true type silage corn, corn planted thick for silage or fodder purposes, sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn or any type of corn other than that normally regarded as field corn.

(d) Cotton, restricted to American upland cotton and not including cotton planted primarily for experimental purposes.

(e) Tobacco, type 31.

2. Coverage per acre. (a) The coverage per acre for each insured crop, except cotton, shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

(b) The coverage per acre for cotton which is not harvested shall be reduced as follows: (1) 60 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop and (2) 25 percent for any unharvested acreage released by the Corporation and not planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insured acreage. In addition to the acreage specified in Section 4 of the policy with respect to which no insurance will attach, insurance will also not attach with respect to any acreage planted to cotton or tobacco in excess of the allotment or permitted acreage established under any program administered by the Secretary of Agriculture but destroyed by natural causes or by the insured and not considered as cotton or tobacco under the provisions of such program.

4. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop except alfalfa in which case insurance shall attach on November 1 (preceding harvest), and volunteer lespedeza in which case insurance shall attach on May 1 (preceding harvest), provided in either case there is a stand on the applicable date sufficient that farmers in the area generally would leave the crop for harvest the following harvest season. Insurance shall cease with respect to (a) any portion of the tobacco crop upon weighing-in at the tobacco warehouse, transfer of interest in the tobacco after harvest, removal of the tobacco from the insurance unit (except for curing, packing or immediate delivery to the tobacco warehouse), or weighing of the tobacco for casing, (b) any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the cotton crop upon picking, the hay crop upon baling or stacking, or with respect to any portion of any crop (except tobacco) upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to tobacco later than February 28 following harvest unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, (b) with respect to any other crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (c) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

5. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Alfalfa: $25 per ton.
Corn: $1.15 per bushel.
Cotton: $0.26 per pound.
Lespedeza: $18 per ton.
Tobacco: Fair Market value as determined by the Corporation.

However any production of corn which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per unit determined by the Corporation. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

6. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested, except that any corn may be used for ensilage or fodder without a release by the Corporation if the insured leaves a number of rows considered by the Corporation to be an adequate representative sample for appraising the yield.

7. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop except cotton.	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels, pounds, or tons determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
3. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
4. Cotton	Acreage released by the Corporation which is not harvested and not planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production which is in excess of the number of pounds determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were harvested and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price.
5. Cotton	Acreage harvested	Production, including an appraisal of production left in the field after harvest.
6. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel, pound, or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
7. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels, pounds, or tons by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel, pound, or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre, on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels, pounds, or tons harvested.

[1] Production shall be in bushels for corn, pounds for cotton and tobacco, and in tons (rounded to tenths) for [illegible]

Notwithstanding the other provisions of this paragraph (a) regarding the determination of the total production of cotton, in any case where the quality of any cotton production is reduced solely by insured causes to the extent that the value per pound, as determined by the Corporation, is less than 75 percent of the predetermined price, the number of pounds of such poor quality cotton shall be adjusted downward to the number of pounds obtained by dividing the total value of such cotton, as determined by the Corporation, by 75 percent of the predetermined price.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on the insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

8. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

9. Definitions. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 24 (d) of the policy, "crop year" with respect to alfalfa hay means the 12-month period beginning each year with the first day of the insurance period and shall be designated by reference to the calendar year in which the crop is normally harvested.

(b) For all purposes under the contract alfalfa and volunteer lespedeza hay for harvest within the crop year shall be considered to have been planted as of the beginning of the insurance period for that crop year.

10. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Approved: Beginning with the 1951 crop year.

RIDER NO 1 TO THE MULTIPLE CROP INSURANCE POLICY

(Applicable in Fond du Lac County, Wis., Beginning With the 1951 Crop Year)

1. Insurable crops. For the purpose of the multiple crop insurance program the insurable crops are:

(a) Barley planted for harvest as grain.

(b) Canning peas planted for commercial processing.

(c) Corn planted for grain, silage or fodder but not including sweet corn, popcorn, broom corn, or corn planted for the development of hybrid seed corn.

(d) Flax planted for harvest as seed.

(e) Oats planted for harvest as grain.

(f) Winter wheat seeded for harvest as grain.

2. Coverage per acre. The coverage per acre for each insured crop shall be reduced 50 percent for any acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.

3. Insurance period. Insurance shall attach at the time of planting to any insured acreage of any insured crop. Insurance shall cease with respect to any portion of the corn crop upon harvesting (picking the corn from the stalk either by hand or machine or cutting the corn for fodder or ensilage), the canning pea crop upon harvesting, all other insured crops upon threshing, or with respect to any portion of any crop upon removal from the field, whichever is earlier. However, in no event shall insurance remain in effect (a) with respect to any crop later than the earlier of (i) the end of the normal harvest period for such crop or (ii) December 10, unless such time is extended in writing by the Corporation, and (b) with respect to any insurance unit later than the date of submission of a claim for indemnity.

4. Predetermined price for valuing production. Production of each insurable crop shall be evaluated at the following predetermined prices for the 1951 crop year:

Barley: $1 per bushel.
Corn grain: $1.25 per bushel.
Corn silage: $5.10 per ton.
Flax: $2.65 per bushel.
Oats: $0.60 per bushel.
Wheat: $1.85 per bushel.
Canning peas: Fair market value (based on prices contained in the insured's contract(s) with the canning company(ies)) as determined by the Corporation. However, in any case there shall be added to the value of the production (see sec. 6) (a) an amount equal to 30 percent of the value of production from seed peas for which the insured is not required to pay under the terms of his contract(s) with the canning company(ies) and (b) the amount of any bonus(es) paid or owing to the insured under a contract(s) with a canning company(ies). If the insured does not have a contract with a canning company or the insured's contract with a canning company does not include a price for dry peas the Corporation may determine the fair market value on the basis of prices contained in the contract of any canning company operating in the county.

However, any production of barley, corn (as set forth below), flax, oats, or wheat which will not meet the latest available requirements for a Commodity Credit Corporation loan or support because of poor quality due to insurable causes, and would not meet these requirements if properly handled, shall be evaluated at a value per bushel determined by the Corporation. In order for corn to be so evaluated for poor quality it must be a variety of corn adapted to the production of corn for grain and must be harvested as grain or fodder. For any subsequent crop year notice of any change in the predetermined price from the prior crop year shall be mailed by the Corporation to the insured at least 15 days before the cancellation date shown herein.

5. Released crop. Notwithstanding any other provision of the policy any crop on any insured acreage may be released by the Corporation subject to an appraisal by the Corporation of the yield that would be realized if the crop were harvested.

6. Amount of loss. (a) The amount of loss with respect to any insurance unit shall be determined by (1) multiplying the insurable acreage (exclusive of any acreage to which insurance did not attach) planted to each insured crop by the applicable coverage per acre, and the result by the insured interest, and (2) subtracting from the total thereof the insured interest in the value (based on the predetermined price) of the total production on such acreage of all insured crops. (In any case where the Corporation exercises its right to limit the insured acreage of any crop to the allotment or permitted acreage established for such crop, the acreage of that crop approved by the Corporation on the acreage report shall be considered as the planted acreage in computing the amount of loss and the production for such acreage shall be its proportionate part of the total production from all the acreage of that crop.) However, the amount of loss so determined shall be reduced if the premium computed for the insurance unit on the basis of the acreage and interest approved by the Corporation on the acreage report is less than the premium computed for the planted acreage on the insurance unit. This reduction shall be made on the basis of the ratio of the premium computed for the acreage and interest as approved by the Corporation on the acreage report to the premium computed for the planted acreage. The total production for each insured crop on the insurance unit shall include all production determined in accordance with the production schedule below. Production of corn shall be counted as corn grain, except that any production for any corn harvested for silage and the appraised production for any true type silage corn and corn planted thick for silage but not harvested as silage shall be counted as corn silage. Where any small grains are seeded with an insured growing small grain crop on acreage not released by the Corporation, all production shall be counted as the insured small grain on a weight-equivalent basis. In the case of a volunteer crop produced with an insured crop, the production of such volunteer crop shall be included in determining the production of the insured crop.

The Corporation reserves the right to determine the amount of production on the basis of an appraisal of any unharvested crop standing in the field.

PRODUCTION SCHEDULE

Crop	Acreage classification	Total production [1]
1. Each insured crop	Acreage released by the Corporation and planted to a substitute crop.	That portion of the appraised production for such acreage which is in excess of the number of bushels or tons determined by (1) subtracting the total coverage for such acreage from what the total coverage for such acreage would be if it were not planted to a substitute crop, and (2) dividing the result thus obtained by the predetermined price for the crop.
2. Each insured crop	Acreage not planted to a substitute crop.	The appraised production or the actual production, including an appraisal of corn left in the field after harvest.
3. Each insured crop	Acreage put to another use without the consent of the Corporation.	Appraised production for such acreage but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the bushel or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop.
4. Each insured crop	Acreage with reduced yield due solely to cause(s) not insured against.	Appraised number of bushels or tons by which production for such acreage has been reduced but not less than the product of (1) such acreage and (2) the applicable bushel or ton equivalent of the coverage per acre on the basis of the predetermined price for the crop, minus the number of bushels or tons harvested.

(b) If production from two or more insurance units is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, the Corporation may allocate the commingled production between the units involved in any manner it deems appropriate or void the insurance on the insurance units involved and declare the premium(s) for such units forfeited by the insured. If production from uninsured acreage and insured acreage is commingled and the insured fails to establish and maintain separate acreage and production records satisfactory to the Corporation, all such production which is commingled shall be considered to have been produced on th insured acreage or the Corporation may void the insurance on the insurance unit(s) involved and declare the premium(s) for such unit(s) forfeited by the insured.

7. Date table.

Discount date: June 30.
Maturity date: July 31.
Interest date: October 31.
Cancellation date: February 28.

8. Reduction of premium based on good experience. The insured's annual premium for any year may be reduced 25 percent if he has had seven consecutive years of insured crop(s) under a Federal Crop Insurance contract without a loss for which an indemnity was paid. Credit for consecutive years of good experience under any other existing Federal Crop Insurance contract will not be transferred to the multiple crop contract if the insured is eligible to receive a premium discount based on consecutive years of good experience or based on an accumulated balance of premiums over indemnities under such existing contract. Nothing in this paragraph shall create in the insured any right to a reduced premium.

Chapter IX—Production and Marketing Administration (Marketing Agreements and Orders), Department of Agriculture

[Plum Order 1]

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

REGULATION BY GRADES AND SIZES

§ 936.396 Plum Order 1—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936; 14 F. R. 2684), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta Peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Plum Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of plums of the variety hereinafter set forth, and in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than May 25, 1951. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such plums must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Plum Commodity Committee until May 15, 1951, recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such plums was made at the meeting of said committee on May 15, 1951, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such plums, at which time the recommendation and supporting information was submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such plums are expected to begin on or about May 25, 1951, this section should be applicable to all such shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 25, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., August 1, 1951, no shipper shall ship any package or container of Beauty plums unless:

(i) Such plums grade at least U. S. No. 1; and

(ii) Such plums are of a size not smaller than a size that will pack a 5 x 5 standard pack in a standard basket. The aforesaid 5 x 5 standard pack is defined more specifically in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) As used in this section, the aforesaid 5 x 5 standard pack is defined more specifically as follows: (i) At least thirty-five (35) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1^9/_{16}$ inches in diameter; (ii) at least ninety-five (95) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1^7/_{16}$ inches in diameter; and (iii) no plums contained in such pack measure less than $1^5/_{16}$ inches in diameter.

(3) During the period set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, each shipper shall, prior to making each such shipment of plums, have the plums inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, heretofore designated by the Plum Commodity Committee and hereby approved: Provided, That, in case the following conditions exist in connection with any such shipment:

(i) A written request for inspection is made to the Federal-State Inspection Service not later than 5:00 p. m. of the day before the fruit will be available for inspection;

(ii) The shipper designates in such request the date and hours when the fruit will be available for inspection; and

(iii) The Federal-State Inspection Service furnishes the shipper with a signed statement that it is not practicable, under such conditions, for the Federal-State Inspection Service to make the inspection within the necessary time;

the shipper, by submitting, or causing to be submitted, promptly such signed statement to the Plum Commodity Committee, may make the particular shipment without inspection; but such shipper shall comply with all grade and size regulations applicable to such shipment.

(4) Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order; the terms "U. S. No. 1," "standard pack," and "diameter" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the revised United States Standards for plums and prunes (fresh), 7 CFR 51.360; and the term "standard basket" shall have the same meaning as set forth in paragraph numbered 1 of section 828.1 of the Agricultural Code of California.

A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such plums must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Plum Commodity Committee until May 15, 1951, recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such plums was made at the meeting of said committee on May 15, 1951, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such plums, at which time the recommendation and supporting information was submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such plums are expected to begin on or about June 1, 1951, this section should be applicable to all such shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 1, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., October 16, 1951, no shipper shall ship any package or container of Santa Rosa plums unless:

(i) Such plums grade at least U. S. No. 1; and

(ii) The plums are, except to the extent otherwise specified in this paragraph, of a size not smaller than a size that will pack a 4 x 5 standard pack in a standard basket.

(2) During each day of the aforesaid period, however, any shipper may ship from any shipping point a quantity of such plums, by number of packages or containers, which are of a size smaller than a size that will pack a 4 x 5 standard pack, as aforesaid, but are not of a size smaller than a size that will pack a 5 x 5 standard pack in a standard basket if said quantity does not exceed twenty (20) percent of the number of the same type of packages or containers of plums which are of a size not smaller than a size that will pack a 4 x 5 standard pack, as aforesaid. The aforesaid 4 x 5 standard pack and 5 x 5 standard pack are defined more specifically in subparagraphs (4) and (5), respectively, of this paragraph.

(3) If any shipper, during any two (2) consecutive days of the aforesaid period, ships from any shipping point less than the maximum allowable quantity of such plums that may be of a size smaller than a size that will pack a 4 x 5 standard pack, as aforesaid, the aggregate amount of the undershipment of such plums may be shipped by such shipper only from such shipping point during the next succeeding calendar day in addition to the quantity of such plums of a size smaller than a size that will pack a 4 x 5 standard pack, as aforesaid, that such shipper could have shipped from such shipping point on such succeeding calendar day if there had been no undershipment during the two (2) preceding days.

(4) As used in this section, the aforesaid 4 x 5 standard pack is defined more specifically as follows: (i) At least thirty-five (35) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1^{11}/_{16}$ inches in diameter; (ii) at least ninety-five (95) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1^9/_{16}$ inches in diameter; and (iii) no plums contained in such pack measure less than $1^7/_{16}$ inches in diameter.

(5) As used in this section, the aforesaid 5 x 5 standard pack is defined more specifically as follows: (i) At least thirty-five (35) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1^9/_{16}$ inches in diameter; (ii) at least ninety-five (95) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1^7/_{16}$ inches in diameter; and (iii) no plums contained in such pack measure less than $1^5/_{16}$ inches in diameter.

(6) During the period set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, each shipper shall, prior to making each such shipment of plums, have the plums inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, heretofore designated by the Plum Commodity Committee and hereby approved: Provided, That, in case the following conditions exist in connection with any such shipment:

(i) A written request for inspection is made to the Federal-State Inspection Service not later than 5:00 p. m. of the day before the fruit will be available for inspection;

(ii) The shipper designates in such request the date and hours when the fruit will be available for inspection; and

(iii) The Federal-State Inspection Service furnishes the shipper with a signed statement that it is not practicable, under such conditions, for the Federal-State Inspection Service to make the inspection within the necessary time;

the shipper, by submitting or causing to be submitted promptly such signed statement to the Plum Commodity Committee, may make the particular shipment without inspection, but such shipper shall comply with all grade and size regulations applicable to such shipment.

(7) Terms used in this section shall have the same meaning as when used in the amended marketing agreement and order; the terms "U. S. No. 1," "standard pack," and "diameter" shall have the same meaning as set forth in the revised United States Standards for Plums and Prunes (fresh), 7 CFR 51.360; and the term "standard basket" shall have the same meaning as set forth in paragraph numbered 1 of section 828.1 of the Agricultural Code of California.

PART 936—FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

REGULATION BY GRADES AND SIZES

§ 936.398 Plum Order 3—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936; 14 F. R. 2684), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta Peaches grown in the State of California, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, and upon the basis of the recommendations of the Plum Commodity Committee, established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of shipments of plums of the variety hereinafter set forth, and in the manner herein provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) in that, as hereinafter set forth, the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient; a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective not later than June 1, 1951. A reasonable determination as to the supply of, and the demand for, such plums must await the development of the crop thereof, and adequate information thereon was not available to the Plum Commodity Committee until May 15, 1951, recommendation as to the need for, and the extent of, regulation of shipments of such plums was made at the meeting of said committee on May 15, 1951, after consideration of all available information relative to the supply and demand conditions for such plums, at which time the recommendation and supporting information was submitted to the Department; shipments of the current crop of such plums are expected to begin on or about June 1, 1951, this regulation should be applicable to all such shipments in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act; and compliance with the provisions of this section will not require of handlers any preparation therefor which cannot be completed by the effective time hereof.

(b) Order. (1) During the period beginning at 12:01 a. m., P. S. t., June 1, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. S. t., September 1, 1951, no shipper shall ship any package or container of Formosa plums unless:

(i) Such plums grade at least U. S. No. 1; and

(ii) Such plums are of a size not smaller than a size that will pack a 4 x 5 standard pack in a standard basket. The aforesaid 4 x 5 standard pack is defined more specifically in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph.

(2) As used in this section, the aforesaid 4 x 5 standard pack is defined more specifically as follows: (i) At least thirty-five (35) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1\frac{11}{16}$ inches in diameter (ii) at least ninety-five (95) percent, by count, of the plums contained in such pack measure not less than $1\frac{9}{16}$ inches in diameter; and (iii) no plums contained in such pack measure less than $1\frac{7}{16}$ inches in diameter.

(3) During the period set forth in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, each shipper shall, prior to making each such shipment of plums, have the plums inspected by a duly authorized representative of the Federal-State Inspection Service, heretofore designated by the Plum Commodity Committee and hereby approved: Provided, That, in case the following conditions exist in connection with any such shipment:

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter II—Civil Aeronautics Administration, Department of Commerce

[Amdt. 53]

PART 601 — DESIGNATION OF CONTROL AREAS, CONTROL ZONES, AND REPORTING POINTS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

The control area and control zone alterations appearing hereinafter have been coordinated with the civil operators involved, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force, through the Air Coordinating Committee, Airspace Subcommittee, and are adopted when indicated in order to promote safety of the flying public. Compliance with the notice, procedures, and effective date provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act would be impracticable and contrary to public interest, and therefore is not required.

Part 601 is amended as follows:

1. Section 601.15 Green civil airway No. 5 control areas (Los Angeles, Calif., to Boston, Mass.) is amended by adding the following portion to present control areas: "From the Memphis, Tenn., omnirange station to the Jackson, Tenn., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° southeast altitude change radials; from the Jackson, Tenn., omnirange station to the Graham, Tenn., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° southeast altitude change radials; from the Graham, Tenn., omnirange station to the Nashville, Tenn., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; from the Nashville, Tenn., omnirange station to the Pikeville, Tenn., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° north altitude change radials including all that area bounded on the north by Green civil airway No. 5 and on the south by the Pikeville-Nashville direct en route radials; from the Pikeville, Tenn., omnirange station to the Knoxville, Tenn., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° south altitude change radials."

2. Section 601.104 Amber civil airway No. 4 control areas (Brownsville, Tex., to Minot, N. Dak.) is amended by adding the following portion to present control areas: "from the Aberdeen, S. Dak., omnirange station to the Bismarck, N. Dak., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° southwest altitude change radials; from the Bismarck, N. Dak., omnirange station to the Minot, N. Dak., omnirange station via the direct en route radials."

3. Section 601.106 is amended to read:

§ 601.106 Amber civil airway No. 6 control areas (Jacksonville, Fla., to United States-Canadian Border). All of Amber civil airway No. 6 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the Jacksonville, Fla., omnirange station to the Alma, Ga., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° southwest altitude change radials; from the Alma, Ga., omnirange station to the Macon, Ga., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° northeast altitude change radials. From the Chattanooga, Tenn., omnirange station to the Nashville, Tenn., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° southwest altitude radials excluding that portion which overlaps the Camp Forrest danger area; from the Nashville, Tenn., omnirange station to the Bowling Green, Ky., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials, including all that area bounded on the southwest by Blue civil airway No. 3, on the northwest by Amber civil airway No. 6 and on the east by the Nashville-Bowling Green omnirange direct en route radials.

4. Section 601.107 is amended to read:

§ 601.107 Amber civil airway No. 7 control areas (Key West, Fla., to U. S.-Canadian Border). All of Amber civil airway No. 7 including all that area within 5 miles either side of the en route and altitude change radials and the area between the altitude change and en route radials from the West Palm Beach, Fla., omnirange station to the Vero Beach, Fla., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials; from the Vero Beach, Fla., omnirange station to the Daytona Beach, Fla., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° west altitude change radials; from the Daytona Beach, Fla., omnirange station to the Jacksonville, Fla., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials; from the Jacksonville, Fla., omnirange station to the Brunswick, Ga., omnirange station via the direct en route radials; from the Brunswick, Ga., omnirange station to the Savannah, Ga., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° east altitude change radials; from the Savannah, Ga., omnirange station to the Charleston, S. C., omnirange station via the direct en route and 15° northwest altitude change radials; from the Charleston, S. C., omnirange station to the Florence, S. PART 373—LICENSING POLICIES AND RELATED SPECIAL PROVISIONS

PART 374—PROJECT LICENSES

PART 384—GENERAL ORDERS

PART 398—PRIORITY RATINGS AND SUPPLY ASSISTANCE ASSIGNED BY OIT

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Section 371.8 General license GRO is amended in the following particulars:

a. Paragraph (a) Scope of license is amended to read as follows:

(a) Scope of license. (1) A general license designated GRO is hereby established authorizing the exportation to all destinations of all commodities not included on the Positive List of Commodities (§ 399.1), subject to the limitations set forth in this section.

(2) No exportations may be made under this general license to Subgroup A countries. In addition, no such exportations ultimately destined to Hong Kong or Macao may be made except fresh fruits (Schedule B Nos. 130100 through 131990), fresh vegetables (Schedule B Nos. 120710 through 122490), and cut flowers (Schedule B No. 259998). In every such case, the exporter shall at the time of clearing the shipment, present to the collector of customs an extra (fourth) copy of the shipper's export declaration for authentication, and, immediately after its authentication, the exporter shall send the authenticated (fourth) copy of the declaration to the Office of International Trade, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., Attention: Agricultural Products Division.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of May 17, 1951.

3. Section 374.2 Dollar limits (DL) licenses is amended in the following particulars: Paragraph (f) Submission of Form IT-375, is amended to read as follows:

(f) Submission of Form IT-375—(1) Manner of submission. Where required in accordance with paragraph (e) of this section Form IT-375 must be submitted, in duplicate, for each restricted commodity, except that related commodities having the same processing code symbol and number may be included on one set of Form IT-375. Commodities which do not have the same processing code symbol and number must be submitted on separate IT-375 forms.

In addition to furnishing all the other information requested, Form IT-375 must include a statement of firm requirements for the calendar quarter, stated in terms of the Schedule B number, commodity description, and quantity in the unit of quantity shown for that commodity entry on the Positive List, as well as in terms of total dollar value.

NOTE: A statement of the essentiality of the particular commodity in relation to the project will be helpful in expediting action on the application.

(2) Time of submission. When specific time schedules are established for submission of applications covering particular commodities, such schedules must be observed in the submission of Form IT-375 when so provided in the announcement. In all other cases Form IT-375 must be submitted not later than 30 days prior to the calendar quarter in which the commodity will be exported, except that where a commodity is placed under restricted commodity control invalidating the license with respect to that commodity less than 30 days prior to a calendar quarter, Form IT-375 may be submitted immediately.

NOTE: The commodities for which Form IT-375 must be submitted during particular periods are identified by a footnote reference in Supplement 1 to Part 373, Time schedules for submission of applications for licenses to export certain Positive List commodities.

4. Section 374.3 SP (Special) project licenses is amended in the following particulars: Paragraph (d) Form IT-375 is amended to read as follows:

(d) Form IT-375—(1) Estimate of total or yearly requirements. A copy of Form IT-375, SP (Special) License Application Material Requirements List, in duplicate, must accompany each copy of application Form IT-419 and should be attached thereto. In addition to furnishing all the other information requested, Form IT-375 must include an estimate of the quantity of each commodity required. Such estimates must cover:

(i) In the case of projects, the total requirements thereof set forth by calendar quarter;

(ii) In the case of programs, the requirements for a full 12-month period set forth by calendar quarter.

(2) Firm requirements by calendar quarters. For the beginning and each succesive calendar quarter, a separate Form IT-375, in duplicate, must be submitted for each commodity for which validated license is required, except that related commodities on the Positive List having the same processing code symbol and number may be included on one set of Form IT-375. Commodities which do not have the same processing code symbol and number must be submitted on separate IT-375 forms.

In addition to furnishing all the other information requested, Form IT-375 must include the following:

(i) A statement of firm requirements for the calendar quarter, stated in terms of the Schedule B number, commodity description, and quantity in the unit of quantity shown for that commodity on the Positive List, as well as in terms of total dollar value;

(ii) The estimated date on which the commodities listed on each Form IT-375 will become available to the applicant.

NOTE: Commodities which do not require a validated license to export to the country of destination should not be listed on Form IT-375.

(3) Time of submission of firm requirements. When specific time schedules are established for submission of applications covering particular commodities, such schedules must be observed in the submission of Form IT-375 covering quarterly firm requirements when so provided in the announcement. In all other cases Form IT-375 must be submitted not later than 30 days prior to the calendar quarter in which the commodity will be exported.

NOTE: The commodities for which Form IT-375 must be submitted during particular periods are identified by a footnote reference in Supplement 1 to Part 373, Time schedules for submission of applications for licenses to export certain Positive List commodities.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of May 17, 1951.

5. Section 384.5 Order revoking certain general licenses to mainland of China (including Manchuria), Hong Kong, and Macao is amended in the following particulars:

The last unnumbered paragraph is amended to read as follows:

However, exportations of fresh fruits, fresh vegetables, and cut flowers ultimately destined to Hong Kong and Macao may be made under General License GRO in accordance with § 371.8 of this chapter.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of June 1, 1951.

Section 398.2 Serial numbers for mines, smelters and mineral processing plants abroad is amended in the following particulars:

The first unnumbered subparagraph of paragraph (c) Submission of requests, content is amended to read as follows:

Prior to July 1, 1951, or as soon thereafter as possible, producers operating mines, smelters, and mineral processing plants located in foreign countries, except Canada and countries for which the Economic Cooperation Administration is claimant agency (listed in § 398.1 (c)), shall file directly, or through an exporter or other person in the United States, a request for serialization. The request for serialization need be submitted only once. The request shall consist of the following:

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of May 17, 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 20, Amendment 1]

CPR 20—FUTURES TRADING ON WOOL EXCHANGE

REVISED CEILING PRICES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 20 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

On April 6, 1951, Ceiling Price Regulation 20 was issued, establishing ceiling prices at which contracts might be traded, and deliveries made, on the Wool Associates of the New York Cotton Exchange. The ceiling prices for wool and wool top fixed at that time were based on the highest price at which contracts for May delivery traded on the Exchange during the period December 19, 1950, to January 26, 1951.

Since the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 20 the price of wool on world markets has declined over 20 percent. This decline has been reflected in the prices at which contracts are currently being traded on the Exchange. Furthermore, Ceiling Price Regulation 35, issued on May 9, 1951, establishes ceiling prices for commercial sales of wool and wool top which reflect the current world price for wool and wool top. They are, consequently, well below the ceiling prices fixed in Ceiling Price Regulation 20 for trading on the Exchange.

This Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 20 reduces the ceiling prices originally established for Exchange trading to bring them into line with the ceiling prices for commercial sales of wool and wool tops. The downward revision of prices accomplished by this amendment is necessary to prevent the possibility of undue speculation on the Exchange. In a period of short supply, significant quantities of wool and top might enter into purely speculative trading on an Exchange whose ceiling prices were higher than those fixed for sales of commercial wool and top.

The new ceilings of $3.895 for exchange standard top and $3.220 for exchange standard wool are lower than the prices fixed in Ceiling Price Regulation 35 for commercial sales of the same quality wool and top. This is due to the fact that a seller of a futures contract on the Exchange may deliver certain grades other than the exchange standard grade at a fixed premium above, or discount on, the contract price. The consequent inability of the purchaser to ascertain in advance the exact grade or staple which he has purchased, results in a lower price for exchange standard wool when sold on the exchange than for the same wool when sold commercially. This differential between the exchange price and the commercial price has fluctuated widely over the past years. The ceiling prices established in this amendment reflect a discount of 4 percent below the price of 64s average wool, and 6 percent below the price of the same grade of top, fixed in Ceiling Price Regulation 35. These differentials have been proposed by representatives of the trade, and correspond closely to the relationship which, in the months prior to the issuance of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, existed between prices on the exchange and prices for commercial sales of wool and top.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the provisions of this amendment, and the ceiling prices established, are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 20 is amended as follows:

In sections 2 and 3 wherever the price $3.535 appears, it is amended to read $3.220, and wherever the price $4.265 appears, it is amended to read $3.895.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.)

This Amendment 1 shall become effective on May 28, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

CPR 30—MACHINERY AND RELATED MANUFACTURED GOODS

AIRCRAFT AND AIRCRAFT PARTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment places all aircraft and aircraft parts under the coverage of Ceiling Price Regulation 30. The regulation as originally issued covers the greater portion of aircraft parts. Originally it was intended to place all aircraft and aircraft parts under the regulation because of the similarity of the problems of these industries to those of the industries already covered by the regulation. However, due to an indavertence these commodities were not listed in Appendix A to the regulation which sets forth the commodities covered by the regulation.

This amendment does not recontrol military aircraft and aircraft parts which are exempted from price control by Amendment 1 to General Overriding Regulation 9 (Exemptions of Certain Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is amended by inserting the following items in Appendix A after "air-conditioning equipment, condensing units of 25 tons capacity and over":

Aircraft.
Aircraft parts (all parts, subassemblies and unfinished parts and components of aircraft which are in such form as to permit their use only as aircraft parts).

This amendment will become effective May 28, 1951.

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment provides that any manufacturer whose gross sales during his last annual accounting period were less than $250,000 may elect to continue to price his commodities under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation rather than under those of this regulation. A similar provision is incorporated in Ceiling Price Regulation 22 (Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation). Originally, it was felt that it was not necessary to have this provision in this regulation because of the nature of the industries covered by this regulation. However, it has been shown that the calculations required by this regulation may be exceedingly burdensome for many small manufacturers. Therefore, it was deemed advisable to permit this election.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is amended by adding the following sentence to the end of section 1 (a): "If, however, your gross sales of all commodities which you manufacture (regardless of the ceiling price regulation to which those commodities are subject) for your last complete fiscal year were less than $250,000, you may elect not to use this regulation, but if you so elect, you may not use this regulation for any of your commodities."

This amendment will become effective May 28, 1951.

[General Overriding Regulation 9, Amendment 1]

GOR 9—EXEMPTIONS OF CERTAIN INDUSTRIAL MATERIALS AND MANUFACTURED GOODS

SALES OF CERTAIN MILITARY ITEMS, SECRET AND DEVELOPMENTAL CONTRACTS, AND EMERGENCY PURCHASES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to General Overriding Regulation 9 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment frees from price control restrictions imposed by the Office of Price Stabilization, certain purchases and sales of military commodities which fall within the broad category of industrial manufactured goods. These sales and purchases have previously been exempted from the General Ceiling Price Regulation by Supplementary Regulation 1 to that regulation. Accordingly, the statement of considerations involved in the issuance of Supplementary Regulation 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation, is equally applicable to the issuance of this amendment.

Within the category of industrial manufactured goods, the exemptions of this regulation are more narrow than those of Supplementary Regulation 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Only those commodities which are strictly of a military nature and cannot be priced with facility under Ceiling Price Regulation 30 (Machinery and Related Manufactured Goods) have been exempted from price control. All other commodities of a military nature which are included in this broad category are subject to price control.

Some purchases by the United States have been suspended from price control restrictions because of the nature of the purchases. These are emergency purchases and purchases under secret and developmental contracts. This continues the exemptions for such purchases and contracts, previously made by Supplementary Regulation 1 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Any of the commodities or transactions exempted or suspended by this amendment may be recontrolled at any time that the Director of Price Stabilization deems it necessary or advisable.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 9 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 (a) (5) is added to read as follows:

(5) Certain sales of military items. Sales of the commodities listed in subdivisions (i), (ii), and (iii) of this subparagraph, if the commodity is sold to a Defense Agency or to any person for use in connection with a defense contract or subcontract and if the commodity so sold is designed to meet military needs exclusively. The term "Defense Agency" means the Department of Defense (including the Department of the Army, the Department of the Navy, and the Department of the Air Force), the Maritime Administration of the Department of Commerce, the United States Coast Guard, the Office of Rubber Reserve, and the Atomic Energy Commission. The term "defense contract" means any purchase order, or agreement with a Defense Agency. The term "subcontract" means any purchase order, or agreement to perform all or any part of the work required in the performance of a defense contract.

(i) Aircraft, armored trains, electronic and communication devices, ground handling equipment for aircraft, instruments, radar, range finders and sonar.

(ii) Parts and subassemblies of any commodity listed in subdivision (i), including all metallic and non-metallic component parts, adjuncts and accessories which have been machined or fabricated, if the part or subassembly is in such form as to permit its use only in the manufacture of a commodity listed in subdivision (i) and if the part or subassembly is designed to meet military needs exclusively.

(iii) Parts and subassemblies of any commodity listed in this subdivision, including all metallic and non-metallic component parts, adjuncts and accessories which have been machined or fabricated, if the part or subassembly is in such form as to permit its use only in the manufacture of a commodity listed in this subdivision and if the part or subassembly is designed to meet military needs exclusively: Ammunition, amphibians, artillery, balloon barrage equipment, beach markers, boats, bombs, bomb directors, bomb sights, caissons, degaussing equipment, depth charges, diving lungs (self-contained), drop tanks (fuel), field ranges, fire control equipment, grenades, guided missiles, gun mounts, gun sights, harbor and yard craft, machine guns, military bridges, mines, minesweeping equipment, missile and rocket launchers, mortars, projectiles, pyrotechnics, range finders, rockets, ships, small arms, torpedoes, and torpedo tubes.

2. Section 2 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Suspensions. No ceiling price regulation heretofore issued or which may hereafter be issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to the following transactions or commodities in the manner or for the period specified for each such transaction or commodity:

(1) Secret contracts. Sales or deliveries of any commodity listed in Appendix A of Ceiling Price Regulation 30 (Machinery and Related Manufactured Goods) under a contract or subcontract that is officially classified as "secret" and certified, in writing, as such to the Office of Price Stabilization by the United States or any agency thereof. Such certification shall state the date of the secret contract or subcontract and its number or other designation. The certifying government agency shall notify the seller and the Office of Price Stabilization whenever such contract or subcontract ceases to be secret. This suspension shall not apply after the seller is notified by the certifying government agency or the Office of Price Stabilization that the contract or subcontract is no longer deemed to be secret.

(2) Developmental contracts. Sales or deliveries of any commodity listed in Appendix A of Ceiling Price Regulation 30 (Machinery and Related Manufactured Goods) which is manufactured under a contract or subcontract that is certified in writing to the Office of Price Stabilization as being "developmental" by the United States or by any agency thereof. A contract is deemed to be "developmental" during the period (not in excess of six months) required for the selection of a commodity by the purchaser or for the accumulation of sufficient experience by the manufacturer to permit a fair estimate of the manufacturing costs, or both. Within ten days after entering into any "developmental" contract or subcontract the seller shall file a report with the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. This report shall set forth a description of the commodities that are the subject of the contract; a summary of the terms of the contract; and an estimate of the expected duration of the developmental work. This report need not be filed if the "developmental" contract or subcontract is also certified as "confidential", "restricted" or "secret" by the certifying government agency.

(3) Emergency purchases. Sales or deliveries of any commodity listed in Appendix A of Ceiling Price Regulation 30 (Machinery and Related Manufactured Goods) where such a commodity is purchased for immediate delivery by the United States or any agency thereof under such circumstances as to make delivery imperative and as to render it impossible to secure immediate delivery at the ceiling price which would otherwise be applicable. Within ten days after any such emergency purchase in the amount of $500 or more is made the person making such purchase on behalf of the purchasing agency must file a report with the Industrial Materials and Manufactured Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. This report shall contain a certification that an emergency existed; the name and address of the seller; the date of the purchase; the date of delivery; the description of the commodity purchased; the quantity purchased; the price at which purchased; and a brief statement of the facts giving rise to the emergency situation which necessitated the purchase at a price higher than the applicable ceiling price.

This amendment shall become effective May 28, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Indian Affairs

[25 CFR, Part 130]

ORDER FIXING OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE CHARGES ON CROW INDIAN IRRIGATION PROJECT, MONTANA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MAY 16, 1951.

Pursuant to section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act of June 11, 1946 (Public Law 404, 79th Cong., 60 Stat. 238), and authority contained in the acts of Congress approved August 1, 1914; May 18, 1916; and March 7, 1928 (38 Stat. 583, 25 U. S. C. 385; 39 Stat. 142; and 45 Stat. 210, 25 U. S. C. 387), and by virtue of authority delegated by the Secretary of the Interior to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs August 28, 1946, and by virtue of the authority delegated by the Commissioner of Indian Affairs to the Regional Director September 14, 1946, which title was changed to Area Director September 13, 1949, by Order No. 2535, notice is hereby given of intent to modify §§ 130.13a, 130.13b and 130.13c of Title 25, Code of Federal Regulations, dealing with irrigable lands of the Crow Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, that are subject to the jurisdiction of the several irrigation districts.

Charges applicable to all irrigable lands of the Crow Indian Irrigation Project that are included in the irrigation district organizations and are subject to the jurisdiction of the three irrigation districts.

§ 130.13a Big Horn Irrigation District, Crow Indian Reservation, Montana; charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Big Horn Irrigation District, Crow Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, and approved by the Secretary of the Interior on June 28, 1948, notice is hereby given of the intention to fix an assessment of $16,900 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation systems which serve that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Big Horn Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 7,500 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.13b Lower Little Horn and Lodge Grass Irrigation District, Crow Indian Reservation, Montana; charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Lower Little Horn and Lodge Grass Irrigation District, Crow Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, and approved by the Secretary of the Interior on June 28, 1948, notice is hereby given of an intention to fix an assessment of $5,500 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation systems which serve that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Lower Little Horn and Lodge Grass Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 2,430 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

§ 130.13c Upper Little Horn Irrigation District, Crow Indian Reservation, Montana; charges. Pursuant to a contract executed by the Upper Little Horn Irrigation District, Crow Indian Irrigation Project, Montana, and approved by the Secretary of the Interior on June 28, 1948, notice is hereby given of the intention to fix an assessment of $3,300 for the season of 1952 for the operation and maintenance of the irrigation systems which serve that portion of the project within the confines and under the jurisdiction of the Upper Little Horn Irrigation District. This assessment involves an area of approximately 1,460 acres; does not include any land held in trust for Indians, and covers all proper general charges and project overhead.

The foregoing proposed amendments are to become effective for the irrigation season of 1952 and continue in effect thereafter until further notice.

Interested persons are hereby given opportunity to participate in preparing the proposed amendments by submitting their views, data or arguments in writing to Paul L. Fickinger, Area Director, Bureau of Indian Affairs, 804 North Twenty-ninth Street, Billings, Montana, within 30 days from the date of publication of this notice of intention in the daily issue of the FEDERAL REGISTER.

PAUL L. FICKINGER,
Area Director.

DEPARTMENT OF LABOR

Wage and Hour Division

[29 CFR, Chapter V]

SPECIAL INDUSTRY COMMITTEE NO. 10 FOR PUERTO RICO

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING FOR THE PURPOSE OF RECEIVING EVIDENCE TO BE CONSIDERED IN RECOMMENDING MINIMUM WAGE RATES FOR EMPLOYEES IN VARIOUS INDUSTRIES

In conformity with sections 5 and 8 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060 as amended; 29 U. S. C., and Sup., 201 et seq.), and in accordance with § 511.11 of the regulations issued pursuant thereto (Title 29, Chapter V, Code of Federal Regulations, Part 511), notice is hereby given to all interested persons that a public hearing will be held beginning on June 12, 1951 at 10:00 a. m., in Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce, Puerto Rico, for the purpose of receiving evidence to be considered by Special Industry Committee No. 10 for Puerto Rico in recommending minimum wage rates for employees in the industries in Puerto Rico hereinafter enumerated.

Special Industry Committee No. 10 for Puerto Rico was created by Administrative Order No. 411, published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 16, 1951 (16 F. R. 4591). It is charged, in accordance with the provisions of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, and regulations promulgated thereunder, with the duty of investigating conditions in the following industries of Puerto Rico, as defined in said Administrative Order: Foods, Beverages, and Related Products Industries; Paper, Paper Products, Printing, Publishing, and Related Industries; Jewel Cutting and Polishing Industry; Communications, Utilities, and Miscellaneous Transportation Industries; Shoe Manufacturing and Allied Industries; and the General Division of the Textile and Textile Products Industry. The Foods, Beverages, and Related Products Industries will be the first industries considered by the Committee.

The Committee is further charged with the duty of recommending to the Administrator the highest minimum wage rates (not in excess of 75 cents per hour) for all employees in Puerto Rico in the industries cited above who within the meaning of said act are "engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce," excepting employees exempted by the provisions of section 13 (a) and employees coming under the provisions of section 14, which, having due regard to economic and competitive conditions, will not substantially curtail employment in such industries and will not give any industry in Puerto Rico a competitive advantage over any industry in the United States outside of Puerto Rico. Before any minimum wage rates recommended by the Committee are made effective, a public hearing will be held pursuant to section 8 of the act, at a time and place to be announced by the Administrator and at which all interested persons will have an opportunity to be heard.

Any person who, in the opinion of the Committee or its duly authorized subcommittee, has a substantial interest in the proceeding and is prepared to present material pertinent to the question under consideration, may appear on his own behalf or on behalf of any other person. Persons wishing to appear are requested to file with Russell Sturgis, Territorial Director of the Wage and Hour Division, Post Office Box 3906, Santurce 29, Puerto Rico, not later than June 5, 1951, a notice of intention to appear. A copy of such notice must also be filed by such persons with the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., on or before the same date. The notice of intention to appear should contain the following information:

1. The name and address of the person appearing.

2. If he is appearing in a representative capacity, the name and address of the person or persons whom, or the organization which, he is representing.

3. The approximate length of time which his presentation will consume.

All testimony will be taken under oath and subject to reasonable cross-examination by any interested person present. Testimony so received will be offered as evidence at the public hearing to be held on such minimum wage recommendations as Special Industry Committee No. 10 for Puerto Rico may make.

Written statements of persons who cannot appear personally will be considered by the Committee: Provided, That such statements are sworn and that at least 12 copies thereof are received not later than June 12, 1951 at the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor, Room 412, New York Department Store Building, Stop 16½, Ponce de Leon Avenue, Santurce 29, Puerto Rico. Any person appearing at the hearing who offers written material must submit at least 12 copies thereof.

Signed at San Juan, Puerto Rico, this 14th day of May 1951.

A. CECIL SNYDER,
Chairman, Special Industry Committee No. 10 for Puerto Rico.

DEPARTMENT OF DEFENSE

Department of the Army

OFFICE OF THE CHIEF OF TRANSPORTATION

STATEMENT OF ORGANIZATION AND FUNCTIONS OF AGENCIES DEALING WITH THE PUBLIC

The statement of organization and functions published in 15 F. R. 555, February 1, 1950, is amended by changing paragraph (l) of section 2 to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Organization and functions of agencies dealing with the public. • • •

(l) Office of the Chief of Transportation—(1) Mission. Under the direction and control of the Assistant Chief of Staff, G-4, to move persons and things and provide transportation services for the Army and as assigned for the Navy, Air Force, and other agencies.

(2) Origin and history. (i) Prior to the reorganization of the Army in March 1942, responsibility for transportation was assigned to the Office of The Quartermaster General, except for the operation of the Military Railway Service, a function of the Chief of Engineers at that time. Staff supervision over transportation activities was exercised by the Transportation Service, Services of Supply.

(ii) Knowledge gained in the early months of World War II paralleled the experiences of World War I and the necessity for an integrated surface transportation system operating under one coordinating agency became obvious.

(iii) In order to create one office that could facilitate rapid coordination and sound control of all surface transportation, the Transportation Corps was activated July 31, 1942, pursuant to Executive Order 9082 (February 28, 1942, issued under the authority of Title I, of the First War Powers Act (55 Stat. 838)). On November 5, 1942, the Military Railway Service was transferred from the Corps of Engineers and on July 24, 1946, highway transport responsibilities were transferred from the Quartermaster Corps to the Transportation Corps, thus placing responsibility for all surface transportation activities under this office.

(iv) A directive of the Secretary of Defense dated August 2, 1949, prescribed the organization of the Military Sea Transportation Service under the direction and control of the Department of the Navy and for the assumption by that organization of responsibility for sea transport operations.

(v) Under Public Law 581, Eighty-first Congress, the Transportation Corps was made a basic branch of the Army.

(3) Dual role of the Chief of Transportation—(i) Staff advice. The Chief of Transportation is the designated traffic manager and the senior transportation staff officer of the Department of the Army, responsible for furnishing technical advice and recommendations to the Secretary of the Army, Under Secretary of the Army, the Chief of Staff, and all elements of the Army on matters pertaining to transportation.

(ii) Command. For the execution of the transportation mission, the Chief of Transportation commands all troops, activities and installations assigned to his control.

(4) Legal basis. The authority for the assignment of general powers and duties to the Chief of Transportation by these regulations rests in sections 206 and 405, Public Law 581, Eighty-first Congress (Army Organization Act of 1950).

(5) Major functions—(i) Planning. Prepares operational, mobilization, and industrial mobilization plans for the transportation requirements of the Army.

(ii) Movements control. Plans, programs, and coordinates all aspects of the movement of Army controlled personnel and freight by all forms of transportation from source to destination.

(iii) Traffic management. (a) Provides the Army with traffic management and control and with transportation engineering services, including the determination of transportation capabilities, and the adequacy and availability of transportation facilities and equipment of both domestic and foreign transportation systems.

(b) Routes and regulates, and issues releases for, the movement of Army-controlled traffic to continental United States ports for export.

(c) Routes and regulates continental United States freight and passenger movements of a specific size and larger, generally one carload or more (or equivalent via other means) of freight and fifteen (15) or more passengers.

(iv) Ports and terminals. Directs and supervises the operation of continental United States Army ports of embarkation and activities at terminals other than Army ports pertaining to the in-transit storage, loading, stowing, unloading, and documentation of cargo for which the Army has responsibility.

(v) Air transport. Plans for the administrative air movement of Army cargo and personnel; recommends Army requirements for administrative air transportation; within assigned responsibilities provides troop units for the Army aerial ports of embarkation and for the operations of assigned organic Army aviation when employed in the administrative movement of cargo and personnel.

(vi) Rail transport. (a) Exercises technical and staff supervision over the operation of railroads and the assignment, maintenance, repair, and economical use of railroad equipment, over which the Army has responsibility.

(b) Based on railway operating capabilities, makes determinations of requirements for, and military characteristics of, rail equipment for the Department of Defense, except where otherwise specifically assigned.

(c) Designs, procures, and inspects rail equipment for the Army, except where otherwise specifically assigned.

(vii) Highway transport. (a) Exercises staff and technical supervision over all matters pertaining to highway transportation, including related overland equipment such as sleds and tracked or amphibious vehicles, except where otherwise specifically assigned.

(b) Makes basic determinations of essential characteristics, and of types and numbers required for administrative, line-of-communications, cargo and personnel vehicles, Transportation Corps truck units, and related equipment.

(c) Coordinates Department of Defense highway requirements in the continental United States, and integrates such requirements through the Bureau of Public Roads and the American Association of State Highway Officials into the over-all civil highway program.

(viii) Harbor craft. (a) Exercises staff and technical supervision over the procurement, assignment, inspection, operation, maintenance, and repair of Army harbor craft, except where otherwise specifically assigned.

(b) Administers and supervises marine personnel affairs of the Army, except where otherwise specifically assigned.

(ix) Supply and procurement. Determines requirements for, and directs the procurement, packing and packaging, inspection, maintenance, storage, issue, cataloging, and standardization of Transportation Corps equipment and supplies.

(x) Research and development. (a) Conducts a research and development program for the Transportation Corps and liaison activities pertaining to research and development with other agencies of the Department of Defense, other government departments, and commercial and foreign agencies.

(b) Plans and directs the investigation, research, design, development, and determination of military characteristics of Transportation Corps items, supplies and equipment in coordination with the using service. Determines military characteristics of equipment for Transportation Corps use to be developed by other services.

(xi) Intelligence. In accordance with Department of the Army policies, produces and maintains intelligence concerning foreign research and development, organizations, matériel, and operations in the field of ground transportation; prepares and maintains transportation sections of the Strategic Vulnerability Surveys; exercises technical supervision over the collection and exploitation of transportation intelligence information in theaters of operations.

(xii) Training. Formulates plans, policies, and technical methods governing the training of personnel engaged in transportation activities, except those assigned by the Department of the Army to other commands for supervision.

(xiii) Field activities. Commands the Army ports of embarkation, Transportation School and training installations, Marietta TC Depot, and such other field activities as assigned by the Department of the Army.

(6) Organization—(i) Assistant Chief of Transportation (Administration). Assists the Chief of Transportation in preparing plans and policies for over-all administration of all elements of the Transportation Corps, and in directing the execution of such plans and policies; exercises general supervision in this field, with particular attention to the activities of the Legal, Personnel, Military Planning and Intelligence, Training and Organization, and Supply Divisions.

(ii) Assistant Chief of Transportation (Operations). Assists the Chief of Transportation in preparing plans and policies for the operational activities of all elements of the Transportation Corps, and in directing the execution of such plans and policies; exercises direct supervision over Movements Control Division activities, and general supervision over activities of the Terminal Operations and Installations, Commercial Traffic Service, Railway Transport Service, and Highway Transport Service Divisions.

(iii) Comptroller of the Transportation Corps. Assists the Chief of Transportation in obtaining economy and efficiency in the development and execution of Transportation Corps plans and programs; exercises general supervision in this field, with particular attention to the activities of the Fiscal, Managerial, and Program Review and Analysis Divisions.

(iv) Administrative Office. (a) Provides administrative services such as publications reference unit, office supplies, reproduction service, files (to include maintenance, disposal, preservation, and retirement), space allocation, the office of correspondence record and message center for the Office, Chief of Transportation.

(b) Reviews and processes all proposed Department of the Army and transportation Corps publications originating within the Office, Chief of Transportation, to insure compliance with established procedures governing format, reproduction, distribution, etc., of publications.

(c) Administers Army policies governing printing and binding, reproduction, blank forms, publications, and contract field printing throughout the Transportation Corps.

(v) Managerial Division. (a) Exercises staff action for the Chief of Transportation on matters of management policy and practices within the Office, Chief of Transportation, and Transportation Corps installations, with major emphasis on the improvement of organizations, methods, and procedures.

(b) Plans and develops management improvement practices for application throughout the Transportation Corps.

(c) Conducts, or supervises the conducting of, management audits as required.

(d) Assures that personnel suballotments are in consonance with workload requirements and personal services funding limitations.

(vi) Fiscal Division. (a) Prepares, submits, and justifies the budget for Transportation Service, Army, and coordinates the preparation and submission of the Transportation Corps fund requirements to be included in other Department of the Army appropriations.

(c) Makes analysis of costs of installations under the direct control of the Chief of Transportation.

CONVICT-MADE GOODS

COTTON WORK GLOVES FROM NAGOYA, JAPAN

Under date of February 3, 1941, the Department issued a finding, T. D. 50323 (6 F. R. 808), based upon the information then before it, that convict labor was used in the manufacture of cotton work gloves in the locality of Nagoya, Japan.

In view of changed conditions, the above-mentioned matter has been reexamined, and as a result thereof the Department is now in receipt of official information that cotton work gloves manufactured in the locality of Nagoya, Japan, are not made with the use of convict labor. Accordingly, T. D. 50323 is hereby terminated.

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Bureau of Land Management

COLORADO

CLASSIFICATION ORDER

MAY 16, 1951.

1. Pursuant to the authority delegated to me by the Director, Bureau of Land Management, by Order No. 427, dated August 16, 1950, 15 F. R. 5639, I hereby classify under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938 (52 Stat. 609), as amended July 14, 1945 (59 Stat. 467, 43 U. S. C. 682a), as hereinafter indicated, the following-described land in the Colorado land district, embracing approximately 40 acres,

COLORADO SMALL TRACT CLASSIFICATION NO. 11

For lease and sale for homesite purposes only:

SIXTH PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN, COLORADO

T. 3 N., R. 76 W.,
Sec. 27, NE¼SE¼ (Lots 1 to 29, inclusive).

This area is indicated on legal plat of survey by the Bureau of Land Management, approved March 15, 1951, copies of which are on file and may be viewed at the office of the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Denver, Colorado.

2. The land slopes gently to the east overlooking the Granby Reservoir. The highwater shore line will be from 300 to 500 feet east of the east boundary line of the tract. Schools, stores, and other facilities are available in the village of Granby, about 10 miles to the south, or the village of Grand Lake, about 4 miles to the north via highway U. S. 34, which is adjacent to the tract. Public utilities are available from lines that pass within a mile of the area.

3. As to applications regularly filed prior to 9:30 a. m., February 4, 1949, and for the type of site for which the land is classified, this order shall become effective upon the date it is signed.

4. As to the land not covered by the applications referred to in paragraph 3, this order shall not become effective to permit leasing under the Small Tract Act until 10:00 a. m., June 26, 1951. At that time, such land shall, subject to valid existing rights, become subject to application as follows:

(a) Ninety-day preference period for qualified veterans of World War II from 10:00 a. m., June 26, 1951, to the close of business on September 24, 1951.

(b) Advance period for veterans' simultaneous filings from 9:30 a. m., February 4, 1949, to the close of business on September 24, 1951.

5. Any of the land remaining unappropriated shall become subject to application under the Small Tract Act by the public generally, commencing at 10:00 a. m., September 25, 1951.

(a) Advance period for simultaneous nonpreference filings from 9:30 a. m., February 4, 1949, to the close of business on September 24, 1951.

6. Applications filed within the periods mentioned in paragraphs 4 (b) and 5 (a) will be treated as simultaneously filed.

7. A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service, which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service as veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their application by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

8. All of the land will be leased in tracts as specified on the approved plat of survey dated March 15, 1951, covering the area. Lots 1 to 19, inclusive, and lots 21 to 29, inclusive, contain approximately one and one-quarter acres, each. Lot 20 contains approximately five acres. Preference right leases referred to in paragraph 3 will be issued for the land described in the application provided the tract conforms to or is made to conform to the area and dimensions specified herein as shown on the approved plat of survey.

9. Leases for the lots numbered consecutively from 1 to 29 will be for a period of three years at an annual rental of $10 payable for the entire lease period in advance of the issuance of the lease.

10. Lessees under the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, will be required, within a reasonable time after execution of the lease, to construct upon the leased land, to the satisfaction of the appropriate officer of the Bureau of Land Management authorized to sign the lease, improvements which, in the circumstances, are presentable, substantial, and appropriate for the use for which the lease is issued. Leases will contain an option to purchase, provided the terms and conditions of the lease have been met.

Applications for purchase (Form 4–775a) may be filed during the term of the lease, but not more than 30 days prior to the expiration of one year from the date of lease issuance: Provided, That improvements appropriate to the purpose for which the lease is issued, and which meet with the approval of the Regional Administrator, shall have been constructed upon the lands prior to the filing of the application for purchase.

The net price at which the land may be purchased will consist of the appraised value plus the cost of survey, if any, and minus an amount equal to the advance rental for each full lease year, if any, subsequent to the filing of the application to purchase. All of the lots from 1 to 29, inclusive, are appraised at $100 each.

11. Lessees and/or their successors in interest shall comply with all Federal, State, and County laws and ordinances, especially those governing health and sanitation, and failure or refusal to do so may be cause for cancellation of the lease in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management.

12. Leases and patents will be subject to easements and rights-of-way for roads and public utilities along lot boundaries as follows:

T. 3 N., R. 76 W., 6th P. M.,
Sec. 27: NE¼SE¼:
Lot 1: 66 feet on the east boundary, 33 feet on the north boundary, and 33 feet on the west boundary;
Lot 2: 33 feet on the east, north, and west boundaries;
Lot 3: 33 feet on the east, north, and west boundaries;
Lot 4: 33 feet on the east boundary;

Lot 6: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 7: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 8: 66 feet on the east boundary and 33 feet on the west boundary;
Lot 9: 66 feet on the east boundary and 33 feet on the west boundary;
Lot 10: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 11: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 12: 33 feet on the east boundary;
Lot 13: 33 feet on the east boundary;
Lot 14: 33 feet on the east, west, and south boundaries;
Lot 15: 33 feet on the east, west, and south boundaries;
Lot 16: 66 feet on the east boundary and 33 feet on the south and west boundaries;
Lot 17: 66 feet on the east boundary and 33 feet on the north and west boundaries;
Lot 18: 33 feet on the east, north, and west boundaries;
Lot 19: 33 feet on the east, north, and west boundaries;
Lot 20: 33 feet on the east boundary;
Lot 21: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 22: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 23: 66 feet on the east boundary and 33 feet on the west boundary;
Lot 24: 66 feet on the east boundary and 33 feet on the west boundary;
Lot 25: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 26: 33 feet on the east and west boundaries;
Lot 27: 33 feet on the east, west, and south boundaries;
Lot 28: 33 feet on the east, west, and south boundaries;
Lot 29: 66 feet on the east boundary, and 33 feet on the south and west boundaries

Such rights-of-way may be utilized by the Federal Government, or the State, county, or municipality in which the tract is situated, or by any agency thereof. The rights-of-way may, in the discretion of the authorized officer of the Bureau of Land Management, be definitely located prior to the issuance of the patent. If not so located, they may be subject to location after patent is issued. Leases and patents issued in accordance with this order will also be subject to all existing rights-of-way.

13. All inquiries relating to this land should be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Bureau of Land Management, 341 New Customhouse, Denver, Colorado.

H. Byron Mock,
Regional Administrator.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[Docket No. G–1615]

Brooklyn Union Gas Co.

ORDER DENYING REQUEST THAT APPLICATION BE HEARD UNDER SHORTENED PROCEDURE; FIXING DATE OF HEARING

May 17, 1951.

On February 19, 1951, The Brooklyn Union Gas Company (Applicant), a New York corporation with its principal place of business in Brooklyn, New York, filed an application and supplement thereto on April 16, 1951, for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas pipeline facilities, should it ultimately be determined that such facilities are subject to the jurisdiction of the Commission under the act, all as more fully described in such application on file with the Commission and open to public inspection. Due notice was given of the filing of the application, including publication in the Federal Register on March 6, 1951 (16 F. R. 2108–2109).

Applicant has requested that this application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) for non-contested proceedings.

The Commission finds: Good cause has not been shown for granting The Brooklyn Union Gas Company's request that its application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure and said request should be denied as hereinafter ordered.

The Commission orders:

(A) The Brooklyn Union Gas Company's request that its application in the above-entitled matter be heard under the shortened procedure provided by § 1.32 (b) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) be and the same is hereby denied.

(B) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held on June 7, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., concerning the matters involved and the issues presented by such application.

(C) Interested State commissions may participate as provided by §§ 1.8 and 1.37 (f) (18 CFR 1.8 and 1.37 (f)) of the said rules of practice and procedure.

Date of issuance: May 18, 1951.

By the Commission.

[Docket No. G–1693]

Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Co., Inc.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION

May 18, 1951.

Take notice that Kansas-Nebraska Natural Gas Company, Inc. (Applicant), a Kansas corporation, of Phillipsburg, Kansas, filed on May 8, 1951, an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of certain natural gas facilities described as follows:

(1) Approximately 15 miles of 6⅝-inch and 11 miles of 8⅝-inch natural-gas transmission pipe line extending from the Big Springs Field, Deuel County, Nebraska, to a connection with Applicant's existing pipeline at Ogallala, Nebraska.

(2) Approximately 2 miles of 2⅜-inch lateral pipe line extending from the proposed line described in paragraph (1) above and two town border stations to serve the towns of Big Springs and Brule, Nebraska.

(3) Approximately 8 miles of 8⅝-inch and 5 miles of 4½-inch natural-gas pipe line extending from the Big Springs Field, Nebraska, to Ovid, Colorado.

(4) Approximately 10.5 miles of 3½-inch and 13.5 miles of 2⅜-inch lateral pipe line and four town border stations to serve the towns of Chappell and Lodge Pole, Nebraska, and Ovid and Julesburg, Colorado.

(5) Approximately 52 miles of 8⅝-inch of pipe line to replace 4½-inch pipe in Applicant's Ogallala to North Platte, Nebraska, line.

(6) Necessary lateral pipe lines and measuring and regulating facilities to enable Applicant to serve industrial customers in Brule and Chappell, Nebraska, and in Ovid and Julesburg, Colorado.

The application states that the primary purposes of the proposed new construction are, (1) to utilize the new gas supply contracted for by Applicant from the Big Springs Field in Deuel County, Nebraska, thereby better assuring continuity of supply to Applicant's existing markets; (2) to provide additional gas for the increased demands of its existing markets and for the additional markets it proposes to serve in the states of Nebraska and Colorado; (3) to assure sufficient production history from the new gas field to enable Applicant to better evaluate the reserves; and (4) to furnish sufficient market for this new gas field to encourage additional development in the area, thereby enabling Applicant to better meet its market requirements and to obtain additional data with which to evaluate the field for possible future use as a gas storage reservoir.

The estimated total over-all capital cost of the proposed construction is $976,330, which Applicant proposes to obtain from working capital and the proceeds from the sale of first mortgage 20-year sinking fund bonds.

Protests or petitions to intervene may be filed with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., in accordance with the rules of practice and procedure (18 CFR 1.8 or 1.10) on or before the 7th day of June 1951. The application is on file with the Commission for public inspection.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Stardust, Inc., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The following ceiling prices are established for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of brassieres, panties, slips, and ladies' blouses manufactured by Stardust, Inc., 350 Fifth Avenue, New York 1, New York, having the brand name "Stardust" and described in the manufacturer's application dated March 6, 1951. The manufacturer's prices listed below are subject to terms of 8/10, MON.

Manufacturer's selling price (per dozen)	Ceiling price at retail (per unit)
Brassieres
$8.00	$1.00
11.50	1.50
12.00	1.69
15.00	1.98
Panties
$5.15	$0.79
6.25	.59
16.50	1.98
Slips
$16.50	$1.98
18.75	2.39
19.50	2.59
24.00	2.98
Ladies' Blouses
$13.50	$1.69

2. Panties having the style number 503 in the manufacturer's application dated March 6, 1951, so long as they have a manufacturer's selling price of $4.50 per dozen, shall have a ceiling price at retail of $0.79 per unit.

3. The retail ceiling price of an article stated in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

4. On and after June 23, 1951, Stardust, Inc., must mark each article listed in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $------

On and after July 23, 1951, no retailer may offer to sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 23, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulations which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this special order or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Stardust, Inc. must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

5. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this special order. Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

6. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

7. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

8. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

9. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 24, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, The McKay Products Corp., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The following ceiling prices are established for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of women's underwear manufactured by the McKay Products Corp., 350 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y., having the brand names "Blue Swan Suspants" and "Blue Swan Minikins" and described in the manufacturer's application dated March 14, 1951 and supplemented and amended in the manufacturer's application dated March 22, 1951. The manufacturer's prices listed below carry a discount of 2/10, EOM.

WOMEN'S UNDERWEAR

Manufacturer's selling price (per dozen)	Ceiling price at retail (per unit)
$5.50	$0.89
7.25	.98
10.50	1.50
12.00	1.75

2. (a) Women's underwear having the style number 8054 in the manufacturer's application dated March 14, 1951, so long as it has a manufacturer's selling price of $7.25 per dozen, shall have a ceiling price at retail of $1.00 per unit.

(b) Women's underwear having the style number 8936 in the manufacturer's application dated March 14, 1951, so long as it has a manufacturer's selling price of $22.50 per dozen, shall have a ceiling price at retail of $2.98 per unit.

3. The retail ceiling price of an article stated in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

4. On and after June 23, 1951, The McKay Products Corp., must mark each article listed in paragraphs 1, 2 (a) and 2 (b) of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $------

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraphs 1, 2 (a) and 2 (b) of this special order or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, The McKay Products Corp., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

5. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraphs 1, 2 (a) and 2 (b) of this special order. Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

6. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

7. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

8. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

9. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 24, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION

[Docket Nos. 7955, 8045]

PALO ALTO RADIO STATION, INC. (KYA) AND SAN MATEO COUNTY BROADCASTERS (KVSM)

ORDER DELETING ISSUES

In re applications of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc. (KYA), San Francisco, California, Docket No. 7955, File No. BP-4452; Edmund Scott, Gordon D. France, Hugh H. Smith and Merwyn F. Planting d/b as the San Mateo County Broadcasters (KVSM), San Mateo, California, Docket No. 8045, File No. BP-5536; for construction permits.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled applications of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc., to change facilities of Station KYA, San Francisco, California from 1260 kc, 1 kw, 5 kw-LS, unlimited time to 1060 kc, 50 kw power, unlimited time utilizing a directional antenna; and of the San Mateo County Broadcasters to change facilities of Station KVSM from 1050 kc, 250 watts power, daytime only to 1260 kc, 1 kw, 5 kw-LS, unlimited time;

It appearing, that the said mutually contingent applications were originally designated for hearing and heard in 1947 in a consolidated proceeding with other applications which have been subsequently severed from the proceeding or dismissed by the Commission; and

It further appearing, that at the original hearing evidence was adduced on the technical, financial and other qualifications of the corporate licensee of Station

KYA, then controlled by one Dorothy Schiff, and the partnership licensee of Station KVSM, as well as evidence with regard to the proposed programming of both applicants; and

It further appearing, that on December 14, 1949 the Commission granted an application (BAL-944) for assignment of license of Station KVSM from Edmund Scott, Gordon D. France, Hugh H. Smith and Merwyn F. Planting, a partnership doing business as the San Mateo County Broadcasters, to Hugh H. Smith, as an individual, and on April 12, 1950, the Commission granted an application (File No. BTC-908) for the voluntary transfer of control of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc., licensee of Station KYA from Dorothy Schiff to J. Elroy McCaw and John Keating; and

It further appearing, that by reason of above-mentioned assignment of license of Station KVSM and transfer of control of Station KYA, the evidence adduced on the technical, financial and other qualification of the then licensees of the applicants herein is unnecessary to a decision in this case, and that by reason of the fact that the hearing is no longer a comparative one, the evidence with regard to the programming of each applicant is likewise unnecessary to a decision; and

It further appearing, that the elimination of such issues from the orders of designation would facilitate and expedite an initial decision in the case; and

It further appearing, that each applicant in this proceeding is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to construct and operate its station, as proposed;

It is ordered, That the Commission's order of November 14, 1946, designating the above-entitled application of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc. (KYA), for hearing, and the Commission's order of January 9, 1947, designating the above-entitled application of the San Mateo County Broadcasters (KVSM) for hearing are amended to show the deletion therefrom of Issue Number 1, pertaining to the technical, financial and other qualifications of the applicants, and Issue Number 3, pertaining to the programming proposals of the applicants.

PALO ALTO RADIO STATION, INC. (KYA), AND SAN MATEO COUNTY BROADCASTERS (KVSM)

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In the matter of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc. (KYA), San Francisco, California, Docket No. 7955, File No. BP-4452; Edmond Scott, Gordon D. France, Hugh Smith and Merwyn F. Planting, a partnership, d b as San Mateo County Broadcasters (KVSM), San Mateo, California, Docket No. 8045, File No. BP-5536; for construction permits.

The Commission having under consideration the petition of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc. (KYA); filed May 11, 1951, that the further hearing in the above-entitled matter, which is presently scheduled for May 16, 1951, be continued for a period of sixty days;

It appearing, that the requested continuance herein is necessary because of the illness of petitioner's counsel and the fact that certain engineering studies essential to its case have not been completed;

It appearing further, that all other parties to the proceeding have consented to the granting of the instant petition and to a waiver of § 1.745 of the Commission's rules and regulations to permit immediate consideration thereof;

It is ordered, This 14th day of May 1951, that the petition of Palo Alto Radio Station, Inc. (KYA), be, and it is hereby, granted; and the hearing in the above-entitled matter is continued to July 17, 1951, in Washington, D. C.

COMMUNITY BROADCASTING CO. (KUNO)

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Leslie C. Smith, B. G. Moffett and J. H. Mayberry, d/b as Community Broadcasting Company (KUNO), Corpus Christi, Texas, for modification of construction permit; Docket No. 9626, File No. BMP-5034.

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed May 8, 1951, by Leslie C. Smith, B. G. Moffett and J. H. Mayberry, doing business as Community Broadcasting Company (KUNO), Corpus Christi, Texas, requesting that the hearing on its above-entitled application be continued for a period of ninety days in order to permit Commission action upon a pending petition for reconsideration and grant without hearing, filed by petitioner on April 13, 1951; and

It appearing, that the hearing in this proceeding is now scheduled to commence on May 17, 1951, at Washington, D. C., and that no action has as yet been taken by the Commission on the said petition for reconsideration and grant of its application without hearing; and

It further appearing, that the disposition of the pending petition for reconsideration and grant by the Commission may obviate the necessity for a hearing or alter the proceeding upon this application, and that the orderly dispach of business and the ends of justice will be served by postponing the hearing until after the Commission has considered the petition filed April 13, 1951; and

It further appearing, that the time within which opposition to this petition for continuance might be filed has expired and no such opposition has been filed;

It is, therefore, ordered, This 15th day of May 1951, That the petition for a ninety day continuance from May 17, 1951, is granted; and the hearing on the above-entitled application, now scheduled for May 17, 1951, at Washington, D. C., is continued to August 15, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., in Washington, D. C.

MAGIC CITY BROADCASTING CO., INC. (WEDR)

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Magic City Broadcasting Co., Inc. (WEDR), Fairfield, Alabama, for construction permit; Docket No. 9795, File No. BP-7778.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above-entitled application requesting a construction permit to change the facilities of Station WEDR, Birmingham, Alabama, from frequency 1220 kilocycles, 1 kilowatt power, daytime only to frequency 1330 kilocycles, 500 watts 1 kilowatt-LS power, unlimited time, to change studio and transmitter locations from Birmingham to Fairfield, Alabama, and install directional antenna for night use only;

It appearing, that the applicant is legally, technically, financially and otherwise qualified to operate Station WEDR as proposed, but that the application may involve interference with one or more existing stations and otherwise not comply with the Standards of Good Engineering Practice particularly with reference to nighttime service to the Birmingham Metropolitan District and to population residing between the nighttime normally protected and interference free contours;

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the said application is designated for hearing at 10:00 a. m., on July 26, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary service from the operation of Station WEDR as proposed, and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

2. To determine whether the operation of Station WEDR as proposed would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

3. To determine whether the operation of Station WEDR as proposed would involve objectionable interference with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

4. To determine whether the installation and operation of the proposed station would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations with particular reference to nighttime service to the Birmingham Metropolitan District and to the assignment of stations where objectionable interference would be received to a field intensity contour greater than that specified for a station of its class.

EARL M. KEY (WKEY)

ORDER SCHEDULING HEARING

In re application of Earl M. Key (WKEY), Covington, Virginia, for construction permit; Docket No. 9820, File No. BP-7828.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed November 29, 1950 by Earl M. Key, requesting reconsideration and grant without hearing of his above-entitled application to change transmitter location and to make changes in antenna and ground system of Station WKEY, Covington, Virginia; an opposition to said petition filed December 12, 1950 by Rollins Broadcasting, Inc., licensee of Radio Station WRAD, Radford, Virginia; and a reply to said opposition filed on January 9, 1951, by Earl M. Key; and

It appearing, that on October 23, 1950, the above-entitled application was designated for hearing to determine among other things whether the operation of Station WKEY as proposed would increase the existing objectionable interference to Station WRAD, Radford, Virginia; that said hearing was originally scheduled to commence January 5, 1951; and that said hearing has been continued indefinitely pending action on the above-mentioned petition; and

It further appearing, that petitioner alleges that based upon the value of ground conductivity between WKEY and WRAD as determined by field intensity measurements, the operation of Station WKEY, as proposed, would not result in objectionable interference to Station WRAD; but that the measurements submitted by petitioner are considered unsatisfactory for the determination of the soil conductivity between WKEY and WRAD for the reason that a substantial percentage of the measurements were taken at points at excessive distances from the line between the two transmitter sites;

It is ordered, That the aforesaid petition of Earl M. Key, requesting reconsideration and grant without hearing of the above-entitled application, is denied;

It is further ordered, That the hearing in this proceeding is scheduled to commence at 10 a. m., on the 6th day of July 1951, at Washington, D. C.

CIRCLE BROADCASTING CORP.

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Circle Broadcasting Corporation, Hollywood, Florida, for construction permit; Docket No. 9884, File No. BP-7750.

The Commission having under consideration a petition, filed by the applicant herein on May 16, 1951, requesting a postponement of the hearing now scheduled for May 23 for a period of sixty days from that date; and

It appearing, that the applicant's plans to seek amendment and removal from hearing of its application have been complicated by the recall to active duty in the military services of two of its stockholders, and that a further period of time is required to effect stockholder substitutions and to petition for appropriate amendment thereafter; and

It further appearing, that there are no other parties to this proceeding and that counsel for the Commission has informally consented to a postponement of the hearing as herein ordered, and that a grant of the instant petition will conduce to the orderly dispatch of the Commission's business and serve the ends of justice; now therefore,

It is ordered, This 18th day of May 1951, that the petition for postponement of the hearing is granted, and the hearing now scheduled for May 23, 1951, is continued to 10:00 a. m., on Wednesday, July 25, 1951, at Washington, D. C.

S. H. PATTERSON (KJAY)

ORDER AMENDING ISSUES

In re application of S. H. Patterson (KJAY), Topeka, Kansas, for construction permit; Docket No. 9907, File No. BP-7770.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed on April 26, 1951, by S. H. Patterson requesting enlargement of issues in the hearing on the above-entitled application for construction permit to increase nighttime power of Station KJAY, Topeka, Kansas, from 1 kilowatt to 5 kilowatts and to make changes in the maximum expected operating values of the directional antenna pattern;

It appearing, That the said application was designated for hearing by Commission order of February 14, 1951, on engineering issues only and the licensees of Stations KEIO, Pocatello, Idaho, and KPRO, Riverside, California, made parties to the proceeding; and

It further appearing, that petitioner alleges that the present and proposed program service of Station KJAY is of particular interest to the proposed service area and on the basis of this allegation requests that the issues be enlarged to permit the introduction of evidence of the present and proposed program service of Station KJAY and the other program services available within the proposed service area; and

It further appearing, that the proposed operation of Station KJAY may involve interference with Stations KEIO, Pocatello, Idaho, and KPRO, Riverside, California, and accordingly evidence of the proposed program service of Station KJAY would be of little, if any, assistance in resolving the matters in issue in the absence of evidence of the program services rendered by Stations KEIO and KPRO to the areas of possible interference involved; and

It further appearing, that no opposition to the said petition has been filed by the parties respondent;

It is ordered, That the said petition is granted and the order of February 14, 1951, designating the above-entitled application for hearing is amended to include as Issue 5 therein the following issue:

5. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered, whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served and to determine the program service presently available to those areas and populations.

It is further ordered, That, on the Commission's own motion, the order of February 14, 1951, designating the above-entitled application for hearing is further amended to include as Issue 6 therein the following issue:

6. To determine the type and character of program service rendered by stations KEIO, Pocatello, Idaho, and KPRO, Riverside, California.

CENTERVILLE BROADCASTING CO. (KCOG)

ORDER AMENDING ISSUES

In re application of Centerville Broadcasting Company (KCOG), Centerville, Iowa, for modification of license; Docket No. 9916, File No. BML-1439.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission, held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed on April 9, 1951, by Galesburg Broadcasting Company, licensee of Station WGIL, Galesburg, Illinois, and party respondent to the hearing on the above-entitled application for modification of license of Station KCOG, Centerville, Iowa, from 100 watts to 250 watts, requesting enlargement of issues in the said hearing to permit petitioner to show the type and character of program service presently rendered by Station WGIL;

It appearing, that the said application was designated for hearing by Commission order of March 14, 1951, on engineering issues only and the licensees of Stations WGIL, Galesburg, Illinois; KVFD, Fort Dodge, Iowa; and KFRU, Columbia, Missouri, made parties to the proceeding; and

It further appearing, that petitioner alleges Station WGIL maintains auxiliary studios in Monmouth, Illinois and broadcasts programs of particular interest to the population residing within the possible area of interference to Station WGIL from the operation of Station KCOG as proposed and that no other local broadcast service is available to the possible area of interference and on the basis of these allegations requests that the issues in the said hearing be enlarged to permit the introduction of evidence of the program service rendered by Station WGIL; and

It further appearing, that the proposed operation of Station KCOG may involve interference with Stations WGIL, KVFD and KFRU and accordingly evidence of the program service of Station WGIL would be of little if any assistance in resolving the matters in issue in the absence of evidence of the program service proposed to be rendered by Station KCOG and the program services rendered by Stations KVFD and KFRU; and

It further appearing, that no opposition to the said petition has been filed;

It is ordered, That the said petition is granted and the order of March 14, 1951 designating the above-entitled application for hearing is amended to include therein the following issues:

4. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered, and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

5. To determine the type and character of program service rendered by Stations WGIL, Galesburg, Illinois; KVFD, Fort Dodge, Iowa; and KFRU, Columbia, Missouri.

It is further ordered, That, on the Commission's own motion, Issue 3 in the order of March 14, 1951, designating the above-entitled application for hearing is amended to add thereto "with particular reference to population residing within the 250 mv/m and 500 mv/m blanket contours."

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File Nos. 59-12, 54-194]

ELECTRIC BOND AND SHARE CO. AND NATIONAL POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAN AND APPLICATION FOR MODIFICATION OF DISSOLUTION ORDER, AND NOTICE OF AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of May A. D. 1951.

In the matter of Electric Bond and Share Company and National Power & Light Company, File No. 54-194; Electric Bond and Share Company, National Power & Light Company, File No. 59-12.

On August 25, 1941, the Commission entered its order pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 requiring that the existence of National Power and Light Company ("National"), a registered holding company subsidiary of Electric Bond and Share Company ("Bond and Share"), also a registered holding company, be terminated and that National be dissolved, and further requiring that National and Bond and Share proceed with due diligence to submit to the Commission a plan or plans for its prompt dissolution pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act.

At the time of the Commission's dissolution order, National had nine public utility subsidiaries and eighteen nonutility subsidiaries. Its consolidated assets were $549,926,751.74. Its outstanding securities consisted of long-term debt, preferred stock and common stock. The debt and preferred stock have since been retired and the only outstanding securities of National are 5,456,117 shares of common stock of which 2,540,450 (46.5 percent) are owned by Bond and Share. National's assets at the present time consist primarily of cash and cash items in the amount of $2,037,044.78 and its liabilities are stated at $41,586.26, showing a net asset value at the present time of 36.59 cents per share.

Notice is hereby given that Bond and Share and National have filed an application with the Commission pursuant to section 11 (e) of the act. All interested persons are referred to said document which is on file in the offices of the Commission for a statement of the transactions proposed which may be so summarized as follows:

Phoenix Industries Corporation ("Phoenix"), a closely held Delaware corporation, has entered into an agreement with Bond and Share whereby Bond and Share will sell and Phoenix will buy the 2,540,450 shares of National's common stock now owned by Bond and Share at a price of 45 cents per share, and Phoenix will offer or cause to be made an offer to all public holders of common stock of National to purchase all of such shares for the price of 45 cents per share, which offer, it is stated, will remain open for a period of 30 days or such other period as may be fixed or approved by the Commission.

The application states that Phoenix was formed to engage, or invest in other companies which engage, in commercial activities considered to have growth, development and expansion prospects. It is further stated that it is the intention of Phoenix to cause National to invest in companies of the same general character as those in which Phoenix intends to invest. It is further stated that Phoenix will not directly or indirectly invest in the utility field and does not intend to become or permit National to become an investment company within the meaning of the Investment Company Act of 1940. It is further stated that after consummation of the transactions herein proposed, National's name will be changed to a name dissimilar to its present one.

The application further states that a ruling has been obtained from the Commissioner of Internal Revenue holding that consummation of the transactions proposed herein will not change prior rulings of the Bureau of Internal Revenue made pursuant to Supplement R of the Internal Revenue Code, as amended. That ruling further indicates that Phoenix has agreed to waive any tax benefits which might otherwise result from the proposed acquisition of control of National, and that upon consummation of the transactions herein proposed, National will execute a closing agreement with the Bureau of Internal Revenue to that effect.

The reasons set forth for Phoenix's desire to acquire a controlling interest in National are (1) the large number of stockholders which National has, (2) the fact that National's stock is listed on the New York Stock Exchange and (3) the fact that National's assets consist entirely of cash available for investment.

Bond and Share and National request the issuance of an order modifying the provisions of the "Order requiring dissolution of subholding company" dated August 23, 1941 (File No. 59-12) so as to abrogate the requirement that National's existence be terminated and that National be dissolved and thus permit the continued corporate existence of National. In support of that application, it is alleged that by reason of the disposition of National's stock by Bond and Share, National will cease to be a part of the Bond and Share holding company system and hence that voting power will no longer be inequitably distributed among the security holders of that system by reason of the existence of National.

National further requests an order of the Commission permitting it to withdraw its notification of registration pursuant to section 5 of the act and requests that such order declare that upon the withdrawal of such notification, National will cease to be a registered holding company within the meaning of the act. In support of that request, National alleges that it has ceased to be a holding company within the meaning of the Act in that it presently has no subsidiaries which would cause it to be a holding company. National and Bond and Share further request an order of the Commission terminating all proceedings with respect to National, and in so far as Bond and Share is concerned with respect to all matters arising out of the existence of National.

Bond and Share requests that the Commission issue its order approving or permitting the sale by Bond and Share to Phoenix of the 2,540,450 shares of common stock of National owned by Bond and Share and that such order recite that such sale and the transactions related thereto are necessary or appropriate to the simplification of the holding company system of Bond and Share and necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act within the meaning and requirements of the Internal Revenue Code as amended including section 1808 (f) and Supplement R thereof.

The Commission being required by the provisions of section 11 (e) of the act, before approving any plan thereunder to find after notice and opportunity for hearing that the plan, as submitted, or as modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of subsection (b) of section 11 of the act, and is fair and equitable to the persons affected thereby, and it appearing appropriate to the Commission that a hearing be held upon the said plan to afford all interested persons an opportunity to be heard with respect thereto;

It is ordered, That a hearing under the applicable provisions of the act and the rules thereunder be held on May 31, 1951, at 10:30 a. m. e. d. s. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. On such date the hearing room clerk in Room 193 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. All persons desiring to be heard or otherwise wishing to participate in the proceedings shall notify the Commission in the manner prescribed by Rule XVII of the rules of practice on or before May 29, 1951.

It is further ordered, That Harold B. Teegarden or any officer or officers of the Commission designated by it for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at the hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of the act and to a hearing officer under the commission's rules of practice.

The Public Utilities Division of the Commission having advised the Commission that it has made a preliminary examination of the application, and that, upon the basis thereof, the following matters and questions are presented for consideration without prejudice to its specifying additional matters or questions upon further examination;

(1) Whether the plan, as submitted or as hereafter modified, is necessary to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) (2) of the act, and constitutes an appropriate step in compliance with the order of this Commission dated August 23, 1941, thereunder.

(2) Whether the offer to the stockholders of National and the terms and conditions of such proposal are fair to such stockholders or whether any conditions should be imposed with respect to it.

(3) Whether it is appropriate and in the public interest to modify the order of dissolution directed to National and whether it is appropriate and in the public interest to issue an order permitting National to continue in existence for the purposes hereinbefore set forth.

(4) Whether, pursuant to section 5 of the act, the Commission should find that National shall have ceased to be a holding company, and, if so, whether any terms and conditions should be prescribed.

(5) Whether the plan as filed or as modified appropriately provides for the payment of expenses, fees and remuneration in connection with the proceedings and the appropriateness of any such expenses, fees and remuneration.

(6) Generally, whether the proposed transactions are in all respects in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers and consistent with all applicable requirements of the act and the rules thereunder and if not, what modification should be required to be made therein and what terms and conditions should be imposed to satisfy the applicable statutory standards.

It is further ordered, That at said hearing, evidence shall be adduced with respect to the foregoing matters and questions.

It is further ordered, That notice of this hearing be given to Bond and Share, National, and Phoenix by registered mail, and to all other persons by publication of this notice and order in the FEDERAL REGISTER and by a general release of the Commission distributed to the Press and mailed to the mailing list for releases issued under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935.

It is further ordered, That jurisdiction be and the same hereby is reserved to require the issuance of such further notice as the Commission shall determine to be appropriate in the course of these proceedings.

By the Commission.

NEW ENGLAND ELECTRIC SYSTEM ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF PROMISSORY NOTES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of May A. D. 1951.

In the matter of New England Electric System, Beverly Gas and Electric Company, Gloucester Electric Company, Haverhill Electric Company, Malden Electric Company, Northern Berkshire Gas Company, Quincy Electric Light and Power Company, Southern Berkshire Power & Electric Company, Suburban Gas and Electric Company, Weymouth Light and Power Company, File No. 70-2610.

New England Electric System ("NEES"), a registered holding company, and its above named subsidiary companies, hereinafter individually referred to as "Beverly", "Gloucester", "Haverhill", "Malden", "Northern Berkshire", "Quincy", "Southern Berkshire", "Suburban Gas" and "Weymouth" and collectively referred to as "the borrowing companies", having filed applications-declarations, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 7, 9 (a), 10 and 12 (f) of the act and Rules U-42 (b), U-43 (a), and U-45 (b) (3) promulgated thereunder with respect to the following proposed transactions:

The borrowing companies propose to issue to NEES, from time to time but not later than June 30, 1951, promissory notes in an aggregate principal amount up to but not exceeding $4,700,000. Said notes will mature April 1, 1952, and bear interest at the prime interest rate charged by banks for such notes at the time said notes are issued. It is stated in the applications-declarations that if the prime interest rate for any of such notes is in excess of 2¾ percent at the time any of such notes is proposed to be issued, NEES and the particular borrowing company or companies will file an amendment setting forth therein the amount involved and the proposed rate of interest at least five days prior to the proposed issue date of any such note. It is further requested that unless the Commission notifies NEES or the particular company or companies to the contrary within said five-day period, such amendment be considered effective, without further order, at the end of such period.

The following tabulation shows the aggregate face amount of promissory notes proposed to be issued by each of the borrowing companies and the application by such companies of the proceeds therefrom during the period April 1, 1951, to June 30, 1951:

Company	Aggregate amount of notes proposed to be issued to NEES	Application of proceeds
		Notes payable to banks	Notes and advances payable to NEES	For construction
Beverly	$1,270,000	$550,000	$575,000	$145,000
Gloucester	455,000	380,000		75,000
Haverhill	200,000	200,000
Malden	600,000	450,000		150,000
Northern Berkshire	310,000	200,000		110,000
Quincy	280,000	195,000	35,000	50,000
Southern Berkshire	755,000	495,000	355,000
Suburban Gas	540,000	320,000		260,000
Weymouth	150,000	150,000
Total	4,700,000	2,945,000	965,000	790,000

Malden's and Quincy's presently outstanding notes payable to banks were due on or before May 1, 1951. The applications-declarations indicate that NEES, on or prior to said maturity date, made non-interest bearing advances to said companies, which will be repaid from the proceeds of the notes Malden and Quincy propose to issue.

The applications-declarations state that incidental services in connection with the proposed transactions will be performed at cost by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $100 for NEES and each of the borrowing companies, or the aggregate sum of $1,000.

The applications-declarations further state that no state commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

NEES and the borrowing companies request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

Said applications-declarations having been filed on April 10, 1951, notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner required by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, the Commission not having received a request for a hearing within the time specified in said notice, or otherwise, and the Commission not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding that the proposed transactions comply with the applicable sections and rules, and observing no basis for adverse findings, and having determined that it is not necessary to impose any terms or conditions other than those prescribed by Rule U-24; and the Commission deeming it appropriate in the public interest and for the protection of investors and consumers to grant the request of the applicants-declarants that the Commission's order authorizing the proposed transactions become effective upon issuance:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable sections of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions contained in Rule U-24 that the said applications-declarations be, and the the same hereby are, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

NEW ENGLAND GAS AND ELECTRIC ASSN.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED ISSUANCE AND SALE OF ADDITIONAL COMMON SHARES PURSUANT TO SUBSCRIPTION OFFERING TO COMMON SHAREHOLDERS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of May A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") by New England Gas and Electric Association ("Negea"), a registered holding company. Declarant has designated sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act and Rule U-50 (a) (1) promulgated thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested persons may, not later than May 29, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said declaration proposed to be controverted, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time thereafter, said declaration as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Negea proposes to offer to the holders of its outstanding common shares of record on May 31, 1951, the right to subscribe for additional common shares on the basis of one such additional common share for each eight common shares owned, at a price to be determined by the company. On the basis of the number of common shares outstanding on March 31, 1951, 197,243 additional common shares would be offered. The holders of common shares on the record date will also be given the privilege of subscribing, at the subscription price, subject to allotment on a pro rata basis, for any of such additional shares not subscribed for through the exercise of rights, on the basis of one additional share for each share owned. Both the right to subscribe and the additional subscription privilege will be evidenced by transferable warrants in registered form.

While the offering of common shares will not be underwritten, Negea, to facilitate the offering, proposes to procure the services of security dealers to solicit subscriptions to purchase the additional common shares being offered. In this connection, Negea has invited twelve security dealers to submit proposals as to the basis, including compensation, on which each, alone or in combination with other firms, would form and manage a group of security dealers who are members of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc.

The filing states that a portion of the proceeds of the proposed sale of common shares will be used to retire $1,000,000 of short-term bank indebtedness which was incurred to enable Negea to acquire common stock of certain of its subsidiaries, and that any excess over the amount required for such purpose will be set aside for the purpose of acquiring additional common stocks of subsidiaries.

Declarant requests that the order of the Commission herein become effective forthwith upon the issuance thereof.

By the Commission.

GENERAL PUBLIC UTILITIES CORP.

NOTICE OF FILING FOR AUTHORITY TO ISSUE AND SELL ADDITIONAL SHARES OF COMMON STOCK BY ISSUANCE OF SUBSCRIPTION WARRANTS TO COMMON STOCKHOLDERS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 17th day of May A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration has been filed with the Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by General Public Utilities Corporation ("GPU"), a registered holding company. GPU designates sections 6 (a), 7 and 12 (c) of the act and Rules U-42 and U-50 thereunder as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 31, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters, stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application-declaration, which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed to the Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after May 31, 1951, the application-declaration, as filed or as it may be amended, may be granted and permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application-declaration, which is on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

GPU proposes to issue 504,657 additional shares of its authorized and unissued common stock, par value $5 per share. It proposes to issue to the holders of its outstanding common stock transferable subscription warrants carrying the right to subscribe for shares of such additional common stock on the basis of one share for each fifteen shares of common stock held of record. The duration of the offer, which will be from 15 to 20 days, the record date, and the subscription price are to be supplied by GPU by later amendment.

No fractional shares of GPU's common stock will be issued but the initial stockholders of record will be given the right to purchase, in lieu of any fractional shares, a full share of the additional common stock.

Up to a specified date to be set by amendment, the initial stockholders of record may sell their rights to GPU and GPU will pay to such initial record holders for such rights the higher of (a) a fixed price to be set by GPU by subsequent amendment, or (b) a price reflecting the excess, if any, of the market price of GPU common stock on the New York Stock Exchange over the subscription price.

The offering will not be underwritten nor will GPU enter into any-dealer-manager arrangement. GPU does propose, however, to utilize the services of security dealers in soliciting the exercise of the warrants and GPU will pay such dealers for such services a fee, the amount of which is to be supplied by amendment.

GPU further proposes to dispose of the additional common stock covered by rights purchased by GPU or by rights not exercised by the holders thereof by selling such stock either through the participating security dealers or through others. The price at which such additional common stock is to be acquired and sold by the participating security dealers or others will be determined by GPU on the day of such acquisition. Such price will not be in excess of the sum of the closing quoted asked price of the stock on the preceding business day and an amount to be specified by GPU by amendment, and such price will not be less than the subscription price or the closing quoted bid price for the stock on such preceding business day. The participating security dealers or others who acquire such additional common stock will be paid a fee by GPU, the amount of which will be supplied by amendment.

GPU requests an exemption from the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 under the act to the extent that such rule may be applicable to the sale of additional common stock to participating security dealers or others. GPU also requests permission to acquire, during the subscription period, GPU common stock and rights for the purpose of stabilizing their market prices. In connection with such stabilization program, GPU will not acquire a net long position in excess of 50,466 shares of common stock including for this purpose the equivalent shares represented by rights so acquired.

The net proceeds of the issuance will be used by GPU to repay bank notes in the principal amount of $3,500,000, to make additional investments in the common stock of GPU's domestic subsidiaries, and for other general corporate purposes.

GPU requests that the Commission's order herein be issued by June 4, 1951, and that it be effective forthwith upon issuance.

By the Commission.

OFFICE OF INTERNATIONAL TRADE

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY TO ASSIGN TO EXPORTERS THE RIGHT TO APPLY RATINGS FOR PROCUREMENT OF MATERIALS WHICH THEY ARE LICENSED TO EXPORT

1. Pursuant to the authority of the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Orders 10161 (15 F. R. 6105) and 10200 (16 F. R. 61), and Defense Production Administration Delegation 1 (16 F. R. 738), there is hereby delegated to the Director of the Office of International Trade the authority to assign to exporters the right to apply ratings for procurement of materials which they are licensed to export.

2. The authority herein delegated shall be exercised within the limits of such export program determinations or other quantitative restrictions as may be established and in accordance with such instructions, record-keeping and reporting requirements, and policy directives as may be issued from time to time by the National Production Authority. Such delegated authority shall also be exercised in conformity with the regulations and orders of the National Production Authority and in conformity with operating procedures set forth in current export bulletins and export regulations issued by the Office of International Trade with the approval of the National Production Authority.

3. The right to apply the rating herein authorized shall be assigned to exporters by the Office of International Trade by endorsement of the following certification (completed by insertion of the applicable DO number) on the export license or other appropriate document issued to them:

By authority of the NPA, the exporter herein named is assigned the right to apply the rating DO- to procure the above-described material.

This certification shall be duly authenticated by the Office of International Trade.

4. The application and extension of the rating so assigned shall be subject to the terms of NPA Reg. 2, as amended, which sets forth the basic rules of the priorities system, and also to all other applicable regulations and orders of the National Production Authority.

5. The Director of the Office of International Trade may redelegate the authority herein delegated, and may authorize its successive redelegation, to any other officials of the Office of International Trade.

This delegation shall take effect on May 23, 1951.

ALICE DOMBOIS ET AL.

In re: Stock owned by Alice Dombois and others, interests in an agreement owned by Dr. Rolf Prym and others and debt owing to William Prym K. G.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That William Prym K. G., the last known address of which is Stolberg, Germany, is a limited partnership organized under the laws of Germany, and which has or, since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, has had its principal place of business in Germany and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the following persons, each of whose last known address is Germany, are residents of Germany and nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany):

Alice Dombois, Wanda Gerdes, Irma Hasenclever, Irma Prym, Else Gutschow, Dr. Rolf Prym, Hans Prym, Mrs. Hans Prym, Josef Abs, Roland Prym, Axel Prym, Dieter Prym, Gert Prym.

3. That the property described as follows:

Five hundred fifty-eight (558) shares of $100 par value capital stock of William Prym Inc., Dayville, Connecticut, a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York, being a part of the seven hundred twenty (720) shares of said capital stock evidenced by certificate number N-2, registered in the name of Walter von Conta, together with all declared and unpaid dividends thereon, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by Alice Dombois, Wanda Gerdes, Irma Hasenclever, Irma Prym and Else Gutschow, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. That the property described as follows: All rights and interests with respect to William Prym Inc., Dayville, Connecticut (formerly known as William Prym of America Inc.), a corporation organized under the laws of the State of New York, created in Dr. Rolf Prym, Hans Prym, Mrs. Hans Prym, Josef Abs, Roland Prym, Axel Prym, Dieter Prym and Gert Prym, under and by virtue of that certain agreement entered into on November 17, 1937, at Stolberg, Germany, by said persons and Hans August Prym, which agreement relates among other things to the rights and interests of Hans August Prym in said William Prym, Inc. (formerly known as William Prym of America, Inc.), is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by Dr. Rolf Prym, Hans Prym, Mrs. Hans Prym, Josef Abs, Roland Prym, Axel Prym, Dieter Prym and Gert Prym, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. That the property described as follows: That certain debt or other obligation owing to William Prym K. G. by William Prym Inc., Dayville, Connecticut, in the amount of $5,551.89 as of June 30, 1950, together with any and all accruals thereto and any and all rights to demand, enforce and collect the same, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by William Prym K. G., the aforesaid national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

6. That to the extent that the persons named in subparagraphs 1 and 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

DEFENSE PRODUCTION ADMINISTRATION

[Administration Order 1]

DESIGNATION OF CLAIMANT AGENCIES

1. Pursuant to the authority contained in section 2 (c) (2) of Executive Order 10200 of January 3, 1951 (16 F. R. 61), the following officers and agencies of the Government are hereby designated as claimants to present requirements to the Defense Production Administration for the programs and areas specified:

(1) The Secretary of Defense with respect to (a) the programs of the Department of Defense, including military equipment and supplies under the Mutual Defense Aid Program; (b) military construction and all housing on military bases and reservations; (c) stockpile; (d) the military and civilian requirements of foreign areas under military administration; (e) the program requirements of the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics, the Coast Guard, and the Central Intelligence Agency; and (f) Munitions List items, as defined in Presidential Proclamation 2776, purchased by foreign governments through domestic commercial channels, excepting commercial transport aircraft for civil air carriers, and components, parts, and accessories therefor;

(2) The Secretary of the Army with respect to (a) civil construction projects under the jurisdiction of the Department of the Army, except projects having electric power generating capacity or facilities not specifically exempted by the Administrator of Defense Electric Power Administration; (b) the Panama Canal; and (c) the Panama Railroad;

(3) The Atomic Energy Commission with respect to the programs of that agency, including programs for the account of or sponsored by that agency;

(4) The Administrator of the Federal Civil Defense Administration for Federal, State, and local programs of that agency;

(5) The Administrator of the Federal Security Agency with respect to (a) all school and library construction; (b) all hospital and health facility construction other than Veterans' Administration and military hospitals; and (c) the domestic distribution of all supplies and equipment needed in the fields of health (including sanitation), education, welfare, recreation, and related activities;

(6) The administrator of the General Services Administration with respect to (a) requirements for the needs of all Federal Government agencies not covered otherwise for common-use items listed in the GSA Stores Stock Catalog, or procured under Federal Supply Schedule contracts, or otherwise designated as common-use items by the Administrator of General Services, except for such items specifically designated for the Secretary of Defense by agreement between the Secretary of Defense and the Administrator, and (b) requirements for Federal Buildings not elsewhere designated;

(7) The Administrator of Veterans' Affairs with respect to the hospital program of the Veterans' Administration;

(8) The Administrator of the Housing and Home Finance Agency with respect to housing construction, alteration, and repair, except housing and community facilities on federally owned property under the control of the Atomic Energy Commission, and housing on military reservations;

(9) The Secretary of Agriculture with respect to (a) farm production, (b) farm construction, and (c) food processing and distribution within the limits of the memorandum of agreement between the Administrator of the Production and Marketing Administration and the Administrator of the National Production Authority (NPA) (16 F. R. 3410) as from time to time amended or supplemented;

(10) The Secretary of the Interior, or his designees, with respect to (a) departmental programs; (b) the production, preparation, and processing of solid fuels; (c) the generation, transmission, and distribution of electric power; (d) the production and processing of the minerals and metals listed in column I of appendix A of NPA Delegation No. 5, by or in the respective facilities listed in column II of that appendix; and (e) the production and processing of fishery products as set forth in the Secretary of Agriculture's delegation dated October 13, 1950;

(11) The Petroleum Administrator for Defense with respect to (a) production, (b) processing and refining and (c) distribution of petroleum and gas;

(12) The Administrator of the Defense Transport Administration with respect to (a) domestic transportation, except programs designated for the Secretary of Commerce; (b) storage; and (c) port facilities;

(13) The Secretary of Commerce with respect to (a) Maritime Administration programs for coastwise, intercoastal, and overseas shipping, and merchant ship construction and repair; (b) Bureau of Public Roads programs for highway construction and maintenance, including urban streets, regardless of financing; (c) civil aviation programs for which the Civil Aeronautics Administration and the Civil Aeronautics Board are responsible including air navigation facilities, civil airports, new civil aircraft and concurrent spares, for air carrier and non-air carrier aircraft, and maintenance, repair, and operation of equipment and facilities; and (d) other Departmental programs, except Office of International Trade and National Production Authority programs as specified below;

(14) The Administrator of the National Production Authority (NPA) with respect to (a) production of materials and products not elsewhere assigned herein, (b) related production equipment, (c) related industrial facility construction (through the Facilities Bureau or other appropriate organizational unit of NPA), (d) civilian communications, (e) water and sewage facilities, and (f) other NPA programs as specified in (15), (16), and (17) below;

(15) The Office of Civilian Requirements or other appropriate organizational unit (NPA) with respect to programs (except construction) for (a) State and local governments not elsewhere specifically designated; (b) consumer goods including items in common-use not elsewhere specifically designated; (c) wholesale, retail, and service trades; and (d) religious institutions;

(16) The Facilities Bureau or other other appropriate organizational unit (NPA) with respect to construction programs for (a) State and local community facilities not elsewhere specifically designated such as fire and police, penal and administration; (b) wholesale, retail, and service trades; (c) religious institutions; (d) private industrial facilities not elsewhere designated; and (e) private social and recreational activities;

(17) The Canadian Division or other appropriate organizational unit (NPA) with respect to Canadian programs;

(18) The Director of the Office of International Trade (Department of Commerce) with respect to all exports not elsewhere designated;

(19) The Administrator of the Economic Cooperation Administration with respect to requirements for (a) all nonmilitary exports to ECA countries; (b) exports for additional military production under the Mutual Defense Aid Program and common-use items under other approved military programs.

2. As used in this order, unless the context forbids, the terms "materials", "petroleum", "gas", "solid fuels", "electric power", "metals and minerals", "food", "farm equipment", "fertilizer", and "domestic transportation, storage, and port facilities", have the same meaning as in Executive Order 10161 of September 9, 1950 (15 F. R. 6105).

3. Upon approval of the Defense Production Administration, a claimant officer or agency may authorize the presentation of requirements for any program or area within his jurisdiction by another officer or agency.

4. This order shall take effect immediately, May 24, 1951.

EDWIN T. GIBSON,
Acting Defense Production Administrator.

AUTHORITY: §§ 725.230 to 725.260 issued under sec. 375, 52 Stat. 66; 7 U. S. C. 1375. Interpret or apply 52 Stat. 38, 47, 48, 65, 66, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 1301, 1313, 1314, 1372, 1373, 1374, 1375.

GENERAL

§ 725.230 Basis and purpose. Sections 725.230 to 725.260 are issued pursuant to the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, and govern the issuance of marketing cards, the identification of tobacco, the collection and refund of penalties, and the records and reports incident thereto on the marketing of Burley and flue-cured tobacco during the 1951-52 marketing year. Prior to preparing §§ 725.230 to 725.260, public notice (16 F. R. 3588) of their formulation was given in accordance with the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003). The data, views and recommendations pertaining to §§ 725.230 to 725.260, which were submitted have been duly considered within the limits permitted by the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

§ 725.231 Definitions. As used in §§ 725.230 to 725.260, and in all instructions, forms, and documents in connection therewith, the words and phrases defined in this section shall have the meanings herein assigned to them unless the context or subject matter otherwise requires.

(a) "Act" means the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

(b) "Carry-over" tobacco means, with respect to a farm, tobacco produced prior to the beginning of the calendar year 1951, which has not been marketed or which has not been disposed of under § 725.243.

(c) Committees: (1) "Community committee" means the group of persons elected within a community as the community committee of the Production and Marketing Administration to assist in administering the Production and Marketing Administration programs within the community.

(2) "County committee" means the group of persons elected within a county as the county committee of the Production and Marketing Administration to assist in administering the Production and Marketing Administration programs within the county.

(3) "State committee" means the group of persons designated as the State committee of the Production and Marketing Administration, charged with the responsibility of administering Production and Marketing Administration programs within the State.

(d) "Dealer" or "buyer" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of acquiring tobacco from producers without regard to whether such person is registered as a dealer with the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

(e) "Director" means Director or Acting Director, Tobacco Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture.

(f) "Farm" means all adjacent or nearby farm land under the same ownership which is operated by one person, including also:

(1) Any other adjacent or nearby farm land which the county committee, in accordance with instructions issued by the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration, determines is operated by the same person as part of the same unit with respect to the rotation of crops and with workstock, farm machinery, and labor substantially separate from that for any other lands; and

(2) Any field-rented tract (whether operated by the same or another person) which, together with any other land included in the farm, constitutes a unit with respect to the rotation of crops.

A farm shall be regarded as located in the county in which the principal dwelling is situated, or if there is no dwelling thereon it shall be regarded as located in the county in which the major portion of the farm is located.

(g) "Field assistant" means any duly authorized employee of the United States Department of Agriculture, and any duly authorized employee of a county committee whose duties involve the preparation and handling of records and reports pertaining to tobacco marketing quotas.

(h) "Floor sweepings" means scraps, leaves, or bundles of tobacco, generally of inferior quality, which accumulate on the warehouse floor and which not being subject to identification with any particular lot of tobacco are gathered up by the warehouseman for sale. Floor sweepings shall not include tobacco defined as "pick-ups".

(i) "Leaf account tobacco" means all tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman and "leaf account" shall include the records required to be kept and copies of the reports required to be made under §§ 725.230 to 725.260 relating to tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman and resales of such tobacco.

(j) "Market" means the disposition in raw or processed form of tobacco by voluntary or involuntary sale, barter, or exchange, or by gift inter vivos. "Marketing" and "marketed" shall have corresponding meanings to the term "market".

(k) "Nonwarehouse sale" means any first marketing of farm tobacco other than by sale at public auction through a warehouse in the regular course of business.

(l) "Operator" means the person who is in charge of the supervision and conduct of the farming operations on the entire farm.

(m) "Person" means an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust, or other business enterprise or other legal entity, and wherever applicable, a State, a political subdivision of a State or any agency thereof.

(n) "Pick-ups" means (1) any tobacco sorted and reclaimed from leaves or bundles which have fallen to the warehouse floor in the usual course of business, or (2) any tobacco previously purchased at auction but not delivered to the buyer because of rejection by the buyer, lost ticket, or any other reason, and which is not turned back to a dealer other than the warehouseman and shall include tobacco delivered to the buyer but returned by the buyer to the warehouseman, and which is not turned back to a dealer other than the warehouseman.

(o) "Producer" means a person who, as owner, landlord, tenant, sharecropper, or laborer is entitled to share in the tobacco available for marketing from the farm or in the proceeds thereof.

(p) "Pound" means that amount of tobacco which, if weighed in its unstemmed form and in the condition in which it is usually marketed by producers, would equal one pound standard weight.

(q) "Resale" means the disposition by sale, barter, exchange, or gift inter vivos, of tobacco which has been marketed previously.

(r) "Sale day" means the period at the end of which the warehouseman bills to buyers the tobacco so purchased during such period.

(s) "Scrap tobacco" means the residue which accumulates in the course of preparing flue-cured tobacco for market, consisting chiefly of portions of tobacco leaves and leaves of poor quality.

(t) "Secretary" means the Secretary or Acting Secretary of Agriculture of the United States.

(u) "Suspended sale" means any first marketing of farm tobacco at a warehouse sale for which a memorandum of sale is not issued by the end of the sale day on which such marketing occurred.

(v) "Tobacco" means Burley tobacco, type 31, or flue-cured tobacco types 11, 12, 13 and 14, as classified in Service and Regulatory Announcement No. 118 (7 CFR Part 30) of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture, or both, as indicated by the context.

Any tobacco that has the same characteristics and corresponding qualities, colors, and lengths as either Burley or flue-cured tobacco shall be considered respectively either Burley or flue-cured tobacco regardless of any factors of historical or geographical nature which cannot be determined by examination of the tobacco.

(w) "Tobacco available for marketing" means all tobacco produced on the farm in the calendar year 1951 plus any carry-over tobacco, less any tobacco disposed of in accordance with § 725.243.

(x) "Tobacco subject to marketing quotas" means:

(1) Any Burley tobacco marketed during the period October 1, 1951, to September 30, 1952, inclusive, and any Burley tobacco produced in the calendar year 1951 and marketed prior to October 1, 1951.

(2) Any flue-cured tobacco marketed during the period July 1, 1951, to June 30, 1952, inclusive, and any flue-cured tobacco produced in the calendar year 1951 and marketed prior to July 1, 1951.

(y) "Trucker" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of trucking tobacco to market and selling it for producers regardless of whether the tobacco is acquired from producers by the trucker.

(z) "Warehouseman" means a person who engages to any extent in the business of holding sales of tobacco at public auction at a warehouse.

(aa) "Warehouse sale" means a marketing of tobacco by a sale at public auction through a warehouse in the regular course of business, and shall include all lots or baskets of tobacco marketed in sequence at a given time.

§ 725.232 Instructions and forms. The Director shall cause to be prepared and issued such forms as are necessary, and shall cause to be prepared such instructions as are necessary, for carrying out the regulations in this part. The forms and instructions shall be approved by, and the instructions shall be issued by, the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration.

§ 725.233 Extent of calculations and rules of fractions. (a) The acreage of tobacco harvested on a farm in 1951 shall be expressed in tenths and fractions of less than one-tenth acre shall be dropped. For example, 4.56 acres would be 4.5 acres.

(b) The percentage of excess tobacco available for marketing from a farm, hereinafter referred to as the "percent excess," shall be expressed in tenths and fractions of less than one-tenth shall be dropped. For example, 12.59 percent would be 12.5 percent.

(c) The amount of penalty per pound upon marketings of tobacco subject to penalty hereinafter referred to as the "converted rate of penalty," shall be expressed in tenths of a cent and fractions of less than a tenth shall be dropped, except that if the resulting converted rate of penalty is less than a tenth of a cent, it shall be expressed in hundredths and fractions of less than a hundredth shall be dropped. For example, 3.68 cents per pound would be 3.6 cents and 0.068 cents per pound would be 0.06 cents.

FARM MARKETING QUOTAS AND MARKETING CARDS

the farm acreage allotment shall be the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1951 times the farm acreage allotment.

(b) The excess tobacco on any farm shall be (1) that quantity of tobacco which is equal to the average yield per acre of the entire acreage of tobacco harvested on the farm in 1951 times the number of acres harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment plus (2) any excess carry-over tobacco. The acreage of tobacco determined for a farm for the purpose of issuing the correct marketing card for the farm, as provided in § 725.236, shall be considered the harvested acreage for the farm unless the farm operator furnishes proof satisfactory to the county committee that a portion of the acreage planted will not be harvested or that a representative portion of the production of the acreage harvested will be disposed of other than by marketing.

§ 725.235 No transfers. There shall be no transfer of farm marketing quotas.

§ 725.236 Issuance of marketing cards. A marketing card shall be issued for each farm having tobacco available for marketing. Subject to the approval of the county committee, two or more marketing cards may be issued for any farm. All entries on each marketing card shall be made in accordance with the instructions for issuing marketing cards. Upon the return to the office of the county committee of the marketing card after all of the memoranda of sale have been issued therefrom and before the marketing of tobacco from the farm has been completed, a new marketing card of the same kind, bearing the same name, information and identification as the used card shall be issued for the farm. A new marketing card of the same kind shall be issued to replace a card which has been determined by the county committee to have been lost, destroyed or stolen.

(a) Within Quota Marketing Card (MQ–76—Tobacco). A Within Quota Marketing Card authorizing the marketing without penalty of the tobacco available for marketing shall be issued for a farm under the following conditions:

(1) If the harvested acreage of tobacco in 1951 is not in excess of the farm acreage allotment and any excess carry-over tobacco from any prior marketing year can be marketed without penalty under the provisions of § 725.242 (b).

(2) If all excess tobacco produced on the farm is disposed of in accordance with § 725.243 (b), or

(3) If the tobacco was grown for experimental purposes on land owned or leased by a publicly owned agricultural experiment station and is produced at public expense by employees of the experiment station, or if the tobacco was produced by farmers pursuant to an agreement with a publicly owned experiment station whereby the experiment station bears the costs and risks incident to the production of the tobacco and the proceeds from the crop inure to the benefit of the experiment station: Provided, That such agreement is approved by the State committee prior to the issuance of a marketing card for the farm.

(b) Excess Marketing Card (MQ–77—Tobacco). An Excess Marketing Card showing the extent to which marketings of tobacco from a farm are subject to penalty shall be issued unless a within quota card is required to be issued for the farm under paragraph (a) of this section, except that if the farm operator fails to disclose, or otherwise furnish, or prevents the county committee from obtaining, any information necessary to the issuance of the correct marketing card, an excess marketing card shall be issued showing that all tobacco from the farm is subject to the rate of penalty set forth in § 725.245.

§ 725.237 Person authorized to issue cards. The county committee shall designate one person to sign marketing cards for farms in the county as issuing officer. The issuing officer may, subject to the approval of the county committee, designate not more than three persons to sign his name in issuing marketing cards: Provided, That each such person shall place his initials immediately beneath the name of the issuing officer as written by him on the card.

§ 725.238 Rights of producers in marketing cards. Each producer having a share in the tobacco available for marketing from a farm shall be entitled to the use of the marketing card issued for the farm for marketing his proportionate share.

§ 725.239 Successors in interest. Any person who succeeds in whole or in part to the share of a producer in the tobacco available for marketing from a farm shall, to the extent of such succession, have the same rights as the producer to the use of the marketing card for the farm.

§ 725.240 Invalid cards. A marketing card shall be invalid if:

(a) It is not issued or delivered in the form and manner prescribed;

(b) Entries are omitted or incorrect;

(c) It is lost, destroyed, stolen, or becomes illegible; or

(d) Any erasure or alteration has been made, and not properly initialed.

In the event any marketing card becomes invalid (other than by loss, destruction, or theft, or by omission, alteration or incorrect entry which cannot be corrected by a field assistant), the farm operator, or the person having the card in his possession, shall return it to the office of the county committee at which it was issued.

If any entry is not made on a marketing card as required, either through omission or incorrect entry, and the proper entry is made and initialed by a field assistant, then such card shall become valid.

§ 725.241 Report of misuse of marketing card. Any information which causes a field assistant, a member of a State, county, or community committee, or an employee of a State or county committee, to believe that any tobacco which actually was produced on one farm has been or is being marketed under the marketing card issued for another farm shall be reported immediately by such person to the county or State committee.

MARKETING OR OTHER DISPOSITION OF TOBACCO AND PENALTIES

§ 725.242 Extent to which marketings from a farm are subject to penalty. (a) Marketings of tobacco from a farm having no carry-over tobacco available for marketing shall be subject to penalty by the percent excess determined as follows: Divide the acreage of tobacco harvested in excess of the farm acreage allotment and not disposed of under § 725.243 by the total acreage of tobacco harvested from the farm.

(b) Marketings of tobacco from a farm having carry-over tobacco available for marketing shall be subject to penalty by the percent excess determined as follows:

(1) Determine the number of "carry-over" acres by dividing the number of pounds of carry-over tobacco from the prior years by the normal yield for the farm for that year.

(2) Determine the number of "within quota carry-over acres" by multiplying the "carry-over acres" (subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) by the "percent within quota" (i. e. 100 percent minus the percent excess) for the year in which the carry-over tobacco was produced, except that if the excess portion of the carry-over tobacco is disposed of under § 725.243, the "percent within quota" shall be 100.

(3) Determine the "total acres" of tobacco by adding the "carry-over acres" (subparagraph (1) of this paragraph) and the acreage of tobacco harvested in the current year.

(4) Determine the "excess acres" by subtracting from the "total acres" (subparagraph (3) of this paragraph) the sum of the 1951 allotment and the "with in quota carry-over acres" (subparagraph (2) of this paragraph).

(5) Determine the percent excess by dividing the "total acres" into the "excess acres" (subparagraph (4) of this paragraph).

(6) Those persons having an interest in the carry-over tobacco for a farm shall be liable for the payment of any penalty due thereon.

(c) For the purpose of determining the penalty due on each marketing by a producer of tobacco subject to penalty, the converted rate of penalty per pound shall be determined by multiplying the applicable rate of penalty by the percent excess obtained under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section. The memorandum of sale issued to identify each such marketing shall show the amount of penalty due.

§ 725.243 Disposition of excess tobacco. The farm operator may elect to give satisfactory proof of disposition of excess tobacco prior to the marketing of any tobacco from the farm by either of the following methods:

(a) By storage of the excess tobacco, the tobacco so stored to be representative of the entire 1951 crop produced on the farm, and posting of a bond approved by the county committee and the State committee in the penal sum of twice the rate of penalty per pound set forth in § 725.245, times the quantity of excess tobacco stored. Penalty at the applicable full rate per pound on marketings of excess tobacco shall become due upon the removal from storage of the excess tobacco, except that an amount of such tobacco in storage equal to the normal production of the acreage by which the 1952 harvested acreage plus any acreage added with respect to any excess carry-over tobacco for the farm pursuant to § 725.242 (b) is less than the 1952 allotment may be removed from storage and marketed penalty free.

If the 1951 harvested acreage is less than the 1951 allotment an amount of any tobacco from the farm which was placed under storage for a prior marketing year equal to the normal production of the acreage by which the 1951 harvested acreage plus any acreage added with respect to any excess carry-over tobacco for the farm pursuant to § 725.242 (b) is less than the 1951 allotment may be marketed penalty free.

(b) By furnishing to the county committee satisfactory proof that excess tobacco representative of the entire crop will not be marketed.

§ 725.244 Identification of marketings. Each marketing of tobacco from a farm shall be identified by an executed memorandum of sale from the 1951 marketing card (MQ–76—Tobacco or MQ–77—Tobacco) issued for the farm on which the tobacco was produced. In addition, in the case of nonwarehouse sales each marketing shall also be identified by an executed bill of nonwarehouse sale (reverse side of memorandum of sale).

(a) Memorandum of sale. If a memorandum of sale is not executed to identify a warehouse sale of producer's tobacco by the end of the sale day on which the tobacco was marketed, the marketing shall be a suspended sale, and, unless a memorandum identifying the tobacco so marketed is executed on or before the last warehouse sale day of the marketing season, or within four weeks after the date of marketing, whichever comes first, the marketing shall be identified by MQ–82—Tobacco, Sale Without Marketing Card, as a marketing of excess tobacco. The memorandum of sale or MQ–82—Tobacco shall be executed only by a field assistant or other representative of the State committee with the following exceptions:

(1) A warehouseman, or his representative, who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco, may issue a memorandum of sale to identify a warehouse sale if a field assistant is not available at the warehouse when the marketing card is presented. Each memorandum of sale issued by a warehouseman to cover a warehouse sale shall be presented promptly by him to the field assistant for verification with the warehouse records.

(2) In the case of flue-cured tobacco only, a dealer, or his authorized representative, operating a receiving point for scrap tobacco at a redrying plant (and other regular receiving points operated by such dealer or his agent or employees) or at an auction warehouse, who keeps records showing the information specified in § 725.252, and who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco, may issue a memorandum of sale covering a purchase of scrap tobacco only if the bill of nonwarehouse sale has been executed.

The authorization on MQ–78—Tobacco to issue memoranda of sale may be withdrawn by the State committee from any warehouseman or dealer if such action is determined to be necessary in order to properly enforce the provisions of §§ 725.230 to 725.260. The authorization shall terminate upon receipt of written notice setting forth the State committee's reason therefor.

Each excess memorandum of sale issued by a field assistant shall be verified by the warehouseman or dealer (or his representative) to determine whether the amount of penalty shown to be due has been correctly computed and such warehouseman or dealer shall not be relieved of any liability with respect to the amount of penalty due because of any error which may occur in executing the memorandum of sale.

(b) Bill of nonwarehouse sale. Each nonwarehouse sale shall be identified by a bill of nonwarehouse sale completely executed by the buyer and the farm operator.

The word "scrap" shall be plainly written on any bill of nonwarehouse sale or memorandum of sale executed to cover scrap tobacco, and all such bills of nonwarehouse sale shall be delivered to a person at a scrap receiving point who is authorized to issue memoranda of sale.

Each bill of nonwarehouse sale covering any marketing except scrap tobacco shall be presented to a field assistant for the issuance of a memorandum of sale and for recording in MQ–79—Tobacco.

§ 725.245 Rate of penalty. (a) The penalty per pound upon marketings of excess tobacco subject to marketing quotas shall be twenty (20) cents per pound in the case of Burley tobacco and twenty-two (22) cents per pound in the case of flue-cured tobacco.

(b) With respect to tobacco marketed from farms having excess tobacco available for marketing the penalty shall be paid upon that percentage of each lot of tobacco marketed which the tobacco available for marketing in excess of the farm quota is of the total amount of tobacco available for marketing from the farm.

§ 725.246 Persons to pay penalty. The person to pay the penalty due on any marketing of tobacco subject to penalty shall be determined as follows:

(a) Warehouse sale. The penalty due on marketings by a producer through a warehouse shall be paid by the warehouseman who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(b) Nonwarehouse sale. The penalty due on tobacco purchased directly from a producer other than at public auction through a warehouse shall be paid by the purchaser of the tobacco who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(c) Marketings through an agent. The penalty due on marketings by a producer through an agent who is not a warehouseman shall be paid by the agent who may deduct an amount equivalent to the penalty from the price paid to the producer.

(d) Marketings outside the United States. The penalty due on marketings by a producer directly to any person outside the United States shall be paid by the producer.

§ 725.247 Marketings deemed to be excess tobacco. Any marketing of tobacco under any one of the following conditions shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco.

(a) Warehouse sale. Any warehouse sale of tobacco by a producer which is not identified by a valid memorandum of sale on or before the last warehouse sale day of the marketing season or within four weeks following the date of marketing, whichever comes first, shall be identified by a MQ–82—Tobacco, and shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman.

(b) Nonwarehouse sale. Any nonwarehouse sale which (1) is not identified by a valid bill of nonwarehouse sale (reverse side of memorandum of sale) and (2) is not also identified by a valid memorandum of sale and recorded in MQ–79—Tobacco within one week following the date of purchase, or if purchased prior to the opening of the local auction markets, is not identified by a valid memorandum of sale and recorded in MQ–79—Tobacco within one week following the first sale day of the local auction markets, shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the purchaser of such tobacco.

(c) Leaf account tobacco. The part or all of any marketing by a warehouseman which such warehouseman represents to be a leaf account resale but which when added to prior leaf account resales, as reported under §§ 725.230 to 725.260, is in excess of prior leaf account purchases shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such warehouseman furnishes proof acceptable to the Director or State committee showing that such marketing is not a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman.

(d) Dealer's tobacco. The part or all of any marketing of tobacco by a dealer which such dealer represents to be a resale but which when added to prior resales by such dealer is in excess of the total of his prior purchases as reported on MQ–79—Tobacco, shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such dealer furnishes proof acceptable to the Director or State committee, showing that such marketing is not a marketing of excess tobacco. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the dealer.

(e) Marketings not reported. Any resale of tobacco which under §§ 725.230 to 725.260, is required to be reported by a warehouseman or dealer but which is not so reported within the time and in the manner required by §§ 725.230 to 725.260 shall be deemed to be a marketing of excess tobacco unless and until such warehouseman or dealer furnishes a report of such resale which is acceptable to the Director or State committee. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the warehouseman or dealer who fails to make the report as required.

(f) Producer marketings. If any producer falsely identifies or fails to account for the disposition of any tobacco produced on a farm, an amount of tobacco equal to the normal yield of the number of acres harvested in 1951 in excess of the farm acreage allotment shall be deemed to have been a marketing of excess tobacco from such farm. The penalty thereon shall be paid by the producer.

§ 725.248 Payment of penalty. (a) Penalties shall become due at the time the tobacco is marketed, except in the case of tobacco removed from storage as provided in § 725.243 (a), and shall be paid by remitting the amount thereof to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty. A draft, money order, or check drawn payable to the Treasurer of the United States may be used to pay any penalty, but any such draft or check shall be received subject to payment at par.

(b) If the penalty due on any warehouse sale of tobacco by a producer as determined under §§ 725.230 to 725.260 is in excess of the net proceeds of such sale (gross amount for all lots included in the sale less usual warehouse charges), the amount of the net proceeds accompanied by a copy of the warehouse bill covering such sale may be remitted as the full penalty due. Usual warehouse charges shall not include (1) advances to producers, (2) charges for hauling, or (3) any other charges not usually incurred by producers in marketing tobacco through an auction warehouse.

(c) Nonwarehouse sales, including sales of scrap tobacco, shall be subject to the converted rate of penalty for the farm on which the tobacco was produced without regard to the net proceeds of the sale.

§ 725.249 Request for return of penalty. Any producer of tobacco after the marketing of all tobacco available for marketing from the farm, and any other person who bore the burden of the payment of any penalty may request the return of the amount of such penalty which is in excess of the amount required under §§ 725.230 to 725.260, to be paid. Such request shall be filed with the county committee within two (2) years after the payment of the penalty.

RECORDS AND REPORTS

§ 725.250 Producer's records and reports—(a) Report on marketing card. The operator of each farm on which tobacco is produced in 1951 shall return to the office of the county committee each marketing card issued for the farm whenever marketings from the farm are completed and in no event later than thirty days after the close of the tobacco auction markets for the locality in which the farm is located. Failure to return the marketing card within the time specified (after formal notification) shall constitute failure to account for disposition of tobacco marketed from the farm and in the event that a satisfactory account of such disposition is not furnished otherwise the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in Burley and flue-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1952–53 marketing year.

(b) Additional reports by producers. In addition to any other reports which may be required under §§ 725.230 to 725.260, the operator of each farm or any other person having an interest in the tobacco grown on the farm (even though the harvested acreage does not exceed the acreage allotment or even though no allotment was established for the farm) shall upon written request by registered mail from the State committee and within 15 days after the deposit of such request in the United States mails, addressed to such person at his last known address, furnish the Secretary a written report of the disposition made of all tobacco produced on the farm by sending the same to the State committee showing, as to the farm at the time of filing said report, (1) the number of acres of tobacco harvested, (2) the total production of tobacco, (3) the amount of tobacco on hand and its location, and (4) as to each lot of tobacco marketed, the name and address of the warehouseman, dealer, or other person to or through whom such tobacco was marketed and the number of pounds marketed, the gross price, and the date of the marketing. Failure to file the report as requested or the filing of a report which is found by the State committee to be incomplete or incorrect shall constitute failure of the producer to account for disposition of tobacco produced on the farm and the allotment next established for such farm shall be reduced as provided in the Burley and flue-cured tobacco marketing quota regulations for determining acreage allotments and normal yields, 1952–53 marketing year.

§ 725.251 Warehouseman's records and reports—(a) Record of marketing. Each warehouseman shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director or the State committee with respect to each warehouse sale of tobacco made at his warehouse the following information:

(1) The name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco was produced and the name of the seller in the case of a sale by a producer, and in the case of a resale the name of the seller.
(2) Date of sale.
(3) Number of pounds sold.
(4) Gross sale price.
(5) Amount of any penalty and the amount of any deduction on account of penalty from the price paid the producer(s); and in addition with respect to each individual basket or lot of tobacco constituting the warehouse sale the following information.
(6) Name of purchaser.
(7) Number of pounds sold.
(8) Gross sale price.
(9) Records of all purchases and resales of tobacco by the warehouseman shall be maintained to show a separate account for:
(i) Nonwarehouse sales by farmers of tobacco purchased by or on behalf of the warehouseman.
(ii) Purchases and resales for the warehouse leaf account.
(iii) Resales of floor sweepings.
(iv) Resales of pick-ups, with respect to both subparagraphs (1) and (2) as defined in § 725.231 (n).

Any warehouseman or any other person who grades tobacco for farmers shall maintain records which will enable him to furnish the State committee the name of the farm operator and the approximate amount of scrap tobacco obtained from the grading of tobacco from each farm.

In the case of resales for dealers the name of the dealer making each resale shall be shown on the warehouse records so that the individual lots of tobacco sold by the dealer can be identified.

(b) Identification of sale on check register. The serial number of the memorandum of sale issued to identify each warehouse sale by a producer or the number of warehouse bill(s) covering each such sale shall be recorded on the check register or check stub for the check written with respect to such sale of tobacco.

(c) Memorandum of sale and bill of nonwarehouse sale. A record in the form of a valid memorandum of sale or a sale without marketing card shall be obtained by a warehouseman to cover each marketing of tobacco from a farm through the warehouse and each nonwarehouse sale of tobacco purchased by or for the warehouseman. For a nonwarehouse sale of tobacco purchased by or for a warehouseman, no memorandum of sale shall be issued unless the bill of nonwarehouse sale on the reverse side of the memorandum is executed. Any warehouseman who obtains possession of any scrap tobacco in the course of grading tobacco from any farm shall obtain a memorandum of sale to cover the amount of such scrap.

(d) Suspended sale record. Any warehouse bills covering farm tobacco for which memoranda of sale have not been issued at the end of the sale day shall be presented to a field assistant who shall stamp such bills "Suspended," write thereon the serial number of the suspended sale, and record the bills on MQ–83—Tobacco, Field Assistant's Report: Provided, That if a field assistant is not available, the warehouseman may stamp such bills "Suspended" and deliver them to a field assistant when one is available.

(e) Warehouse entries on dealer's record. Each warehouseman shall record on MQ–79—Tobacco the total purchases and resales made by each dealer or other warehouseman during each sale day at the warehouse and enter his initials in the space provided. If any tobacco resold by the dealer is tobacco bought by him from a crop produced prior to 1951 the entry on MQ–79—Tobacco shall clearly show such fact.

(f) Record and report of purchases and resales. Each warehouseman shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco, Dealer's Record, showing:

(1) All purchases of tobacco directly from producers other than at public auction through a warehouse (nonwarehouse sales).

(2) All purchases and resales of tobacco at public auction through warehouses other than his own.

(3) All purchases of tobacco from dealers other than warehousemen and resales of tobacco to dealers other than warehousemen.

(g) Season report of warehouse business. Each warehouseman shall furnish the State committee not later than thirty (30) days following the last sale day of the marketing season a report on MQ–80—Tobacco, Auction Warehouse Report, showing (1) for each dealer or buyer, as originally billed, the total pounds and gross amount of tobacco purchased and resold on the warehouse floor; (2) the total pounds and gross amount of "loan tobacco" billed to any association; (3) the total pounds and gross amount of all leaf account tobacco purchased and resold and of all pick-ups (§ 725.231 (n) (1) or (2)) or floor sweepings sold by the warehouseman at public auction over his own warehouse floor; (4) the pounds and estimated value of all tobacco on hand at the time of filing the report and whether such tobacco represents leaf account tobacco, pick-ups (§ 725.231 (n) (1) or (2)), or floor sweepings; (5) the total pounds and gross amount of all tobacco purchased directly from farmers other than at public auction through a warehouse; and (6) the total pounds and gross amount of all purchases over other warehouse floors or from dealers other than warehousemen and all resales over other warehouse floors or to dealers other than warehousemen.

(h) Report of penalties. Each warehouseman shall make reports on MQ–81—Tobacco, Report of Penalties, showing for each sale of tobacco subject to penalty (1) the name of the farm operator; (2) the memorandum number; (3) the name of the county in which the farm is located; (4) the farm serial number; (5) the number of pounds sold; (6) the applicable converted rate of penalty; and (7) the amount of penalty due on each such sale. MQ–81—Tobacco shall be prepared for each week and forwarded together with remittance of the penalty due as shown thereon to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty.

(i) Report of resales. Each warehouseman shall make reports on MQ–86—Tobacco, Report of Resales, showing for each resale of tobacco at auction on the warehouse floor (1) the warehouse bill number; (2) the name on the warehouse bill; (3) the name of the seller, or in the case of a resale for the warehouse, whether such resale represents leaf account tobacco, pick-ups, or floor sweepings; (4) the registration number and State of the person making the resale; (5) the number of pounds sold; and (6) the gross amount for the sale. MQ–86–Tobacco shall be prepared for each sale day and forwarded to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco was resold.

(j) Additional records and reports by warehousemen. Each warehouseman shall keep such records and furnish such reports to the State committee, in addition to the foregoing, as the Director may find necessary to insure the proper identification of the marketings of tobacco and the collection of penalties due thereon as provided in §§ 725.230 to 725.260.

§ 725.252 Dealer's records and reports. Each dealer, except as provided in § 725.253, shall keep the records and make the reports as provided by this section.

(a) Report of dealer's name, address and registration number. Each dealer shall properly execute and the field assistant shall detach and forward to the State committee "Receipt for Dealer's Record" contained in MQ–79—Tobacco which is issued to the dealer.

(b) Record and report of purchases and resales. Each dealer shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco, Dealer's Record, showing all purchases and resales of tobacco made by or for the dealer and, in the event of resale of tobacco bought from a crop produced prior to 1951, the fact that such tobacco was bought by him and carried over from a crop produced prior to 1951.

(c) Report of penalties. Each dealer shall make a report on MQ–81—Tobacco, Report of Penalties, showing for each purchase of tobacco subject to penalty (1) the name of the farm operator; (2) the memorandum number; (3) the name of the county in which the farm is located; (4) the farm serial number; (5) the number of pounds purchased; (6) the applicable converted rate of penalty; and (7) the amount of penalty due on each such purchase. MQ–81—Tobacco shall be prepared for each week and forwarded together with remittance of the penalty due as shown thereon to the State committee not later than the end of the calendar week following the week in which the tobacco became subject to penalty.

(d) Memorandum of sale and bill of nonwarehouse sale. A bill of nonwarehouse sale and a memorandum of sale from the 1951 marketing card issued for the farm on which the tobacco was produced shall be obtained by a dealer to cover each purchase of tobacco directly from a producer other than at auction through a warehouse. No memorandum of sale shall be issued identifying such purchase unless the bill of nonwarehouse sale on the reverse side of the memorandum of sale has been executed.

(e) Record and report of scrap tobacco. Each dealer operating a receiving point for scrap tobacco who has been authorized on MQ–78—Tobacco to issue memoranda of sale, shall keep a record and make reports on MQ–79—Tobacco showing all tobacco received. Such reports shall be accompanied by memoranda of sale and bills of nonwarehouse sale with respect to all tobacco covered by the reports.

(f) Additional records. Each dealer shall keep such records in addition to the foregoing, as will enable him to furnish the Director or the State committee with respect to each lot of tobacco purchased by him, the following information:

(1) The name of the warehouse through which the tobacco was purchased in the case of a warehouse sale; the name of the operator of the farm on which the tobacco was produced and the name of the seller in the case of a nonwarehouse sale; and the name of the seller in the case of purchases directly from warehousemen or other dealers.
(2) Date of purchase.
(3) Number of pounds purchased.
(4) Gross purchase price.
(5) Amount of any penalty and the amount of any deduction on account of penalty from the price paid the producer(s); and with respect to each lot of tobacco sold by him the following information.
(6) Name of the warehouse through which the tobacco was sold in the case of a warehouse sale, and the name of the purchaser if other than a warehouse sale.
(7) Date of sale.
(8) Number of pounds sold.
(9) Gross sale price.
(10) In the event of a resale of tobacco bought by him and carried over from a crop produced prior to 1951 the fact that such tobacco was so bought and carried over.

All reports shall be forwarded to the State committee not later than the end of the week following the calendar week covered by the reports.

§ 725.253 Dealers exempt from regular records and reports. Any dealer or buyer who does not purchase or otherwise acquire tobacco except (a) at warehouse sales, or (b) directly from dealers other than warehousemen, and who does not resell in the form in which tobacco ordinarily is sold by farmers more than 10 percent of such tobacco so purchased by him shall not be subject to the provisions of § 725.252: Provided, however, That any such dealer or buyer who purchases tobacco (a) at nonwarehouse sale, or (b) from a warehouseman other than at warehouse sale shall be subject to the provisions of § 725.252 with respect to such purchases. Each such dealer or buyer shall make such reports to the Director, in addition to the foregoing, as he may find necessary to enforce §§ 725.230 to 725.260, and each dealer or buyer who is not subject to the provisions of § 725.252 shall make such reports to the Director as he may find necessary to enforce §§ 725.230 to 725.260.

§ 725.254 Records and reports of truckers and persons redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco. (a) Every person engaged to any extent in the business of trucking tobacco for producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director or State committee a report with respect to each lot of tobacco received by him showing (1) the name and address of the farm operator, (2) the date of receipt of the tobacco, (3) the number of pounds received, and (4) the place to which it was delivered.

(b) Every person engaged to any extent in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers shall keep such records as will enable him to furnish the Director a report showing (1) the information required above for truckers, and in addition, (2) the purpose for which the tobacco was received, (3) the amount of advance made by him on the tobacco, and (4) the disposition of the tobacco.

Each such person shall make such reports to the Director as he may find necessary to enforce §§ 725.230 to 725.260.

§ 725.255 Separate records and reports from persons engaged in more than one business. Any person who is required to keep any record or make any report as a warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or as a person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers, and who is engaged in more than one such business, shall keep such records as will enable him to make separate reports for each such business in which he is engaged to the same extent for each such business as if he were engaged in no other business.

§ 725.256 Failure to keep records or make reports. Any warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing, or stemming tobacco for producers, who fails to make any report or keep any record as required under §§ 725.230 to 725.260, or who makes any false report or record, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be subject to a fine of not more than $500; and any tobacco warehouseman or dealer who fails to remedy such violation by making a complete and accurate report or keeping a complete and accurate record as required under these regulations within fifteen days after notice to him of such violation shall be subject to an additional fine of $100 for each ten thousand pounds of tobacco, or fraction thereof, bought or sold by him after the date of such violation: Provided, That such fine shall not exceed $5,000; and notice of such violation shall be served upon the tobacco warehouseman or dealer by mailing the same to him by registered mail or by posting the same at an established place of business operated by him, or both. Notice of any violation by a tobacco warehouseman or dealer shall be given by the Director.

§ 725.257 Examination of records and reports. For the purpose of ascertaining the correctness of any report made or record kept, or of obtaining information required to be furnished in any report but not so furnished, any warehouseman, dealer, trucker, or person engaged in the business of redrying, prizing or stemming tobacco for producers shall make available for examination upon written request by the State committee or Director, such books, papers, records, accounts, cancelled checks, correspondence, contracts, documents, and memoranda as the State committee or Director has reason to believe are relevant and are within the control of such person.

§ 725.258 Length of time records and reports are to be kept. Records required to be kept and copies of the reports required to be made by any person under §§ 725.230 to 725.260 for the 1951–52 marketing year shall be kept by him until June 30, 1954, in the case of flue-cured tobacco, and September 30, 1954, in the case of Burley tobacco. Records shall be kept for such longer period of time as may be requested in writing by the Director or State committee.

§ 725.259 Information confidential. All data reported to or acquired by the Secretary pursuant to the provisions of §§ 725.230 to 725.260 shall be kept confidential by all officers and employees of the United States Department of Agriculture and by all members of community committees and all members and employees of county committees, and only such data so reported or acquired as the Assistant Administrator for Production, Production and Marketing Administration, deems relevant shall be disclosed by them and then only in a suit or administrative hearing under Title III of the Act.

§ 725.260 Redelegation of authority. Any authority delegated to the State committee by §§ 725.230 to 725.260 may be redelegated by the State committee.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by and subsequent reporting requirements will be subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of May 1951. Witness my hand and seal of the Department of Agriculture.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Secretary of Agriculture.

Chapter VIII—Production and Marketing Administration (Sugar Branch), Department of Agriculture

Subchapter B—Sugar Requirements and Quotas

[Sugar Reg. 814.5, Amdt. 1]

PART 814—ALLOTMENT OF SUGAR QUOTAS

PUERTO RICO, 1951

Basis and purpose. This amendment is issued under section 205 (a) of the Sugar Act of 1948 (hereinafter called the "act") for the purpose of revising § 814.5 (16 F. R. 1668) which allots the 1951 sugar quota for Puerto Rico for consumption in the continental United States (including raw sugar transferred for further processing and shipment within the direct-consumption portion of such quota) and the 1951 sugar quota for local consumption in Puerto Rico among persons (1) whose Puerto Rican raw sugar is brought into the continental United States or who transfer such sugar for further processing and shipment to the continental United States as direct-consumption sugar, and (2) who market sugar for local consumption in Puerto Rico.

The sugar quota for Puerto Rico for consumption in the continental United States is referred to herein as "mainland quota" and allotments thereof are referred to as "mainland allotments." The sugar quota for consumption in Puerto Rico and allotments thereof are referred to respectively as "local quota" and "local allotments."

The allotments established by the initial order were based upon estimates of production of sugar from the 1950–51 crop by each allottee and in order to safeguard against the possibility of a processor exceeding its final allotment, the amount of each such initial allotment which could be marketed prior to June 1, 1951, was limited to 75 percent of such allotment.

Representatives of all allottees stipulated for the record of the hearing on these allotments or subsequently agreed in writing that when so-called "Easter estimates" of production from the 1950–51 sugarcane crop became available, the initial allotment order for 1951 should be revised on the basis of such data without change in the initial formula and without further hearing. These "Easter estimates" are as follows:

Processor	Proportionate shares[1] (short tons, raw value)
Antonio Roig, Sucesores, S. en C.	52,850
Arturo Lluberas (estate of) y Sobrinos (San Francisco)	7,000
Asociacion Azucarera Cooperative (Lafayette)	38,182
Central Aguirre Sugar Co., a trust	135,000
Central Coloso, Inc.	65,500
Central Eureka, Inc.	42,415
Central Guamani, Inc.	11,559

[1] Estimated 1950–51 crop production.

The greater accuracy of these new estimates and continued orderly marketing make desirable easing the limitation on marketings so that 85 percent, instead of 75 percent, of each allotment may be marketed and to extend the terminal date of the limitation from June 1, 1951, to September 1, 1951. Each allottee under this order has agreed to this change.

A number of allottees have marketed nearly 75 percent of their allotments, hence they are precluded from orderly marketing of additional quantities of sugar until this amendment becomes effective. Moreover, a number of allottees could exceed their allotments under this amendment if they continue to market pursuant to the allotments and limitations established by the initial allotment order. It is imperative, therefore, that this amendment become effective at the earliest possible date in order to permit continued orderly marketing of sugar and to assure that allottees will not exceed their final allotments of the mainland and local quotas. Accordingly, it is hereby found that compliance with the 30-day effective date requirement of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237) is impracticable and contrary to the public interest and, consequently, this amendment shall be effective when published in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Secretary of Agriculture by section 205 (a) of the act, paragraphs (a) and (c) (1) of § 814.5 are hereby amended in the following manner:

1. Paragraph (a) of § 814.5 is hereby revised to read as follows:

§ 814.5 Allotments of 1951 sugar quotas for Puerto Rico—(a) Allotments. The 1951 sugar quota for Puerto Rico for consumption in the continental United States, including raw sugar to be further processed and shipped within the direct-consumption portion of such quota, amounting to 910,000 short tons of sugar, raw value, and the 1951 sugar quota for local consumption in Puerto Rico, amounting to 110,000 short tons of sugar, raw value, are hereby allotted to the following processors in amounts which appear in columns (1) and (3) opposite their respective names:

2. Paragraph (c) (1) of § 814.5 is hereby amended to read as follows:

(c) Restrictions on marketing. (1) Prior to September 1, 1951, each processor named in paragraph (a) of this section, together with the producers with whom it shares its allotments under paragraph (b) of this section, is hereby prohibited from bringing into or marketing for entry into the continental United States for consumption therein, or from marketing for local consumption in Puerto Rico, any sugar in excess of 85 percent of the allotments established in paragraph (a) of this section, such quantities being shown in columns 2 and 4 of the table in paragraph (a) of this section.

awarding a contract for voting machines to a higher bidder where it is apparent or in good conscience believed that such public officials acted arbitrarily or capriciously, and where, upon request by the losing bidder or by any within the jurisdiction affected, such public officials fail or refuse to furnish a valid reason for making such award to the higher bidder.

(Sec. 6, 38 Stat. 722; 15 U. S. C. 45. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 45) [Cease and desist order, Automatic Voting Machine Corporation et al., Docket 5776, March 19, 1951]

In the Matter of Automatic Voting Machine Corporation et al.

This proceeding was heard by William L. Pack, trial examiner, upon the complaint of the Commission, respondents' substitute answers (in which, with certain exceptions as to certain directors of the respondent corporation in their individual capacities and as to one deceased respondent) all of the material allegations of fact in the complaint were admitted, certain affidavits executed by said directors, a stipulation as to certain matters involved in the proceeding but not specifically set forth in the complaint, and a proposed order which was agreed upon by counsel submitting the complaint and counsel for respondents.

Thereafter the proceeding regularly came on for final consideration by said trial examiner, theretofore duly designated by the Commission, upon the complaint, substitute answers, affidavits, stipulation, and proposed order (the filing of proposed findings and conclusions having been waived by counsel and oral argument not having been requested); and said trial examiner, having duly considered the record and found that the instant proceeding was in the interest of the public, made his initial decision comprising certain findings as to the facts, conclusion drawn therefrom, and order, including order to cease and desist, and order dismissing the complaint as to certain respondents as therein set forth.

Thereafter, the matter was disposed of as follows by the Commission's "Order denying respondents' appeal from initial decision of the trial examiner and decision of the Commission and order to file report of compliance," Docket 5776, March 21, 1951.

This matter coming on to be heard by the Commission upon the respondents' appeal from the trial examiner's initial decision in this proceeding, and the brief in opposition thereto filed by counsel in support of the complaint; and

It appearing to the Commission that the grounds relied upon in support of said appeal are (1) that the alleged unfair methods of competition and unfair or deceptive acts and practices making up the alleged violation of law constitute a private controversy between the respondents and their competitor, redressable in the courts, and do not involve or affect the public interest; and (2) that certain of the trial examiner's findings of fact and conclusions are improper in that they are not supported by the record; and

It further appearing that the question of the public interest in this proceeding was specifically adjudicated by the Commission in its order of March 19, 1951, denying the respondents' motion to stay further proceedings and to stay the issuance of an order to cease and desist herein; and

It further appearing also that the trial examiner's findings of fact and conclusions are all full supported by the record wherein the respondents against whom the order to cease and desist was directed admitted all of the material allegations of fact set forth in the complaint, waived all hearings and further procedure as to said facts, including their right to submit to the trial examiner proposed findings as to the facts, and agreed that the Commission might make any findings as to the facts and conclusion it deemed advisable and proper regarding the acts and practices admitted to have been engaged in and might issue any order it deemed appropriate to prevent the respondents from thereafter engaging in such acts and practices; and

The Commission being of the opinion that the respondents' appeal is without merit and that the trial examiner's initial decision is appropriate in all respects to dispose of this proceeding:

It is ordered, That the respondents' appeal from the initial decision of the trial examiner and their request for oral argument in support of said appeal be, and they hereby are, denied.

It is further ordered, That the attached initial decision of the trial examiner shall on the 19th day of March 1951, become the decision of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That the respondents (except Burton G. Tremaine III, George S. Stevenson, Burton G. Tremaine, Jr., and W. G. McKetterick, in their individual capacities, and respondent William H. Staring, now deceased) shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon them of this order file with the Commission a report in writing setting forth in detail the manner and form in which they have complied with the order to cease and desist.

The said order to cease and desist, in said initial decision, is as follows:

It is ordered, That respondent Automatic Voting Machine Corporation, a corporation, its officers and directors, and respondent Alaric R. Bailey, individually and as an officer and director of said corporation, and respondent Paul A. Ahlstrom, individually and as an officer of said corporation, and respondents Frank P. Stone, Raymond C. Anderson, Alvin N. Gustavson, and Oscar F. Swanson, individually and as employees of said corporation, and respondent Burton G. Tremaine III, as an officer and director of said corporation, and respondents George S. Stevenson, Burton G. Tremaine, Jr., and W. G. McKetterick, as directors of said corporation, and respondents' representatives, agents and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale and distribution of voting machines in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, do forthwith cease and desist from:

1. Representing in any manner or by any means, directly or by implication:

(a) That the financial condition of the competitor of respondent corporation is unstable.

(b) That the voting machines of said competitor or the counting mechanism of said machines can be improperly manipulated without detection.

(c) That the use of said competitor's voting machines is conducive to, or encourages, fraud in elections.

(d) That said competitor lacks adequate experience in, or facilities for, servicing its voting machines.

(e) That the life expectancy of said competitor's voting machines is shorter than is the fact.

(f) That the electric motor in said competitor's voting machine serves no purpose other than to close and open the curtains which enclose the voter.

(g) That it is necessary for voters to assume ungainly positions when voting by means of said competitor's vertical column voting machine.

(h) That the punching machine equipment used in conjunction with said competitor's vertical type voting machines is unusually expensive.

(i) That where said competitor's voting machine is used the cost for printing is greater than is such cost where the voting machine of respondent corporation is used.

(j) That with said competitor's electrically or manually operated voting machines, voting is slower than with the respondent corporation's electrically or manually operated voting machines, respectively.

(k) That secrecy in voting for write-in candidates is destroyed or rendered impossible when said competitor's voting machine is used.

(l) That said competitor's voting machines do not fully, properly or secretly record or tabulate a voter's choice.

2. Instigating or financing, directly or indirectly, lawsuits by others against purchasers or prospective purchasers of the voting machines of the competitor of respondent corporation with the purpose, intent or effect of hindering or obstructing the business or sales of said competitor, or of impounding, or having impounded, moneys payable to or due said competitor, or of injuring the credit or reputation of said competitor: provided that nothing contained herein shall impair any rights accorded respondents by state law openly and publicly to cooperate in, support, finance or otherwise encourage or promote litigation affecting contracts or awards for said competitor's voting machines where the respondent corporation is the lower bidder for electrically operated voting machines as against the electrically operated voting machines of its competitor, or for manually operated voting machines as against manually operated voting machines of its competitor, and where such litigation is brought in good faith;

(a) To test and determine judicially the validity of any such contracts awarded to said competitor in any jurisdiction where the law now requires, or where in the future it may require, that the contract-awarding authority or governmental purchasing agency, without the right to exercise discretion, shall make its award only to the lowest bidder; or

(b) To test and determine judicially questions of fraud, deceit or trickery; or

(c) To question judicially the discretionary action of public officials in awarding a contract for voting machines to a higher bidder where it is apparent or in good conscience believed that such public officials acted arbitrarily or capriciously, and where, upon request by the losing bidder or by any taxpayer within the jurisdiction affected, such public officials fail or refuse to furnish a valid reason for making such award to the highest bidder.

It is further ordered, That the complaint herein be, and it hereby is, dismissed as to respondents Burton G. Tremaine III, George S. Stevenson, Burton G. Tremaine, Jr., and W. G. McKetterick in their individual capacities but not in their respective capacities as officers or directors of respondent corporation, and that the complaint be, and it hereby is, dismissed as to respondent William H. Staring, deceased since the institution of this proceeding.

Issued: March 21, 1951.

By the Commission.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 1—REGULATIONS FOR THE ENFORCEMENT OF THE FEDERAL FOOD, DRUG, AND COSMETIC ACT

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator and the Secretary of the Treasury by the provisions of sections 701 (b) and 801 (c) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended by 63 Stat. 882; 21 U. S. C. 371 (b), 381 (c)), the regulations for the enforcement of section 801 (21 CFR 1.302–1.313, inclusive; 15 F. R. 584, 2756) are rescinded and the following regulations are issued in lieu thereof:

Sec.
1.315 Definitions.
1.316 Notice of sampling.
1.317 Payment for samples.
1.318 Hearing.
1.319 Application for authorization.
1.320 Granting of authorization.
1.321 Bonds.
1.322 Costs chargeable in connection with relabeling and reconditioning inadmissible imports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1.315 to 1.322 issued under sec. 371, 381, 52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371, 381.

IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

§ 1.315 Definitions. For the purposes of the regulations prescribed under section 801 (a), (b), and (c) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act:

(a) The term "owner" or "consignee" means the person who has the rights of a consignee under the provisions of sections 483, 484, and 485 of the Tariff Act of 1930, as amended (19 U. S. C. 1483, 1484, 1485).

(b) The term "chief of district" means the chief of the district of the Food and Drug Administration having jurisdiction over the port of entry through which an article is imported or offered for import, or such officer of the district as he may designate to act in his behalf in administering and enforcing the provisions of section 801 (a), (b), and (c).[1]

§ 1.316 Notice of sampling. When a sample of an article offered for import has been requested by the chief of district, the collector of customs having jurisdiction over the article shall give to the owner or consignee prompt notice of delivery of, or intention to deliver, such sample. Upon receipt of the notice, the owner or consignee shall hold such article and not distribute it until further notice from the chief of district or the collector of customs of the results of examination of the sample.

§ 1.317 Payment for samples. The Food and Drug Administration will pay for all import samples which are found to be in compliance with the requirements of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act. Billing for reimbursement should be made by the owner or consignee to the Food and Drug Administration district headquarters in whose territory the shipment was offered for import. Payment for samples will not be made if the article is found to be in violation of the act, even though subsequently brought into compliance under the terms of an authorization to bring the article into compliance or rendered not a food, drug, device, or cosmetic as set forth in § 1.319.

§ 1.318 Hearing. (a) If it appears that the article may be subject to refusal of admission, the chief of district shall give the owner or consignee a written notice to that effect, stating the reasons therefor. The notice shall specify a place and a period of time during which the owner or consignee shall have an opportunity to introduce testimony. Upon timely request, giving reasonable grounds therefor, such time and place may be changed. Such testimony shall be confined to matters relevant to the admissibility of the article, and may be introduced orally or in writing.

(b) If such owner or consignee submits or indicates his intention to submit an application for authorization to relabel or perform other action to bring the article into compliance with the act or to render it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic, such testimony shall include evidence in support of such application. If such application is not submitted at or prior to the hearing, the chief of district shall specify a time limit, reasonable in the light of the circumstances, for filing such application.

§ 1.319 Application for authorization. Application for authorization to relabel or perform other action to bring the article into compliance with the act or to render it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic may be filed only by the owner or consignee, and shall:

(a) Contain detailed proposals for bringing the article into compliance with the act or rendering it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic.

(b) Specify the time and place where such operations will be carried out and the approximate time for their completion.

§ 1.320 Granting of authorization. (a) When authorization contemplated by § 1.319 is granted, the chief of district shall notify the applicant in writing, specifying:

(1) The procedure to be followed;

(2) The disposition of the rejected articles or portions thereof;

(3) That the operations are to be carried out under the supervision of an officer of the Food and Drug Administration or the Bureau of Customs, as the case may be;

(4) A time limit, reasonable in the light of the circumstances, for completion of the operations; and

(5) Such other conditions as are necessary to maintain adequate supervision and control over the article.

(b) Upon receipt of a written request for extension of time to complete such operations, containing reasonable grounds therefor, the chief of district may grant such additional time as he deems necessary.

(c) An authorization may be amended upon a showing of reasonable grounds therefor and the filing of an amended application for authorization with the chief of district.

(d) If ownership of an article covered by an authorization changes before the operations specified in the authorization have been completed, the original owner will be held responsible, unless the new owner has executed a bond and obtained a new authorization. Any authorization granted under this section shall supersede and nullify any previously granted authorization with respect to the article.

§ 1.321 Bonds. The bonds required under section 801 (b) of the act may be executed by the owner or consignee on the appropriate form of a customs single-entry or term bond, containing a condition for the redelivery of the merchandise or any part thereof upon demand of the collector of customs and containing a provision for the performance of conditions as may legally be imposed for the relabeling or other action necessary to bring the article into compliance with the act or rendering it other than a food, drug, device, or cosmetic, in such manner as is prescribed for such bond in the customs regulations in force on the date of request for authorization. The bond shall be filed with the collector of customs.

§ 1.322 Costs chargeable in connection with relabeling and reconditioning inadmissible imports. The cost of supervising the relabeling or other action in connection with an import of food, drugs, devices, or cosmetics which fails to comply with the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act shall be paid by the owner or consignee who files an application requesting such action and executes a bond, pursuant to section 801 (b) of the act, as amended. The cost of such supervision shall include, but not be restricted to, the following:

(a) Travel expenses of the supervising officer.

(b) Per diem in lieu of subsistence of the supervising officer when away from his home station, as provided by law.

(c) Services of the supervising officer, to be calculated at a flat rate of $3.00 per hour (which shall include administrative expense), except that such services performed by a customs officer and subject to the provisions of section 5 of the act of February 13, 1911, as amended (19 U. S. C. 267), shall be calculated as provided in that act.

(d) Services of analyst, to be calculated at a flat rate of $3.50 per hour (which shall include the use of the chemical laboratories and equipment of the Food and Drug Administration).

(e) The minimum charge for services of supervising officers and of analysts shall be not less than the charge for 1 hour, and time after the first hour shall be computed in multiples of 1 hour, disregarding fractional parts less than ½ hour.

Effective date. This order shall become effective on the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Notice and public proceedings are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order for the reason that they establish rules of agency procedure and practice.

Dated: April 25, 1951.

TITLE 24—HOUSING AND HOUSING CREDIT

Chapter I—Home Loan Bank Board, Housing and Home Finance Agency

Subchapter C—Federal Savings and Loan System

PART 145—OPERATIONS

UNSECURED LOANS, PERMITTING LARGER LOANS GUARANTEED OR INSURED BY FEDERAL HOUSING ADMINISTRATION OR VETERANS' ADMINISTRATION

MAY 21, 1951.

Resolved that, pursuant to Part 108 of the General Regulations of the Home Loan Bank Board (24 CFR Part 108) and § 142.1 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR 142.1) notice and public procedure having been duly afforded (16 F. R. 3195), paragraph (b) of § 145.8 of the rules and regulations for the Federal Savings and Loan System (24 CFR 145.8 (b)) is hereby amended, effective May 25, 1951, to read as follows:

(b) Simple-interest, discount, or gross-charge loans for property alteration, repair, or improvement (except business loans provided by section 503 of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as now or hereafter amended, and not secured by lien on real estate) without the security of a lien upon such property: Provided, That:

(1) The net proceeds of any such loan do not exceed $1,500;

(2) The property is located in such association's regular lending area as defined in § 145.6-6;

(3) Each such loan is evidenced by one or more negotiable notes, bonds, or other written evidences of debt;

(4) The resulting aggregate amount of all such loans does not exceed an amount equal to 15 percent of such association's assets;

(5) Each such loan is repayable in regular monthly installments within a period of 5 years;

And provided further, That any such loan for property alteration, repair, or improvement that is accepted for insurance under the provisions of the National Housing Act, as now or hereafter amended, or for insurance or guarantee under the provisions of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944, as now or hereafter amended, may be made for such amount and repayable upon such terms and within such period as are acceptable to the insuring or guaranteeing agency: Provided, That no Federal association may make any unsecured loan to a director, officer, or employee of the association, or to any person or firm regularly serving the association in the capacity of attorney-at-law, except for the alteration, repair, or improvement of the home or combination of home and business property owned and occupied by such borrowing director, officer, employee, attorney, or firm.

Resolved that, the effect of this amendment being to relieve a restriction upon the lending powers of Federal savings and loan associations, deferment of the effective date of such amendment is not required, and it shall become effective upon the date of publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

[Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments, Rent. Reg., Amdt. 372]

PART 825—RENT REGULATIONS UNDER THE HOUSING AND RENT ACT OF 1947, AS AMENDED

CALIFORNIA, ILLINOIS, AND MICHIGAN

Amendment 377 to the Controlled Housing Rent Regulation (§§ 825.1 to 825.12) and Amendment 372 to the Rent Regulation for Controlled Rooms in Rooming Houses and Other Establishments (§§ 825.81 to 825.92). Said regulations are amended in the following respects:

1. Schedule A, Item 38, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

San Francisco County; San Mateo County, except the Cities of Belmont, Burlingame, Daly, Menlo Park, Millbrae, Redwood City, San Carlos, South San Francisco, San Mateo, San Bruno, the Community known as Lomita Park which is adjacent to said City of San Bruno, and the Town of Atherton; and Sonoma County, except (i) the Cities of Healdsburg, Santa Rosa and Sebastopol, (ii) the Judicial Townships of Redwood and Sonoma (including the City of Sonoma) and (iii) that portion of Analy Judicial Township lying west of the Monte Rio-Valley Ford Highway and lying between Redwood Judicial Township on the north and the northern line of Marin County on the South.

This decontrols the City of Daly in San Mateo County, California, a portion of the San Francisco Bay, California, Defense-Rental Area.

2. Schedule A, Item 83, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Cook County, except the Cities of Blue Island, Des Plaines and Park Ridge, and the Villages of Lansing, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Riverdale, Westchester and Winnetka; DuPage County; Kane County; and Lake County, except the City of Lake Forest.

This decontrols (1) the City of Lake Forest in Lake County, Illinois, and (2) the City of Park Ridge and the Villages of Lansing, Palatine and Riverdale in Cook County, Illinois, portions of the Chicago, Illinois, Defense-Rental Area.

(3) Schedule A, Item 149, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

Oakland County, except (i) the Townships of Addison, Avon, Bloomfield, Brandon, Commerce, Groveland, Highland, Holly, Independence, Milford, Oakland, Orion, Oxford, Rose, Springfield, Waterford and West Bloomfield, (ii) the Villages of Clarkston, Holly, Lake Orion, Leonard, Milford, Ortonville, Oxford, Rochester and that portion of Northville located in Oakland County, and (iii) the Cities of Birmingham, Bloomfield Hills, Farmington, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Pontiac, Royal Oak, South Lyon and Sylvan Lake; Wayne County, except (i) the Cities of Grosse Pointe, Grosse Pointe Farms and Plymouth, (ii) the Villages of Grosse Pointe Shores, Trenton and Wayne, and (iii) that portion of the Village of Northville located in Wayne County; and Macomb County, except the City of Mount Clemens, and the Townships of Armada, Bruce, Lenox, Macomb, Ray, Richmond, Shelby, Sterling and Washington.

In Washtenaw County, the Township of Ann Arbor and the City of Ann Arbor.

This decontrols the Townships of Avon, Commerce and Waterford in Oakland County, Michigan, portions of the Detroit, Michigan, Defense-Rental Area.

4. Schedule A, Item 156, is amended to describe the counties in the Defense-Rental Area as follows:

In St. Clair County, the Townships of Clay, Cottrellville and Ira, the Village of Algonac, and that portion of the City of New Baltimore which lies within St. Clair County.

This decontrols the City of Marine City in St. Clair County, Michigan, a portion of the Port Huron, Michigan, Defense-Rental Area.

All decontrols effected by this amendment are based on resolutions submitted in accordance with section 204 (j) (3) of the Housing and Rent Act of 1947, as amended.

(Sec. 204, 61 Stat. 197, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1894)

This amendment shall be effective as of May 25, 1951.

Issued this 22d day of May 1951.

TIGHE E. WOODS,
Housing Expediter.

TITLE 26—INTERNAL REVENUE

Chapter I—Bureau of Internal Revenue, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter A—Income and Excess Profits Taxes

[T. D. 5841]

PART 19—INCOME TAX UNDER THE INTERNAL REVENUE CODE

PART 29—INCOME TAX; TAXABLE YEARS BEGINNING AFTER DECEMBER 31, 1941

INVOLUNTARY LIQUIDATION AND REPLACEMENT OF INVENTORIES ACCOUNTED FOR ON LAST-IN FIRST-OUT BASIS

On October 13, 1950, notice of proposed rule making regarding the amendment of Regulations 103 (Part 19) and 111 (Part 29) to conform to Public Law 756, 81st Congress, approved September 5, 1950, was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 6891). After consideration of all relevant matter presented by interested persons regarding the proposed amendments, the following amendments are hereby adopted:

PARAGRAPH 1. There is inserted immediately preceding § 19.22 (d)-1, as last amended by Treasury Decision 5750, approved November 2, 1949 (26 CFR 19.22 (d)-1), the following:

PUBLIC LAW 756, 81ST CONGRESS, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 5, 1950

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, that section 22 (d) (6) (A) (relating to the involuntary liquidation and replacement of elective inventories) is hereby amended as follows:

(1) By amending that portion thereof preceding clause (i) to read as follows:

(A) Adjustment of net income and resulting tax. If, for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, and prior to January 1, 1948, the closing inventory of a taxpayer inventorying goods under the method provided in this subsection reflects a decrease from the opening inventory of such goods for such year, and if the taxpayer elects, at such time and in such manner and subject to such regulations as the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary may prescribe, to have the provisions of this paragraph apply, and if it [is] established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, in accordance with such regulations, that such decrease is attributable to the involuntary liquidation of such inventory as defined in subparagraph (B), and if the closing inventory of a subsequent taxable year, ending prior to January 1, 1951, reflects a replacement, in whole or in part, of the goods so previously liquidated, the net income of the taxpayer otherwise determined for the year of such involuntary liquidation shall be adjusted as follows:

(B) By striking from the second sentence of the first paragraph the following words: "at the time of filing his income tax return for the year of the liquidation (or, with respect to liquidations occuring in a taxable year beginning in 1941, at any time prior to August 26, 1944)", and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "at any time not later than six months after the time of filing his income tax return for the year of the liquidation (or, with respect to liquidations occurring in a taxable year beginning in 1941, at any time prior to August 26, 1944)".

(C) By striking from the first sentence of the fourth paragraph the following words: "at the time of filing his income tax return for the year reflecting the decrease, or, with respect to a taxable year beginning in 1941, prior to August 26, 1944", and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "not later than six months after the time of filing his income tax return for the year reflecting the decrease, or, with respect to a taxable year beginning in 1941, prior to August 26, 1944."

(D) By inserting in the second sentence of the fourth paragraph, immediately after the words "the taxpayer shall attach to his return and make a part thereof", the following: ", or he shall furnish separately to the Commissioner,".

(E) By striking from the second sentence of the fourth paragraph, immediately preceding "(5)", the word "and"; by substituting a semicolon for the period at the end of such paragraph; and by adding to such paragraph the following: "and (6) in the case of an election made pursuant to an extension of time sought under Subpart H more than six months after the filing of the return for the year of liquidation, the circumstances relied upon as justifying the election at such time, together with a disclosure of the extent, if any, to which replacements have already been made."

(F) By striking from the first sentence of the fifth paragraph the following word: "prospective".

(G) By striking the first sentence of the eighth paragraph, and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "In some cases it may appear that, at the time of the filing of the income tax return for the year of replacement, or within three years thereafter, an adjustment with respect to the income or excess profits taxes for the year of the involuntary liquidation, or for some prior, intervening, or subsequent taxable year, is prevented by the running of the statute of limitations, by the execution of a closing agreement, by virtue of a court decision which has become final, or by reason of some other provision or rule of law other than section 3761 relating to compromises and other than the inventory replacement provisions."

PAR. 3. There is inserted immediately preceding § 29.22 (d)-1, as last amended by Treasury Decision 5756 (26 CFR 29.22 (d)-1), the following:

PUBLIC LAW 756, 81ST CONGRESS, APPROVED SEPTEMBER 5, 1950

Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That section 22 (d) (6) (A) (relating to the involuntary liquidation and replacement of elective inventories) is hereby amended as follows:

(1) By amending that portion thereof preceding clause (i) to read as follows:

(A) Adjustment of net income and resulting tax. If, for any taxable year beginning after December 31, 1940, and prior to January 1, 1948, the closing inventory of a taxpayer inventorying goods under the method provided in this subsection reflects a decrease from the opening inventory of such goods for such year, and if the taxpayer elects, at such time and in such manner and subject to such regulations as the Commissioner with the approval of the Secretary may prescribe, to have the provisions of this paragraph apply, and if it [is] established to the satisfaction of the Commissioner, in accordance with such regulations, that such decrease is attributable to the involuntary liquidation of such inventory as defined in subparagraph (B), and if the closing inventory of a subsequent taxable year, ending prior to January 1, 1951, reflects a replacement, in whole or in part, of the goods so previously liquidated, the net income of the taxpayer otherwise determined for the year of such involuntary liquidation shall be adjusted as follows:

(B) The amendments made by this section shall be applicable with respect to taxable years beginning after December 31, 1940.

PAR. 4. Section 29.22 (d)-7, as last amended by Treasury Decision 5645 (26 CFR 29.22 (d)-7), is further amended as follows:

(A) By inserting in the second sentence of the first paragraph, immediately after the words, "If the taxpayer notifies the Commissioner at", the following: "any time not later than six months after".

(B) By inserting immediately after the second sentence of the first paragraph the following: "(For extensions of time, see Subpart H, as added by Treasury Decision 5391, approved July 14, 1944, and amended by Treasury Decision 5400, approved August 22, 1944.)".

(C) By striking from the first sentence of the fourth paragraph the following words: "at the time of filing his income tax return", and by inserting in lieu thereof the following: "not later than six months after the time of filing his income tax return".

(D) By inserting in the second sentence of the fourth paragraph, immediately after the words "the taxpayer shall attach to his return and make a part thereof", the following: ", or he shall furnish separately to the Commissioner,".

(E) By striking from the second sentence of the fourth paragraph, immediately preceding "(5)", the word "and"; by substituting a semicolon for the period at the end of such paragraph; and by adding to such paragraph the following: "and (6) in the case of an election made pursuant to an extension of time sought under Subpart H more than six months after the filing of the return for the year of liquidation, the circumstances relied upon as justifying the election at such time, together with a disclosure of the extent, if any, to which replacements have already been made."

(F) By striking from the first sentence of the fifth paragraph the following word: "prospective".

(G) By striking the first sentence of the eighth paragraph and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "In some cases it may appear that, at the time of the filing of the income tax return for the year of replacement, or within three years thereafter, an adjustment with respect to the income or excess profits taxes for the year of the involuntary liquidation, or for some prior, intervening, or subsequent taxable year, is prevented by the running of the statute of limitations, by the execution of a closing agreement, by virtue of a court decision which has become final, or by reason of some other provision or rule of law other than section 3761 relating to compromises and other than the inventory replacement provisions."

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 516—RECORDS TO BE KEPT BY EMPLOYERS

INDUSTRIAL HOMEWORKERS

EDITORIAL NOTE: In Federal Register Document 51-5115, appearing at page 3888 of the issue for Thursday, May 3, 1951, the following correction has been made in the original document:

In § 516.21 (a) (3), the words "meaning of the" were inserted immediately preceding the word "terms", so that subparagraph (3) reads as follows:

(3) The meaning of the terms "person," "employ," "employer," "employee," "goods," and "production" as used in this section is the same as in the act.

PART 562—RESERVE OFFICERS' TRAINING CORPS

TRAINING CAMPS

Part 562 is amended by rescinding §§ 562.58 through 562.69 and substituting the following §§ 562.58 through 562.67 in lieu thereof:

Sec.
562.58 Establishment, supervision, and command.
562.59 Number, type, and location of camps.
562.60 Designation.
562.61 Time and duration.
562.62 Attendance.
562.63 Deferred attendance.
562.64 Absence from camp.
562.65 Pay and allowances.
562.66 Transportation.
562.67 Dismissal and withdrawal from camp.

AUTHORITY: §§ 562.58 to 562.67 issued under sec. 34, 41 Stat. 778; 10 U. S. C. 441.

SOURCE: §§ 562.58 to 562.64 contained in AR 145-30, Apr. 13, 1951 and §§ 562.65 to 562.67 contained in SR 145-30-1, Apr. 13, 1951.

TRAINING CAMPS

§ 562.58 Establishment, supervision, and command. Continental army commanders and appropriate oversea commanders will establish and conduct ROTC training camps within their areas as directed by higher authority (§ 562.59). These commanders are responsible for the operation, training, supply, and administration of all such camps within the geographical boundaries of their respective areas. When any of the administrative or technical service ROTC training camps are located on class II installations, continental army commanders will be assisted by the heads of the corresponding services; and when service-type ROTC training camps are conducted at the sites of the service schools, continental army commanders will coordinate all matters pertaining thereto with the heads of the services concerned.

§ 562.59 Number, type, and location of camps. (a) The number, type, and location of camps will be determined by the Chief, Army Field Forces, and the appropriate oversea commanders concerned, with the approval of the Department of the Army, at least 6 months prior to the opening date of such camps.

(b) The only camps provided for by §§ 562.58 to 562.67 are advanced course camps. The Department of the Army does not maintain camps for the instruction of students in the junior division or for students at class MI institutions, as such. Nevertheless, where such camps are maintained by institutions, the personnel and equipment allotted to such institutions may be used for this purpose, provided such use does not obligate the Government financially beyond the normal cost of maintenance of this personnel and equipment at the institution.

§ 562.60 Designation. Camps will be designated: "The Fort ---------- ROTC Camp," "The Camp ---------- ROTC Camp," etc.

§ 562.61 Time and duration. Ordinarily, camps will open in June of each year (as soon as practicable after the closing date of educational institutions concerned) and will continue for a period of 6 weeks.

§ 562.62 Attendance. (a) The Department of the Army will prescribe the number of students in each continental army area and oversea command to attend camps annually.

(b) Students in scientific and technical courses, whose services will be needed in, and who wish to be commissioned in branches not represented by units on their campuses, may be authorized by continental army commanders to attend ROTC camps of the appropriate branches; provided such students are enrolled in academic courses prerequisite to enrollment in advanced ROTC as prescribed by Department of the Army publications.

(c) Camp attendance is required of, and open to, students as indicated in this paragraph:

(1) Attendance at one camp is required of students enrolled in the advanced course, normally upon completion of their first year of the advanced course unless camp deferment was granted to a subsequent year under one of the provisions of § 562.63.

(2) Students who are required or who elect to pursue technical training or engage in employment in furtherance of such training during the summer following their junior academic year, under the general supervision of the authorities of the institution, may be authorized by appropriate commanders to attend camp upon completion of the advanced course. Such commanders are authorized to forward to the Department of the Army, for consideration, cases of exceptional merit not specifically covered by this subparagraph and subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) Students, who, after completion of the basic course, have but one more year before graduation from collegiate institutions, and for whom curtailment of the advanced course under § 562.29 is authorized, may be permitted by the continental army or oversea commander to attend camp upon completion of the advanced course.

(4) Students who have completed the freshmen academic year without participation in the ROTC program during that academic year, but who have received credit for the basic course under section 47c, National Defense Act, as amended, and the joint resolution of September 8, 1916 (39 Stat. 853; 10 U. S. C. 386), may become enrolled in the advanced course upon signing advanced course contracts, and, upon their agreeing in writing to attend ROTC camp.

(5) Students pursuing the ROTC course under § 562.27, may be authorized by continental army or oversea commanders to attend an ROTC camp without expense to the Government other than payment for attendance as authorized by section 47c, National Defense Act. The conditions of attendance will be explained to each student and he will be required to sign a waiver of claim against the United States for any allowance whatsoever based on such attendance, except for payment under section 47c, National Defense Act, as amended.

(6) Institutions desiring to send non-veteran students of senior division ROTC units to training camp after completion of the basic course will be required to secure approval to do so from the continental army commander concerned, prior to the close of the school year.

(d) When the number of students that can be trained is such that all cannot be accommodated, selection for camp training will be made by the continental army commander with priority in the following order:

(1) Advanced course students to whom deferred camp attendance was granted the previous year.

(2) Students compelled to withdraw from a previous camp under the conditions cited in subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

(3) Advanced course students attending at the normal time, i. e., after satisfactory completion of the first year of the advanced course.

(4) Students pursuing the ROTC course under § 562.27 authorized to attend.

(e) Students will not be authorized to attend more than one camp, except in the following cases:

(1) When the student was compelled to withdraw from a camp previously attended and was unable to complete the camp course of instruction because of sickness or cause other than misconduct, fault, or neglect on his part.

(2) When the student, after attending camp, has transferred to a unit of a branch of service other than that of the camp previously attended.

(3) When authorized by the Secretary of the Army, in exceptional cases. In these cases the student, if eligible, will be required to attend the next camp of his unit in accordance with the provisions of his advanced course contract.

(f) Exemption of members of the advanced course from the required camp attendance or the extension of credit toward such attendance for previous military training is not authorized.

(g) The attendance under contract at ROTC training camp of ROTC students who have not completed the 2 years' basic course or received credit therefor is not legally authorized.

§ 562.63 Deferred attendance. (a) Continental army and oversea commanders are authorized to grant deferments from camp attendance when it is not practicable for an advanced course student to attend camp until after the normal period, subject to the following procedure:

(1) Written application, setting forth reasons for deferment will be prepared by the student and forwarded to the professor of military science and tactics.

(2) The professor of military science and tactics either will approve or disapprove the request, with reasons therefor, and forward application, by indorsement, to the appropriate commander.

(b) Deferment from advanced camp attendance from a normal period to a period subsequent to graduation will not be authorized unless the reasons given are considered substantial.

(c) A student will not be permitted to defer his attendance at a training camp beyond that immediately following his graduation unless he is physically unable to attend that camp. Evidence of disability, in the form of a certificate by a reputable physician, will accompany application for deferment.

(d) Requests for deferment from attendance at the camp which immediately follows graduation, for reasons other than indicated in paragraph (c) of this section, will be forwarded to the Department of the Army, Washington 25, D. C., Attention: AGAO-R, for final approval.

§ 562.64 Absence from camp. (a) A student who fails to receive at least 85 percent of the total scheduled instruction will not be credited with camp attendance nor will he be considered as fulfilling that part of his advanced course contract which requires camp attendance (see paragraph (b) (3) of this section).

(b) Authority to be absent from camp may be granted under the following circumstances by commanders indicated:

(1) For cogent reasons continental army and oversea commanders may, in each particular case, authorize a short delay in arrival, which in no event will extend beyond the fifth day of training.

(2) In exceptional cases when hardship would otherwise ensue, ROTC camp commanders, in each particular case, may authorize students to be absent from camp for short periods not exceeding 15 percent of total scheduled camp instruction.

(3) Waivers to the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section may be granted in exceptional cases by the Chief, Army Field Forces, and appropriate oversea commanders.

§ 562.65 Pay and allowances. (a) Members of the ROTC or other persons authorized by the Secretary of the Army to attend advanced camps shall be paid for attendance at such camps at the rate prescribed for enlisted men of the first grade (E-1) with less than 4 months' service of the Regular Army.

(b) The veteran trainee may be authorized subsistence allowance in the amounts to which he is ordinarily entitled and subject to the $210-$270-$280 limiting proviso of the act of May 4, 1948 (Pub. Law 512, 80th Cong.) while in approved leave status from his place of training. Such leave may be used to attend ROTC camp or for any purpose. It is considered that a trainee does not pursue his regular course of education or training for the period of summer Reserve officer training and, therefore, he will not be paid subsistence for this period, unless he has sufficient accrued leave for which he has applied to cover this period of training.

§ 562.66 Transportation—(a) Transportation authority. (1) Students normally will be authorized to proceed to designated camps from their institutions, or from their legal residences where the distances from such residences to the camps do not exceed the distances from their institutions to the camps, and to return thereto, by the shortest usually traveled route.

(2) In exceptional circumstances, continental army and oversea commanders may:

(i) Authorize a student to proceed to the camp designated for his unit from his legal residence when the distance from such residence to the camp is greater than from the institution to the camp. This authorization will be given only to students whose institutions close so early in the year as to make it impracticable for them to proceed direct from the institution to the camp. If orders are issued to a student while he is at home authorizing him to proceed to ROTC training camp, he shall be returned to his home at the completion of training. If orders are issued while he is at the institution, he shall be returned to his institution.

(ii) In the interest of economy, authorize a student to attend a camp of a branch of service other than the camp prescribed for his unit. If the camp to be attended is beyond the territorial limits of the army area in which the institution of the student is located, the camp attendance will be arranged by the continental army or oversea commanders concerned, by direct correspondence.

(b) Travel allowances. (1) Members of the ROTC will be paid travel allowances at the rate of 5 cents a mile from the place which the students are authorized to proceed to camp and for the return travel thereto. Payment of the travel allowance for the return journey may be made in advance of the actual performance thereof. DD Form 5 (Voucher for Reimbursement of Travel Allowances and Payroll for Reserve Officers' Training Corps) will be used as a voucher for payment of travel allowances, and copies of orders will be filed therewith.

(2) Return travel allowance is not due to a student until the close of camp. The commanding officer will pay travel allowances to a student upon dismissal or withdrawal if determined by him that such advanced payment is proper and desirable for the good of the service. However, the commanding officer is authorized to withhold travel allowance until the termination of the camp, if he determines such course advisable. Students who are returned to their homes from summer camps because of being physically disqualified will be paid travel allowances for the return trip prior to departure from camp.

(3) The shortest, usually traveled route will be the basis of calculation for travel allowances. Travel allowances for members of the ROTC will be paid from the appropriation for ROTC.

(c) Order for travel to camp and return therefrom will be issued by continental army or oversea commanders, or such subordinate authority as they may designate.

(d) In the case of a student authorized to attend a camp in an army area other than that wherein the place from which he is directed to proceed is located, the travel order will be issued by the continental army commander of the area from which the student is directed to travel, and three copies of the order will be sent at once to the continental army commander of the appropriate area in which the camp to be attended is located for each student so ordered.

(c) Students without funds. Students unable to pay their own railroad fare may be authorized transportation in kind by continental army and overseas commanders; in which case orders issued will specifically state that transportation requests and meal tickets will be furnished. Transportation request and meal tickets will be forwarded to the student, with orders directing him to proceed to camp. Cost of this transportation and subsistence will be borne by ROTC funds allocated to continental army and oversea commanders.

§ 242.67 Dismissal and withdrawal from camp—(a) Students who are discharged from camp. (1) Any student who, because of demonstrated inaptitude, inattendance to training, or who is guilty of misconduct, or whose habits or traits of character indicate that upon completion of the course of instruction prescribed for ROTC units he would not be qualified for a commission in the Officers' Reserve Corps will be dismissed from camp by the camp commander. Such action by the camp commander will be based upon a thorough and impartial investigation by a board of officers. A full report concerning the dismissal of the student, setting forth the reasons therefor, will be prepared in duplicate. The original will be forwarded to the continental army or oversea commander of the area in which the student's unit is located. The first copy will be forwarded to the authorities of the institution in which the student is enrolled.

(2) While dismissal from camp ordinarily will result in discharge from the ROTC, such discharge is not included in the dismissal. The professor of military science and tactics at the institution, after thorough investigation and examination of the report of dismissal, will recommend to the continental army or oversea commander, through the head of the institution, either that the student be discharged from the ROTC or that he, in an exceptional case, be retained therein. Upon action by the higher authority designated above, the professor of military science and tactics will take steps accordingly.

(b) Students who withdraw from camp for their own convenience. Any student who desires to withdraw from the camp for his own convenience will be interviewed by the camp commander, who will endeavor to persuade the student that it is to his advantage to complete the camp training. If the student persists in his desire, he will be permitted to withdraw. The notation, "permitted to withdraw from ---------- advanced ROTC camp on ---------- for his own convenience," will be placed on the records of students who are permitted to withdraw for their own convenience. Students who withdraw for their own convenience will be advised that they will be required to refund all commutation of subsistence, so far received as a condition precedent to release from contract, and that in the discretion of the institutional authorities they may be required to refund to the institution the unearned portion of advanced course commutation of uniform allowance expended in their behalf.

(c) Students who are compelled by necessity, not involving fault or misconduct, to withdraw from camp. Any student who is compelled by necessity to leave camp through no fault or misconduct of this own may be permitted to withdraw by the commanding officer. Students who are permitted to withdraw from camp are entitled to transportation and subsistence as provided hereinafter.

(d) Students who are discharged from camp for convenience of Government for failure to demonstrate qualities and attributes essential in commissioned officer. If the student, having faithfully fulfilled the provisions of his contract, is discharged for the convenience of the Government because of failure to demonstrate the qualities and attributes essential in a commissioned officer he will not be required to refund to the Government allowances made to him for pay, subsistence, or travel, etc.

§ 1700.6 Civil defense. The term "civil defense" means all those activities and measures designed or undertaken (a) to minimize the effects upon the civilian population caused or which would be caused by an attack upon the United States, (b) to deal with the immediate emergency conditions which would be created by any such attack, and (c) to effectuate emergency repairs to, or the emergency restoration of, vital utilities and facilities destroyed or damaged by any such attack. Such term shall include, but shall not be limited to, (1) measures to be taken in preparation for anticipated attack (including the establishment of appropriate organization, operational plans, and supporting agreement; the recruitment and training of personnel; the conduct of research; the procurement and stockpiling of necessary materials and supplies; the provisions of suitable warning systems; and, when appropriate, the non-military evacuation of civil population; (2) measures to be taken during attack (including the enforcement of passive defense regulations prescribed by duly established military or civil authorities; the evacuation of personnel to shelter areas; the control of traffic and panic; and the control and use of lighting and civil communications); and (3) measures to be taken following attack (including activities for fire fighting; rescue, emergency medical, health and sanitation services; monitoring for specific hazards of special weapons; unexplored bomb reconnaissance; essential debris clearance; emergency welfare measures; and immediately essential emergency repair or restoration of damaged vital facilities).

§ 1700.7 Facilities. Buildings, shelters, utilities and land.

§ 1700.8 FCDA. Federal Civil Defense Administration.

§ 1700.9 Materials. Raw materials, supplies, medicines, equipment, component parts, technical information and processes necessary for civil defense.

§ 1700.10 RFC. Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

§ 1700.11 State. Any of the several States, the District of Columbia, the territories, and possessions of the United States.

§ 1700.12 Critical target area. Any area (including the central municipality and the surrounding metropolitan area) determined by the Administrator after consultation with the Secretary of Defense to be a critical target for an attack.

PART 1701—CONTRIBUTIONS FOR ORGANIZATIONAL EQUIPMENT

Sec.
1701.1 Purpose.
1701.2 Definitions.
1701.3 Conditions of contributions.
1701.4 Estimate of needs for organizational equipment.
1701.5 Requests for contributions; signature; forms.
1701.6 Procurement of equipment involving Federal funds.
1701.7 Approval of requests.
1701.8 Billing and payment.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1701.1 to 1701.8 issued under sec. 401, Pub. Law 920, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 201, Pub. Law 920, 81st Cong.

§ 1701.1 Purpose. The purpose of the regulations in this part is to prescribe the procedures to be followed in applying for and making Federal contributions for the purchase of organizational equipment, and the conditions under which such contributions will be made.

§ 1701.2 Definitions. (a) Except as otherwise stated the following terms shall have the following meanings when used in the regulations in this part:

(1) Organizational equipment. Equipment (other than personal equipment) which the Administrator determines is necessary to a civil defense organization for civil defense purposes and which is of such a nature as to require the contribution of Federal funds, but not including items of equipment which the local community normally utilizes in combating local disasters except when required in unusual quantities dictated by the requirements of civil defense plans.

(2) Standard items. Items of equipment or materials for which specifications have been issued by the Administrator.

§ 1701.3 Conditions of contributions. (a) The Administrator will make contributions to States for organizational equipment subject to the following conditions:

(1) Administrative expenses and personal equipment. No contributions shall be made for State or local personnel or administrative expenses or for items of personal equipment for State or local workers.

(2) Matching State funds. The amounts authorized to be contributed to each State for organizational equipment shall be matched by such State from any source it determines is consistent with its laws. The making of an application for a contribution shall constitute an assurance by the State that funds to match the proposed Federal contribution are available.

(3) Specifications. Specifications for organizational equipment shall be approved by the Administrator.

(4) Allocation of organizational equipment purchases. The Administrator will allocate organizational equipment contributions, purchases and deliveries with respect to item, program, and area priorities as determined from time to time by him.

(5) Distribution, use, maintenance, and disposal of organizational equipment. Organizational equipment, when procured, will be distributed, used and maintained in accordance with such standards as the Administrator may prescribe. Such organizational equipment shall not be disposed of without the prior approval of the Administrator.

(6) Inspection. The Administrator or his representatives shall have access to organizational equipment at all times for the purpose of inspection.

(7) Sale of organizational equipment. In the event organizational equipment is sold or traded in on new equipment, the State will remit to FCDA, or credit FCDA with, a percentage of the selling price or trade-in allowance equal to the percentage of Federal contribution toward the original purchase price thereof.

(8) Loyalty oath. No request for organizational equipment shall be approved by the Administrator unless (i) the State law requires that each person, other than a Federal employee, who is appointed to serve in a State or local organization for civil defense shall, before entering upon his duties, take an oath in writing before a person authorized to administer oaths, which oath shall be substantially as follows:

I ----------, do solemnly swear (or affirm) that I will support and defend the Constitution of the United States against all enemies, foreign and domestic; that I will bear true faith and allegience to the same; that I take this obligation freely without any mental reservation or purpose of evasion and that I will well and faithfully discharge the duties upon which I am about to enter.

And I do further swear (or affirm) that I do not advocate, nor am I a member or an affiliate of any organization, group, or combination of persons that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence; and that during such time as I am a member of the (name of civil defense organization), I will not advocate nor become a member of an affiliate of any organization, group or combination of persons that advocates the overthrow of the Government of the United States by force or violence.

or (ii) the State certifies that it has directed the State civil defense agency to require that each person, other than a Federal employee, who is appointed to serve in a State or local organization for civil defense, shall, before entering upon his duties, take such an oath in writing before a person authorized to administer oaths.

(9) Failure to expend funds. Where a State is to act as its own purchasing agent, the making of an application for a contribution shall constitute an assurance that, whenever the Administrator, after reasonable notice and opportunity for hearing, finds that the State has failed or is failing to expend funds in accordance with the terms and conditions of the Act or the Administrator's rules and requirements thereunder, all such findings shall be final, and the State shall have no claim or right of action against the Federal Government, the Administration, or any other agency of or individual employed by the Federal Government by reason of any action taken by the Administrator based on one or more of such findings.

§ 1701.4 Estimate of needs for organizational equipment. Each State desiring contributions for organizational equipment shall file with the Administrator an estimate of the needs of each of its municipalities or other political subdivisions for such equipment. Each such estimate shall be filed in duplicate on FCDA Form No. 102.[1] This estimate will not be considered as a commitment by the State, nor will final allocations be made by the Administrator on the basis thereof.

§ 1701.5 Requests for contributions; signature; forms. A request for a contribution for organizational equipment shall be signed by the Governor or by such other State officer as shall be duly authorized, in which latter case such officer's authority shall be on file with FCDA.

§ 1701.6 Procurement of equipment involving Federal funds. (a) No equipment for which a Federal contribution has been or is to be made shall be purchased without the approval of the Administrator. The Administrator ordinarily will arrange for the procurement of standard items of organizational equipment. The State will ordinarily procure non-standard items. The State may also, but only upon the prior approval of the Administrator, procure standard items. In determining whether a State may procure standard items, the Administrator shall consider the availability of defense production priorities, and evidence that applicable specifications are equal or superior to the specifications established by him.

(b) When a State procures organizational equipment, the amount of the Federal contribution shall not exceed the sum of 50 percent of what the Administrator would have paid had he purchased the equipment, plus 50 percent of the transportation.

§ 1701.7 Approval of requests. (a) Upon approval by the Administrator of a request for organizational equipment which he is to procure, an acknowledgment will be returned to the State, and the State may anticipate delivery, transportation prepaid to the nearest freight station, to the consignee specified in the request.

(b) Upon approval by the Administrator of a request for organizational equipment which the State is to procure, an acknowledgment will be returned to the State and the State may then undertake procurement.

(c) In the event the Administrator disapproves a request, he shall notify the State thereof in writing, giving a brief statement of his reasons for such disapproval.

§ 1701.8 Billing and payment. (a) When organizational equipment procured by the Administrator has been delivered to the State, the Administrator will invoice the State for the State's share, and the State shall make prompt payment, through the Administrator, to the Treasurer of the United States. The invoice shall also include one-half the cost of any procurement services billed to FCDA by other Federal agencies, but not including any FCDA administrative costs.

[1] FCDA Form No. 102 calls for an estimate, by municipalities, of the needs for organizational equipment. The estimate is to be broken down by items. Information called for includes the name of each item, the item number, the quantity desired and the unit price. Copies of this form may be obtained from the Federal Civil Defense Administrator, Washington, D. C., from the several Regional Offices of the Federal Civil Defense Administration, and from the civil defense directors of each state.

(b) When organizational equipment has been procured by a State, the State will submit an invoice to the Administrator. The invoice shall be in an amount not to exceed 50 percent of the sum of the cost of the equipment and the transportation charges.

PART 1703—PROCEDURE FOR STOPPING OR WITHHOLDING PAYMENTS UNDER SECTION 201 (i) OF THE FEDERAL CIVIL DEFENSE ACT OF 1950

Sec.
1703.1 Purpose
1703.2 Notice of intention to withhold payments.
1703.3 Notice of hearing.
1703.4 Hearings
1703.5 Withholding of payments.

AUTHORITY: §§ 1703.1 to 1703.5 issued under sec. 401, Pub Law 920, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 201, Pub Law 920, 81st Cong.

§ 1703.1 Purpose. The purpose of the regulations in this part is to establish, pursuant to section 201 (i) of the act, a procedure for withholding contributions for civil defense purposes.

§ 1703.2 Notice of intention to withhold payments. Whenever the Administrator has reason to believe that there has been a failure to expend funds in accordance with the terms and conditions governing a Federal contribution, he shall notify the State of such fact and of his intention to stop or withhold further contributions or payments unless the alleged failure is satisfactorily explained.

§ 1703.3 Notice of hearing. If within 5 days after the State receives the notice described in § 1703.2 the State requests the Administrator to hold a hearing, the Administrator will set the matter for hearing. The Administrator will give the State reasonable notice of the time and place of the hearing; of the terms and conditions which he has reason to believe have not been complied with in the expenditure of funds; and of the contributions and payments which he proposes to stop or withhold.

§ 1703.4 Hearings. Any hearing under this part shall be held before the Administrator or an officer designated therefor. The Administrator or such officer shall determine all matters with respect to the conduct of the hearing, but the State shall be given full opportunity to present its position.

§ 1703.5 Withholding of payments. (a) If after such hearing, or after opportunity therefor, the Administrator finds that there has been a failure to expend funds in accordance with the terms and conditions governing the Federal contribution, the Administrator will stop and withhold such contributions and payments as he may consider advisable until the failure to expend funds in accordance with said terms and conditions has been corrected or he is satisfied that there will no longer be any such failure.

(b) If within the 5-day period stated in § 1703.3 the State does not request a hearing, the Administrator may stop or withhold contributions and payments until he is satisfied that there will no longer be any failure to expend funds in accordance with terms and conditions governing a Federal contribution for an approved program or project.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

These regulations shall be effective on May 25, 1951.

CPR 31—IMPORTS

BURLAP 1008

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The accompanying amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is made necessary by the issuance of Ceiling Price Regulation 40[1] which establishes ceiling prices on purchases and sales of burlap of certain specified constructions. Ceiling price Regulation 31 excepts from its coverage certain commodities including burlap as described in paragraph 1008 of the current U. S. Tariff Schedule as published by the U. S. Tariff Commission.

The effect of this amendment is that burlap of constructions other than those specified in Ceiling Price Regulation 40 will be covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 31.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 31 is amended in the following respect: Delete from Appendix A thereof "Burlap 1008"

(Sec. 704 Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interprets or applies Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950; 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective May 24, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 40]

CPR 40—BURLAP

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 40 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Burlap, a wholly imported commodity, is a coarse woven cloth produced from jute fiber and is widely used in the United States for packaging feed, fertilizer, and agricultural and industrial products, and in the manufacture of automobiles, furniture, floor covering and other goods. In recent years this country's annual consumption of burlap has averaged about 800,000,000 yards. Most of the world's supply of jute fiber is grown in Pakistan and made into burlap in mills located in and around Calcutta, India. These Indian mills produced 95.5 percent of the burlap imported into the United States in 1949 and 86.6 percent of it in 1950.

During World War II the price of burlap was controlled by OPA Revised Price Schedule 18, which was issued August 15, 1941. Ceiling prices for the fabric were continued in effect both here and in India until October 1946. For a portion of this time the United States Government, under a government purchase and allocation program, was the sole importer of burlap.

In September 1949 Great Britain devalued the pound and India, in an accompanying action, devalued its rupee. Pakistan, however, did not devalue its currency. Since India refused to recognize the par value of the Pakistan rupee, trade between the two countries came to a virtual standstill. Among other things, this caused a substantial curtailment of the amount of raw jute available to the Indian mills, which were thus made almost wholly independent on India's own insufficient jute crop.

In an effort to forestall the inflationary effects of this situation, India in October 1949 again established ceiling prices for jute and jute products. From that time until the middle of 1950, resale prices of burlap in this country, while necessarily above the cost predicated on Indian ceilings, were relatively stable. In the second half of 1950 increased demands for burlap and the continuing shortage of jute in India combined to raise the resale prices of burlap in this country and elsewhere to unprecedented levels. India thereupon sought ways to close the gap between such prices and its ceiling and thus relieve the heavy pressure on its controls. In furtherance of this objective, India doubled the export duty on burlap in October 1950 and again in November 1950.

On February 25, 1951, India and Pakistan settled their 17-month trade impasse by an agreement in which India recognized the Pakistan rupee at par and Pakistan agreed to sell India a quantity of jute at Pakistan's going market prices. This meant that the mills would have to pay more for jute and that India would have to raise its ceiling prices or abandon its controls. On March 9, 1951, India decontrolled jute and jute goods and the prices of both immediately shot upward. In fact, burlap's landed (ex-dock) cost in the United States rose above the resale ceilings established for most of its importers by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. At the time India decontrolled, the landed cost of 40-inch, 10-ounce burlap (one of the most popular constructions used in this country) was about 23 cents per yard. Thereafter, it went as high as approximately 38 cents per yard. While the landed cost of this construction has since experienced some decline and has tended to stabilize in a range between 32 cents and 33 cents per yard, it remains above the GCPR ceiling of most importers. The same is true as to landed costs of other burlap constructions.

These conditions have made it impossible for most importers to resell burlap, and for many importing manufacturers to supply burlap bags and related items, without incurring loss. They have greatly reduced the trading in burlap and have limited new sales of burlap products to negligible quantities. A primary purpose of this regulation is to alleviate this situation.

The ceiling prices hereby fixed are generally in line with the present level of prices for burlap landed in the United States. In determining such ceilings the following factors, among others, were taken into consideration: (1) India's ceiling prices up to March 9, 1951, the date it abandoned controls; (2) increases since then in the cost of raw jute to the Indian mills; (3) market prices of burlap prevailing in India and elsewhere since March 9, 1951; (4) the prevailing demand for burlap in this country to supply agricultural, industrial, and other needs; (5) the current Indian export duty and the current costs of importation into the United States; and (6) the dollars-and-cents markup customarily received by importers in the pre-Korean period on sales of more than 25 bales and of less than that amount. For most burlap constructions 25 bales constitute, roughly, a carload shipment.

This regulation establishes dollars-and-cents ceiling import purchase prices for burlap of specified constructions, and a method for computing ceiling prices for sales of burlap after importation. The ceilings for sales after importation of 25 bales or more are computed under the regulation by adding to the ceiling import purchase prices an amount equal to 3 percent of such prices. With respect to sales of less than 25 bales, a 6 percent factor is used to determine the ceiling price for lots of 1 bale, and customary differentials are applied thereto to determine ceiling prices for other small quantities up to 25 bales. These factors represent a translation into percentages of the customary dollars-and-cents markups received by importers. They accomplish uniformity and provide an easy method of computing the applicable ceiling prices for post-import sales and purchases. The regulation also provides that, under certain conditions, it shall not operate to prevent the performance of written contracts for the sale of burlap which comply with the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Constructions not covered by this regulation constitute a relatively small proportion of the total quantity of burlap imported into the United States and are not comparable to the listed constructions. Ceiling prices for these are to be determined under CPR 31, Imports.

In formulating this regulation the Director, to the extent practicable under the circumstances, has consulted with representative members of the industry. It was their opinion that the level of ceiling prices hereby established would have a stabilizing effect and would be instrumental in renewing the flow of burlap into this country. The Director has given consideration to this opinion and to the recommendations of said industry members.

In the judgment of the Director, based upon an analysis of the presently available data, the provisions of this regulation and the ceiling prices established are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950. A more comprehensive analysis may indicate that lower prices also are generally fair and equitable and would more effectively accomplish the purposes of Title IV of the act. If this proves to be the case, the Director stands ready to make such revisions as may appear to be warranted.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes dollars-and-cents ceiling prices for purchases of burlap by buyers who import it into the United States, and establishes a method for determining ceiling prices for sales of burlap after its importation. These ceiling prices supersede those established for purchases and sales of burlap under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 2. Applicability. This regulation is applicable in the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Ceiling import purchase prices. You may not pay for burlap of the constructions listed in Appendix A, which you import into and receive in the United States, a price in excess of the ceiling prices specified in said appendix. Such prices are in cents per yard, landed U. S. A., ex dock port of discharge, duty paid.

SEC. 4. Ceiling prices for sales after importation of listed constructions.—(a) Sales of 25 bales or more. You may not, after importation, sell burlap of the constructions specified in Appendix A in quantities of 25 bales or more at a price in excess of the ceiling import purchase price for the particular construction, as set forth in said appendix, plus three percent (3%) of the ceiling import purchase price. The ceiling prices so established are in cents per yard, ex dock or ex warehouse port of discharge, duty paid. The ceiling prices for sales of burlap other than ex dock or ex warehouse port of discharge shall not exceed the ceiling prices above established plus actual transportation costs.

(b) Sales of less than 25 bales. You may not, after importation, sell burlap of the constructions specified in Appendix A in quantities of less than 25 bales at a price in excess of the ceiling import purchase price for the particular construction, as set forth in said appendix, plus the following markup: (1) For lots of one (1) bale, six percent (6%) of the applicable ceiling import purchase price; (2) for quantities larger than one bale but less than 25 bales, determine your one bale ceiling price in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and then reduce that price by applying the dollars-and-cents differentials for quantity which you had in effect during the period January 1, 1950, to June 24, 1950; (3) for quantities smaller than one (1) bale, use your one bale ceiling price determined in accordance with subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, to which you may add the dollars-and-cents differential for quantity which you had in effect during the period January 1, 1950, to June 24, 1950. The ceiling prices established under subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) of this paragraph are in cents per yard, ex dock or ex warehouse port of discharge, duty paid. For sales of burlap ex warehouse other than port of discharge, you may add your dollars-and-cents differentials for location which you had in effect during the period January 1, 1950, to June 24, 1950. To the above ceiling prices you must apply your customary differentials including the discounts for class of purchaser which you had in effect during the period January 1, 1950, to June 24, 1950.

SEC. 5. Ceiling prices for sales of constructions not listed. Ceiling prices for sales of burlap constructions other than those listed in Appendix A to this regulation must be determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 31, Imports.

SEC. 6. [Reserved.]

SEC. 7. Prohibitions. On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or other obligation except as set forth in section 8 of this regulation: (a) You may not sell or deliver any burlap covered by this regulation at a price higher than the ceiling price, (b) no person in the course of trade or business may buy or receive any burlap covered by this regulation at a price higher than the ceiling price; and (c) you shall not agree, offer, solicit, or attempt to do anything prohibited in this regulation.

Prices lower than the ceiling prices established by this regulation may, of course, be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 8. Exemption of certain contracts. Nothing in this regulation shall operate to prevent the performance of a written contract for the sale of burlap entered into prior to the effective date of this regulation and executed in strict compliance with the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, provided (a) that such contract covers burlap which the seller, as of the date of the contract, had in inventory or under purchase commitment, and (b) that such contract covers a specified quantity of a particular construction or constructions at a fixed price per unit.

SEC. 9. Evasion. You shall not evade or circumvent the provisions of this regulation by direct or indirect methods in connection with the purchase, sale, delivery, or transfer of burlap or by way of any commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tie-in agreement or other trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 10. Penalties. If you violate any provision of this regulation you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 11. Records. If you purchase or sell burlap for which ceiling prices are established by this regulation you must preserve and keep available for inspection by the Director of Price Stabilization for a period of two years, complete and accurate records for each purchase and sale. These records must include: (a) The date of the sale or purchase; (b) the name and address of the seller or purchaser; (c) the price paid or received; (d) a description of the burlap sold or purchased including quality, width and weight per yard of 40-inch width; and (e) the quantity sold or purchased.

SEC. 12. Petitions for amendment. If you wish to have this regulation amended you may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation 1, 15 F. R. 9055.

SEC. 13. Definitions. (a) "Burlap" means jute burlap of the constructions listed in Appendix A.

(b) "Ceiling import purchase price" means the maximum price under this regulation at which you may import burlap of the constructions listed in Appendix A.

(c) "Class of purchaser" means the practice adopted by a seller in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, shopper, retailer, Government agency, public institutions or individual consumer) or for purchasers located in different areas or for purchasers of different quantities or grades or under different terms or conditions of sale or delivery.

(d) "Import" means to transport from a place outside the continental limits of the United States to a place inside the continental limits of the United States.

(e) Trade terms used in this regulation have the meanings generally accepted in the trade.

(f) All other terms used in this regulation shall, unless the context requires a different meaning, have the same meaning as when used in the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on May 24, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Chapter IV—Wage Stabilization Board, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Wage Regulation 11]

GWR 11—AGRICULTURAL LABOR

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Executive Order 10233 (16 F. R. 3733), and General Order No. 3, Economic Stabilization Administrator (16 F. R. 7537), this General Wage Regulation 11 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation adapts the existing wage stabilization program to agricultural labor. The regulation defines the method for computing in agriculture the 10 percent permissible increase provided in General Regulation No. 6. It also establishes levels to which wage rates may be brought without Board approval.

Recognizing that the general wage stabilization policy might require some adaptation in its application to agriculture, the Wage Stabilization Board on February 6, 1951, authorized the establishment of a panel of three experts to study the problem of agricultural wage stabilization and to report back to the Board the issues involved and alternative methods for handling these issues.

The panel report analyzed the unique features of the agricultural labor market, and concluded that a special regulation dealing with agricultural wages should be issued, if effective wage stabilization was to be achieved in agriculture. The Board is persuaded that the conclusion is valid, and this regulation is in general accord with the panel analysis.

As an example of unique features, the base date of January 1950, used for other employment is totally impractical in the case of agricultural employment. Such a base date reflects the approximate seasonal minimum of employment and activity in agriculture. Therefore, the Board has established a flexible basis for determining the applicable 1950 base date, which is in accord with the actual operating conditions of agriculture.

The panel concluded, on the basis of its investigations, that a specific limitation on permissible increases should be applicable only where proposed increases will result in wage rates exceeding 95 cents per hour, together with the appropriate equivalent monthly and piece rates. The Wage Stabilization Board, taking into consideration the evidence assembled by the panel, has accepted this general conclusion, and this regulation is designed to implement this analysis. This regulation sets forth certain wage levels which serve as a dividing line between two different types of stabilization policy. Below the levels specified in the regulation, it is the Board's intention to permit market forces to determine wages in agricultural employment. It is the Board's conclusion that detailed administrative control of these wage rates is not currently required to effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In those areas where wage rates are close to or above these levels, wages will continue to be subject to the general 10 per cent permissive increase which currently applies to other employees.

The regulation also contains a definition of "agricultural labor," which is that contained in the Fair Labor Standards Act, special provisions for piece rates, and provisions for the determination of rates by employers who lack a base rate.

Due consideration has been given to the standards and procedures set forth in Title IV and Title VII of the Defense Production Act of 1950. The regulation is based upon the report of an expert panel which consulted representatives of the farm organizations and other agricultural experts and duly considered their views. It was found impracticable during the period of its deliberations to consult with representatives of agricultural labor organizations. The tripartite Board as discussed the panel report and recommendations and has voted to issue this regulation. The Board was of the opinion that it is impracticable and unnecessary to consult further with the representatives of agriculture, labor and industry, including trade association representatives. It is the judgment of the Wage Stabilization Board that this regulation is generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Definitions.
2. Permissible increases.
3. Determination of new rates.
4. Petitions for increases in wages.
5. Other wage regulations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 5 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; E. O. 10233, Apr. 21, 1951, 16 F. R. 3503.

SECTION 1. Definitions. As used in this regulation, the term

(a) "Agricultural labor" means labor employed in farming in all its branches, and among other things, in the cultivation and tillage of the soil, dairying, the production, cultivation, growing, and harvesting of any agricultural or horticultural commodities (including commodities defined as agricultural commodities in section 15 (g) of the Agricultural Marketing Act, as amended), in the raising of livestock, bees, fur-bearing animals, or poultry, and in any practices (including any forestry or lumbering operations) performed for a farmer or on a farm as an incident to or in conjunction with such farming operations, including preparation for market, delivery to storage or to market or to carriers for transportation to market.

(b) "Board" means the Wage Stabilization Board, a Regional Wage Stabilization Board or any of their agents.

(c) "Base rate" means, for each type of work to be performed, the amount of wages, salaries and other compensation paid per hour, month, piece or other unit, by an employer to agricultural labor for the same work (or if the same work was not performed, the most nearly comparable work), in the corresponding season or other time period in 1950.

SEC. 2. Permissible increases. A base rate may be increased without Board approval up to and including one of the following:

(a) The base rate plus 10 percent;

(b) 95 cents per hour;

(c) The piece rate customarily considered as corresponding to 95 cents per hour for the particular work, stage of crop season and weather conditions;

(d) $225 per month without room and board;

(e) $195 per month, plus the use of a year-round house and the usual perquisites of a full-time agricultural employee;

(f) $175 per month, with room and board.

Increases in piece rates may be rounded off in conformity with usual practice.

SEC. 3. Determination of new rates. An employer of agricultural labor who has no base rate for a particular type of work shall not pay wages, salaries and other compensation in excess of the current permissible rate for the same or comparable work in the area.

SEC. 4. Petitions for increases in wages. An employer may petition the Board for approval of increases in wages, salaries and other compensation paid to agricultural labor, in excess of those permitted by section 2 or section 3 of this regulation. Such petitions shall be filed in accordance with the requirements of the procedural regulations of the Board.

SEC. 5. Other wage regulations. Other general wage regulations are hereby superseded, to the extent that their provisions as applied to agricultural labor would be inconsistent with this regulation.

Adopted by unanimous vote of the Board on May 17, 1951.

GEORGE W. TAYLOR,
Chairman.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

[Docket No. 9920]

PART 12—AMATEUR RADIO SERVICE

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter, which contemplates deletion of § 12.24 and amendment of §§ 12.27, 12.47, 12.62, 12.63 (b) and 12.65 of Part 12, "Amateur Radio Service", to bring these sections into conformity with modern practices and to clarify provisions which appear not to be generally understood;

It appearing, that in accordance with the requirements of section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act, general notice of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter, which made provision for the submission of written comments of interested parties and the filing of comments or briefs in reply to original comments or briefs, was duly published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 2686) and that the period for filing comments has expired;

It further appearing, That no comment with respect to the proposed amendments was received by the Commission;

It is ordered, Under the authority of sections 4 (i), 301, and 303 (l) and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, that, effective June 30, 1951, Part 12, "Amateur Radio Service", be and it hereby is amended in exact accordance with the amendments set forth in the notice of proposed rule making published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on March 27, 1951, and incorporated as set forth below.

(Sec. 4, 48 Stat. 1066, as amended; 47 U. S. C. 154. Interpret or apply secs. 301, 303, 48 Stat. 1081, 1082; 47 U. S. C. 301, 303)

Released: May 17, 1951.

FEDERAL COMMUNICATIONS COMMISSION,
[SEAL] T. J. SLOWIE,
Secretary.

Part 12 is amended in the following particulars:

1. Section 12.24 is deleted.

2. Section 12.27 is amended by transferring the reference to footnote 6 from paragraph (a) to the last word of the title sentence of the section, and amending paragraph (a) to read as follows:

(a) An amateur operator license, except the Novice Class, may be renewed upon proper application in which it is stated that the applicant has lawfully accumulated, at an amateur station licensed by the Commission, a minimum total of either 2 hours operating time during the last three months or 5 hours operating time during the last 12 months of the license term. Such operating time, for the purpose of renewal, shall be counted as the total of all that time between the entries in the station log showing the beginning and end of transmissions as required in § 12.136 (a), both during single transmissions and during a sequence of transmissions. The application shall, in addition to the foregoing, include a statement that the applicant can send by hand key, i. e., straight key or any other type of hand operated key such as a semi-automatic or electronic key, and receive by ear, in plain language, messages in the International Morse Code at a speed of not less than that which is required in qualifying for an original license of the class being renewed.

3. Section 12.47 is amended to read as follows:

§ 12.47 Examination procedure. All written portions of the examinations for amateur operator privileges shall be completed by the applicant in legible handwriting or hand printing, and diagrams shall be drawn by hand, by means of either pen and ink or pencil. Whenever the applicant's signature is required, his normal signature shall be used. Applicants unable to comply with these requirements, because of physical disability, may dictate their answers to the examination questions and the receiving code test and if unable to draw required diagrams, may dictate a detailed description essentially equivalent. If the examination or any part thereof is dictated, the examiner shall certify the nature of the applicant's disability and the name and address of the person(s) taking and transcribing the applicant's dictation.

4. Section 12.62 is amended to read as follows:

§ 12.62 Eligibility of corporations or organizations to hold license. An amateur station license will not be issued to a school, company, corporation, association, or other organization, nor for its use, except that in the case of a bona fide amateur radio organization or society, a station license may be issued to a licensed amateur operator, other than the holder of a Novice Class license, as trustee for such society.

5. Section 12.63 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) One application and all papers incorporated therein and made a part thereof shall be submitted for each amateur station license. If the application is for station license only, it shall be filed directly with the Commission at its Washington 25, D. C. office. If the application also contains application for any class of amateur operator license, it shall be filed in accordance with the provisions of § 12.22.

6. Section 12.65 is amended to read as follows:

§ 12.65 License period. The license for an amateur station is normally valid for a period of 5 years from the date of issuance of a new or renewed license, except that an amateur station license issued to the holder of a Novice Class amateur operator license is normally valid for a period of 1 year from the date of issuance. Any modified or duplicate license shall bear the same expiration date as the license for which it is a modification or duplicate.

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[S. O. 877]

PART 97—ROUTING

REROUTING OF TRAFFIC

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 21st day of May A. D. 1951.

It appearing, that during recent high water, approach spans on the Minnesota side of the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company's pontoon bridge over the Mississippi River between Wabasha, Minnesota and Trevino, Wisconsin, were severely damaged; that the embankment approach to the bridge on the Wisconsin side was similarly damaged; that there is now under consideration reconstruction and repair of the damaged bridge or in lieu thereof, the filing of an application with this Commission for the permanent use of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company's tracks between Winona, Minnesota and Trevino, Wisconsin; the Commission is of the opinion that the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company is unable to transport the traffic offered it, routed over its line between Wabasha, Minnesota and Trevino, Wisconsin, so as to properly serve the public and that the handling, routing and movement of this carrier's traffic (including trains) over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company's line between Winona, Minnesota and Trevino, Wisconsin, will best promote the service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people. It is ordered, That:

§ 97.877 Rerouting of traffic— (a) Rerouting. The Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad Company shall handle, route and move its traffic (including trains) originating or terminating at or between Trevino, Menomonie and Chippewa Falls, Wisconsin, over the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company's tracks between Winona, Minnesota and Trevino, Wisconsin.

(b) Compensation. The handling, routing and movement of traffic ordered and described in paragraph (a) of this section shall be upon such terms as between the carriers as they may agree upon or in the event of their disagreement as the Commission may, after subsequent hearing find to be just and reasonable.

(c) Application. The provisions of this section shall apply to intrastate and foreign traffic as well as interstate traffic.

(d) Rates to be applied. Inasmuch as such disregard of routing is deemed to be due to carrier's disability, the rates applicable to traffic so forwarded by routes other than those designated by shippers, or by carriers shall be the rates which were applicable at date of shipment over the routes so designated.

(e) Division of rates. In executing the orders and directions of the Commission provided for in this section, common carriers affected shall proceed, even though no division agreements are in effect, over the routes authorized; divisions shall be, during the time this section remains in force, voluntarily agreed upon by and between said carriers; and upon failure of said carriers to so agree, the divisions shall be hereinafter fixed by the Commission in accordance with pertinent authority conferred upon it by the Interstate Commerce Act. If division agreements now exist on the traffic affected, over the routes herein authorized they shall not be changed or affected by this section.

(f) Effective date. This section shall become effective at 11:00 a. m., May 21, 1951.

(g) Expiration date. The provisions of this section shall expire at 11:59 p. m., August 31, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended, or annulled by order of this Commission.

It is further ordered, That copies of this order and direction shall be served upon the Minnesota and Wisconsin State railroad regulatory bodies, and upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and notice of this order shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

(Sec. 12, 24 Stat. 383, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 12. Interprets or applies sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; sec. 1, 24 Stat. 379, as amended; 49 U. S. C. 1)

By the Commission, Division 3.

[SEAL] W. P. BARTEL,
Secretary.

TITLE 50—WILDLIFE

Chapter I—Fish and Wildlife Service, Department of the Interior

Subchapter D—Federal Aid to States in Wildlife Restoration

PART 41—RESTORATION OF GAME BIRDS AND MAMMALS

Basis and purposes. The Federal Aid to Fish Restoration and Management Act of August 9, 1950 (64 Stat. 430, 16 U. S. C. 777;) has as its objective the performance of activities beneficial to sport fish which parallel activities beneficial to wildlife conducted under the Federal Aid to Wildlife Restoration Act of September 2, 1937 (50 Stat. 917, 16 U. S. C. 669;) as amended August 18, 1941 (55 Stat. 632; 16 U. S. C. 669g–1;) July 24, 1946 (60 Stat. 656; 16 U. S. C. 669e, 669g;) and August 3, 1950 (64 Stat. 399; 16 U. S. C. 669g–1).

At various conferences held with representatives of the fish and game departments of the States it was recommended that the regulations for each of these acts be consolidated and issued as single regulations. On the basis of such recommendations, in order to avoid duplication and repetition, to simplify administration of the program, and to promote efficiency I have determined that the following amendments to the existing regulations will effectuate this purpose and the purposes of the said acts:

1. The heading for Subchapter D is amended to read as set forth above.

2. Part 41 is completely revised and amended to read as follows:

PROJECT STANDARDS

41.70 Project standards.

AUTHORITY: §§ 41.1 to 41.70 issued under sec. 10, 50 Stat. 919, sec. 10, 64 Stat. 434; 16 U. S. C. 669; 777f.

DEFINITIONS

§ 41.1 Meaning of terms. For the purposes of the regulations in this part, the following terms shall be construed, respectively, to have the meanings specified in § 41.2 to § 41.7 inclusive.

§ 41.2 Act(s). (a) The act of Congress approved September 2, 1937, entitled, "An act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in wildlife-restoration projects, and for other purposes," (50 Stat. 917; 16 U. S. C. 669–669i) commonly referred to as the Pittman-Robertson Act, and

(b) The act of Congress approved August 9, 1950, entitled, "An Act to provide that the United States shall aid the States in fish restoration and management projects, and for other purposes" (64 Stat. 430; 16 U. S. C. 777–777k) commonly referred to as the Dingell-Johnson Act.

§ 41.3 Authorized representatives of the Secretary. The Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the Department of the Interior, or such other officials and employees of said Service as may be designated by the Director from time to time.

§ 41.4 State fish and game department. Any department or division of department of another name, or commission, or official or officials, of a State empowered under its laws to exercise the functions ordinarily exercised by a State fish and game department, and the Alaska Game Commission, the Division of Game and Fish of the Board of Commissioners of Agriculture and Forestry of Hawaii, the Commissioner of Agriculture and Commerce of Puerto Rico, and the Governor of the Virgin Islands.

§ 41.5 Restoration project, hereinafter referred to as "project." Acquisition of areas of land or water or estates or interest therein, for feeding, resting, or breeding places for fish or wildlife; restoration, rehabilitation, and improvement by construction of necessary works or otherwise of land and water areas for the benefit of fish or wildlife; maintenance of completed projects, conduct of research into problems of fish or wildlife management, and the coordination of projects necessary to efficient administration affecting fish and wildlife resources.

§ 41.6 Combination project. A project designed to result in benefits to both fish and wildlife resources in which federal costs are jointly borne by Pittman-Robertson and Dingel-Johnson apportionments in proportion to the estimated benefits to be derived by wildlife and fish respectively.

§ 41.7 Ten-percent fund. Items for engineering, inspection, and unforeseen contingencies not exceeding 10 percent of the total cost of any works to be constructed under these acts.

INFORMATION REQUIRED

§ 41.11 General information for the Secretary. Before any agreement is made covering any project to be undertaken in a State, there shall be furnished to the Secretary upon his request, by or on behalf of the State, information regarding the laws affecting fish or wildlife conservation and the authority of the State and of local officials in reference to the establishment and maintenance of fish or wildlife projects; the existing provisions of the State constitution or laws relative to revenues for the protection, restoration and management of fish or wildlife; the funds that will be available to meet the State's share of the cost of work to be performed and the general source of such funds; and provisions made or to be made for maintaining fish or wildlife projects upon which Federal Aid funds will be expended.

§ 41.12 Hunting and fishing license information. Certified information as to the number of paid hunting license holders and paid fishing license holders of the State in the preceding fiscal year shall be furnished the Secretary or his authorized representatives by the fish and game department of each State on or before December 31 of each year.

§ 41.13 Notice of desire to participate. Any State fish and game department desiring to avail itself of the benefits of the Acts shall notify the Secretary to this effect within sixty days after it has received from the Secretary a certificate of apportionment of funds available under the acts to the States.

§ 41.14 Information from State fish and game departments. The Secretary or his authorized representatives may from time to time request and the State fish and game department shall furnish information relative to the administration and maintenance of the fish and wildlife projects established under the acts.

NOTE: All record keeping and reporting requirements of these regulations have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act.

PROJECT INITIATION DOCUMENTS

§ 41.21 Project statement. A project statement shall be submitted for each project to be undertaken, which shall contain such fundamental information as the Secretary may require and which will be specified in form furnished by him, in order that he may determine project suitability for fish or wildlife restoration purposes.

§ 41.22 Surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates; form and arrangement. The surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates shall show in convenient form and detail the work to be performed and its probable cost, in conformity with the standards governing form and arrangement prescribed by the Secretary and furnished to the States.

§ 41.23 Project agreements. A project agreement between the State fish and game department and the Secretary shall be executed for each project approved by the Secretary.

PARTICIPATION BY OTHER STATE AGENCIES

§ 41.31 Participation by State subdivisions. When any part of the cost of a project is to be furnished by a county or any other subdivision of a State, the surveys, plans, specifications, and estimates shall be accompanied by a certified copy of each resolution or order, if any, of the appropriate local officials, or by such other showing as the Secretary may require respecting the funds that are made available, indicating the control of the money provided for paying such costs, and clearly defining whether the State, county, or other local subdivision will own the lands and or improvements; and stating which agency will be responsible for administration and maintenance after completion of the project.

REQUIREMENTS FOR PAYMENTS

§ 41.36 Secretary's approval. No payment of any money apportioned under the acts, including such preliminary or incidental costs and expenses as may be incurred in and about such projects, shall be made on any project unless it meets the standards which the Secretary may from time to time establish; and unless the project statements, plans, specifications, estimates, project agreements, and all other documents that may be necessary or required in the administration of the regulations in this part, have been submitted to and approved by the Secretary or his authorized representatives.

§ 41.37 Economy and efficiency. No part of the Federal funds set aside on account of any project shall be paid until it has been shown to the satisfaction of the Secretary or his authorized representatives that appropriate and adequate means, either by advertisement or otherwise, were employed to insure economy and efficiency in the expenditure of such money.

§ 41.38 Lowest responsible bids. If a contract be awarded to any other than the lowest responsible bidder, the Federal Government shall not pay more than its pro rata share of the lowest responsible bid, unless it is satisfactorily shown that it was advantageous to the work to accept the higher bid.

§ 41.39 Contracts: competitive bids. All contracts, except for the purchase and leasing of lands, shall be based upon free and open competitive bids.

§ 41.40 Copy of contract; alteration or modification. Upon request, a copy of each contract as executed shall be promptly certified by the State fish and game department and furnished to the Secretary, and no alteration or modification that changes the character or extent of the work from that indicated in the plans, specifications, and estimates as approved by the Secretary, or that increases the amounts to be paid from the lowest competitive bid, shall be subsequently made without the approval of the Secretary or his authorized representatives.

§ 41.41 Form of vouchers. Vouchers in the form provided by the Secretary and certified as therein prescribed, showing amounts expended on any project and the amount claimed to be due from the Federal Government on account thereof, shall be submitted by the State fish and game department to the Fish and Wildlife Service, either after completion of the project, or, if the Secretary has determined to make payments as the work progresses, at intervals of not less than one month.

STATES' RESPONSIBILITIES

§ 41.46 Prosecution; promptness. The State fish and game department shall carry all approved projects through to satisfactory completion with reasonable promptness.

§ 41.47 Inspection. The supervision of each project by the State fish and game department shall include adequate and continuous inspection throughout.

§ 41.48 Progress reports. Progress reports, showing force employed and work done, shall be furnished as requested by the Secretary or his authorized representatives.

§ 41.49 Samples of materials to be submitted. Suitable samples of materials to be used in construction work shall be submitted by or on behalf of the State fish and game department to the Fish and Wildlife Service whenever requested, to be tested for suitability and conformity with standard specifications.

§ 41.50 Records and cost accounting. Such records of the cost of lands acquired, improvements made thereon, construction work, overhead costs, and of maintenance done by or on behalf of the State shall be kept separately for each project by or under the direction of the State fish and game department, which shall report the amount and nature of the expenditure for these purposes, upon the request of the Secretary or his authorized representatives.

§ 41.51 Inspection of accounts and records. The accounts and records, together with all supporting documents, shall be open at all times to the inspection of the Secretary or his authorized representatives, and copies thereof shall be furnished when requested.

§ 41.52 Submission. Papers and documents required by the acts or by the regulations in this part to be submitted to the Secretary may be delivered to the Director of the Fish and Wildlife Service or his authorized representatives, and from the date of such delivery shall be deemed submitted.

§ 41.53 Personnel; maintenance. The State fish and game department shall maintain an adequate and competent force of employees to initiate and carry projects through to satisfactory completion.

§ 41.54 Personnel selection. Personnel employed by the States to carry out project work under the acts shall be selected on the basis of competency for services to be performed and shall conduct their duties in a manner acceptable to the Secretary.

PROJECT STANDARDS

§ 41.70 Project standards. Standards for Federal Aid in Fish and Wildlife projects are established as follows:

(a) Sufficient funds to originally finance the costs of the projects must be available for expenditure by the States.

(b) Projects must be substantial in character and design.

(c) The acquisition of lands under a project plan must be at prices which previously have been determined by the Fish and Wildlife Service to be fair and reasonable.

(d) Development projects shall have as their objectives the improvement of conditions suitable for fish and wildlife.

(e) Projects dealing with fish or wildlife surveys and investigations shall be limited to problems having direct management application.

(f) Maintenance projects may include the upkeep and repair of structures that have been acquired or constructed through either Federal Aid program. Likewise upkeep and repair of restoration developments of a non-structural nature that have been completed under these programs are also approvable. Management measures concerned with the harvesting of fish and wildlife and law enforcement activities do not qualify for inclusion in maintenance projects.

(g) In projects which are designed to include uses other than for fish or wildlife, Federal Aid funds shall be used only to the extent that fish or wildlife will benefit thereby.

(h) Personnel employed by the States to carry out project work must be selected on the basis of competency for services to be performed and shall conduct their duties in a manner acceptable to the Fish and Wildlife Service.

These amendments shall become effective on July 1, 1951.

OSCAR L. CHAPMAN,
Secretary of the Interior.

PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 729]

PEANUTS

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO FORMULATE AND ISSUE REGULATIONS GOVERNING MARKETINGS, COLLECTION OF MARKETING PENALTIES, AND RECORDS AND REPORTS FOR 1951–52 MARKETING YEAR

Pursuant to the authority contained in the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended (7 U. S. C. and Sup. 1301, 1358–1359, 1372–1375; Pub. Law 471, 81st Cong., approved March 31, 1950; Pub. Law 17, 82d Cong., approved April 12, 1951), the Secretary of Agriculture is preparing to formulate marketing quota regulations governing the issuance of marketing cards, the identification of peanuts, the collection and refund of penalties, and the records and reports incident thereto on the marketing of peanuts for the 1951–1952 marketing year. It is proposed that the regulations will be substantially the same as the 1950-crop regulations (15 F. R. 4739) except as provided below:

1. It is proposed that three different types of marketing cards will be available for issuance to farm operators under the 1951 peanut marketing quota program, as follows:

(a) A within-quota marketing card authorizing the marketing of peanuts without penalty will be issued to the operator of each farm on which the harvested acreage of peanuts does not exceed the allotment for the farm.

(b) An excess all marketing card will be issued to the operator of each farm on which the harvested acreage of peanuts is in excess of the farm allotment but is not in excess of the peanut acreage picked and threshed on the farm in 1947, or in 1948 if no peanuts were harvested on the farm in 1947. This card will give the grower an option with respect to the excess peanuts contained in each lot available for marketing, of paying the penalty on the excess peanuts contained in each lot at the time of marketing or of delivering such peanuts to agencies designated by the Secretary of Agriculture and receiving a price therefor based on the current value of such peanuts for crushing for oil, less certain handling costs.

(c) An excess penalty marketing card, requiring payment of the penalty on the excess peanuts in each lot of peanuts marketed, will be issued to the operator of each farm on which the harvested acreage of peanuts exceeds the allotment for the farm and the acreage picked and threshed on the farm in 1947, or in 1948 if no peanuts were harvested on the farm in 1947.

2. The marketing cards for the 1951 program will not contain memoranda of sale. Buyers under contract with Commodity Credit Corporation will report purchases of within quota or excess oil peanuts from growers by executing as a memorandum of sale a portion of the inspection certificate form. These forms will be furnished to growers by a Federal or Federal-State inspector, who will be stationed in the office of each buyer who has signed a contract with the Commodity Credit Corporation. Buyers will be furnished other memoranda of sale forms for use in connection with marketings of peanuts which are not inspected and marketings which are subject to penalty.

3. The regulations will provide that if peanuts produced on a farm are improperly marketed in such a manner that payment of the penalty is avoided, the penalty will be due, in case the production and marketings for the farm are subsequently determined, on the quantity of peanuts marketed in excess of the farm marketing quota, and the penalty due for the farm shall be paid by the operator.

4. The regulations will provide that no refund of any penalty will be made because of peanuts kept on the farm for seed or for home consumption. This provision will give effect to the new language added to section 359 (a) of the act by Public Law 17, 82d Congress, approved April 12, 1951.

Prior to issuance of such regulations, consideration will be given to any data, views, and recommendations relating thereto which are submitted in writing to the Director, Fats and Oils Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C. All submissions must be postmarked not later than 10 days from the date of publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of May 1951.

Acting Administrator.

FRESH BARTLETT PEARS, PLUMS, AND ELBERTA PEACHES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING WITH RESPECT TO EXPENSES AND FIXING OF RATES OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1951–52 SEASON

Consideration is being given to the following proposals submitted by the Control Committee, established under the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 36, as amended (7 CFR Part 936), regulating the handling of fresh Bartlett pears, plums, and Elberta peaches grown in the State of California, as the agency to administer the provisions thereof:

(a) That the Secretary of Agriculture find, with respect to Bartlett pears, early varieties of plums, late varieties of plums, and Elberta peaches, that expenses not to exceed the following amounts are likely to be incurred, during the season ending February 29, 1952, inclusive, by the Control Committee for the maintenance and functioning of such committee and the respective commodity committees established under the aforesaid amended marketing agreement and order:

(1) Bartlett pears, $19,927.19;

(2) Early varieties of plums, $15,891.83;

(3) Late varieties of plums, $17,717.40; and

(4) Elberta peaches, $11,296.08.

(b) That the Secretary of Agriculture fix, as each handler's pro rata share of such expenses, the following rates of assessment which each handler shall pay in accordance with the provisions of said amended marketing agreement and order:

(1) 15 mills ($0.015) per hundred pounds of Bartlett pears;

(2) 25 mills ($0.025) per hundred pounds of early varieties of plums;

(3) 25 mills ($0.025) per hundred pounds of late varieties of plums; and

(4) 15 mills ($0.015) per hundred pounds of Elberta peaches.

All persons who desire to submit written data, views, or arguments for consideration in connection with the proposals may do so by submitting the same to the Director, Fruit and Vegetable Branch, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the 10th day following publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Terms used in the amended marketing agreement and order shall, when used herein, have the same meaning as is given to the respective term in said amended marketing agreement and order.

CONTRACTS FOR CERTAIN CANNED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

EXEMPTION FROM PROVISIONS OF WALSH-HEALEY PUBLIC CONTRACTS ACT

In accordance with § 201.601 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act regulations (41 CFR 201.601), the Secretary of the Army has made written findings that the conduct of Government business will be seriously impaired by the inclusion of the representations and stipulations of section 1 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (49 Stat. 2036; 41 U. S. C. 35) in contracts awarded on or before December 31, 1951, for canned fruits and vegetables of the following varieties:

Apples, canned.
Applesauce, canned.
Apricots, canned.
Asparagus, canned.
Beans, lima, canned.
Beans, string, canned.
Berries, canned.
Carrots, canned.
Catsup, tomato.
Cherries, sour, canned.
Cherries, sweet, canned.
Corn, cream style, canned.
Corn, whole grain, canned.
Figs, canned.
Fruit cocktail, canned
Grapefruit, canned.
Juice, citrus.
Juice, grape.
Juice, pineapple.
Peas, green, canned.
Peaches, canned.
Pears, canned.
Pineapple, canned.
Plums (prunes), canned.
Potatoes, sweet, canned.
Pumpkin, canned.
Puree, tomato.
Sauce, cranberry.
Spinach, canned.
Tomatoes, canned.
Tomato Juice, canned.
Tomato Paste, canned.

Pursuant to section 6 of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act, and, upon the basis of this finding, the Secretary of Labor has been requested by the Secretary of the Army to grant an exemption from the provisions of section 1 of the act permitting the award of contracts for the above varieties of canned fruits and vegetables for the balance of the calendar year 1951 without inclusion of the representations and stipulations of that section.

Notice is hereby given of a public hearing on this matter before the Acting Administrator of the Public Contracts Division or his authorized representative at 10:00 a. m. on Monday June 11, 1951, in Room 5406, Department of Labor Building, Fourteenth Street and Constitution Avenue NW., Washington, D. C., at which interested persons may appear and submit data, views and arguments either in support of or in opposition to this proposal. Written statements in lieu of personal appearance may be filed by mail at any time prior to the date of the hearing, or may be filed with the presiding officer at the hearing. Persons appearing at the hearing will be afforded an opportunity to file, within 7 days from the close of the hearing, briefs relating to the issues raised at the hearing.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of May 1951.

HAND-BRAIDING OF LEATHER BUTTONS BY HOMEWORKERS IN PUERTO RICO

PROPOSED MINIMUM PIECE RATE

Notice is hereby given pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001) that the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, proposes to establish a minimum piece rate of 32 cents per gross for the hand-braiding of leather buttons, 24 to 30 ligne, by homeworkers in Puerto Rico by the following method: Tying a braided knot around the tip of a finger, bringing the knot into a rounded button shape by pulling at the ends of the strip, cutting a shank at one end of the strip with a hand-cutting machine, trimming both ends by cutting the excess leather off and inserting the ends into the knot. (It is not intended by this action to revoke or change in any way the minimum piece rate of 53⅓ cents per gross established by an order dated August 8, 1950 (15 F. R. 5155) for the hand-braiding of leather buttons, 24 to 30 ligne by another method specified in such order).

Prior to the final adoption of such minimum piece rate, consideration will be given to any data, views, or arguments pertaining thereto which are submitted in writing to the Administrator of the Wage and Hour Division, United States Department of Labor, Washington 25, D. C., within 15 days from publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

The proposed rate is to be issued under authority contained in section 6 (a) (2) of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (sec. 6, 63 Stat. 912; 29 U. S. C. 206).

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 21st day of May 1951.

[Docket No. 2849 et al.; Docket No. 3663]

AMERICAN AIRLINES, INC., ET AL.; BIG FOUR MAIL RATE PROCEEDING AND EFFICIENCY INVESTIGATION

NOTICE OF HEARING

In the matter of the compensation for the transportation of mail by aircraft, the facilities used and useful therefor, and the services connected therewith, of America Airlines, Inc., Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Trans World Airlines, Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc., over their routes within the continental United States insofar as authorized under certificates for interstate air transportation and over their routes between the United States and terminal points in Canada. Docket No. 2849 et al.

In the matter of the investigation of the finances, routes, and operations of American Airlines, Inc., Eastern Air Lines, Inc., Trans World Airlines, Inc., and United Air Lines, Inc. Docket No. 3663.

Notice is hereby given, pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, particularly sections 406, 205, 415, and 1001 thereof, that the above-entitled proceedings are hereby assigned for hearing on June 18, 1951, at 10:00 a. m., e. d. t., in the Adams and Hamilton Room, Wardman Park Hotel, 2660 Woodley Road NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Edward T. Stodola.

Without limiting the scope of the issues raised by the pleadings in these proceedings, particular attention will be directed to the following matters:

I. What is the fair and reasonable rate of compensation for the transportation of mail for each of the Big Four carriers under the standards set forth in section 406 of the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended?

A. Is it reasonable to establish such rates on a uniform class basis?

B. For what periods and at what level should such rates be fixed?

II. What is the fair and reasonable rate of compensation for the transportation of mail for the Big Four, without reference to the "need" of each carrier?

A. Is it reasonable to establish such rates on a uniform class basis?

B. For what periods and at what levels should such rates be fixed?

III. Did each of the carriers have a reasonable and comparable opportunity under the statutory standards of honest, economical and efficient management, to earn a reasonable return on required investment without "need" mail compensation at the volume of operations required by the commerce, the Postal Service, and the national defense?

A. When the major factors which affect a carrier's opportunity to attain self-sufficiency, as defined above, are considered, did each of the carriers have a comparable opportunity to attain such a status?

B. When the major factors which affect a carrier's opportunity to attain self-sufficiency are considered, did each of the carriers have a reasonable opportunity to attain such a status?

C. What major factors which have contributed to any carrier's failure to realize the opportunity to attain self-sufficiency may be adjudged the responsibility of management under the statutory standards of honest, economical and efficient management and hence not subject to underwriting by "need" mail pay?

IV. To what extent, if any, should any of the four carriers be paid "need" mail payments in addition to the amount provided by a service mail rate as placed in issue in No. II above and for what periods, after the institution of the rate proceeding, should such payments be made?

V. What factors account for the differences, if there be differences, in the mail pay requirements among the Big Four carriers, and what remedial actions, if any, should be taken by the Board or any of these carriers to eliminate or to decrease, as the case may be and the facts may warrant and permit, dependence upon the Government for "need" mail payments, if there be such dependence?

For further details with respect to the issues involved in these proceedings, all interested persons are referred to the various orders entered under Dockets Nos. 2849 et al., and Docket No. 3663 and to the Examiner's Report of Prehearing Conference, served April 25, 1950, and his Supplemental Report of Prehearing Conference, served May 23, 1950. The foregoing documents are on file with the Docket Section of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Notice is hereby further given to the effect that any person other than parties already of record desiring to be heard in these proceedings shall file with the Board on or before June 8, 1951, a statement setting forth the issues of fact or law raised by these proceedings which he desires to controvert.

Dated at Washington, D. C., May 21, 1951.

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

CHAIRMAN OF PMA COUNTY COMMITTEE

DELEGATION OF AUTHORITY WITH RESPECT TO EXECUTING LEASES FOR STORAGE STRUCTURES

Pursuant to the authority conferred upon me, by the bylaws of Commodity Credit Corporation published in 14 F. R. 7689, I hereby appoint the Chairman of every Production and Marketing Administration county committee a contracting officer, within the county of his jurisdiction, for the purpose of executing, in accordance with instructions, leases of Commodity Credit Corporation-owned storage structures, not needed for storage of Commodity Credit Corporation-owned grain. The aforementioned instructions shall be available for inspection in the PMA County offices. In leasing such structures, such contracting officers have been instructed to give preference first to farmers or groups of farmers for the storage of their own grain; then to cooperative associations for the storage of grain; and then to commercial warehousemen for the storage of grain. Thereafter, such structures may be leased for the storage of any commodity or product which will not be injurious or hazardous to the structure itself, or to grain stored in other structures at the site. The termination date of any such lease shall be not later than April 30, following the date of the lease, except when the structures are used for the storage of corn or soybeans under loan which will mature at a date after April 30, 1952, in which case structures may be leased for a period ending on or prior to the maturity date of such loans. The delegation of authority contained in paragraph (7) of Federal Register document 50-6630, published 15 F. R. 4874 issued July 28, 1950, is hereby revoked.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AGENCY

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 25]

FARRINGTON MANUFACTURING CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Farrington Manufacturing Company has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The following ceiling prices are established for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of matching jewel and gift cases manufactured by Farrington Manufacturing Company, 76 Atherton Street, Boston 30, Massachusetts, having the brand name "Farrington" and described in the manufacturer's application dated April 5, 1951. The manufacturer's prices listed below are subject to a discount of 2/10, EOM.

MATCHING JEWEL AND GIFT CASES

Manufacturer's selling price (per dozen)	Ceiling price at retail (per unit)
$10.50	$1.50
16.50	2.50
19.50	2.95
22.50	3.50
28.50	4.50
46.20	6.95
67.80	10.00

2. The matching jewel and gift case having the style number 6B in the manufacturer's application dated April 5, 1951, so long as it has a manufacturer's selling price of $66.00 per dozen, shall have a ceiling price at retail of $10.00 per unit, and the manufacturer's price shall be subject to a discount of 2/10, EOM.

3. The retail ceiling price of an article stated in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

4. On and after June 23, 1951, Farrington Manufacturing Company must mark each article listed in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this special order or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Farrington Manufacturing Company must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

5. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraphs 1 and 2 of this special order. Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

6. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

7. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

8. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

9. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 24, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, Jr.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

[Docket Nos. 9974—9977]

RADIO BROADCASTING INC. (KTHS) ET AL.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATION FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re applications of Radio Broadcasting, Inc. (KTHS), Hot Springs, Arkansas, Docket No. 9975, File No. BP-7787; James A. Noe (WNOE), New Orleans, Louisiana, Docket No. 9976, File No. BP-7822; Fayetteville Broadcasting Co., Inc. (KGRH), Fayetteville, Arkansas, Docket No. 9977, File No. BP-8037; for construction permits; and Radio Broadcasting, Inc. (KTHS), Hot Springs, Arkansas, for renewal of license; Docket No. 9974, File No. BR-426.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration (1) the above-entitled applications of Radio Broadcasting, Inc., requesting a construction permit to change facilities of KTHS, Hot Springs, Arkansas, from 1090 kilocycles with power of 10 kilowatts day and 1 kilowatt night, unlimited time, to 1090 kilocycles with power of 50 kilowatts, unlimited time using a directional antenna at night and to move the station to Little Rock, Arkansas; James A. Noe for a construction permit to change facilities of Station WNOE, New Orleans, Louisiana, from 1060 kilocycles with power of 50 kilowatts day and 5 kilowatts night, unlimited time using different directional antennas for day and night operation to 1090 kilocycles with power of 50 kilowatts day and 25 kilowatts night, unlimited time using different directional antenna for day and night operation; Fayetteville Broadcasting Co., Inc., for a construction permit to change facilities of Station KGRH, Fayetteville, Arkansas, from 1450 kilocycles with power of 250 watts, unlimited time to 1090 kilocycles with power of 50 kilowatts, unlimited time using a directional antenna at night; and Radio Broadcasting, Inc. for renewal of license of Station KTHS, Hot Springs, Arkansas; (2) a petition filed March 6, 1951, by Radio Broadcasting, Inc., requesting immediate action on its above-mentioned application to change facilities of Station KTHS; and (3) a petition filed September 1, 1950, by James A. Noe, requesting "Revocation, Deletion, or Modification of License of Radio Station KTHS";

It is ordered, That, pursuant to section 309 (a) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, the above-entitled applications are designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding commencing at 10:00 a. m., on June 25, 1951, at Washington, D. C., upon the following issues:

1. To determine the technical, financial, and other qualifications of the individual applicant, and of the corporate applicants, their officers, directors, and stockholders to construct and operate respectively Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH and with respect with Radio Broadcasting, Inc. to continue the existing operation of Station KTHS.

2. To determine the areas and populations which may be expected to gain or lose primary or secondary service from the operation of Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH, as proposed, and the character of other service available to such areas and populations.

3. To determine the areas and populations which receive primary service from the present operation of Station KTHS and the character of other broadcast service available to such areas and populations.

4. To determine the type and character of program service proposed to be rendered and whether it would meet the requirements of the populations and areas proposed to be served.

5. To determine whether the operation of Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH, as proposed, and the continuance of the existing operation of KTHS would involve objectionable interference with any other existing broadcast stations, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

6. To determine whether the operation of Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH, as proposed, and the continuance of the existing operation of KTHS would involve objectionable interference each with the other or with the services proposed in any other pending applications for broadcast facilities, and, if so, the nature and extent thereof, the areas and populations affected thereby, and the availability of other broadcast service to such areas and populations.

7. To determine the overlap, if any, that will exist between the service areas of Station KTHS, as proposed, and Station KWKH, Shreveport, Louisiana, the nature and extent thereof, and whether such overlap, if any, is in contravention of § 3.35 of the Commission's rules.

8. To determine whether the operation of Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH, as proposed would be in conflict with any international agreement to which the United States is a party.

9. To determine whether the construction of Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH, as proposed, would constitute a hazard to air navigation.

10. To determine whether the installation and operation of Stations WNOE, KTHS, and KGRH, as proposed, and the continuance of the existing operation of Station KTHS would be in compliance with the Commission's rules and Standards of Good Engineering Practice Concerning Standard Broadcast Stations.

11. To determine on a comparative basis which, if any, of the applications in this consolidated proceeding should be granted.

OHIO POWER CO. AND CENTRAL OHIO COAL CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING ISSUANCE AND SALE BY SUBSIDIARY OF 15,000 SHARES OF COMMON STOCK, ACQUISITION BY PARENT COMPANY, AND $4,000,000 ADVANCE TO SUBSIDIARY BY PARENT COMPANY.

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of May A. D. 1951.

The Ohio Power Company ("Ohio Power"), an electric utility subsidiary company of American Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company, and Central Ohio Coal Company ("Coal Company"), a non-utility subsidiary company of Ohio Power, having filed a joint application-declaration pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, particularly sections 6 (b), 10, and 12 (b) of the act, and Rule U-45 with respect to the following transactions:

Coal Company proposes to issue and sell and Ohio Power proposes to acquire not to exceed 15,000 shares of Coal Company's capital stock from time to time prior to December 31, 1954, for a cash consideration of $100 per share, being the par value of such shares, or a total of $1,500,000.

Ohio Power proposes to advance to Coal Company not to exceed $4,000,000 on open account from time to time prior to December 31, 1954, such advances to bear interest at the initial rate of 3 percent per annum. Ohio Power expects that as a part of a financing program to be consummated within the next 12 months, it will issue some long-term unsecured indebtedness. In the event that such unsecured indebtedness bears an annual average interest rate other than 3 percent, the annual interest on the proposed advances to Coal Company will be adjusted to equal such rate. The joint application-declaration states that the proceeds to be derived by Coal Company from the proposed transactions will be used to pay the cost of construction of additional coal production facilities during the years 1951 to 1954.

The joint application-declaration having been filed on April 13, 1951, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said joint application-declaration within the period specified, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to the joint application-declaration that the proposed transactions comply with the applicable standards of the act, and the Commission observing no basis for adverse findings, and deeming it appropriate that said joint application-declaration be granted and permitted to become effective, and also deeming it appropriate to grant the request of the joint applicants-declarants that the order become effective at the earliest date possible:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of said act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24, that said joint application-declaration be, and the same hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

OHIO POWER CO. ET AL.

ORDER AUTHORIZING PROPOSED $2,500,000 ADVANCES TO SUBSIDIARY

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of May A. D. 1951.

In the matter of the Ohio Power Company, Appalachian Electric Power Company, Central Coal Company; File No. 70-2615.

The Ohio Power Company ("Ohio Power"), Appalachian Electric Power Company ("Appalachian"), both electric utility subsidiary companies of American Gas and Electric Company, a registered holding company, and Central Coal Company ("Coal Company"), a non-utility subsidiary company of both Ohio Power and Appalachian, having filed a joint declaration and an amendment thereto pursuant to section 12 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, with respect to the transactions summarized as follows:

Ohio Power and Appalachian propose to advance not to exceed in the aggregate $2,500,000 to Coal Company on open account from time to time prior to December 31, 1954. Such advances are to be made in equal amounts by Ohio Power and Appalachian and will bear an initial interest rate of 3 percent per annum. Ohio Power and Appalachian expect that as part of a financing program to be consummated within the next 12 months, they will issue some long-term unsecured indebtedness. In the event that such unsecured indebtedness bears an annual average interest rate other than 3 percent the annual interest rate on the proposed advances to the Coal Company will be adjusted to equal such rate. The joint declaration states that the proceeds from the proposed transaction will be used by the Coal Company to pay for the costs of construction of additional coal production facilities during the years 1951 to 1954.

Said joint declaration having been filed on April 16, 1951, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated under said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said joint declaration within the period specified, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The State Corporation Commission of Virginia and the Public Service Commission of West Virginia having approved the proposed transactions; and

The Commission finding with respect to said joint declaration, as amended, that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said joint declaration, as amended, be permitted to become effective, and also deeming it appropriate to grant a request of the declarants that the Commission's order become effective at the earliest date possible:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act and subject to the provisions prescribed in Rule U-24, that the joint declaration, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

FIRST GUARDIAN SECURITIES CORP. ET AL.

MEMORANDUM OPINION AND ORDER REVOKING BROKER-DEALER REGISTRATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of May A. D. 1951.

In the matter of the First Guardian Securities Corporation, 20 Pine Street, New York 20, New York and Arthur H. Baum, and Leonard Baum.

This is a proceeding pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 ("Exchange Act") to determine whether the First Guardian Securities Corporation ("registrant"), which is registered as a broker and dealer, and Arthur H. Baum and Leonard Baum, officers, directors and controlling persons of registrant, willfully violated sections 5 (a) (1) and (2) and 17 (a) of the Securities Act of 1933 ("Securities Act") and sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 (b) of the Exchange Act and Rule X-10B-5 thereunder, and, if so, whether it is in the public interest to revoke registrant's registration.[1]

On October 2, 1950, registrant filed a written notice requesting withdrawal from registration. On October 30, 1950, we instituted this proceeding thereby staying the effectiveness of the notice of withdrawal pursuant to Rule X-15B-6 under the Exchange Act. On November 21, 1950, registrant, Arthur H. Baum and Leonard Baum filed an "answer and consent to revocation" in which they acknowledged service of adequate notice, waived their opportunity for hearing, admitted the facts alleged in the order for proceedings for the purpose of this and any other proceeding pursuant to sections 15 (b) and 15A of the Exchange Act, and consented to a finding that they committed the violations of law set forth in that order and to the entry of an order revoking registrant's registration as a broker and dealer.

The order for proceedings alleges, and we find, that registrant, Arthur H. Baum and Leonard Baum willfully violated sections 5 (a) (1) and (2) and 17 (a) of the Securities Act and sections 9 (a) (2) and 10 (b) of the Exchange Act and Rule X-10B-5 thereunder in that (1) from June 1, 1950, to July 21, 1950, they sold and delivered to various persons shares of the common stock, no par value, of Standard Brewing Company of Scranton, when no registration statement was in effect as to such securities as required by the Securities Act; (2) for the purpose of inducing the purchase of such securities by others, they effected, alone and with other persons, during the period from May 29, 1950, to June 9, 1950, a series of transactions in such securities on a national securities exchange, which created actual and apparent active trading in such securities and raised the price thereof, and thereafter induced various persons to purchase such securities at prices to which the market had thus been artificially raised; and (3) the instrumentalities of interstate commerce, the mails, and the facilities of a national securities exchange were used in effecting certain of those transactions and in the purchases, sales and delivery of such securities.[2]

We conclude that revocation of registrant's registration as a broker and dealer is in the public interest.

Accordingly, it is ordered, Pursuant to section 15 (b) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, that the registration of the First Guardian Securities Corporation as a broker and dealer be, and it hereby is, revoked.

By the Commission.

[SEAL] ORVAL L. DUBOIS, Secretary.

[F. R. Doc. 51-6011; Filed, May 24, 1951; 8:45 a. m.]

[1] Section 15 (b) of the Exchange Act provides in pertinent part: "The Commission shall, after appropriate notice and opportunity for hearing, by order * * * revoke the registration of any broker or dealer if it finds that such * * * revocation is in the public interest and that (1) such broker or dealer * * * or (2) any * * * officer, director, or branch manager of such broker or dealer * * * or any person directly or indirectly controlling or controlled by such broker or dealer * * * (D) has willfully violated any provision of the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or of this title, or of any rule or regulation thereunder."

[2] The Board of Governors of the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc., at its meeting on September 25-26, 1950, affirmed the decision of the District Business Conduct Committee of District No. 13, expelling the First Guardian Securities Corporation from membership in the Association, and revoking the registration of Arthur H. Baum and Leonard Baum with the Association as registered representatives, for violation of its Rules of Fair Practice. The period for appeal to this Commission pursuant to section 15A of the Exchange Act has expired.

MIDWEST STOCK EXCHANGE

NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO DECLARE EFFECTIVE A PLAN FILED FOR DISPOSAL OF CERTAIN DOCUMENTS

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration a plan filed by the Midwest Stock Exchange pursuant to § 240.17a–6 (Rule X-17A–6) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 for the disposal of all applications, reports, and documents filed with that Exchange prior to January 1, 1946, pursuant to sections 12, 13, 14 and 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or any rule or regulation promulgated by the Commission pursuant to any of such sections. The Exchange proposes to commence disposing of the specified material as soon as practicable after the Commission has declared its plan effective. The plan also contemplates that thereafter, as soon as practicable after January 1st of each year, regular disposition will be made of similar material which has been on file more than five years.

Information contained in the material proposed to be disposed of pursuant to the plan of the Midwest Stock Exchange is on file with the Commission where it will continue to be available.

The Securities and Exchange Commission proposes to declare the plan of the Midwest Stock Exchange effective on condition that if at any time it appears to the Commission necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors so to do, the Commission may suspend or terminate the effectiveness of said plan by sending at least ten days' written notice to the Exchange.

These proposals are made pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 17 (a), 23 (a) and 24 (b) thereof and Rule X-17A–6 thereunder. All interested persons are invited to submit their views and comments in writing to the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., on or before June 11, 1951.

PHILADELPHIA-BALTIMORE STOCK EXCHANGE

NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO DECLARE EFFECTIVE A PLAN FILED FOR DISPOSAL OF CERTAIN DOCUMENTS

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration a plan filed by the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange pursuant to § 240.17a–6 (Rule X-17A–6) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 for the disposal of all applications, reports, and documents filed with that Exchange prior to January 1, 1946, pursuant to sections 12, 13 and 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or any rule or regulation promulgated by the Commission pursuant to any of such sections. While Rule X-17A–6 also makes provision for the disposal of all documents which have been on file with an exchange for more than five years pursuant to section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the rules adopted thereunder, the plan of the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange does not contemplate the disposal of such material. The Exchange proposes to commence disposing of the specified material as soon as practicable after the Commission has declared its plan effective. The plan also contemplates that thereafter, as soon as practicable after January 1st of each year, regular disposition will be made of similar material which has been on file more than five years.

Information contained in the material proposed to be disposed of pursuant to the plan of the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange is on file with the Commission where it will continue to be available.

The Securities and Exchange Commission proposes to declare the plan of the Philadelphia-Baltimore Stock Exchange effective on condition that if at any time it appears to the Commission necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors so to do, the Commission may suspend or terminate the effectiveness of said plan by sending at least ten days' written notice to the Exchange.

These proposals are made pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 17 (a), 23 (a), and 24 (b) thereof and Rule X-17A–6 thereunder. All interested persons are invited to submit their views and comments in writing to the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., on or before June 11, 1951.

SAN FRANCISCO STOCK EXCHANGE

NOTICE OF PROPOSAL TO DECLARE EFFECTIVE A PLAN FILED FOR DISPOSAL OF CERTAIN DOCUMENTS

Notice is hereby given that the Securities and Exchange Commission has under consideration a plan filed by the San Francisco Stock Exchange pursuant to § 240.17a–6 (Rule X-17A–6) under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934 for the disposal of the following applications, reports, and documents filed with that Exchange prior to January 1, 1946, pursuant to sections 12, 13 and 16 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or any rule or regulation promulgated by the Commission pursuant to any of such sections:

(1) Forms 1–J, 2–J, 15–AN, and AN–4 pursuant to section 12;

(2) All reports filed pursuant to section 13;

(3) All reports filed pursuant to section 16;

While § 240.17a–6 also makes provision for the disposal of all documents which have been on file with an exchange for more than five years pursuant to section 14 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, or the rules adopted thereunder, the plan of the San Francisco Stock Exchange does not contemplate the disposal of any of such material. It should also be noted that with respect to filings under section 12 and the rules thereunder this plan contemplates the disposal of only the material mentioned in (1) above.

The Exchange proposes to commence disposing of the specified material as soon as practicable after the Commission has declared its plan effective. The plan also contemplates that thereafter, as soon as practicable after January 1st of each year, regular disposition will be made of similar material which has been on file more than five years.

Information contained in the material proposed to be disposed of pursuant to the plan of the San Francisco Stock Exchange is on file with the Commission where it will continue to be available.

The Securities and Exchange Commission proposes to declare the plan of the San Francisco Stock Exchange effective on condition that if at any time it appears to the Commission necessary or appropriate in the public interest or for the protection of investors so to do, the Commission may suspend or terminate the effectiveness of said plan by sending at least ten days' written notice to the Exchange.

These proposals are made pursuant to the provisions of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, particularly sections 17 (a), 23 (a), and 24 (b) thereof and § 240.17a–6 thereunder. All interested persons are invited to submit their views and comments in writing to the Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C., on or before June 11, 1951.

SHOZO TOMOEDA

In re: Rights of Sumo Tomoeda and of the domiciliary personal representatives, et al., of Shozo Tomoeda, deceased, under contract of insurance. File No. F-39-4525-H-1. Vesting Order No. 16280 dated December 7, 1950, is hereby amended to read as follows:

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That Sumo Tomoeda, whose last known address is Japan, is a resident of Japan and a national of a designated enemy country (Japan);

2. That the domiciliary personal representatives, heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, legatees and distributees, names unknown, of Shozo Tomoeda, deceased, who there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of Japan, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

3. That the net proceeds due or to become due under a contract of insurance evidenced by Policy No. 596,444, issued by the General American Life Insurance Company, Saint Louis, Missouri, to Shozo Tomoeda, together with the right to demand, receive and collect said net proceeds, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, Sumo Tomoeda or the domiciliary personal representatives, heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, legatees and distributees, names unknown, of Shozo Tomoeda, deceased, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan);

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the person named in subparagraph 1 hereof and the domiciliary personal representatives, heirs-at-law, next-of-kin, legatees and distributees, names unknown, of Shozo Tomoeda, deceased, are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Japan).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 10, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

2. That the persons (including individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations) whose names and last known addresses are set forth in Column 2 of Exhibits C and D set forth below and made a part hereof, are residents of, or are organized under the laws of, or have or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in, Germany and are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. That Wien-Film G. m. b. H. (the producer of the motion pictures listed in Exhibit E set forth below and made a part hereof), the last known address of which is Vienna, Austria, and which there is reasonable cause to believe is a corporation organized under the laws of Austria, is or, on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, has been owned or controlled by or acting or purporting to act directly or indirectly for the benefit or on behalf of the aforesaid Universum-Film A. G., and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany);

4. That the producers and or distributors of the motion pictures listed in Exhibits F and G set forth below and made a part hereof, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of Germany and who, if partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of, or have or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in Germany, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

5. That the property described as follows:

(a) All right, title, interest and claim of whatsoever kind or nature, under the statutory and common law of the United States and of the several States thereof, in, to and under the following:

(1) The motion pictures listed in Exhibits A, B, C, D, E, F and G set forth below and made a part hereof, including, but not limited to, the exclusive right to exhibit same in whole or in part by any means within the United States, all rights to arrange, adapt, revise, translate, and duplicate said motion pictures in whole or in part, and every copyright, right to copyright, and right to renew the copyright or copyrights in said motion pictures.

(2) The screen plays, scenarios, and shooting scripts upon which said motion pictures are based, including, but not limited to, all motion picture and television rights therein, and every copyright, claim of copyright, right to copyright, and right to renew the copyright or copyrights in said screen plays, scenarios, and shooting scripts.

(3) The rights to dramatize, perform, represent, and reproduce on motion picture film those portions of the published and unpublished works subject to copyright, other than the above mentioned screen plays, scenarios, and shooting scripts, which underlie or are embodied in said motion pictures and to exhibit such film by any means in the United States

(b) All right, title, interest, and claim of whatsoever kind or nature, under the statutory and common law of the United States and of the several States thereof, of Universum-Film A. G., also known as Ufa, Wien-Film G. m. b. H. and also of all other persons (including individuals, partnerships, associations, corporations or other business organizations) whether or not named elsewhere in this order, including said Exhibits A, B, C, D, E, F and G, who are citizens and residents of, or which are organized under the laws of or have their principal places of business in, Germany and are nationals of such designated enemy country, in, to and under the following:

(1) All prints in the United States of the motion pictures listed in said Exhibits A, B, C, D, E, F and G.

(2) All arrangements, adaptations, revisions, dramatizations, translations, and versions of the motion pictures listed in said Exhibits A, B, C, D, E, F and G.

(3) Every license, agreement, privilege, power and right of whatsoever nature arising under or with respect to the property described in subparagraphs 5 (a), 5 (b) (1) and 5 (b) (2) of this Vesting Order.

(c) All monies and amounts, and all rights to receive monies and amounts, by way of damages, royalty, share of profits or other emolument, accrued or to accrue, whether arising pursuant to law, contract or otherwise, with respect to the property described in subparagraphs 5 (a) and 5 (b) of this Vesting Order, and is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the persons referred to in subparagraphs 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 (b) hereof, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany) and is property of, or is property payable or held with respect to copyrights or rights related thereto in which interests are held by, and such property itself constitutes interest therein held by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

6. That Wien-Film G. m. b. H. is controlled by or acting for or on behalf of a designated enemy country (Germany) or persons within such country and is a national of a designated enemy country (Germany) and

7. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraphs 1, 2, 3 and 4 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 5 hereof, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 4, 1951.

[Vesting Order 17806]

CREDIT SUISSE

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of Credit Suisse, Berne, Switzerland, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-63-60 (Berne).

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as block or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock, in any of said accounts, excepting from the foregoing, however, all property, rights and interests which are expressly excluded in the attached Exhibit A, and all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained, is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 4, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

[Vesting Order 17809]

A. B. SVENSKA HANDELSBANKEN

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of A. B. Svenska Handelsbanken, Stockholm, Sweden, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-62-501 (Stockholm).

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights, and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A set forth below and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock in any of said accounts, excepting from the foregoing, however, all lawful liens and set-offs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained,

is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 4, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter II—Production and Marketing Administration (School Lunch Program), Department of Agriculture

PART 210—REGULATIONS AND PROCEDURE

SECOND APPORTIONMENT OF FOOD ASSISTANCE FUNDS PURSUANT TO NATIONAL SCHOOL LUNCH ACT, FISCAL YEAR 1951

Under this amendment there will be made available to the State educational agency of Massachusetts the funds administratively allocated for non-profit private schools in Massachusetts for the months of May and June 1951, in order to implement the transfer of responsibility, as of May 1, 1951, for administration of the National School Lunch Program in non-profit private schools in Massachusetts from the United States Department of Agriculture to the State educational agency, in accordance with the decision of the Attorney General of Massachusetts dated March 26, 1951, that the State educational agency has legal authority to administer such program in the non-profit private schools.

Pursuant to sections 4 and 10 of the National School Lunch Act, the second apportionment of food assistance funds for the fiscal year 1951 (16 F. R. 3885), is hereby amended by changing the funds apportioned to the Commonwealth of Massachusetts as follows:

State	Total	State agency	Private schools
[illegible]	$1,219,807	$1,249,093	$220,714

[illegible] 4, 10, 60 Stat. 230; 42 U. S. C. 1753, 1[illegible]

Issued this 22d day of May 1951.

[Lemon Reg. 384]

PART 953—LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 953.491 Lemon Regulation 384—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the marketing agreement, as amended, and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953; 14 F. R. 3612), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Lemon Administrative Committee, established under the said amended marketing agreement and order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such lemons which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of lemons, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended marketing agreement and order; the recommendation and supporting information for regula-

PART 966—ORANGES GROWN IN CALIFORNIA OR IN ARIZONA

LIMITATION OF SHIPMENTS

§ 966.519 Orange Regulation 373—(a) Findings. (1) Pursuant to the provisions of Order No. 66, as amended (7 CFR Part 966; 14 F. R. 3614), regulating the handling of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, effective under the applicable provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and upon the basis of the recommendation and information submitted by the Orange Administrative Committee, established under the said amended order, and upon other available information, it is hereby found that the limitation of the quantity of such oranges which may be handled, as hereinafter provided, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(2) It is hereby further found that it is impracticable and contrary to the public interest to give preliminary notice, engage in public rule-making procedure, and postpone the effective date of this section until 30 days after publication thereof in the FEDERAL REGISTER (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) because the time intervening between the date when information upon which this section is based became available and the time when this section must become effective in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act is insufficient, and a reasonable time is permitted, under the circumstances, for preparation for such effective time; and good cause exists for making the provisions hereof effective as hereinafter set forth. Shipments of oranges, grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona, are currently subject to regulation pursuant to said amended order; the recommendation and supporting information for regulation during the period specified herein was promptly submitted to the Department after an open meeting of the Orange Administrative Committee on May 24, 1951, such meeting was held, after giving due notice thereof to consider recommendations for regulation, and interested persons were afforded an opportunity to submit their views at this meeting; the provisions of this section, including its effective time, are identical with the aforesaid recommendation of the committee, and information concerning such provisions and effective time has been disseminated among handlers of such oranges; it is necessary, in order to effectuate the declared policy of the act, to make this section effective during the period hereinafter specified; and compliance with this section will not require any special preparation on the part of persons subject thereto which cannot be completed by the effective time thereof.

(b) Order. (1) Subject to the size requirements in Orange Regulation 372 (7 CFR 966.518; 16 F. R. 4678), the quantity of oranges grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona which may be handled during the period beginning 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., May 27, 1951, and ending at 12:01 a. m., P. s. t., June 3, 1951, is hereby fixed as follows:

(i) Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: Unlimited movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: 1,100 carloads;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: Unlimited movement;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: Unlimited movement.

(ii) Oranges other than Valencia oranges. (a) Prorate District No. 1: No movement;

(b) Prorate District No. 2: Unlimited movement;

(c) Prorate District No. 3: No movement;

(d) Prorate District No. 4: No movement.

(2) The prorate base of each handler who has made application therefor, as provided in the said amended order, is hereby fixed in accordance with the prorate base schedule which is attached hereto and made a part hereof by this reference.

(3) As used in this section, "handled," "handler," "varieties," "carloads," and "prorate base" shall have the same meaning as when used in the said amended order; and the terms "Prorate District No. 1," "Prorate District No. 2," "Prorate District No. 3," and "Prorate District No. 4" shall each have the same meaning as given to the respective terms in § 966.107, as amended (15 F. R. 8712), of the current rules and regulations (7 CFR 966.103 et seq.), as amended (15 F. R. 8712).

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service, Department of Justice

Subchapter D—Nationality Regulations

PART 333—SPECIAL CLASSES OF PERSONS WHO MAY BE NATURALIZED: VETERANS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMED FORCES WHO SERVED DURING WORLD WAR I OR WORLD WAR II

ADDITIONAL CLASS OF PERSONS ELIGIBLE FOR NATURALIZATION

MAY 4, 1951.

The following amendments to Part 333, Special classes of persons who may be naturalized: Veterans of the United States Armed Forces who served during World War I or World War II, of Chapter I, Title 8 of the Code of Federal Regulations, are hereby prescribed:

1. Section 333.1, Persons eligible, is hereby amended by adding the following sentence at the end thereof: "Notwithstanding the periods set forth therein, the provisions of section 324A of the Nationality Act of 1940 shall be applicable to aliens enlisted or reenlisted pursuant to the provisions of the act of June 30, 1950, providing for the enlistment of aliens in the Regular Army (Pub. Law 597, 81st Cong.)."

2. Section 333.2, Exemptions and fees, is hereby amended to read as follows:

§ 333.2 Exemptions and fees. Any person eligible for naturalization under § 333.1 may file a petition for naturalization in any naturalization court, without regard to his place of residence, and no period of residence within the United States or any State shall be required. If the person shall have been in the United States, the Panama Canal Zone, or an outlying possession (excluding the Philippine Islands) at the time of his enlistment or induction, he shall not be required to prove lawful admission to the United States for permanent residence. If the person shall have been outside the United States, an outlying possession, or the Panama Canal Zone or shall have been in the Philippine Islands, at the time of his enlistment or induction, he shall not be eligible to be naturalized under the provisions of § 333.1 unless he has been lawfully admitted to the United States for permanent residence subsequent to enlistment or induction. Any alien enlisted or reenlisted pursuant to the provisions of the act of June 30, 1950, providing for the enlistment of aliens in the Regular Army (Pub. Law 597, 81st Cong.), who subsequently enters the United States or an outlying possession thereof (including the Panama Canal Zone, but excluding the Philippine Islands) pursuant to military orders shall, if otherwise qualified for citizenship, and after completion of five or more years of military service, if honorably discharged therefrom, be deemed to have been lawfully admitted for permanent residence within the meaning of section 324A of the Nationality Act of 1940. No declaration of intention and no certificate of arrival shall be required to be filed with the petition. The provisions of sections 303 and 326 of the Nationality Act of 1940, relating respectively to racial restrictions upon naturalization and to the naturalization of alien enemies, shall not apply to petitions for naturalization filed under § 333.1. A petitioner for naturalization under § 333.1 shall pay such fees as are required by section 342 of the Nationality Act of 1940.

This order shall become effective on the date of its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER. Compliance with the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 238; 5 U. S. C. 1003) relative to notice of proposed rule making and delayed effective date is unnecessary in this instance because the amendatory regulations prescribed by the order are merely declaratory of certain provisions of the said act of June 30, 1950.

(Secs. 37, 327, 54 Stat. 675, 1150; 8 U. S. C. 408, 727)

ARGYLE R. MACKEY,
Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

Approved: May 22, 1951.

J. HOWARD MCGRATH,
Attorney General.

TITLE 12—BANKS AND BANKING

Chapter II—Federal Reserve System

Subchapter A—Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System

[Reg. R]

PART 218—RELATIONS WITH DEALERS IN SECURITIES UNDER SECTION 32, BANKING ACT OF 1933

SERVICE OF OPEN-END INVESTMENT COMPANY

§ 218.101 Service of open-end investment company. An open-end investment company is defined in section 5 (a) (1) of the Investment Company Act of 1940 as a company "which is offering for sale or has outstanding any redeemable security of which it is the issuer." Section 2 (a) (31) of said act provides that a "redeemable security" means "any security, other than short-term paper, under the terms of which the holder, upon its presentation to the issuer or to a person designated by the issuer, is entitled (whether absolutely or only out of surplus) to receive approximately his proportionate share of the issuer's current net assets, or the cash equivalent thereof."

It is customary for such companies to have but one class of securities, namely, capital stock, and it is apparent that the more or less continued process of redemption of the stock issued by such a company would restrict and contract its activities if it did not continue to issue its stock. Thus, the issuance and sale of its stock is essential to the maintenance of the company's size and the continuance of operations without substantial contraction, and therefore the issue and sale of its stock constitutes one of the primary activities of such a company.

Accordingly, it is the opinion of the Board that if such a company is issuing or offering its redeemable stock for sale, it is "primarily engaged in the issue * * * public sale, or distribution, * * * of securities" and that section 32 of the Banking Act of 1933, as amended, prohibits an officer, director or employee of any such company from serving at the same time as an officer, director or employee of any member bank. It is the Board's view that this is true even though the shares are sold to the public through independent organizations with the result that the investment company does not derive any direct profit from the sales.

If, however, the company has ceased to issue or offer any of its stock for sale, the company would not be engaged in the issue or distribution of its stock, and, therefore, the prohibition contained in section 32 would be inapplicable unless the company were primarily engaged in the underwriting, public sale or distribution of securities other than its own stock.

(Sec. 11, 38 Stat. 262, 12 U. S. C. 248. Interprets or applies sec. 32, 48 Stat. 194, as amended; 12 U. S. C. 78)

TITLE 14—CIVIL AVIATION

Chapter I—Civil Aeronautics Board

[Civil Air Regs., Amdt. 42-7]

PART 42—IRREGULAR AIR CARRIER AND OFF-ROUTE RULES

AIRCRAFT REQUIREMENTS FOR PASSENGER OPERATIONS OF IRREGULAR AIR CARRIERS

Adopted by the Civil Aeronautics Board at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 18th day of May 1951.

Currently effective Civil Air Regulations require that scheduled air carriers shall transport passengers in aircraft, which, with certain exceptions, are certificated in accordance with transport category requirements. Experience indicates that in the interest of greater safety irregular carriers should likewise conduct their passenger operations with transport category airplanes. Accordingly, this regulation prohibits the operation by an irregular carrier of any new large aircraft in passenger service unless such aircraft has been certificated in accordance with transport category requirements.

Interested persons have been afforded an opportunity to participate in the making of this amendment, and due consideration has been given to all relevant matter presented.

In consideration of the foregoing, the Civil Aeronautics Board hereby amends Part 42 (14 CFR, Part 42, as amended) effective July 1, 1951.

By adding a new § 42.15 (d) to read as follows:

§ 42.15 Minimum performance requirements for large airplanes used in passenger operations. * * *

(d) Airplanes certificated as a basic type after July 1, 1951, shall comply with all of the requirements of Part 4b of this chapter.

(Sec. 205, 52 Stat. 984; 49 U. S. C. 425 Interprets or applies secs. 601, 603, 52 Stat. 1007, 1009; 49 U. S. C. 551, 553)

By the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Secretary.

TITLE 21—FOOD AND DRUGS

Chapter I—Food and Drug Administration, Federal Security Agency

PART 141—TESTS AND METHODS OF ASSAY FOR ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

PART 146—CERTIFICATION OF BATCHES OF ANTIBIOTIC AND ANTIBIOTIC-CONTAINING DRUGS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

By virtue of the authority vested in the Federal Security Administrator by the provisions of section 507 of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (52 Stat. 1040, 1055, as amended by 59 Stat. 463, 61 Stat. 11, 63 Stat. 409; 21 U. S. C. 371), the regulations for tests and methods of assay for antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 141.1 et seq., and 1949 Supp.; 15 F. R. 9446) and certification of batches of antibiotic and antibiotic-containing drugs (21 CFR 146.1 et seq., and 1949 Supp.; 15 F. R. 9464) are amended as indicated below:

1a. In § 141.401 Bacitracin, subparagraph (3) of paragraph (a) Potency is amended to read as follows:

(3) The potency of bacitracin is satisfactory when assayed by the methods described in this section if the immediate containers contain not less than 85 percent and, if it is intended for systemic medication, not more than 115 percent of the number of units they are represented to contain.

b. In § 141.401, paragraph (d) Toxicity the last sentence is amended to read as follows: "The L. D.$_{50}$ per 20-gram mouse, shall be not less than 350 units, if the drug is intended for systemic medication, and not less than 200 units if it is intended for other use."

2. Part 141 is amended by adding the following new sections:

§ 141.42 Crystalline penicillin and bacitracin — (a) Potency—(1) Content of penicillin. Proceed as directed in § 141.1. Its content of penicillin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 90 percent of the number of units it is represented to contain.

(2) Content of bacitracin. Proceed as directed in § 141.401 (a), except that sufficient penicillinase is added to the sample under test to completely inactivate the penicillin present. Its content of bacitracin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent and not more than 115 percent of the number of units it is represented to contain.

(b) Sterility. Proceed as directed in § 141.2.

(c) Toxicity. Proceed as directed in § 141.4 except use physiological salt solution as the diluent.

(d) Pyrogens. Proceed as directed in § 141.3 using as a test dose 1.0 milliliter per kilogram of a solution containing 300 units of bacitracin per milliliter. Use physiological salt solution as the diluent.

(e) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (a).

(f) pH. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (b), using a solution prepared as directed in the labeling for the drug.

§ 141.410 Bacitracin-neomycin tablets — (a) Tablets — (1) Potency — (i) Bacitracin content. Proceed as directed in § 141.403 (a). Its content of bacitracin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of units that it is represented to contain.

(ii) Neomycin content. Using an aliquot of the solution prepared under subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, proceed as directed in paragraph (b) (1) of this section. Its content of neomycin is satisfactory if it contains not less than 85 percent of the number of milligrams that it is represented to contain.

(2) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (a).

(b) Neomycin used in making the tablets—(1) Potency—(i) Cylinders (cups). Use cylinders described under § 141.1 (a).

(ii) Culture medium. Use the medium described in § 141.1 (b) (1) for both the base and seed layers, except its pH after sterilization is 7.8 to 8.0.

(iii) Working standard. Dry the working standard (obtained from the Food and Drug Administration) for 3 hours at 60° C. and a pressure of 5 millimeters or less and weigh out a sufficient quantity to make a convenient stock solution by diluting with a 0.1M potassium phosphate buffer, pH 7.8 to 8.0 The stock solution, when stored at a temperature of approximately 15° C., or less, may be used for a period not exceeding 1 month.

(iv) Standard curve. Prepare daily from the stock solution a standard curve as directed in § 141.101 (d), using solutions of the neomycin working standard in 0.1M potassium phosphate buffer, pH 7.8 to 8.0 in concentrations of 4.0, 6.0, 8.0, 10.0, 12.0, 15.0, and 20.0 micrograms per milliliter. The 10.0 micrograms per milliliter concentration is used as the reference point.

(v) Preparation of test organism. The test organism is M. aureus (F. D. A. 209–P or American Type Culture Collection 9144) which is maintained on agar described in § 141.1 (b) (1). From a stock slant inoculate a Roux bottle containing this same agar and incubate for 24 hours at 32° C. to 35° C. Wash the resulting growth from the agar surface with about 100 milliliters of sterile distilled water. Standardize this suspension by determining the dilution which will permit 80 percent light transmission through a filter at 6500 Angstrom units in a photoelectric colorimeter. The suspension may be used for 2 weeks, if it is stored at a temperature of 15° C. or less.

(vi) Preparation of plates. Using the agar described in subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph and approximately a 0.5 percent inoculum of the suspension described in subdivision (v) of this subparagraph, prepare the plates as directed in § 141.1 (e).

(vii) Assay. Dissolve volumetrically in sterile distilled water the sample to be tested to make a convenient stock solution. Further dilute volumetrically this solution with 0.1M potassium phosphate buffer, pH 7.8 to 8.0, to a final concentration of 10.0 micrograms (estimated) per milliliter and proceed as directed in § 141.101 (h) and (i).

(2) Toxicity. Proceed as directed in § 141.4, using 0.5 milliliter of a solution prepared by diluting the sample to approximately 200 micrograms per milliliter with physiological salt solution.

(3) Moisture. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (a).

(4) pH. Proceed as directed in § 141.5 (b), using a solution containing 33 milligrams per milliliter.

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371)

3a. In § 146.401 Bacitracin, the first clause of the second sentence of paragraph (b) Packaging is amended to read: "In case it is packaged for dispensing".

b. Section 146.401 (c) (1) is amended by renumbering subdivisions (iii) and (iv) as (iv) and (v), respectively, and by inserting the following new subdivision (iii) between subdivision (ii) and renumbered subdivision (iv):

(iii) If it is intended for injection the statements "For intramuscular use only" and "For hospital use only";

c. In § 146.401, subparagraph (2) of paragraph (c) Labeling the second clause is amended by changing the words "if it is packaged for topical use" to read "if it is packaged for dispensing".

d. Section 146.401 (c) (2) (ii) is amended to read:

(ii) Dosage and administration, including method of preparation and strength of solutions for injection or local application;

e. Section 146.401 (d) (2) is amended by changing the words "If such batch is packaged for topical use" to read "If such batch is packaged for dispensing".

4. Part 146 is amended by adding the following new sections:

§ 146.63 Crystalline penicillin and bacitracin—(a) Standards of identity, strength, quality, and purity. Crystalline penicillin and bacitracin is composed of crystalline sodium penicillin or potassium penicillin and bacitracin with or without suitable and harmless buffer substances and dispersing agents It is so purified and dried that:

(1) It is sterile;

(2) It is nontoxic;

(3) It is nonpyrogenic;

(4) Its moisture content is not more than 5.0 percent;

(5) The pH of an aqueous solution prepared as directed in its labeling is not less than 5.0 and not more than 7.5.

The crystalline penicillin used conforms to the standards prescribed by § 146.24 (a). The bacitracin used conforms to the requirements prescribed by § 146.401 (a). Each other substance used, if its name is recognized in the U. S. P. or N. F., conforms to the standards prescribed therefor by such official compendium.

(b) Packaging. In all cases the immediate containers shall be tight containers as defined by the U. S. P., shall be sterile at the time of filling and closing, shall be so sealed that the contents cannot be used without destroying the seal, and shall be of such composition as will not cause any change in the strength, quality, or purity of the contents beyond any limit therefor in applicable standards, except that minor changes so caused which are normal and unavoidable in good packaging, storage, and distribution practices shall be disregarded. In case it is packaged for dispensing, it shall be in immediate containers of colorless transparent glass, closed by a substance through which a hypodermic needle may be introduced and withdrawn without removing the closure or destroying its effectiveness, each such container shall contain 1,500,000 units of crystalline penicillin and 60,000 units of bacitracin and each may be packaged in combination with a container of the solvent, water for injection U. S. P., physiological salt solution U. S. P., or with an aqueous solution of a suitable local anesthetic.

(c) Labeling. Each package shall bear on it label or labeling as hereinafter indicated, the following:

(1) On the outside wrapper or container and the immediate container:

(i) The batch mark;

(ii) The number of units of crystalline penicillin in the immediate container;

(iii) The number of units of bacitracin in the immediate container;

(iv) The statement "For hospital use only";

(v) The statement "For intramuscular use only";

(vi) The statement "Expiration date ----------," the blank being filled in with the date which is 18 months after the month during which the batch was certified;

(vii) The statement "For manufacturing use," "For repacking," or "For manufacturing use or repacking," when packaged for repacking or for use as an ingredient in the manufacture of another drug, as the case may be.

(2) On the circular or other labeling within or attached to the package, if it is packaged for dispensing, adequate directions for use and warnings as required by section 502 (f) of the act, including:

(i) Clinical indications;

(ii) Dosage and administration, including method of preparation and strength of solutions for injection;

(iii) The conditions under which such solutions should be stored, including a reference to their instability when stored under other conditions and the statement "Sterile solution may be kept in refrigerator for 3 days without significant loss of potency";

(iv) Contraindications;

(v) Untoward effects that may accompany administration including sensitization.

If two or more immediate containers are in such package, the number of such circulars or other labeling shall not be less than the number of such containers.

(d) Request for certification; samples. (1) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146.2, a person who requests certification of a batch of crystalline penicillin and bacitracin shall submit with his request a statement showing the batch mark, the number of packages in such batch, the number of units of penicillin and the number of units of bacitracin in each package, the batch marks, and (unless they were previously submitted) the dates on which the latest assays of the penicillin and bacitracin used in making such batch were completed, the date on which the latest assay of the drug comprising such batch was completed, the quantity of each ingredient used in making the batch and a statement that each such ingredient conforms to the requirements prescribed therefor by this section. If such batch, or any part thereof, is to be packaged with a solvent, such request shall also be accompanied by a statement that such solvent conforms to the requirements prescribed therefor by this section.

(2) Except as otherwise provided by subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, such person shall submit in connection with his request results of the tests and assays listed after each of the following made by him on an accurately representative sample of:

(i) The batch; potency, sterility, toxicity, pyrogens, moisture, pH.

(ii) The crystalline penicillin used in making the batch; potency, crystallinity, heat stability, penicillin K content (unless it is crystalline penicillin G), and the penicillin G content if it is crystalline penicillin G.

(iii) The bacitracin used in making the batch; potency and toxicity.

(3) Except as otherwise provided by subparagraph (5) of this paragraph, if such batch is packaged for dispensing, such person shall submit in connection with his request in the quantities hereinafter indicated accurately representative samples of the following:

(i) The batch; one immediate container for each 5,000 immediate containers in such batch but in no case less than 10 or more than 17 immediate containers collected by taking single immediate containers at such intervals throughout the entire time of packaging the batch that the quantities packaged during the intervals are approximately equal.

(ii) The crystalline penicillin used in making the batch; 3 packages, each containing approximately equal portions of not less than 250 milligrams, packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.24 (b).

(iii) The bacitracin used in making the batch; 3 packages, each containing approximately 0.5 gram packaged in accordance with the requirements of § 146.401 (b).

(iv) In case of an initial request for certification, each other ingredient used in making the batch; 1 package of each containing approximately 5 grams.

(4) If such batch is packaged for repacking, such person shall submit with his request a sample containing 10 approximately equal portions of at least 2 grams each taken from different parts of such batch; each such portion shall be packaged in a separate container and in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (b) of this section.

(5) No result referred to in subparagraph (2) (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph, and no sample referred to in subparagraph (3) (ii) and (iii) of this paragraph, is required if such result or sample has been previously submitted.

(e) Fees. The fee for the services rendered with respect to each batch under the regulations in this part shall be:

(1) $4.00 for each immediate container in the sample submitted in accordance with paragraph (d) (3) and (4) of this section; and

(2) If the Commissioner considers that investigations other than examination of such immediate containers are necessary to determine whether or not such batch complies with the requirements of § 146.3 for the issuance of a certificate, the cost of such investigations.

The fee prescribed by subparagraph (1) of this paragraph shall accompany the request for certification unless such fee is covered by an advance deposit maintained in accordance with § 146.8 (d).

§ 146.410 Bacitracin-neomycin tablets. (a) Bacitracin-neomycin tablets conform to all requirements prescribed by § 146.403 for bacitracin tablets and are subject to all procedures prescribed by § 146.403 for bacitracin tablets, except that:

(1) Each tablet contains not less than 2,500 units of bacitracin.

(2) Each tablet contains not less than 25 milligrams of neomycin. The neomycin used is produced by the growth of Streptomyces fradiae, has a potency of not less than 330 micrograms (one Waksman unit is equivalent to 3.3 micrograms of the base) per milligram, is nontoxic, has a moisture content of not more than 5 percent, and its pH in an aqueous solution 33 milligrams per milliliter is not less than 5.0 and not more than 7.5.

(3) In lieu of the labeling prescribed for bacitracin tablets by § 146.403 (c) (1) (ii), each package shall bear on the outside wrapper or container and the immediate container the number of units of bacitracin and the number of milligrams of neomycin in each tablet of the batch.

(4) In addition to complying with the requirements of § 146.403 (d), a person who requests certification of a batch shall submit with his request a statement showing the number of units of bacitracin and the number of milligrams of neomycin in each tablet of the batch, the batch mark, and (unless it was previously submitted) the results and the date of the latest tests and assays of the neomycin used in making the batch for potency, toxicity, moisture, and pH. He shall also submit in connection with his request a sample consisting of not less than 30 tablets and (unless it was previously submitted) a sample consisting of 5 packages containing approximately equal portions of not less than 0.5 gram each of the neomycin used in making such batch.

(b) The fee for the services rendered with respect to each immediate container in the sample of neomycin submitted in accordance with the requirements prescribed therefor by this section shall be $4.00.

(Sec. 701, 52 Stat. 1055, as amended; 21 U. S. C. 371)

This order, which provides for tests and methods of assay and certification of two new antibiotic preparations, crystalline penicillin and bacitracin, and bacitracin-neomycin tablets, and for certification of bacitracin intended for systemic medication if the drug is labeled "For hospital use only," shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER, since both the public and the affected industries will benefit by the earliest effective date, and I so find.

Notice and public procedure are not necessary prerequisites to the promulgation of this order, and I so find, since it was drawn in collaboration with interested members of the affected industries and since it would be against public interest to delay providing for certification of crystalline penicillin and bacitracin, bacitracin-neomycin tablets, and bacitracin intended for systemic medication if the drug is labeled "For hospital use only."

Dated: May 22, 1951.

Acting Administrator.

TITLE 22—FOREIGN RELATIONS

Chapter II—Economic Cooperation Administration

[ECA Reg. 1, as Amended Nov. 15, 1949, Amdt. 6]

PART 201—PROCEDURES FOR FURNISHING ASSISTANCE TO PARTICIPATING COUNTRIES

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

ECA Regulation 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 201.1 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) "Participating country" shall have the meaning assigned to it in section 103 (a) of the act, and shall also include any country in which ECA has a program under the Far Eastern Economic Assistance Act of 1950, as amended, and the China Area Aid Act of 1950, as amended, as well as any authorized agent of a participating country.

2. The following sentence is added to § 201.10: "In the event that such determination is made prior to the issuance of a procurement authorization, ECA may issue a 'procurement Authorization and U. S. Government Agency Purchase Requisition (Form ECA 303G)'."

3. Paragraphs (a) and (d) of § 201.13 are amended to read as follows:

§ 201.13 Marking requirements. (a) Commodities furnished to participating countries will be stamped, tagged, stenciled, or labeled with the official ECA Emblem designed for the recipient country for which the commodities are intended. Samples of the Emblem and translations may be obtained from ECA, Office of Information, Washington, D. C.

* * * * *

(d) Any raw materials (including coal, grain and petroleum, oil and lubricants) not shipped in containers; fibers packaged in bales; and metal and lumber mill products of a semi-finished nature which are not packaged or crated are excepted from these marking requirements. If compliance with the provisions of this section is found to be impracticable with respect to other commodities, the participating country will promptly request ECA, Office of Information, Washington, D. C. for an exemption from the requirements of this section.

4. The second paragraph of § 201.19 (a) (2) is amended to read as follows:

In the case of financing by reimbursement directly to a participating country for payments made by it for procurement (this does not include financing by letters of commitment to banking institutions in the United States, letters of commitment to suppliers, or drafts drawn on a Federal Reserve Bank), the supplier may, if he desires, submit, and ECA will accept, in lieu of the above, a supplier's certificate in duplicate, with invoice-and-contract abstract completed in all applicable respects except as to class of supplier, information as to agents' commissions, domestic and foreign, and domestic unit price information, accompanied by a sealed envelope, addressed to the Controller, ECA, Washington, D. C., with the following statement upon its face, signed by the supplier:

The undersigned certifies that enclosed in this envelope is a copy of an executed Supplier's Certificate (Form ECA-280) covering the item invoiced, which has been filled in wherever applicable. This envelope contains a document intended only for ECA and is to be opened only by ECA.

5. The second paragraph of § 201.19 (b) (2) is amended to read as follows:

In the case of financing by reimbursement directly to a participating country for payments made by it for procurement (this does not include financing by letters of commitment to banking institutions in the United States, letters of commitment to suppliers, or drafts drawn on a Federal Reserve Bank), the supplier may, if he desires, submit, and ECA will accept, in lieu of either of the above, a supplier's certificate in duplicate, with invoice-and-contract abstract completed in all applicable respects except as to class of supplier, information as to agents' commissions, domestic and foreign, and domestic unit price information, accompanied by a sealed envelope, addressed to the Controller, ECA, Washington, D. C., with the following statement upon its face, signed by the supplier:

The undersigned certifies that enclosed in this envelope is a copy of an executed Supplier's Certificate (Form ECA-280) covering the item invoiced, which has been filled in wherever applicable. This envelope contains a document intended only for ECA and is to be opened only by ECA.

6. Section 201.19 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) For the cost of services (other than ocean transportation):

(1) Voucher SF-1034 (revised) or SF-1146, in original and three copies, to be prepared by the supplier or his assignee where letter of commitment is issued by ECA to the supplier; or, in other cases, by the participating country, by the approved applicant, or by the banking institution as assignee, or as agent for and in behalf of the approved applicant.

(2) Supplier's Certificate, in duplicate, with invoice-and-contract abstract on reverse side (Form ECA-280, set out in paragraph (d) of this section), covering the total amount for which reimbursement is requested, to be executed by the supplier.

In the case of financing by reimbursement directly to a participating country for payments made by it for procurement (this does not include financing by letters of commitment to banking institutions in the United States, letters of commitment to suppliers, or drafts drawn on a Federal Reserve Bank), the supplier may, if he desires, submit, and ECA will accept, in lieu of the above, a supplier's certificate in duplicate, with invoice-and-contract abstract completed in all applicable respects except as to class of supplier, information as to agents' commissions, domestic and foreign, and domestic unit price information, accompanied by a sealed envelope, addressed to the Controller, ECA, Washington, D. C., with the following statement upon its face, signed by the supplier:

The undersigned certifies that enclosed in this envelope is a copy of an executed Supplier's Certificate (Form ECA-280) covering the item invoiced, which has been filled in wherever applicable. This envelope contains a document intended only for ECA and is to be opened only by ECA.

If such alternative procedure is used, the signer of the supplier's certificate shall be deemed to have satisfied the requirement in paragraph (10) of the supplier's certificate that he has filled in the applicable portions of the invoice-and-contract abstract.

(3) One copy (or photostat) of supplier's detailed invoice, describing the services performed, itemizing in detail all reimbursable costs (showing separately dollar costs of travel, material and equipment, if any) and fees earned and payable, and either (i) marked "Paid" by the supplier, or (ii) endorsed by, or accompanied by a certificate of an officer of a banking institution indicating that payment has been made in the amount shown on the invoice.

The invoice shall also indicate: (a) The total estimated dollar cost of services and fees under the contract; (b) the total dollar amount previously received and or claimed as partial payments, detailed by amounts and dates; (c) the dollar amount invoiced; (d) total estimated dollar cost of services and fees not yet invoiced. In addition, attached to or endorsed on the invoice, shall be one copy of a Works Progress Certificate signed by the supplier in the following form:

The undersigned certifies that the cost of services reimbursable to the supplier and the amount of fee earned by the supplier up to the date of this certificate are not less than the total payments received or claimed by the supplier under the contract (including the payment claimed under the invoice), and that the supplier has fully complied with the terms and conditions of the contract.

(4) In the event that the dollar cost of services reimbursable to the supplier includes travel, or material or equipment costs:

(i) Receipted vendors' invoices, appropriately detailed as to quantity, description and price.

(ii) In the case of material or equipment costs only, one copy (or photostat) of the ocean bill of lading, airway bill, parcel post receipt, or a certificate by the supplier as follows:

It is impracticable to furnish to ECA an ocean bill of lading, airway bill or parcel post receipt as evidence of delivery of---------- (material or equipment)
----------, which has been delivered to the undersigned for use in performing services under the contract. Covering vouchers in the files of the undersigned are available for inspection.

(5) Certificate of the participating country (i) that the services for which reimbursement is requested have been satisfactorily rendered; (ii) that the costs thereof are properly reimbursable, and the fees earned, in accordance with the terms of the contract; and (iii) that any reports or recommendations required under the terms of the contract have been received.

(6) Such additional documentation as may be required for reimbursement by endorsement upon the Procurement Authorization.

(Sec. 104, 62 Stat. 138, as amended by Pub. Law 47, 81st Cong.; 22 U. S. C. Sup., 1503. Interpret or apply secs. 111, 403, 62 Stat. 143, 159; 22 U. S. C. Sup., 1509, 1542)

Effective date. This amendment will (1) be effective as to all procurement authorizations originally issued on and after May 15, 1951; and (2) take effect on July 1, 1951, as to all procurement authorizations originally issued prior to May 15, 1951, subject to the special provisions, if any, of the procurement authorizations and applicable letters of commitment, but will not be applicable to claims for reimbursement for payments made to a supplier under such procurement authorizations pursuant to letters of credit issued, confirmed or advised, or payment instructions received prior to July 1, 1951.

PART 185—WAREHOUSING OF DISTILLED SPIRITS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

1. Regulations 10, "Warehousing of Distilled Spirits" (26 CFR Part 185; 15 F. R. 5233), are hereby amended by striking out the date "June 30, 1951" from the first sentence of § 185.538 and from the second sentence of § 185.695, and by inserting, in lieu thereof, the date "December 31, 1951."

2. The purpose of the proposed amendment is to extend the use of the average tare method of gauging packages of distilled spirits for withdrawal until the close of business December 31, 1951.

3. It is found that compliance with the notice, public rule making procedure, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1001 et seq.) is unnecessary in connection with the issuance of these regulations for the reason that the change made is of a liberalizing character.

4. Treasury decision 5822 (15 F. R. 9324) is hereby revoked.

5. This Treasury decision will be effective upon the date of publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Amendment 4]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

METAL CONTAINERS AND METAL CLOSURES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Congress) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 (16 F. R. 3562) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to the Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 22) adds metal containers used for packing food products and metal closures for all containers used for packing food products to the list of commodities for which changes in net costs may be calculated up to March 15, 1951. This is accomplished by adding these items to Appendix B of the Regulation.

The Manufacturers' Regulation as issued listed in Appendix A glass containers and glass closures and under the provisions of the regulation changes in the net costs for these containers and closures may be calculated up to March 15, 1951, whereas metal containers and metal closures were omitted from both Appendix A and Appendix B, thus requiring that changes in net costs be calculated as of December 31, 1950. Thus a canner who puts up pork and beans in glass containers may calculate increases in his containers up to March 15, 1951, whereas if he puts up the same product in cans he can recalculate his container costs only to December 31, 1950.

It has been customary practice over a period of years in the food processing industries using metal containers to purchase such containers and closures by contracts with the manufacturers of these items, providing for pricing as of January 1 of each year. In November and December of 1950 can manufacturing companies announced to their customers a price increase, averaging from 15 percent to 18 percent, to apply to all cans purchased on and after January 1, 1951. In most canned food products, can costs represent the largest single element of cost, except the cost of the raw agricultural commodity, and in some cases the can cost exceeds even that. Consequently, the limitation in CPR 22 cutting off materials cost increases at December 31, 1950, has reduced, or may be expected to reduce margins for food canners very seriously.

Many food processors of non-seasonal items are unable to absorb any increase in the cost increase of containers for those items. For example, it is customary in the canning industries to process such non-seasonal items as pork and beans as an "overhead reducer" with the finished product being sold with no commodity profit margin. To force absorption of the cost increases for metal containers would make such food products loss items, and might reduce the supply of them.

This amendment will also permit of a more equitable treatment as between different food processing industries which use metal containers, as some of the products of these industries remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, other products are covered by the Manufacturers' Regulation, while still other products are or will be covered in the near future by tailored price regulations for individual industries. Many of the products still being priced under the General Ceiling Price Regulation have the increase in metal containers reflected in their price. Increases in the cost of containers beyond December 31, 1950 are also being recognized as an allowable cost increase in the tailored regulations for many processed foods which are now being formulated by the Office of Price Stabilization.

It is contemplated that any benefits which may result from a possible reduction in the prices of metal containers which may occur while CPR 22 is in force can be passed on to the consumer through the recalculation provisions which are being considered for this regulation.

For these reasons, it is deemed advisable to extend in the case of cans and closures the adjustment for cost of materials increases provided by CPR 22, beyond the December 31, 1950 cut-off date.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, this amendment of CPR 22 will effectuate the purpose of the Defense Production Act of 1950, and is generally fair and equitable.

AMENDATORY PROVISION

Appendix B to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is amended by adding item 6 to read as follows:

6. Metal containers when used for processed foods, and metal closures for all containers when used for processed foods.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong).

This amendment shall become effective May 28, 1951.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 39]

CPR 39—CEILING PRICES ON CERTAIN MARINE FEED PRODUCTS SOLD BY PROCESSORS, IMPORTERS AND DISTRIBUTORS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), the Ceiling Price Regulation 39 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This regulation establishes ceiling prices at the processor, importer, and distributor levels for fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles, and specialty fish feed products.

Fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles and specialty fish feed products are important ingredients in many manufactured animal and poultry feeds. It is important, therefore, that pricing conditions obtain which contribute to the normal production and distribution of these products.

Such conditions do not presently exist. Under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, prices for these products were frozen during a period when there was a normal seasonal slack in industry activity and when there were wide and abnormal variations in prices within the industry. These variations in prices have resulted in inequities to processors and other sellers, and have tended to disrupt normal buyer-seller relationships.

This regulation attempts to correct presently existing price disparities in two ways. First, it establishes uniform dollars and cents ceiling prices at the processor and importer level on carload or tank car quantity sales. Second, it seeks to extend the stabilizing effect of these uniform ceilings by setting ceiling prices for distributors which can be no higher than processor-importer prices plus a dollars and cents markup.

The need for this regulation is urgent. It has, therefore, been decided to go ahead with its issuance even though the statistical data upon which it is based are limited and even though further data may cause a modification in price treatment of certain aspects of the industry. Should the effects of this regulation or the study of further data indicate that the prices set herein will engender inequities or dislocations in production or marketing, steps will be taken to amend this regulation.

In the interests of brevity and clarity, Pacific, and Atlantic and Gulf coast processors' ceiling prices for fish meal and fish scrap have been set forth in a single table which schedules various per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling prices for corresponding percentages of protein content. Prices for both meal and scrap, in the table, are increased at the rate of $2.26 per ton, bulk for each unit percentage increase in protein content. This system of charting prices reflects the pricing methods which prevail on the Pacific Coast, where sales are priced on the basis of actual protein content, and without reference to a standard protein content base. Insofar as the chart sets an upper limit on Atlantic and Gulf Coast prices at a 60 percent content figure, and sets forth the resulting prices for various protein contents below sixty percent, it is consistent with the customary Atlantic and Gulf Coast practice of quoting and selling meal and scrap on a sixty percent protein content basis, with no price premiums allowed if the protein content is above sixty percent, and with price deductions granted to the extent that the protein content of the lot of meal or scrap is less than the sixty percent standard.

Fish meal and soybean meal are ingredients which are often combined in manufactured feeds. The quantities of each used for feed purposes depends, to a significant extent, upon the prevailing price relationships between them. In order to minimize the possibility of disturbing a normal fish meal-soybean meal ratio, the ceiling price for fish meal has been set with reference to average price differentials between these products during representative periods from 1947 to 1950. In computing representative ratios, the ratio between soybean meal and fish meal for the year 1949 was omitted because of abnormal price relationships existing in that period. The normal fish meal-soybean ratios were then applied to the ceiling price for soybean meal, bulk, f. o. b. Decatur, Illinois, and converted to a price per unit of protein for fish meal. This per unit price was then used in computing the prices for fish meal by percentage of protein content, as set forth in Table A of this regulation.

The same ceiling prices per unit of protein for fish meal containing up to sixty per cent protein have been established for Atlantic and Gulf Coast points as for Pacific Coast points even though Atlantic and Gulf Coast prices were higher than Pacific Coast prices during the base period of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. The same ceiling prices have been established for both major processing areas in the light of the unanimous opinion of the Fish Meal and Fish Solubles Manufacturers Industry Advisory Committee and opinions of a representative of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the United States Department of Interior and of a member of the National Fisheries Institute to the effect that, under normal conditions of supply, and over the long run post-war period, the prices for equivalent protein content in both major processing areas tend to be the same.

Fishmeal, which is customarily manufactured by processors of fish scrap, is produced by the grinding of scrap into meal. The price spread between the two products historically approximates the cost of grinding or converting the one product into the other. According to the limited information received from industry representatives, a ceiling price for fish scrap which assumes an average cost of $6.00 per ton for converting scrap to meal will be generally fair and equitable, and will not result in a disproportionate production for sale by processors of either product.

The ceiling price for fish solubles containing 50 percent solids by weight has been set at 5 cents per pound. This price constitutes the modal, or most frequently quoted price during the General Ceiling Price Regulation base period. While the data for this period may not be representative, it was the only available basis for fixing a price at this time.

Specialty fish feed products are either processed from different types of raw fish material, or are produced by means of different manufacturing methods than fish meal or fish solubles. These specialty products customarily sell at a premium above fish meal or fish solubles because of their higher nutritional value. In order to keep the price of specialty products in line with the ceiling prices for fish meal and fish solubles, ceiling prices for specialty products have been established which reflect the dollars and cents difference between prices of these products and the market prices for meal or a fixed price for solubles during a selected base period. A fixed price for solubles was decided upon as a method for calculating ceiling prices because there is little information on market prices for solubles during this base period. In addition, special reporting provisions for processors of specialty products have been included in order to aid in the establishment of in-line prices.

Imported fish scrap and fish meal are sold in competition with the same domestic products. In the long run, the price for imported fish scrap and fish meal, in any particular area, tends to equal the prevailing area market price for these products. The ceiling prices for fish scrap and fish meal, imported into the continental United States through a coastal port of entry have, therefore, been set at the ceiling prices for like grades and quantities of scrap or meal of processors in the area of the port of entry.

The upper limit on the market price for imported scrap and meal at an interior port of entry within the continental United States is ordinarily set by the prevailing market price for these products at the closest coastal area to that port of entry plus the lowest applicable transportation charge from the coastal area to that port of entry. The ceiling prices for scrap or meal at any interior port of entry have, therefore, been established by taking the ceiling price for like fish scrap or fish meal of the domestic processor nearest the port of entry and adding to that ceiling the lowest applicable railroad rate from that processor's plant to the particular interior port of entry, based upon the rates in effect prior to March 15, 1951.

The ceiling prices so established will have the effect of preserving normal competitive relationships between importers and domestic processors and normal trade flows.

A distributor's ceiling price for a particular product is determined by adding a fixed dollars and cents markup to the price which the distributor paid for his most recent customary purchase of that product.

Following the custom of the industry, provisions are made in this regulation for adjusting ceiling prices for sales in less than carload quantities, and for differentials covering transportation costs and the costs of furnishing sacks or other containers.

Sales of certain marine feed products have been exempted from this regulation because of the lack of accessible pricing data. Sales of shrimp meal and crab meal, and of dried fish solubles have, for instance, been exempted for this reason. Sales of homogenized condensed fish have been exempted because the ceiling prices for product, as established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, are believed to be generally fair and equitable.

Sales of fish solubles processed and sold for use as fertilizers have been exempted because fish solubles so processed are subject to different manufacturing methods and different methods of distribution than feed fish solubles, and because the product is not used as a feed or feed ingredient.

In framing this regulation, the Fish Meal and Fish Solubles Industry Advisory Committee, other members of the marine fish feed industry and officials of the Fish and Wildlife Service of the United States Department of Interior were consulted. In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the prices established by this regulation are fair and equitable and necessary to effectuate the purposes of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 15 issued under Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., and E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation establishes ceiling prices for fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles and certain specialty fish feed products at the processor, importer and distributor levels. This regulation does not establish prices for crab meal, shrimp meal, dried fish solubles product, homogenized condensed fish, fish residue meal or fish solubles processed and sold for use as fertilizer. These new ceiling prices, after the effective date of this regulation, will supersede the ceiling prices established under any other price regulations or orders heretofore issued by the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 2. Applicability; exemptions—(a) Applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the 48 States of the United States and the District of Columbia.

(b) Exemptions—(1) Export sales. This regulation shall not apply to export sales. The General Ceiling Price Regulation or other applicable regulations shall govern such sales.

(2) Sales at retail by persons other than processors, importers or distributors. This regulation shall not apply to sales at retail by persons other than processors, importers or distributors. The General Ceiling Price Regulation is applicable to such sales.

(3) Manufactured feeds in which a marine feed product is an ingredient. This regulation shall not apply to sales by manufacturers, wholesalers or retailers of manufactured feeds in which fish meal, fish solubles or a specialty fish feed product is an ingredient. Supplementary Regulation 7 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation or other applicable regulations shall govern such sales.

(4) Sales and deliveries made pursuant to prior contracts. This regulation shall not apply to sales and delieveries made pursuant to contracts entered into before the effective date of this regulation if such contracts complied with the ceiling price provisions of the then applicable regulations of the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 3. F. o. b. ceiling prices for sales by processors—(a) Ceiling prices for fish meal and fish scrap in carload quantities, per ton, bulk, f. o. b. processing plant or at the processor's customary loading point—(1) Schedule of ceiling prices. If you are a processor, your ceiling prices for sales of fish meal and fish scrap in carload quantities, per ton, bulk, f. o. b. your processing plant or customary loading point are determined in accordance with the appropriate columns of the schedule set forth in Table A.

[1] No increase in ceiling price permitted for percentage of protein over 60.

(2) Adjustment in ceiling price for fractions of a unit percentage of protein content. If the protein content of your lot of fish meal or fish scrap contains a fraction of a unit percentage of protein, you shall round out such fraction to the nearest half unit percentage and determine and adjust your per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling prices as follows:

(i) Determine your per ton ceiling price for the number of whole units percentage of protein of your meal or scrap in accordance with the appropriate column of Table A, above.

(ii) Make the following adjustments in your ceiling price for fractions in accordance with Table B:

TABLE B

Fraction of a unit percentage of protein (expressed in decimals)	Adjustments in per ton Ceiling Price
0.0–0.25	No adjustment in your ceiling price
0.26–0.75	Add $1.13 per ton to your ceiling price
0.76–0.99	Add $2.26 per ton to your ceiling price

(3) Ceiling prices on failure to fulfill minimum protein guarantees. If you fail to fulfill your minimum protein guarantee with respect to any lot of fish meal or fish scrap, your per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling price is the ceiling price based upon the actual units percentage of protein or fraction thereof, as determined under subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph.

(b) Ceiling prices for fish solubles in tank car quantities, f. o. b. the processor's plant or customary loading point. If you are a processor, your ceiling prices for sales of fish solubles in tank car quantities, f. o. b. your processing plant or customary loading point are as follows:

(1) Ceiling price for fish solubles containing 50 percent or more than 50 percent solids by weight. Your ceiling price for fish solubles containing 50 percent or more than 50 percent solids by weight is 5¢ per pound.

(2) Ceiling price for fish solubles containing less than 50 percent solids by weight. If your fish solubles contain less than 50 percent solids by weight, your ceiling price is determined as follows:

(i) From the price of 5¢ per pound deduct 2 percent for each full unit percentage by which the solid content of your particular lot of fish solubles is below 50 percent.

(ii) The calculation established in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph, constitutes your ceiling price.

(3) Adjustments in ceiling price, determined under subparagraph (2) for fractions of a unit percentage of solids by weight. If the solids content of your lot of fish solubles contains a fraction of a unit percentage of solids by weight, you shall round out such fraction to the nearest half unit percentage and adjust your ceiling price in the following manner:

(i) Determine your per pound ceiling price for the number of whole units percentage of solids by weight, in accordance with subparagraph (2), of this paragraph.

(ii) Make the following adjustments in your ceiling price for fractions in accordance with Table C:

TABLE C

Fraction of a unit percentage of protein (expressed in decimals)	Adjustments in per pound Ceiling Price
0.0–0.25	No adjustment in your ceiling price.
0.26–0.75	Add 1/2 of a cent to your per pound ceiling price.
0.76–0.99	Add 1/10 of a cent to your per pound ceiling price.

(4) Ceiling prices on failure to fulfill minimum solids by weight guarantees. If you fail to fulfill your minimum solids by weight guarantee with respect to any lot of fish solubles, your per pound, f. o. b. ceiling price is the ceiling price based upon the actual unit percentage of solids by weight or fraction thereof, as determined under subparagraphs (2) and (3) of this paragraph.

(c) Ceiling prices for specialty fish feed products, bulk, carload or tank car quantities, f. o. b. processing plant or customary loading point—(1) Per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling prices for specialty products that are solid in form. If your specialty product is solid in form, your per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling price shall be determined as follows:

(i) Take the per ton, bulk f. o. b. ceiling price for fish meal of a particular percent protein content for the coastal area in which your plant is located or which is nearest to your plant. This ceiling price is to be selected from Table A of this section.

(ii) Determine the average dollars and cents difference between the per ton, bulk, f. o. b. prices you charged for your specialty product in any three consecutive months during the period July 1, 1949 to June 24, 1950, and the average per ton, bulk, market price during the same three months for fishmeal of the same protein content you selected in subdivision (i), of this subparagraph.

The market whose f. o. b. prices you use must be an Atlantic or Gulf Coast market, if you selected an Atlantic or Gulf Coast ceiling price in subdivision (i), of this subparagraph, or a Pacific Coast market, if you selected a Pacific Coast ceiling price. You are limited, in your calculations, to those markets whose prices or other quotations are listed in the following government or trade publications: The Feed Market Review (published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture); The Feed Situation (published by the U. S. Department of Agriculture); Fishery Products Report (published by the Fish and Wildlife Service, U. S. Department of Interior); Oil, Paint and Drug Reporter (published by the Schnell Publishing Co., Inc., New York City, New York).

In determining your average dollars and cents difference, market prices which are quoted on a per ton basis in sacks shall be converted to a per ton, bulk basis by deducting $5.50 per ton for sacks. If you charged prices for lots in sacks or other containers, you shall deduct your charge or cost for furnishing such sacks or other containers in order to determine your per ton, bulk, prices.

(iii) Add the dollars and cents difference determined in subdivision (ii), of this subparagraph, to the ceiling price which you selected in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph. The result is your ceiling price.

(2) Per pound, f. o. b. ceiling prices in tank car quantities for speciality fish feed products that are liquid or semi-liquid in form. If your speciality fish feed product is liquid or semi-liquid in form, your per pound, f. o. b. ceiling price in tank car quantities shall be determined as follows:

(i) Determine the average cents per pound difference between your cents per pound, f. o. b. prices in tank car quantities in any three consecutive months during the period July 1, 1949 to June 24, 1950, and the price of 5 cents per pound.

(ii) Add the cents per pound difference, determined in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph to the price of 5 cents per pound. The result is your ceiling price.

(3) Filing of Reports. If you determine your ceiling price for specialty fish feed products under subparagraphs (1) or (2) of this paragraph, you must file the following information with the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., within 30 days of the effective date of this regulation:

(i) Your name and address;

(ii) The location of your plant or plants at which you process your specialty fish feed product;

(iii) The name of your product, including brand name, if any, and a description of the product, including a statement as to whether it is a solid, liquid or semi-liquid, and any characteristics pertaining to its feeding value.

(iv) A statement showing: The average dollars and cents difference, if your product is solid in form, or the average cents per pound difference, if your product is liquid or semi-liquid in form, which you used in arriving at your ceiling price, together with the list of the months for which such difference was calculated; price lists, invoices or other evidence indicating your f. o. b. prices during the period chosen; and, if your specialty product is solid in form, the market quotations (together with the location of the market, and the name of the publication in which such quotations were listed) which you used in determining the average difference between your prices and such market prices.

(v) Your ceiling price for your specialty fish feed product, as determined under this regulation.

(4) When you may begin to sell your specialty fish feed product, disapproval of your ceiling price. You may begin to sell your specialty fish feed product as soon as you have mailed your report pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph. Thereafter, you may sell your specialty product unless and until notified by the Director of Price Stabilization that your ceiling price has been disapproved or that more information is required. The Director of Price Stabilization may disapprove of your ceiling price if such price is not established in accordance with subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph; or he may disapprove of your ceiling price if he decides, after taking into consideration the nutritional value of your specialty product, among other factors, that your ceiling price is not in line with the prices otherwise established by this regulation.

In the event that more information is required, you may not sell your specialty product until 15 days after mailing the additional information.

In case, however, you sold or offered your specialty product for sale prior to the effective date of this regulation upon the basis of a ceiling price determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, you may continue to use your GCPR ceiling price until July 1, 1951, even though your ceiling price determined under this regulation has been disapproved or more information is requested.

SEC. 4. F. o. b. ceiling prices for sales by importers. If you are an importer of fish scrap or fish meal your ceiling prices per ton, bulk, f. o. b. port-of-entry, for imported fish meal or fish scrap are as follows:

(a) Per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling prices for fish scrap or fish meal imported into Atlantic or Gulf Coast ports-of-entry. If you import fish meal or fish scrap into the continental United States through an Atlantic or Gulf coast port-of-entry, your ceiling price per ton, bulk, f. o. b. port-of-entry, for each grade of fish meal or fish scrap is the same as the per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling price of Atlantic or Gulf coast processors for fish meal or fish scrap of the same protein content, as determined pursuant to the applicable provisions of section 3 (a) of this regulation.

(b) Per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling prices for fish scrap or fish meal imported into Pacific coast ports-of-entry. If you import fish meal or fish scrap into the continental United States through a Pacific coast port-of-entry, your ceiling price per ton, bulk, f. o. b. port-of-entry, for each grade of fish meal or fish scrap, is the same as the per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling price of Pacific coast processors for fish meal or fish scrap of the same protein content, as determined pursuant to the applicable provisions of Section 3 (a) of this regulation.

(c) Per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling prices for fish scrap or fish meal imported into interior ports-of-entry. If you import fish meal or fish scrap into the continental United States through an interior port-of-entry, your ceiling price per ton, bulk, f. o. b. port-of-entry shall be determined as follows:

(1) Determine the per ton, bulk, f. o. b. ceiling price for fish meal or fish scrap of the same protein content (under the applicable provisions of section 3 (a) of this regulation) at the Atlantic, Gulf or Pacific Coast processing plant nearest to the interior port-of-entry through which your shipment moves.

(2) Add to the price obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, the lowest applicable domestic carload freight rate, including tax, from that domestic processing plant to that interior port-of-entry, based on the rates in effect prior to March 15, 1951.

(3) The price computed in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, constitutes your ceiling price.

SEC. 5. F. o. b. loading point ceiling prices for sales by distributors—(a) F. o. b. loading point ceiling price. If you are a distributor, you shall calculate your f. o. b. loading point ceiling price for each product after each customary purchase you make in the following manner:

(1) For each product, determine your average dollars and cents differential between your per ton, or per pound f. o. b. loading point prices (excluding your charges or costs for furnishing sacks or other containers in connection with the sale of any lot which you bought in bulk or in tank car quantities) and your suppliers' per ton or per pound prices to you (including transportation charges paid by you) during any three consecutive months of the period July 1, 1949 to June 24, 1950.

(2) Add this dollars and cents differential, as determined in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph, to the price, per ton or per pound, of your most recent customary purchase (including transportation charges paid by you).

(3) The price determined under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, constitutes your per ton or per pound f. o. b. loading point ceiling price.

(b) Ceiling prices for distributors who cannot determine ceiling prices under paragraph (a) of this section. (1) If your are a distributor and you cannot determine your ceiling price for a product under paragraph (a) of this section, you shall determine your ceiling price, after each customary purchase you make, in the following manner:

(i) Determine the dollars and cents difference between the per ton or per pound f. o. b. ceiling price of your most closely competitive seller of the same class selling the same product to the same class of purchaser and the price per ton or per pound (including transportation charges paid or incurred by you) of that customary purchase which you made at or about the time your most closely competitive seller sold at his ceiling price.

(ii) Add the dollars and cents difference, determined in subdivision (i) of this subparagraph to the price, per ton or per pound of your most recent customary purchase (including transportation paid or incurred by you).

(iii) The price determined under subdivision (ii) of this subparagraph constitutes your ceiling price.

(2) When you may begin to sell; report: (i) You may sell your product at your ceiling price, as determined under this paragraph (b), as soon as you have mailed a report to the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. You may continue to sell your product at your proposed ceiling price until notified by the Director of Price Stabilization that your proposed ceiling price has been disapproved or that more information is required.

(ii) In case, however, you sold or offered your product for sale prior to the effective date of this regulation upon the basis of a ceiling price determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, you may continue to use your GCPR ceiling price until July 1, 1951.

(iii) Your report should state the name and address of your company; the reasons why you cannot determine your price under paragraph (a) of this section; the name and address of your most closely competitive seller of the same class; a statement of his ceiling price which you selected together with the date or dates when he sold at that ceiling price, and his differentials to each of his classes of customers; the prices of the customary purchases which you used in determining your ceiling price in accordance with paragraph (b) (1) of this section, together with information concerning the dates thereof, the quantities bought and the names and addresses of your suppliers for such purchases. Your report should also include: A statement of your customary price differentials; your proposed ceiling price; the classes of customers to whom you sell or plan to sell; and a statement showing that your proposed ceiling price will not exceed the ceiling price your customers paid to their customary sources of supply.

(c) Limitations on distributor markups. No more than two distributor markups are permitted in connection with the sale of any product. Consequently, if you are a distributor and you buy a lot from your distributor, who, in turn, purchased that lot from his distributor, your ceiling price for that lot is your distributor's price, and you may not add your markup upon resale.

(d) Ceiling prices for products processed by a distributor. Even if you are customarily regarded as a distributor, you are deemed to be a processor, with respect to any lot or other quantity of fish meal, fish solubles or a specialty fish feed product which you process or manufacture, and your ceiling price for that lot or other quantity is a processor's ceiling price, as determined under the applicable provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 6. F.o.b. ceiling prices for sales at retail. If you are a processor, importer or distributor, and you make s sale at retail, your f.o.b. ceiling price for such sale is your f.o.b. ceiling price, as determined under the applicable provisions of this regulation.

SEC. 7. F.o.b. ceiling prices for sales in less than carload or tank car quantities. If, prior to the effective date of this regulation, you customarily sold at an increased price for sales in less than carload or tank car quantities, your f.o.b. ceiling prices for fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles or specialty fish feed products, when sold in less than carload or tank car quantities, shall be determined as follows:

(a) Determine your f.o.b. ceiling price for the particular product in accordance with the applicable provisions of this regulation.

(b) Add to your f.o.b. ceiling price, the dollars and cents differential between your f.o.b. carload or tank car prices and the f.o.b. prices (excluding your charges or costs for furnishing sacks or other containers in connection with the sale of any lot which you bought in bulk or in tank car quantities) which you customarily charged for each particular quantity and class of buyer during the period July 1, 1949 to June 24, 1950.

(c) The f.o.b. prices, determined under paragraph (b) of this section constitute your f.o.b. ceiling prices for sales in less than carload quantities.

SEC. 8. Ceiling prices for delivered sales. Your ceiling price for the delivered sale of any lot is your f. o. b. ceiling price plus the transportation charges paid or incurred by you (excluding loading charges not customarily included in transportation charges) in shipping that lot from its original loading point to its point of final delivery.

SEC. 9. Charges for sacks or other containers. If you furnish sacks or other containers in connection with the sale of any lot which you process or buy in bulk or in tank car quantities, you may add to your ceiling price a charge consisting of the price, per sack, or per other container of your most recent customary purchase times the number of sacks or other containers which you furnish.

SEC. 10 Sellers who cannot price under other sections. If you are unable to determine your ceiling price for a product under any of the foregoing provisions of this regulation, you may apply in writing to the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for the establishment of a ceiling price. This application shall contain an explanation of why you are unable to determine your ceiling price under the provisions of this regulation; all pertinent information describing your product; your proposed ceiling price and the method used by you to determine it; and the reason why you believe the proposed price is in line with the level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation. You may not sell your product until the Director of Price Stabilization notifies you, in writing, of your ceiling price.

SEC. 11. Definitions—(a) Transportation and shipping terms—(1) Carload quantity. Carload quantity means any quantity which, if it were moved by rail, would take a carload rate under the applicable railroad tariff requirements.

(2) Tank car quantity. Tank car quantity means that quantity which, if it were moved by rail, would take a tank car rate under the applicable railroad tariff requirements.

(3) Customary loading point. A customary loading point is any point in the vicinity of a processor's plant where all or a part of his shipments are customarily loaded for delivery.

(4) Coastal ports of entry. A coastal port of entry is a port located on the Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico or Pacific Coast and through which products are imported into the continental United States by means of water transportation.

(5) Interior port of entry. An interior port of entry is a point located in the interior of the continental United States, through which the original entry of products into the continental United States is made by means of rail or inland waterway transportation.

(b) Sellers—(1) Processors. A processor, with respect to a particular lot, means a person who manufactures fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles or specialty fish feed products either from whole fish, fish cuttings, fish scrap, press-water or fish solubles.

(2) Distributor. A distributor, with respect to a particular lot, means a jobber or a wholesaler.

(3) Jobber. A jobber, with respect to a particular lot, means a person who buys and takes title to a product covered by this regulation, and who resells the product without having previously unloaded it into a warehouse or store to a person other than a feeder.

(4) Wholesaler. A wholesaler, with respect to a particular lot, means a person who buys and takes title to a product covered by this regulation, stores it in a warehouse, and then resells the product without substantially changing its form to a person other than a feeder.

(5) Most closely competitive seller of the same class. Your most closely competitive seller of the same class, with respect to any product covered by this regulation, is the seller with whom you are in most direct competition. You are in direct competition with another seller who sells the same type of product to the same classes of purchasers in similar quantities on similar terms and with approximately the same amount of service.

(c) Marine feed products—(1) Fish scrap. Fish scrap is the clean, dried, unground tissues of undecomposed whole fish or fish cuttings, either or both, with or without the extraction of part of the oil.

(2) Fish meal. Fish meal is the clean, dried, ground tissues of undecomposed whole fish or fish cuttings, either or both, with or without the extraction of part of the oil.

(3) Fish solubles. Fish solubles is the product obtained by condensing the press-water resulting from the extraction of oil from fish.

(4) Specialty fish feed products. Specialty fish feed products are those products processed entirely from whole fish, fish cuttings, press-water or fish solubles, either singly or in combination, which, because of the nature of the raw materials used or the processing method employed, have special feeding values.

(5) Crabmeal. Crabmeal is the undecomposed, ground dried waste of the crab and contains the shell, viscera and part or all of the flesh.

(6) Shrimp meal. Shrimp meal is the undecomposed, ground dried waste of shrimp and contains the head, hull or whole shrimp, either singly or in a mixture.

(7) Dried fish solubles product. Dried fish solubles product is the material obtained by drying and grinding the precipitate of fish press-water.

(8) Homogenized condensed fish. Homogenized condensed fish is a partially dehydrated, homogeneous product made from whole fish or fish cuttings, either or both, from which a part of the oil may have been removed.

(9) Fish residue meal. Fish residue meal is the clean, dried, undecomposed residue from the manufacture of glue from nonoily fish.

(d) Miscellaneous—(1) Sale at retail. A sale at retail means, with respect to any transaction, a sale to a feeder.

(2) Feeder. A feeder, with respect to a particular lot, means a person who uses any product covered by this regulation for feeding animals or poultry.

(3) You. The pronoun you, as used in this regulation, indicates the person subject to the regulation.

(4) Person. A person includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or other organized group of persons, legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing and includes the United States, any agent thereof, any other government, or any of its subdivisions, and any agency of any of the foregoing.

SEC. 12. Certificates and tags. Whenever you sell fish meal or fish solubles, a statement of analysis shall accompany your invoice of sale except when you sell in sacks or other containers to which are attached a label or tag showing the guaranteed minimum percentage of protein or solids therein, as the case may be.

SEC. 13. Records.—(a) General provision. If you make a purchase or sale of fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles or specialty fish feed products in the course of your trade or business or otherwise deal therein, after the effective date of this regulation, you shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization for a period of not less than two years, accurate records of each such purchase or sale, including the date thereof, the name of your purchaser or seller, the amount sold or purchased, the price paid or received, the grade of fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles, and the brand and characteristics of the specialty fish feed products you sell or buy, and whether or not the lot sold moved in a carload or tank car quantity shipment. You shall, in the same manner and for the same period of time, keep accurate records of each purchase of sacks and other containers, including the date thereof, the price paid, the name of your supplier, the number, grade and type of such sacks or other containers, and all other records and information upon which you determined your charges for such sacks or other containers pursuant to section 9 of this regulation.

(b) Wholesalers and jobbers. If you are a wholesaler or jobber, you shall, in addition, keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization for a period of not less than two years, all invoices, quotations, receipts, price lists, and other information upon which you determined your average dollars and cents differential for each product you sold, as described in section 5 (a) of this regulation.

(c) Premiums for sales in less than carload or tank car quantities. If you have established ceiling prices for sales in less than carload or tank car quantities pursuant to section 7 of this regulation, you shall, in addition, keep for inspection by the Office of Price Stabilization for a period of not less than two years, all invoices, quotations, receipts, price lists and other information upon which you determined your dollars and cents differentials for such sales.

SEC. 14. Prohibitions; penalties—(a) Prohibitions. On and after the effective date of this regulation you shall not, in the course of business or trade, sell or deliver, or purchase or receive fish scrap, fish meal, fish solubles, or specialty fish feed products at prices exceeding the ceiling prices established by this regulation.

(b) Penalties. If you violate any provision of this regulation, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions and suits for damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 15. Petitions to amend this regulation. Any person may file a petition for an amendment of general applicability to any provision of this regulation in accordance with the provisions of Price Procedural Regulation No. 1.

Effective date. This regulation is effective May 29, 1951.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

MAY 24, 1951.

[Distribution Regulation 1, Amendment 5]

DR 1—FAIR DISTRIBUTION OF LIVESTOCK AND MEAT

QUOTA PERIODS AND "CLUB" LIVESTOCK

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5 (16 F. R. 1273), this Amendment 5 to Distribution Regulation 1 (16 F. R. 1273) is hereby issued.

Preamble. At the time Amendment 4 to Distribution Regulation 1 was issued on April 30, 1951, it was expected that the multiplier system of determining quotas for Class 1 slaughterers could be put into effect during the week beginning May 27. Since that time additional conferences with members of the slaughtering industry have indicated that additional study should be given to the multiplier system before it is initiated. Furthermore, other slaughterers have brought to the attention of the Office of Price Stabilization that their regular accounting periods cover the calendar month of May or consist of five calendar weeks covering a period beginning April 29, 1951, and ending June 2, 1951. The principal reason for prescribing in Amendment 4 that the quota period for May would consist of four calendar weeks beginning April 29, 1951, was so that the multiplier system could be put into effect at the same time for all Class 1 slaughterers. Since it is not possible to institute the multiplier system on May 27, the regulation has been amended so that Class 1 slaughterers may use as their quota period their regular accounting period beginning on or after April 29, 1951. This means that a Class 1 slaughterer whose regular accounting period is one of five weeks beginning on April 29 will have a quota period of five weeks duration during which the quota percentages set forth in supplement one issued on April 30, 1951, will apply.

Some Class 1 slaughterers will have interim quota periods running from April 29 until the date of their first regular accounting period which begins after April 29. Typical of this type of slaughterer would be one who uses a monthly accounting period beginning on May 1 and ending on May 31. The interim quota period for that type of slaughterer will be the period April 29–30, 1951. Other slaughterers may have regular accounting periods which begin on May 6, 1951. In such cases the interim quota period for these slaughterers would be the period April 29 through May 5, 1951. The methods by which slaughterers determine their quotas for the interim quota period and the full quota period are set forth in the amendment.

The change brought about by this amendment will permit slaughterers to use the regular accounting periods instead of special ones prescribed for quota purposes. Furthermore, it will enable them to use corresponding accounting periods for determination of quotas and also for determining the periods for which they compute their compliance with the live cattle price regulation (CPR 23). This amendment also clarifies the regulation with respect to excess slaughter and adds provisions for additional penalties in the form of reduction of quota where the slaughterer exceeds his maximum permissible cost determined under CPR 23.

In order to provide a workable arrangement whereby persons not permitted to slaughter livestock or have it slaughtered for them under this regulation may acquire livestock from members of 4–H Clubs, Future Farmers of America or other recognized youth organizations and may have such livestock slaughtered, the regulation has been amended. According to the new provisions the OPS District offices will upon application approve sales conducted by these youth organizations and will authorize the manager of the fair, show, or exhibition to issue certificates permitting the purchasers to have the livestock they purchase at the fair, show, or exhibition conducted by the 4–H Club or similar organization, slaughtered for them. The amendment describes in detail the procedure by which such fairs, shows, or exhibitions may be approved by the OPS District offices and how the managers of the fairs or shows may issue certificates. The amendment also requires the certificates to be surrendered to Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterers before livestock is slaughtered for the purchasers.

Minor changes have also been made in the reporting requirements for Class 1 slaughterers.

Distribution Regulation 1 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 3 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Quotas. For each quota period (accounting period or calendar month or similar period of not less than four or more than five weeks used by you instead of calendar months in keeping your books and records) beginning on or after April 29, 1951, you must have a quota before you may slaughter any species of livestock. The number of pounds live weight of each species you slaughtered during the corresponding period of 1950 is your quota base. Supplement 1 to this regulation contains a list of percentages for use by you and other Class 1 slaughterers in determining your quotas. To determine your quota for each quota period, you apply the appropriate percentage in the Supplement to the quota base for each species. If you received an adjustment for your slaughter of any species of livestock for the corresponding period of 1950, you may use the adjusted amount as your quota base. If you received an adjustment on your slaughter of any species for the April–June 1950 calendar quarter, you may use as your quota base 31 percent of the adjusted amount if you operate on a 4-week accounting period; 38 percent of the adjusted amount if you operate on a 5-week accounting period; 24 percent of the adjusted amount for May 1951 and 33 percent of the adjusted amount for June 1951 if you operate on a calendar month accounting period. If you began slaughtering any species after April 30, 1950, and you have applied for an adjustment but have not received a denial of such application or have not received an adjustment, you may determine your quota base by dividing the total live weight of the particular species slaughtered between April 30, 1950, and February 9, 1951, by the number of days in that period and multiplying the result by the number of days in the quota period for which you are determining your quota. If your quota period does not begin on April 29, 1951, you will have an interim quota period from April 29, 1951, to the date that your quota period begins. The method for determining your quota for the interim quota period is set forth in section 4 (c) (1) (2) and (3) of this regulation. If your quota period did not begin on April 29, 1951, and you slaughtered in excess of your quota for the interim quota period but did not slaughter in excess of your quota for the interim quota period and the following quota period combined you shall not be deemed to have violated the provisions of this section.

The multiplier for May and June 1951 furnished to you by the OPS will not apply for the May and June quota periods.

You may not slaughter more than 60 percent of your quota for any species (including your carry-over from the previous quota period) during the first half of your quota period.

2. Section 3 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) Carry-overs. If you did not use your entire quota for any species during any quota period you may use the unused portion, not to exceed 5 percent of that quota, in the next quota period only. (See section 4 (d) of this regulation for examples of the operation of carry-overs.)

3. Section 3 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) Overages. If in any quota period you slaughter livestock of any species in excess of your quota for that species for that period (including any carry-over from the preceding quota period) your quota for the following quota period for that species shall be reduced by twice the amount by which you exceeded your quota. If twice the amount of the overage is greater than the quota for the ensuing quota period, you may not slaughter any of that species of livestock during that quota period or in any succeeding quota period until the total of the quotas for the quota periods in which you are prohibited from slaughtering livestock equals twice the amount of your overage. If your adjusted cost for cattle slaughtered in your establishment during any quota period beginning on or after May 20, 1951, exceeds your maximum permissible cost as determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 23 of the OPS, your quota for the following quota period for cattle shall be reduced by the amount determined under section 10 of CPR 23. If the amount determined is greater than the cattle quota for the ensuing period, you may not slaughter any cattle during that quota period or in any succeeding quota period until the total of the cattle quotas for the quota periods in which you are prohibited from slaughtering cattle equals the amount determined under section 10 of CPR 23. The quota limitations here imposed are in addition to any action, penalties or proceedings authorized by law for violation of this regulation.

4. Section 4 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Overages. If in any quota period you slaughter livestock of any species in excess of your quota for that species for that period (including any carry-over from the preceding quota period) your quota for the following quota period for that species shall be reduced by twice the amount by which you exceeded your quota. If twice the amount of the overage is greater than the quota for the ensuing quota period, you may not slaughter any of that species of livestock during that quota period or in any succeeding quota period until the total of the quotas for the quota periods in which you are prohibited from slaughtering livestock equals twice the amount of your overage. If your adjusted cost for cattle slaughtered in your establishment during any quota period beginning on or after May 20, 1951, exceeds your maximum permissible cost as determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 23 of the OPS, your quota for the following quota period for cattle shall be reduced by the amount determined under section 10 of CPR 23. If the amount determined is greater than the cattle quota for the ensuing period, you may not slaughter any cattle during that quota period or in any succeeding quota period until the total of the cattle quotas for the quota periods in which you are prohibited from slaughtering cattle equals the amount determined under section 10 of CPR 23. The quota limitations here imposed are in addition to any action, penalties or proceedings authorized by law for violation of this regulation.

5. Section 7 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 7. Slaughter of "Club" livestock. (a) If you are not permitted to slaughter livestock or have livestock slaughtered for you under this regulation and you acquire livestock from members of 4–H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, or other recognized youth organizations, at sales made at the place and time of a fair, show, or exhibition, you may, if such sales were previously approved by the OPS District Office for the area where the fair, show or exhibition is held, have such livestock slaughtered for you by a registered Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterer.

(b) Prior to a fair, show or exhibition the manager must apply to the OPS District Office for the area where the fair, show, or exhibition is to be held, for permission to have livestock sold at the fair, show, or exhibition, slaughtered for the prospective purchasers. If the District Office finds that the fair, show, or exhibition is to be held under the auspices of the 4-H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, or other recognized youth organization, it will authorize the manager to issue certificates permitting non-slaughtering purchasers to have the livestock they purchase at the fair, show, or exhibition, slaughtered for them.

(c) At the time of the opening of the fair, show, or exhibition, the manager must announce that the fair, show, or exhibition has been approved by the OPS and that the manager is permitted to issue slaughter certificates. The manager shall then issue such slaughter certificates to the livestock purchasers who are not permitted to slaughter livestock or have livestock slaughtered for them under the regulations. The slaughter certificates issued in triplicate must contain the following:

1. The name of the organization conducting the fair, show, or exhibition, the place at which it was held, and the dates it was held.

2. The District Office of OPS which approved the fair, show, or exhibition and the date of such approval.

3. The name and address of the person purchasing the livestock.

4. The number of each species of livestock purchased and the live weight of each species of livestock.

5. A statement that the animal or animals listed on the certificate were bona fide project animals fed in an organized club (naming the club) under the direction of the United States Department of Agriculture, Extension Service or a recognized State agency.

6. The signature of the manager of the fair, show, or exhibition.

7. A signed statement by the purchaser that he is not permitted to slaughter livestock or have livestock slaughtered for him under Distribution Regulation 1.

(d) The original and one copy must be given to the purchaser of livestock. The third copy must be immediately forwarded by the manager to the District Office which approved the fair, show, or exhibition. The purchaser of livestock must give the original and duplicate to the Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterer who will slaughter the livestock.

(e) Any Class 1 or Class 2 slaughterer who receives a valid original and duplicate slaughter certificate may slaughter the livestock covered by such certificate without regard to his quota for the slaughter of such livestock under this regulation. The slaughterer must keep the duplicate certificate and attach the original to his report on Form LS-149 or OPS Form DO 1-6 for the period in which the slaughter took place. If a Class 2 slaughterer is not required to file a report on OPS Form DO 1-6, he must send the original certificate to the Regional office for the area where his establishment is located.

6. Section 8 (a) is amended by deleting the third sentence and substituting therefor the following sentence: "There will be a quota on the amount of livestock he may slaughter for you beginning April 29, 1951."

7. Section 12 (a) (1) is amended by deleting the fourth sentence and substituting therefor the following sentences: "For the quota period April 1, 1951, to April 28, 1951, inclusive, you must file the report for OPS on Form LS-149 on the basis of the four week operation. For all quota periods thereafter, you must file your reports on the basis of your usual accounting periods. If you have an interim quota period you must show separately on your report the amount of slaughter during the interim quota period."

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirements contained in this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Effective date. This amendment is effective May 25, 1951.

[Distribution Regulation 1, Supplement 1, Amendment 1]

DR 1—FAIR DISTRIBUTION OF LIVESTOCK AND MEAT

SUPP. 1—QUOTA PERCENTAGES FOR LIVESTOCK

PERIODS ON AND AFTER MAY 27, 1951

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 5 (16 F. R. 1273), this Amendment 1 to Supplement 1 to Distribution Regulation 1 (16 F. R. 1273) is hereby issued.

Preamble. Based on preliminary information as to indicated marketings of livestock during June, it appears that in order to obtain equitable distribution of livestock which is expected to come to market quotas for the several species must be established at the percentages of the comparable period of 1950 shown below:

	Percent
Cattle	80
Calves	80
Sheep and lambs	80
Swine	115

These percentages apply to slaughterers' accounting periods beginning on or after May 27, 1950.

Table I of Supplement 1 to Distribution Regulation 1 is amended by adding the following paragraph:

(b) For quota periods beginning on or after May 27, 1951:

	Percent
Cattle	80
Calves	80
Sheep and lambs	80
Swine	115

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment is effective May 25, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, Jr.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

[Price Procedural Regulation 1, Revised]

PPR 1—GENERAL PRICE PROCEDURES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Orders No. 2 and No. 5 (16 F. R. 738, 1273), this revision of Price Procedural Regulation 1 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

Price Procedural Regulation 1, as published in the FEDERAL REGISTER dated December 19, 1950 (15 F. R. 9055), deals with the procedures followed in issuing price regulations and prescribes procedures governing applications for adjustment, petitions for amendment, protests, and interpretations. Since the issuance of the initial procedures, the Economic Stabilization Administrator has established the Office of Price Stabilization, and has delegated the Administrator's functions with respect to price stabilization and the allocation of meat to the Director of Price Stabilization.

This revision of the general price procedures is designed to reflect these basic organizational changes and related delegations of authority or assignments of functions within the Office of Price Stabilization.

The requirements contained in the revision are substantially the same as those provided by the original regulation.

In formulating these general price procedures the Director has found it impracticable to consult with industry representatives and trade associations.

Use of the revised procedures is mandatory on and after May 26, 1951.

ARTICLE I—PURPOSE

SECTION 1. Purpose. It is the purpose of this regulation (Price Procedural Regulation 1) to prescribe and explain the procedure used by the Director of Price Stabilization in making various kinds of price determinations.

(a) Article II deals with the procedure of the Director of Price Stabilization in issuing ceiling price regulations.

(b) Article III deals with individual applications for adjustment of ceiling prices established by a ceiling price regulation. An adjustment ordinarily affects the prices of one particular seller or group of sellers who apply for a change in the prices established for them by the provisions of a ceiling price regulation. An adjustment can be granted only if the applicable ceiling price regulation contains specific provision for the granting of an adjustment, or where otherwise authorized by the Director.

(c) Article IV deals with petitions for amendment. A petition for amendment may be filed by any person who is affected by a ceiling price regulation and who desires a change of general applicability in the provisions of the regulation itself. It is the appropriate document to be filed when a person does not wish to file a formal statutory protest or is not entitled to do so because he is not subject to the regulation as defined in section 31.

(d) Article V deals with protests. The nature and function of protests are set forth in general in the introduction to Article V (section 30).

(e) Article VI explains the way in which interpretations are rendered by the Director of Price Stabilization.

(f) Article VII contains miscellaneous provisions and definitions.

(g) The term "Director" as hereinafter used shall refer to the Director of Price Stabilization.

ARTICLE II—ISSUANCE OF CEILING PRICE REGULATIONS

SEC. 2. Investigation prior to issuance. A ceiling price regulation may be issued by the Director after such studies and investigations as he deems necessary or proper. Before issuing a ceiling price regulation the Director shall, so far as is practicable, advise and consult with representatives of persons substantially affected by such regulation.

SEC. 3. Price hearing prior to issuance. Whenever the Director deems it necessary or proper that a price hearing be held prior to the issuance of a ceiling price regulation, he may provide for such hearing in accordance with Secs. 4 and 5.

SEC. 4. Notice of pre-issuance hearing. Notice of any price hearing ordered prior to the issuance of a ceiling price regulation shall be given by publication of such notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER, and may be supplemented by notice given in any other appropriate manner. The notice shall state the time and place of the price hearing and shall contain an appropriate indication of the purposes of such hearing.

SEC. 5. Conduct of pre-issuance hearing. A price hearing held prior to the issuance of a ceiling price regulation shall be conducted in such manner, consistent with the need for expeditious action, as will permit the fullest possible presentation of evidence by such persons as are, in the judgment of the Director, best qualified to provide information with respect to matters considered at the hearing or most likely to be seriously affected by action which may be taken as a result of the hearing.

SEC. 6. Statement of considerations. Every ceiling price regulation shall be accompanied by a statement of the considerations involved in its issuance. Such statement may include economic data and other facts of which the Director has taken official notice and facts found by the Director as a result of action taken under section 705 of the act.

SEC. 7. Notice of provisions of a ceiling price regulation. Notice of the provisions of a ceiling price regulation shall be given by filing such regulation with the Division of the FEDERAL REGISTER. As soon as possible after the filing of such regulation, the Assistant Director for Public Information shall make copies thereof available to the press.

SEC. 8. Effective date. The effective date of a ceiling price regulation shall be the date specified in such regulation.

ARTICLE III—APPLICATIONS FOR ADJUSTMENT

SEC. 11. Right to apply for adjustment. Unless otherwise provided, any person subject to a ceiling price regulation who seeks adjustment under an adjustment provision thereof, shall make application therefor pursuant to the provisions of this article.

SEC. 12. Place of filing. All applications shall be filed with the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 13. Form of application. (a) Applications for adjustment shall be filed upon such forms as the Director shall from time to time prescribe. If no form has been designated for applications for the particular type of adjustment sought, the application shall set forth the following:

(1) Name and post office address of the applicant, the nature of his business, and the manner in which he is subject to the price regulation in question.

(2) A designation of the provision for adjustment pursuant to which the application is filed.

(3) The information, if any, required by the terms of the applicable adjustment provision.

(4) A clear and concise statement of the facts upon which applicant relies to qualify him for adjustment under the applicable adjustment provision, to the extent that such facts are not furnished under paragraph (a) (3) of this section.

(5) A statement of the specific adjustment or other relief sought.

(b) Applications for adjustment and all accompanying documents shall be filed in duplicate.

SEC. 14. Applications must be signed. Any application for adjustment filed pursuant to this article, inclusive, shall be signed either by the applicant personally, or if a partnership by a partner, or if a corporation or association by a duly authorized officer thereof.

SEC. 15. Joint applications; consolidation. (a) Two or more persons may file a joint application for adjustment where at least one ground is common to all persons joining therein. A joint application shall be signed by each applicant in accordance with section 14 and shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of applications filed by one person. Whenever the Director deems it necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint applications, he may treat joint applications separately, and, in any event, may require the filing of relevant materials by each individual applicant.

(b) Whenever the Director deems it necessary or appropriate for the disposition of the applications filed by more than one person, he may consolidate the applications.

SEC. 16. Investigation of application. Upon receipt of an application for adjustment, the Director may make such investigation of the facts involved in the application, hold such conferences, and request the filing of such supplementary information as may be necessary to the proper disposition of the application.

SEC. 17. Action by the Director on applications for adjustment. Within a reasonable time after the filing of an application for adjustment, the Director may either

(a) Dismiss any application for adjustment which fails substantially to comply with this article; or

(b) Grant or deny, in whole or in part, any application for adjustment which is properly pending before him. The applicant shall be informed in writing of the action so taken.

SEC. 18. Protest of denial of application. Any applicant whose application for adjustment has been denied in whole or in part by the Director may file a protest against such order in accordance with the provisions of Article V. The effective date of such order for the purpose of such protest shall be the date on which it was mailed to the applicant. Such protest may be based only upon grounds raised in the application for adjustment.

ARTICLE IV—PETITION FOR AMENDMENT

SEC. 21. Right to file a petition. A petition for amendment may be filed at any time by any person subject to or affected by a provision of a ceiling price regulation. A petition for amendment shall propose an amendment of general applicability and shall be granted or denied solely on the merits of the amendment proposed. The denial of a petition for amendment is not subject to protest or judicial review under the act.

SEC. 22. Time and place for filing petitions: form and contents. A petition for amendment shall be filed with the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Five copies of the petition and of all accompanying documents and briefs shall be filed. Each copy shall be printed, typewritten, mimeographed, or prepared by a similar process, and shall be plainly legible. Copies shall be double spaced, except that quotations shall be single spaced and indented. Every petition shall contain, upon the first page thereof, the number and the date of issuance of the ceiling price regulation to which the petition relates, and shall be designated "Petition for Amendment"; shall state the name and address of the petitioner, shall specify the manner in which the petitioner is subject to or affected by the provision of the ceiling price regulation involved, and shall include a specific statement of the particular amendment desired and the facts which make that amendment necessary or appropriate. The petition shall be accompanied by statements setting forth the evidence upon which the petitioner relies in his petition.

SEC. 23. Joint petitions for amendment. Two or more persons may file a joint petition for amendment. Joint petitions shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of petitions filed by one person. A joint petition may be filed only where at least one ground is common to all persons joining it. Whenever the Director deems it to be necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint petitions, he may treat such joint petitions as several and, in any event, he may require the filing of relevant material by each individual petitioner.

SEC. 24. Action by the Director on petition. In the consideration of any petition for amendment the Director may afford to the petitioner and to other persons likely to have information bearing upon such proposed amendment, or likely to be affected thereby, an opportunity to present evidence or argument in support of, or in opposition to, such proposed amendment. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two or more petitions for amendment, the Director may consolidate such petitions.

ARTICLE V—PROTESTS

SEC. 30. Introductory Note. Article V deals with protests. A protest is the means provided by section 407 (a) of the act for making formal objections to a regulation or order relating to price controls. Ordinarily, the filing of a protest is also a prerequisite to obtaining judicial review by the Emergency Court of Appeals of the validity of such regulations or orders. The only other method of obtaining judicial review is the filing of a complaint in the Emergency Court of Appeals after obtaining special leave to do so in an enforcement proceeding pursuant to section 408 (e) of the act.

Article V also contains provisions for consideration of protests by boards of review in accordance with section 407 (c) of the act. A protestant is entitled to consideration of his objections by a board of review if he files a protest in accordance with the provisions of this article making a specific request for consideration by a board of review in accordance with section 42 (b).

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 31. Right to protest. Any person subject to any provision of a regulation or order relating to price controls may file a protest against such provision in the manner set forth in this article. A person is, for the purposes of this article, subject to a provision of a regulation or order relating to price controls only if such provision prohibits or requires action by him: Provided, however, That a producer of an agricultural commodity shall be considered to be subject to a ceiling price regulation for the purpose of asserting any right created by section 402 (d) (3) of the act for the benefit of producers of such an agricultural commodity.

SEC. 32. Improper protestant. Any protest filed by a person not subject to the provision protested may be dismissed by the Director.

SEC. 33. Time and place for filing protests. (a) A protest against a provision of a regulation or order relating to price controls may be filed at any time within six (6) months after the effective date of such regulation or order, or, in the case of new grounds arising after the effective date of such regulation or order, within six (6) months after such new grounds arise. In the latter case, the protest shall state the new grounds which are the basis for the delayed protest, and shall make clear when such new grounds arose and in what respect they were not available upon the effective date of the regulation or order protested.

(b) Protests shall be filed with the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., and shall be deemed filed on the date received by the Recording Secretary.

SEC. 34. Form of protest and number of copies. Every protest shall contain upon the first page thereof a heading or title clearly designating it as a protest. The protest shall also contain on the first page thereof, the number of the ceiling price regulation, or appropriate identification of any other regulation or order, against which the protest is directed. Six copies of the protest and of all accompanying documents and briefs shall be filed.

SEC. 35. Assignment of docket number. Upon receipt of a protest it shall be assigned a docket number, of which the protestant shall be notified, and all further papers in the proceedings shall contain on the first page thereof the docket number so assigned and the number of the ceiling price regulation, or appropriate identification of any other regulation or order, being protested.

SEC. 36. Protest and evidential material not conforming to the requirements of this Article. In any case where a protest or accompanying evidential material does not conform, in a substantial respect, to the requirements of this Article, the Director may dismiss such protest, or, in his discretion, may strike such evidential material from the record of the proceedings in connection with the protest.

SEC. 37. Joint protests. Two or more persons may file a joint protest. Joint protests shall be filed and determined in accordance with the rules governing the filing and determination of protests filed by one person. A joint protest shall be verified in accordance with section 42 (a) (8) by each protestant. A joint protest may be filed only where at least one ground is common to all persons joining in it. Whenever the Director deems it to be necessary or appropriate for the disposition of joint protests, he may treat such joint protests as several, and, in any event, he may require the filing of relevant materials by each individual protestant.

SEC. 38. Consolidation of protests. Whenever necessary or appropriate for the full and expeditious determination of common questions raised by two or more protests the director may consolidate such protests.

SEC. 39. Amendment of protests and presentation of additional evidence. In general, all of the objections upon which a protestant intends to rely in the protest proceedings must be clearly stated in the protest when it is filed and all of the evidence which the protestant wishes to offer in support of the protest must be filed at the same time. This rule does not apply to evidence not subject to protestant's control, dealt with in section 43 (b), and the submission of oral testimony, dealt with in section 44. A protestant may, however, be granted permission to amend his protest so as to state additional objections or to present further evidence in connection therewith upon a showing of reasonable excuse for failure to present such objections, or evidence, at the time the protest was first filed. The permission will be granted only if, in the judgment of the Director, it will not unduly delay the completion of the proceedings on the protest.

SEC. 40. Action by the Director on protest. (a) Within a reasonable time after the filing of any protest in accordance with this article, but in no event more than thirty (30) days after such filing, the Director shall:

(1) Grant or deny such protest in whole or in part;

(2) Notice such protest for hearing of oral testimony in accordance with section 44 or section 49;

(3) Notice such protest for hearing of oral argument by a board of review in accordance with section 53; or

(4) Provide an opportunity to present further evidence in connection with such protest. Within a reasonable time after the presentation of such further evidence, the Director may notice such protest for hearing of oral testimony in accordance with paragraph (a) (2) of this section, notice the protest for hearing of oral argument by a board of review in accordance with paragraph (a) (3) of this section, include additional material in the record of the proceedings on the protest in accordance with section 47, or take such other action as may be appropriate to the disposition of the protest.

(b) Notice of any such action taken by the Director shall promptly be served upon the protestant.

(c) Where the Director has ordered a hearing on a protest or has provided an opportunity for the presentation of further evidence in connection therewith, he shall, within a reasonable time after the completion of such hearing or the presentation of such evidence, grant or deny such protest in whole or in part.

SEC. 41. Basis for determination of protest.—(a) Record of the proceedings. The factual basis upon which a protest is determined is to be found in the record of the proceedings. This record consists of the following:

(1) The protest and supporting evidential material properly filed with the Director, in accordance with sections 42 and 43;

(2) Materials incorporated into the record of the proceedings by the Director under sections 47 and 48;

(3) Oral testimony taken in the course of the proceedings in accordance with sections 44 and 49;

(4) All orders and opinions issued in the course of the proceedings;

(5) The statement of considerations accompanying the regulation or order protested; and

(6) If the protest is to an order denying an application for adjustment under a provision of a ceiling price regulation, the application, materials filed in support thereof in accordance with the provisions of the ceiling price regulation, and the order and opinion denying the application.

(b) Facts of which the Director has taken official notice. The record of the proceedings may also include statements of economic data and other facts of which the Director has taken official notice under section 407 (b) of the act, including facts found by him as a result of reports filed and studies and investigations made pursuant to section 705 of the act.

(c) Briefs and arguments. Briefs and oral arguments submitted or presented in accordance with this article are, of course, considered in the determination of a protest. They are, however, not a part of the record of the proceedings and are not included in the transcript of protest proceedings which is filed, in case of appeal, with the Emergency Court of Appeals.

CONTENTS OF PROTESTS AND SUPPORTING MATERIALS

SEC. 42. Contents of protests.—(a) What each protest must contain. Every protest shall set forth the following:

(1) The name and the post office address of the protestant, the nature of his business, and the manner in which the protestant is subject to the provision of the regulation or order being protested;

(2) The name and post office address of any person filing the protest on behalf of the protestant and the name and post office address of the person to whom all communications from the Director relating to the protest shall be sent;

(3) A complete identification of the provision or provisions protested, citing the number of the ceiling price regulation or otherwise identifying any other regulation or order being protested, and further citing the date of issuance of such regulation or order and the section or sections thereof to which objection is made;

(4) Where the protest is filed more than six (6) months after the effective date of a regulation or order, based on new grounds arising after such effective date, the delayed protest shall be justified as provided in section 33 (a);

(5) A clear and concise statement of all objections raised by the protestant against the provision or provisions protested, each such objection to be separately stated and numbered;

(6) A clear and concise statement of all the facts alleged in support of each objection;

(7) A statement of the relief requested by the protestant, including, if the protestant requests modification of a provision of the regulation or order, the specific changes which he seeks to have made in the provision;

(8) A statement signed and sworn to (or affirmed) before an officer authorized to take oaths either by the protestant personally, or, if a partnership, by a partner, or, if a corporation or association, by a duly authorized officer, that the protest and the documents filed therewith are prepared in good faith and that the facts alleged are true to the best of his knowledge, information and belief. The protestant shall specify which of the facts alleged are known to be true and which are alleged on information and belief.

(b) Request for consideration by a board of review. A protestant who wishes his protest considered by a board of review must specifically so request, indicating, if he wishes to offer oral argument, the order of his preference as to (1) argument before a board of review in Washington, D. C.; (2) argument before a subcommittee consisting of one member of a board at a location named by him. Section 52 sets forth the considerations which will be determinative in the decision as to where oral argument may be heard. The request for consideration by a board of review must be made either in the protest or in an amendment thereto filed within fifteen

(15) days of the date the protest is filed. Such an amendment shall be deemed filed within the fifteen (15) day period if it is received by the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., no later than the fifteenth day after the protest was filed. Further provisions with respect to proceedings before a board of review are to be found in sections 50 to 57, inclusive.

SEC. 43. Affidavits or other written evidence in support of protest. Every protestant shall file, together with his protest, the following:

(a) Affidavits and any other written evidence, setting forth in full all the evidence the presentation of which is subject to the control of the protestant upon which the protestant relies in support of the facts alleged in the protest. Each such affidavit shall state the name, post office address, and occupation of the affiant; his business connection, if any, with the protestant; and whether the facts set forth in the affidavit are stated from personal knowledge or on information and belief. In every instance the affiant shall state in detail the sources of his information.

(b) A statement by the protestant in affidavit form setting forth in detail the nature and sources of any further evidence, not subject to his control, upon which he believes he can rely in support of the facts alleged in his protest. Such statement shall be accompanied by an application for assistance, by way of subpena, interrogatories, or otherwise, in obtaining the documentary evidence, or the evidence of persons, not subject to protestant's control, showing, in any case, what material facts would be adduced thereby. Such application, if calling for the evidence of persons, shall specify the name and address of each person, and the facts to be proved by him, and where the oral testimony of such person is requested the application shall set forth the basis for such request as provided in section 44 (a). Where the application calls for the production of documents, it shall specify them with sufficient particularity to enable them to be identified for purposes of production.

SEC. 44. Receipt of oral testimony. (a) In most cases, evidence in protest proceedings will be received only in written form. However, the protestant may request the receipt of oral testimony. Such request shall be accompanied by a showing by the protestant as to why the filing of affidavits or other written evidence will not permit the fair and expeditious disposition of the protest.

(b) In the event that the Director orders the receipt of oral testimony, notice shall be served on the protestant not less than five (5) days prior to the receipt of such testimony. If a hearing is to be held to receive the testimony, the notice shall state the time and place of the hearing and the presiding officer designated by the Director.

(c) A stenographic report of any hearing of oral testimony shall be made, a copy of which shall be available during business hours in the office of the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Protestants who wish a copy of the report may obtain it by requesting the reporter at the hearing to make a copy for them and paying the cost thereof.

SEC. 45. Submission of brief by protestant. The protestant may file with his protest and accompanying evidential material a brief in support of the objections set forth in the protest. Such brief shall be submitted as a separate document, distinct from the protest and evidential material.

MATERIAL IN SUPPORT OF THE REGULATION PROTESTED

SEC. 46. Statements of considerations. The statement of considerations accompanying a ceiling price regulation at the time of issuance contains economic and other material supporting the regulation. This statement, a copy of which can be obtained from the Recording Secretary is a document of public record, filed with the Division of the FEDERAL REGISTER. It is considered a part of the record of protest proceedings without formal incorporation therein.

SEC. 47. Incorporation of material in the record by the Director. In addition to the statement of considerations, the Director shall include in the record of the proceedings on the protest such evidence, in the form of affidavits or otherwise, as he deems appropriate in support of the provisions against which the protest is filed. When such evidence is incorporated into the record, and is not so incorporated at a hearing of oral testimony, copies thereof shall be served upon the protestant, and the protestant will be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal thereof. Such evidence may be included either at an interim stage of the proceedings or in an opinion accompanying an order denying the protest as contemplated by section 59.

SEC. 48. Other written evidence in support of the ceiling price regulation. (a) Any person affected by the provisions of a ceiling price regulation may at any time after the issuance of such regulation submit to the Director a statement in support of any such provision or provisions. Such statement shall include the name and post office address of such person, the nature of his business, and the manner in which such person is affected by the ceiling price regulation in question, and may be accompanied by affidavits and other data in written form. Each such supporting statement shall conform to the requirements of section 34.

(b) In the event that a protest has been, or is subsequently, filed against a provision of a ceiling price regulation in support of which a statement has been submitted, the Director may include such statement in the record. If such supporting statement is incorporated into the record, and is not so incorporated at a hearing of oral testimony, copies of such supporting statement shall be served upon the protestant, and the protestant shall be given a reasonable opportunity to present evidence in rebuttal thereof.

SEC. 49. Receipt of oral testimony in support of the regulation. Ordinarily, material in support of the ceiling price regulation protested, like material in support of protests, will be received in the protest proceeding only in written form. Where, however, the Director is satisfied that the receipt of oral testimony is necessary to the fair and expeditious disposition of the protest, he may, on his own motion, direct such testimony to be received. In that event, the oral testimony will be taken in the manner provided in section 44.

BOARDS OF REVIEW

SEC. 50. Right to consideration by a board of review. Under section 407 (c) of the act, any properly filed protest must, upon the protestant's request, be considered by a board of review before it can be denied in whole or in part. Consideration of the record in a protest proceeding by a board of review is undertaken for the purpose of reconsidering the provision or provisions of the ceiling price regulation, or other regulation or order, protested and recommending action relative thereto to the Director. A board of review considers the protest upon the basis of the record which has been developed in the proceedings. Protestant is accorded an opportunity to present oral argument to a board, upon the basis of the objections raised in the protest and the evidence in the record, and guided by the explanatory statement of the issues in the notice of consideration by a board of review. Section 41 explains the nature of the record in the proceedings. Section 42 (b) explains the nature of such a request and states the time within which it must be filed.

SEC. 51. Composition of boards of review. A board of review is composed of one or more officers or employees of the Office of Price Stabilization designated by the Director to review the record of the proceedings on a particular protest and make recommendations to him as to its disposition. The number of members constituting a board will be determined in the light of the scope and complexity of the issues presented. When a board consists of more than one member, ordinarily one member shall be selected who is or has been directly engaged in the administration of the ceiling price regulation protested. The protestant will be advised of the membership of a board considering his protest, and, if the board consists of more than one member, of the member selected to preside, in the notice of consideration by a board provided for in section 53. When necessitated by incapacity of a member or other good cause, the Director may make substitutions in the membership of the board as originally constituted.

SEC. 52. Where boards of review hear oral argument. A board of review consisting of more than one member will ordinarily hear oral argument at the office of the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., and only in exceptional cases and for good cause shown will the full board hold hearings elsewhere. A board consisting of only one member may hear argument at any designated place. Where the protestant has requested that oral argument be heard at some other place than Washington, D. C., and where the board consists of more than one member, a subcommittee thereof may be designated to hear argument at the place requested or at some other convenient place.

SEC. 53. Notice of consideration by a board of review. Before denial of any protest in whole or in part in which the protestant has requested consideration by a board of review in accordance with section 42 (b) which has not subsequently been waived by the protestant, notice of consideration by a board of review will be sent by registered mail to the protestant. Sending of notice marks a close of the record of the evidence in a protest proceeding. The notice will indicate the issues thought to be determinative of the case which may serve as a guide to the protestant in planning oral argument. The notice of consideration shall contain, or be accompanied by, the following items, as nearly as the circumstances permit:

(a) Information identifying the protest, including the ceiling price regulation or other regulation or order being protested and the docket number;

(b) A list of the documents comprising the completed record of the proceeding;

(c) A brief statement of the issues involved;

(d) A statement of the time (which shall not be less than seven (7) days from the date of the mailing of the notice) and place where a board of review or a subcommittee thereof will hear oral argument;

(e) A list of persons comprising the board of review which is thereby appointed to consider the protest, with their official titles and a designation of the presiding member if the board of review is composed of more than one person.

SEC. 54. Waiver of right to consideration in whole or in part. A protestant who has properly requested consideration by a board of review in accordance with section 42 (b) may, if he so desires, waive his right to consideration by a board. If he chooses, he may have his protest considered by a board, waiving his right to oral argument before a board. Such waiver shall be in writing and shall constitute a part of the record of proceedings on the protest. Failure of a protestant to appear at a hearing of oral argument, which he has not waived in accordance with the foregoing, at the time and place specified in the notice of consideration, shall, unless a reasonable excuse is shown, also constitute waiver of his right to consideration by a board. Unexcused failure to appear at a hearing of oral argument shall be noted on the record of proceedings. A waiver by less than all of a group of joint protestants shall not affect the rights of a protestant who has made no waiver.

SEC. 55. Hearing of oral argument. (a) Argument before a board of review by a protestant shall ordinarily be limited to one hour except for good cause shown. Where the magnitude of the issues involved warrants more extended discussion, or where the protestants are numerous, the board may extend or limit the time of each protestant in its discretion. Specific argument shall be confined to objections set forth in the protest or to other evidence in the record. Hearings of argument will be open to the public. Where argument is to be heard by a board of review consisting of more than one member, a majority of such board shall constitute a quorum for the purpose of hearing argument. Presentation of oral argument may be accompanied by submission of a brief (see section 41 (c)).

(b) A stenographic report of all hearings of oral argument by boards of review may be taken. The report will be transcribed at the direction of the board if a transcription is desired to facilitate consideration of the protest. The report shall be transcribed if the argument is heard by a subcommittee of a board. If the report is transcribed, a copy shall be available for inspection during business hours in the office of the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C. Protestants who wish a copy of the report may obtain it by requesting the reporter at the hearing to make a copy for them and paying the cost thereof.

SEC. 56. Action by boards of review at the conclusion of their consideration of a protest. Within a reasonable time after the hearing of oral argument or after the closing of the record, if such argument has been waived, a board of review shall submit its recommendations in writing to the Director as to the disposition of the protest. The recommendations of a majority of the members of a board shall constitute the recommendations of the board but the disagreement of any member with the recommendations shall be expressly noted. A board of review shall recommend to the Director that the protest be granted or denied in whole or in part. If it is the opinion of the board that the record in the proceeding should be expanded, it may refer the record of the proceeding to the Director in order that the Director may consider permitting the amendment of the protest or the receipt of additional evidence. Records will, however, be reopened only in very exceptional circumstances and where the requirements of section 39 can be met.

SEC. 57. Action by Director after receipt of board of review's recommendations. After receipt of a board of review's recommendations as to the disposition of the protest, the Director shall, within a reasonable time, grant or deny the protest in whole or in part.

DETERMINATION OF PROTEST

SEC. 58. Order granting protest in whole. Where the Director grants a protest in whole, a copy of the order shall be sent to the protestant by registered mail. If the protest has been considered by a board of review, the protestant will be advised of the recommendations of the board in an appendix to the Director's order.

SEC. 59. Order and opinion denying protests in whole or in part. In the event that the Director denies any protest in whole or in part, a copy of the Director's order and opinion shall be sent to the protestant by registered mail. In such opinion the protestant shall be informed of any economic data or other facts of which the Director has taken official notice, the grounds upon which such decision is based, and (if the protest has been considered by a board of review) the recommendations of a board of review and, if any recommendation of such a board has been rejected, the reason for rejection.

SEC. 60. Treatment of protest as petition for amendment or an application for adjustment. Any protest filed against a provision of a ceiling price regulation, or other regulation or order, may, in the discretion of the Director, be treated not only as a protest but also as a petition for amendment of the regulation or order protested or as an application for adjustment pursuant thereto, when the facts produced in connection with the protest justify such treatment.

SEC. 61. Petitions for reconsideration. An order denying a protest may include leave to file a petition for reconsideration within a specified period. If the order of denial does include leave to file a petition for reconsideration, the filing of such a petition within the time provided shall automatically vacate the order of denial and reopen the protest proceeding.

ARTICLE VI—INTERPRETATIONS

SEC. 71. Who may render official interpretations, and the effect thereof. (a) Action taken in reliance upon and in conformity with an official interpretation of a provision of any regulation or order (prior to any revocation or modification of such interpretation or to any superseding thereof by regulation, order or amendment) shall constitute action in good faith pursuant to the provision of the regulation or order to which such official interpretation relates.

(b) Interpretations of regulations or orders will be regarded by the Office of Price Stabilization as official only where issued by the Chief Counsel of the Office of Price Stabilization or one of his delegatees, and shall be given only in writing. An official interpretation shall be applicable only with respect to the particular person to whom, and to the particular factual situation with respect to which, it is rendered, unless published in the FEDERAL REGISTER as an interpretation of general application.

SEC. 72. Requests for interpretations: form and contents. Any person desiring an official interpretation of a regulation or order shall request it in writing from the Chief Counsel of the Office of Price Stabilization. Such request shall set forth in full the factual situation out of which the interpretative question arises and shall, so far as is practicable, state the names and post-office addresses of the persons involved. If the interpretation will affect operations of establishments located in more than one state, the request shall name the states in which the establishments are located. No interpretation shall be requested or given with respect to any hypothetical situation or in response to any hypothetical question.

SEC. 73. Revocation or modification of interpretation. Any generally applicable official interpretation of a regulation or order may be revoked or modified by a statement or notice by the Chief Counsel of the Office of Price Stabilization or his delegatees published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. An official interpretation addressed to a particular person may be revoked or modified at any time by a statement in writing mailed to such person and signed by the Chief Counsel of the Office of Price Stabilization or one of his delegatees.

ARTICLE VII—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS AND DEFINITIONS

SEC. 81. Witness fees. Witnesses summoned to give testimony shall be paid the fees and mileage specified by section 705 (c) of the act. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the person at whose instance the witness appears.

SEC. 82. Improper conduct. Improper conduct, obstructive to the course of any hearing, shall be sufficient cause for the adjournment of that hearing or for the exclusion of the offending party.

SEC. 83. Continuance or adjournment of hearings. Any hearing may be continued or adjourned to a later date or a different place by announcement at the hearing by the person who presides.

SEC. 84. Subpenas. Subpenas may require the production of documents or the attendance of witnesses at any designated place. Service of a subpena upon a person named therein shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to such person or leaving a copy at his regular place of business or abode and by tendering to him the fees and mileage specified in section 705 (c) of the act. When the subpena is issued at the instance of the Director, fees and mileage need not be tendered. Any person 18 years of age or over may serve a subpena. The person making the service shall make an affidavit thereof describing the manner in which service is made, and return such affidavit on or with the original subpena forthwith to the Recording Secretary. In case of failure to make service, the reasons for the failure should be stated on the original subpena.

SEC. 85. Representation. A party in interest to any proceeding governed by Article III, IV, V, or VI of this regulation may by written power of attorney authorize any person to represent him therein. In proceedings governed by Article III, IV, or V, such power of attorney, signed and sworn to by the party in interest, shall be submitted to the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization and shall become part of the record in the proceeding.

SEC. 86. Service of papers. Notices, orders, and other process and papers may be served personally or by leaving a copy thereof at the principal office or place of business of the person to be served; or by registered mail, or by telegraph. When service is made personally or by leaving a copy at the principal office or place of business, the verified return of the person serving or leaving the copy shall be proof of service. When service is by registered mail or telegraph, the return post-office receipt or telegraph receipt shall be proof of service. Where the party in interest has filed a power of attorney authorizing another person to represent him as provided in section 85, service upon such representative shall be deemed service upon the party in interest.

SEC. 87. Office hours. The Washington Office of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., shall be open on week days from 8:30 a. m. until 5:00 p. m. Any person desiring to file papers with the Director of Price Stabilization or with the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization or to inspect any documents filed with the Director or Recording Secretary at any time other than the regular office hours, may file a written application with the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization requesting permission therefor.

SEC. 88. Time of filing; effect of Sundays and holidays. Where a regulation requires the filing of any records, reports, or information, they shall be filed with the appropriate office, and shall be deemed filed on the date received by said office: Provided, That where the day or the last day fixed by any regulation or order of the Office of Price Stabilization for taking any action, doing any act required or permitted to be done, or filing any records, reports, or information falls on a Sunday or on a holiday, the action may be taken, the act may be done, or the filing complied with on the next succeeding busines day.

SEC. 89. Confidential information: inspection of documents filed with the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization. (a) Information obtained under section 705 of the act, which the Director deems confidential or with reference to which a request for confidential treatment is made by the person furnishing such information, shall not be published or disclosed unless the Director determines that the withholding thereof is contrary to the interest of the national defense.

(b) All protests and orders and opinions in connection therewith are open to inspection in the office of the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization, upon such reasonable conditions as he may prescribe. Information submitted in a protest proceeding with a request for confidential treatment, and confidential material incorporated by the Director into a protest proceeding, will be treated as confidential to the extent consistent with the proper conduct of the protest proceeding. In the event of a complaint being filed in the Emergency Court of Appeals, such information and such material will be included in the transcript of the protest proceeding to the extent that it is material under the complaint.

(c) All letters denying petitions for amendment and all orders and opinions granting or denying in whole or in part any application are open to inspection in the office of the Recording Secretary of the Office of Price Stabilization, upon such reasonable conditions as he may prescribe.

(d) To the extent that this section provides for the disclosure of confidential information, it shall be deemed a determination by the Director, pursuant to section 705 (e) of the Defense Production Act of 1950, that the withholding of such information is contrary to the interest of the national defense.

SEC. 90. Definitions. As used in this part, unless the context otherwise requires, the term:

(a) "Act" means the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.).

(b) "FEDERAL REGISTER" means the publication provided for by the Act of July 26, 1935 (49 Stat. 500), as amended.

(c) "Ceiling price regulation" means any regulation or order establishing a ceiling on prices.

(d) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(e) "Protestant" means a person subject to any provision of a regulation or order relating to price controls, who files a protest in accordance with section 407 (a) of the act.

(f) "Price hearing" means any formal or informal opportunity to present evidence which may be ordered by the Director in connection with any action or proceedings related to price control.

(g) "Holiday" includes New Year's Day, Washington's birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Christmas Day, and any day designated as a holiday (or as a day of public fasting or thanksgiving) by the President or the Congress of the United States.

SEC. 91. Amendment of this regulation. Any provision of this regulation may be amended or revoked by the Director at any time. Such amendment or revocation shall be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER and shall take effect upon the date of its publication, unless otherwise specified therein.

Effective date. This revision of Price Procedural Regulation 1 shall become effective on May 26, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

MAY 25, 1951.

Chapter XV—Federal Reserve System

[Regulation X, Interpretations 32 and 33]

REG. X—REAL ESTATE CREDIT

INT. 32—PUBLIC UTILITY

Privately owned public warehouse. A privately owned public warehouse used for the storage of grain and other foodstuffs is not a "public utility" within the meaning of section 2 (s) of Regulation X, and hence is not excluded from the definition of "nonresidential structure" by section 2 (r) (4) (i) of the Regulation, even though the operations of the warehouse are supervised by a Federal or State agency. It is the Board's opinion that a warehouse is not similar to a transportation company, electric light or power company, or other similar companies specifically mentioned in section 2 (s).

INT. 33—CHURCH CONSTRUCTION

Church unit engaged in extending credit. A church organized on a nationwide basis has a central organization which, in turn, has boards and agencies. The church also has regional organizations which, in turn, have a number of congregations and missions. Each such unit of the church is a corporate entity. Credit sometimes is extended by such units in connection with new construction being purchased or constructed by other units of the church. The question has been raised whether the credit is subject to the provisions of Regulation X.

The credit is not subject to the Regulation if the new construction is a church because section 2 (r) (3) of the Regulation excludes churches from the definition of "nonresidential structure". However, credit extended to finance the purchase or construction of new construction covered by the Regulation is subject to the Regulation when the unit of the church extending the credit is a Registrant, that is, if the unit has made sufficient extensions of credit to be deemed to be engaged in the business of extending real estate credit. So long as such units are corporate entities, the funds borrowed must be considered as funds of the units lending them rather than funds of the over-all church organization.

It may be noted, however, that the Regulation does not affect in any way the purchase or construction of new construction by a unit of the church in possession of the necessary funds, or its participation on an equity basis in the construction or purchase of new construction by another unit of the church.

Chapter XVI—Production and Marketing Administration, Department of Agriculture

[Defense Food Order 2, Amendment 1]

DFO 2—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES; SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS

It is hereby found and determined that the provisions of this amendatory order are necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense; and it is, therefore, made effective pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 744, 81st Cong., approved September 8, 1950), Executive Order No. 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Executive Order No. 10200 (16 F. R. 61), Defense Production Administration Delegation No. 1 (16 F. R. 738), and Secretary's Memorandum No. 1270, as amended (15 F. R. 6424; 16 F. R. 2446). In the formulation of Defense Order 2 (16 F. R. 3345), there was consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration was given to their recommendations. Since this amendment is merely a clarification of Defense Food Order 2, consultation with industry representatives concerning the proposed action is not deemed necessary.

The purpose of this amendment to Defense Food Order 2 is to make it clear that the persons subject to the provisions of the order and sub-orders thereunder are those who actually process the specified foods, whether for themselves or for others. The food so processed is to be included in computing, and complying with, requisite set-aside obligations.

Defense Food Order 2 (16 F. R. 3345) is amended as follows:

1. Delete the provisions of paragraph (c) of section 1, Definitions, and substitute, in lieu thereof, the following:

(c) "Processor" means any person engaged in commercial processing resulting in the production of processed food for his own account or for the account of others.

2. Add a new paragraph (g) at the end of section 1 as follows:

(g) "Produce" means to process for the processor's own account or for the account of others.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

This order shall become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of May 1951.

[SEAL] G. F. GEISSLER,
Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration.

[Defense Food Order 2, Sub-Order 2]

DFO 2—PROCESSED FRUITS AND VEGETABLES; SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS

SO 2—CANNED FRUITS—SET ASIDE REQUIREMENTS

It is hereby found and determined that the provisions of this order are necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense; and this order is, therefore, made effective pursuant to the authority vested in me by Defense Food Order 2 (16 F. R. 3345). In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This order names the canned fruits which are required to be set aside and reserved for procurement by Government agencies pursuant to Defense Food Order 2. In addition, it provides a formula for determining the specific quantity of each canned fruit to be set aside by each processor. This formula consists of the establishment for each processor of a "base pack," to which is applied a prescribed percentage stated in the order. The order prescribes a time schedule for processors to meet in accumulating the set-aside quantity as the packing season progresses. It also sets forth processors' reporting requirements. It designates the Quartermaster General, United States Department of the Army, and his designees as the authorized purchasers of the canned fruits so set aside and reserved.

The composition of the quantity of canned fruits set aside under this order is not prescribed, but the order does indicate the preferences of Government agencies with respect to type, style, grade, and container sizes and types for each canned fruit.

The order does not apply to any processor whose aggregate set-aside quotas for all canned fruits amount to less than 1,500 cases.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8, issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.

SECTION 1. Definitions. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this order, terms used in this order shall have the same meaning as when used in Defense Food Order 2 (16 F. R. 3345).

(b) "Canned fruit" means each of the processed foods produced during the quota period therefor and listed in Column A of Table I.

(c) "Table I" means Table I set forth in section 4 of this order.

(d) "Quota period" means:

(1) With respect to canned apples, pineapple, and pineapple juice, the period beginning on June 1, 1951, and ending on May 31, 1952, both dates inclusive; and

(2) With respect to any other canned fruit, the period beginning on January 1, 1951, and ending on December 31, 1951, both dates inclusive.

(e) "Quota period pack" means, with respect to any canned fruit, the aggregate quantity thereof produced during the quota period therefor.

(f) "Base period" means:

(1) With respect to canned berries and plums the period beginning on January 1, 1949, and ending on December 31, 1949, both dates inclusive;

(2) With respect to canned apples, pineapple, and pineapple juice, the period beginning on June 1, 1950, and ending on May 31, 1951, both dates inclusive; and

(3) With respect to any other canned fruit, the period beginning on January 1, 1950, and ending on December 31, 1950, both dates inclusive.

(g) "Base pack" means:

(1) With respect to any canned fruit produced by any processor during the base period therefor, the aggregate quantity of the canned fruit so produced; and

(2) With respect to any canned fruit that was not produced by a processor during the base period therefor, the quota period pack of such canned fruit.

SEC. 2. Canned fruits to be set aside and reserved. (a) The aggregate quantity of a particular canned fruit that each processor is required, pursuant to Defense Food Order 2, to set aside and reserve for the requirements of Government agencies shall be the lesser of (1) the amount obtained by multiplying his base pack for such canned fruit by the percentage listed therefor in Column B of Table I, or (2) his quota period pack of such canned fruit. Such aggregate quantity shall be the quota for such processor for such canned fruit.

(b) The canned fruit quotas are not required to be of any special composition; however, Table I sets forth the preferences of Government agencies with respect to the types, styles, grades, and container sizes and types for each of the canned fruits.

SEC. 3. Stocks to be set aside. (a) Except as otherwise prescribed in paragraph (b) of this section, each processor shall set aside and reserve his quota of each canned fruit in accordance with the following schedule:

(1) At least 50 percent of his quota not later than the date on which such processor's aggregate production of his quota period pack of the canned fruit is in an amount equal to 40 percent of his base pack of such canned fruit; and

(2) The balance of his quota not later than the date on which such processor's aggregate production of his quota period pack of the canned fruit is in an amount equal to 80 percent of his base pack of such canned fruit.

(b) With respect to each processor whose base pack of a particular canned fruit is his quota period pack, in accordance with section 1 (g) (2), the foregoing percentages shall be applied to the respective processor's estimate of his base pack.

SEC. 4. TABLE I—Canned fruits: Set aside percentages and preferences with respect to style of pack, grade, and container sizes and types.

[7 CFR, Part 978]

[Docket No. AO 184–A7]

HANDLING OF MILK IN NASHVILLE, TENN., MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF HEARING ON PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVE MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO THE ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), notice is hereby given of a public hearing to be held in the Davidson County Courthouse, Nashville, Tennessee, beginning at 10:00 a. m., c. s. t., May 31, 1951, for the purpose of receiving evidence with respect to proposed amendments hereinafter set forth, or appropriate modifications thereof, to the tentative marketing agreement heretofore approved by the Secretary of Agriculture and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Nashville, Tennessee, marketing area. These proposed amendments have not received the approval of the Secretary of Agriculture.

Amendments to the order (No. 78) for the Nashville, Tennessee, marketing area have been proposed as follows:

By the Nashville Milk Producers, Inc.:

1. Amend § 978.4 so as to provide for two classes, namely combining the present Classes I and II to be known as Class I and renaming the present Class III Class II. Also, delete the present allowable shrinkage provision and provide that all shrinkage and unaccounted for milk be classified as Class I.

2. Amend § 978.5 (a) (1) to provide that the average price paid by the Midwestern condenseries for 3.5 percent milk will be adjusted to a 4.0 percent butterfat basis on a direct ratio (price ÷ 3.5 × 4).

3. Amend § 978.5 (a) (3) to provide for using the nonfat dry milk solids price spray process quoted at the Chicago, Illinois market, rather than the price quoted f. o. b. (spray and roller) Chicago area manufacturing plants. And change the present yield factor of $7\frac{1}{2}$ pounds to $8\frac{1}{2}$ pounds (no change on butter portion of present butterpowder formula).

4. Amend § 978.5 (b) (1) so as to establish floor prices for Class I milk (present I & II) of $6.10 per hundredweight of milk containing 4.0 percent butterfat, effective July, 1951, through March, 1952. Provided, That if during the 12 months prior to the month immediately preceding each delivery period from July, 1951, through March, 1952, the total volume of milk received from producers by all handlers and priced in Class II (present Class III) was more or less than 25 percent during such 12 months period, the Class I price shall be increased or decreased by 3 cents per hundredweight for each full percentage point that such Class II percentage is more or less than 25 percent. Provided further, That during the period July 1951–March 1952, the provision in § 978.4 (f) (ii) shall not be in effect. (Eliminates proration of other source skim milk to Class I).

5. Delete § 978.5 (b) (2). (Eliminates present Class II price.)

6. Renumber § 978.5 (b) (3) as (2) and delete the following named companies:

Swift & Co., Lawrenceburg, Tenn.
Giles County Dairy Products Co., Pulaski, Tenn.
Borden & Co., Lewisburg, Tenn.
Borden & Co., Fayetteville, Tenn.

and substitute therefor the following:

Wilson & Co., Franklin, Tenn.
Sumner County Cooperative Creamery, Gallatin, Tenn.
Pet Milk Co., Franklin, Ky.
Pet Milk Co., Bowling Green, Ky.

and provide for an increase in the Class II price (present Class III) by adding 15 cents per hundredweight for the months of August through March, inclusive.

7. Amend § 978.5 (c) (1) by substituting 1.3 for 1.4. (Reduces handlers Class I butterfat differential.)

8. Delete § 978.5 (c) (2). (Eliminates present Class II handler butterfat differential.)

9. Renumber § 978.5 (c) (3) as (2) and substitute 1.15 for 1.2. (Reduces handler butterfat differentials for manufacturing milk.)

10. Add to § 978.3 as paragraph (d) the following:

(d) Reports from the Market Administrator to Cooperative Associations. On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, the Market Administrator shall report to each cooperative association as described in § 978.1 (f) the percentage of milk caused to be delivered by such association or by its members which was used in each class by each handler receiving any such milk. For the purpose of this report the milk so received shall be prorated to each class in the proportion that the total receipts of milk from producers by such handlers were used in each class.

By Foremost Dairies, Inc.:

11. Amend the classification provisions to the effect that skim milk and butterfat transferred or diverted by handlers in the form of fluid cream to a non-fluid milk plant shall be classified as Class II, except that it shall be classified in another class, if (i) the handler reports its use in another class and the operator of the receiving plant certifies to the market administrator in writing not later than the last day of the month next following the month in which such cream was shipped that such cream was used in the class reported by the handler, (ii) the operator of the non-fluid milk plant maintains books and records showing utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at such plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification, (iii) not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was actually utilized in such plant in the use indicated in such certification: Provided, That, if upon inspection of the records of such plant it is found that an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat was not actually used in such indicated use the remaining pounds shall be classified on the basis of the next highest-priced use in accordance with the classes set forth in paragraph (b) of § 978.4.

By all handlers under the regulation of order No. 78:

12. Amend the pricing provisions of the order, to the effect that the basic formula price used in determining the Class I and Class II prices for the current delivery period shall be based on the prices obtaining during the delivery period immediately preceding for the items represented by subparagraphs (a) (1), (a) (2), (a) (3) and (b) (3) of § 978.5.

By the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration:

13. Make such other changes as may be required to make the entire marketing agreement and the order conform with any amendments thereto which may result from this hearing.

Copies of this notice of hearing and of the tentative marketing agreement, and the order now in effect, may be procured from the market administrator, 309 Presbyterian Building, Nashville 3, Tennessee, or from the Hearing Clerk, United States Department of Agriculture, Room 1353 South Building, Washington 25, D. C., or may be there inspected.

Filed at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of May 1951.

Bureau of Land Management

[BLM 08285]

OKLAHOMA

NOTICE OF FILING OF PLAT OF SURVEY

MAY 21, 1951.

Notice is given that the plat of original survey of the following described lands, accepted February 15, 1949, will be officially filed in this Bureau effective at 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice:

INDIAN MERIDIAN, OKLAHOMA

T. 16 N., R. 14 W.,
Sec. 31, lot 8;
Sec. 32, lot 6.

The area described aggregates 49.00 acres.

Available data indicates that the land is level river bottom accretion land.

No applications for the land may be allowed under the homestead, desert-land, small tract, or any other non-mineral public land laws unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At the hour and date specified above the said land shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, or selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this notice shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this notice shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m. on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m. on the 126th day after the date of this notice, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C., shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Director, Bureau of Land Management, Washington 25, D. C.

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 26]

BULOVA WATCH CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Bulova Watch Company, 630 Fifth Avenue, New York 20, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of Bulova Watches manufactured by Bulova Watch Company having the brand name(s) "Bulova" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Bulova Watch Company in its application dated April 18, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 25, 1951, Bulova Watch Company must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $_____

On and after July 25, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 25, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Bulova Watch Company must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$_____ per _____	unit, dozen, etc.
Terms _____ (net or percent EOM, etc)	$_____

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 26, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

HONEYBUGS, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Honeybugs, Inc., 47 West 34th Street, New York 1, New York, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of Women's Footwear manufactured by Honeybugs, Inc. having the brand name(s) "Honeybugs" and "Honeydebs" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Honeybugs, Inc. in its application dated May 9, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 25, 1951, Honeybugs, Inc. must mark each article for which a ceiling price hase been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $------

On and after July 25, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 25, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Honeybugs, Inc. must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1

$..... per ..... (unit, dozen, etc.)
Terms ..... (net or percent EOM, etc) $.....;

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 26, 1951.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article stated in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 25, 1951, Artistic Foundations, Inc., must mark each article listed in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

Price $--------

On and after July 25, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 25, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in paragraph 1 of this special order or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Artistic Foundations, Inc., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 26, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Docket No. 9801]

CHARLES H. CHAMBERLAIN

ORDER CONTINUING HEARING

In re application of Charles H. Chamberlain, Bellefontaine, Ohio, Docket No. 9801, File No. BP-7675, for construction permit.

The Commission having under consideration a petition filed on May 16, 1951, by Charles H. Chamberlain, requesting that the hearing now scheduled to be held on the above-entitled application, on May 25, 1951, at Washington, D. C., be continued for a period of sixty days, or without date; and

It appearing, from the allegations in the said petition that the petitioner is now preparing and expects to file in the near future, a petition to reconsider and grant his application without a hearing which, if granted, may render unnecessary a formal hearing thereon; and

It further appearing, that all of the parties to the above-entitled proceeding have agreed to a grant of the petition under consideration and to a waiver of § 1.745 of the Commission's rules, relating to the timely filing of motions;

It is ordered, this 18th day of May 1951, That the above-entitled petition be, and it is hereby, granted, and that the hearing on the above-entitled application is hereby continued until further order.

[Docket Nos. 9978, 9979]

SOUTHLAND BROADCASTING CO. AND FREQUENCY BROADCASTING SYSTEM, INC.

ORDER DESIGNATING APPLICATIONS FOR CONSOLIDATED HEARING ON STATED ISSUES

In re application of Southland Broadcasting Company, New Orleans, Louisiana, File No. BL-4036, Docket No. 9978, for license to cover construction permit for Station KCIJ, Shreveport, Louisiana, and application of Southland Broadcasting Company and Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc., File No. BAP-149, Docket No. 9979, for assignment of construction permit of Station KCIJ, Shreveport, Louisiana.

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 16th day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the above applications for license to cover construction permit for Station KCIJ, Shreveport, Louisiana, and for consent to assignment of the aforesaid construction permit from Southland Broadcasting Company to Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc.; and

It appearing, on the basis of information contained in the above applications and information obtained by the Commission in the course of its independent investigation of the matter, that serious questions relating to a possible unauthorized construction of KCIJ and an unauthorized assignment of the construction permit for Station KCIJ are present and that, therefore, the Commission is unable, at this time, to conclude that grants of the above applications would be in the public interest, convenience and necessity;

It is ordered, that the applications of Southland Broadcasting Company for license to cover construction permit for Station KCIJ and for consent to assignment of that construction permit to Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc., be designated for hearing in a consolidated proceeding to be held in New Orleans, Louisiana on July 23, 1951, upon the following issues with respect to the aforesaid license application:

1. To obtain full information as to the method or methods of financing of Southland Broadcasting Company from July 17, 1947, the date of filing of applications for construction permits for new standard broadcast stations in New Orleans (BP-6212—WMRY) and Shreveport (BP-6211—KCIJ), Louisiana, to date and the sources of such financing and, more particularly, to determine whether the aforesaid method or methods so employed materially deviated from representations made with respect thereto in the aforesaid applications for construction permits.

2. To obtain full information as to all contracts, agreements or understandings, past or present, between Southland Broadcasting Company, its officers, directors, stockholders or agents, and Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc., its officers, directors, stockholders or agents, with respect to the construction and operation of Station KCIJ, with particular reference to:

a. A certain contract of October 10, 1949, between Southland Broadcasting Company and Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc., for assignment of the construction permit for Station KCIJ to Frequency.

b. A certain contract dated February 8 1950, between Southland Broadcasting Company and Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc., for construction of Station KCIJ by Frequency.

c. The payment, loan, or advance of funds by Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc., its officers, directors, stockholders or agents, or other persons, to Southland Broadcasting Company, its officers, directors, stockholders or agents, pursuant to the agreements referred to in (a) and (b), above, or pursuant to any other agreements which the said parties may have concluded among themselves, and to determine the nature and purpose of such payments, loans, or advances.

3. To determine whether the execution of any of the contracts, agreements or understandings referred to in Issue No. 2, above, the terms thereof or any acts of commission or omission with respect thereto, were in violation of section 319 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, or in violation of the rules and regulations of the Commission, with particular reference to §§ 1.321, 1.342 and 1.343 of said rules and regulations.

4. To determine whether Southland Broadcasting Company, its officers, directors, stockholders or agents, have concealed information from the Commission regarding the ownership, operation, construction or control of Station KCIJ or the financial condition of Southland, Broadcasting Company, or have misrepresented facts concerning such ownership, operation, construction or control of Station KCIJ or the financial condition of Southland Broadcasting Company, in applications, reports or letters which they have filed with the Commission.

5. To determine the disposition, since the date of commencement of operation of Station KCIJ, of income received from such operation, and the manner of and authority for such disposition.

6 To determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by grant of the above-entitled application.

And with respect to the aforesaid assignment application, upon the following issues:

1. To determine the legal, technical, financial and other qualifications of the proposed assignee, its officers, directors and stockholders, to operate and control Station KCIJ.

2. To obtain full information regarding all past and present contracts, agreements, understandings or arrangements entered into between the proposed assignor and the proposed assignee with respect to the assignment of construction permit of Station KCIJ, including the consideration to be paid and the properties to be received therefor, and more particularly to determine whether the terms of Section IV of the contract of sale (Exhibit 2, BAP–149) between Southland Broadcasting Company and Frequency Broadcasting System, Inc. conflicts with § 3.109 (a) of the Commission's rules and regulations.

3. To obtain full information as to the extent and method of participation, if any, by the proposed assignee in the construction and operation of Station KCIJ.

4. To determine the plans of the proposed assignee for the staffing and programming of Station KCIJ and all other plans for the operation of that station.

5. To determine whether the assignee, in violation of sections 301 and 319 of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended, has constructed and operated Station KCIJ without a construction permit or license being issued to the assignee therefor.

6. To determine whether the public interest, convenience and necessity would be served by grant of the above-entitled application.

[Rev. S. O. 874, General Permit 18]

EVANS MILLING CO. ET AL.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) of Revised Service Order No. 874 (16 F. R. 2040, 3133), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act serving Evans Milling Company, Indianapolis, Indiana, Decatur Milling Company, Decatur, Illinois, or Charles A. Krause Milling Co., Milwaukee, Wisconsin, to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 874 insofar as they apply to Corn Grits, Corn Meal, and or Hominy Feed in Bulk when Evans Milling Company, Decatur Milling Company or Charles A. Krause Milling Company advise that service would be denied because of their inability to meet the minimum requirements because of inability of loading device to load to within 24 inches of roof of cars, except at ends of car. However, the total weight of such shipments shall be or exceed 80,000 pounds.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit, and Evans Milling Company, Decatur Milling Company, or Charles A. Krause Milling Company shall furnish the Permit Agent the car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this Permit and also car numbers, initials, and weights of all cars loaded with Corn Grits, Corn Meal, and or Hominy Feed in Bulk shipped; such information to be furnished on the first of each month.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., May 23, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 15, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this Permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the Office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of May 1951.

HOWARD S. KLINE,
Permit Agent.

LOADING REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to the authority vested in me in paragraph (d) (2) of Revised Service Order No. 876 (16 F. R. 3620, 4276), permission is granted for any common carrier by railroad, subject to the Interstate Commerce Act, to disregard the provisions of Revised Service Order No. 876 insofar as they apply to Wood Flooring provided the shipment of such Wood Flooring is loaded to within not less than 5 feet of the roof of the car.

The waybills shall show reference to this general permit, and all consignors shipping cars under this permit shall furnish the Permit Agent the car numbers, initials, weights, and destinations of the cars shipped under this permit.

This general permit shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., May 24th, 1951, and shall expire at 11:59 p. m., September 30, 1951, unless otherwise modified, changed, suspended, or revoked.

A copy of this general permit has been served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as Agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement, and notice of this permit shall be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 23d day of May 1951.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 31, 1951, at 12:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matters stating the nature of his interest, the reason for such request and the issues, if any, of fact or law proposed to be controverted, or he may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after 12:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., on May 31, 1951, said applications-declarations, as filed or as amended, may be granted or permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said applications-declarations, which are on file in the offices of this Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

NEPCO proposes to issue under the terms and provisions of a bank loan agreement to five banks, namely, The First National Bank of Boston, The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, Irving Trust Company and The New York Trust Company, from time to time but not later than December 31, 1951, promissory notes in the aggregate principal amount up to but not exceeding $12,000,000. Said notes will mature April 1, 1952, and will bear interest at not less than 2½ percent per annum nor more than 2¾ percent per annum. The proceeds from said notes will be used by NEPCO to finance temporarily its construction program through 1951.

Lowell proposes to issue under the terms and provisions of a bank loan agreement to the above named banks, from time to time but not later than November 1, 1951, promissory notes in an aggregate amount up to but not exceeding $2,700,000. Lowell's new notes will mature April 1, 1952 and will bear interest at not less than 2½ percent nor more than 2¾ percent. Of the proceeds to be derived from said notes, $2,100,000 will be used to retire an equivalent principal amount of notes now outstanding, and the balance to finance temporarily its construction program through 1951.

NEPCO's bank agreement provides, among other things, for commitment commissions at the rate of ¼ of 1 percent per annum on the average daily difference between the amount of the banks' commitment and the amount borrowed thereunder while, in the case of Lowell, no commitment commission will be paid.

Each of the applicants-declarants states that if any permanent financing is done before the maturity date of the notes proposed to be issued, it will apply the proceeds from such financing in reduction of, or in total payment of, promissory notes authorized and then outstanding and the amount of notes, authorized but then unissued, if any, will be reduced by the amount, if any, by which such permanent financing exceeds the amount of promissory notes at the time outstanding.

The applications-declarations state that incidental services in connection with the proposed transactions will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $1,000 for each of the applicants-declarants, or the aggregate sum of $2,000. Other expenses, not including out-of-pocket expenses or counsel fees of The First National Bank of Boston, as agent for the five lending banks, but including the printing of the bank loan agreements, are estimated not to exceed $100 for each of the applicants-declarants or the aggregate sum of $200.

The applications-declarations further state that no state commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Each of the applicants-declarants request that the Commission's order herein become effective forthwith upon issuance.

By the Commission.

AMERICAN GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

ORDER RELEASING JURISDICTION OVER CERTAIN FEES AND EXPENSES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of May A. D. 1951.

The Commission having, by order dated December 19, 1950, granted and permitted to become effective an application-declaration, as amended, filed pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by American Gas and Electric Company ("American"), a registered holding company, involving, among other things, the offering by American of 116,622 shares of its common stock in exchange for 162,030 shares of common stock of Central Ohio Light & Power Company ("Central Ohio"), an electric utility company; and

The Commission having by said order reserved jurisdiction over the fees and expenses of the various legal counsel and accountants to be paid by American in connection with the proposed transactions; and

Statements having been filed with respect to requested legal and accounting fees aggregating $46,300 and expenses in the aggregate amount of $3,116.15 which are itemized as follows:

	Requested fees	Expenses	Total
Counsel
Simpson, Thacher & Bartlett, for American	$20,000	$1,370.00	$21,370.00
Miles, Walsh, O'Brien and Morris for Floyd W. Woodcock	15,000	1,025.77	16,025.77
Power and Griffith, for Central Ohio	7,500	353.39	7,853.39
	42,500	2,749.16	45,249.16
Accountants
Niles and Niles, for American	2,000		2,000.00
La Frentz & Co., for Central Ohio	1,800	366.99	2,166.99
	3,800	366.99	4,166.99
Total	46,300	3,116.15	49,416.15

The Commission having considered said statements and finding that the requested fees and expenses are not unreasonable and deeming it appropriate that jurisdiction with respect thereto be released:

It is ordered, That the jurisdiction heretofore reserved over such fees and expenses be, and hereby is, released.

By the Commission.

LAWRENCE GAS AND ELECTRIC CO.

NOTICE OF FILING FOR AUTHORITY TO ISSUE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF PROMISSORY NOTES

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of May A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that Lawrence Gas and Electric Company ("Lawrence") a public utility subsidiary company of New England Electric System, a registered holding company, has filed a declaration, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935. The filing has designated section 7 of the act and Rule U-42 (b) (2) promulgated thereunder as being applicable to the transactions described therein.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than May 31, 1951, at 12:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after 12:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., on May 31, 1951, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration, which is on file in the offices of the Commission, for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

Lawrence proposes, under the terms and provisions of a bank loan agreement, to issue to five banks, namely, The First National Bank of Boston, The Chase National Bank of the City of New York, Central Hanover Bank and Trust Company, Irving Trust Company and The New York Trust Company, from time to time but not later than December 31, 1951, promissory notes in an aggregate principal amount up to but not exceeding $2,000,000. Said notes will mature April 1, 1952, and will bear interest at the rate of not less than 2½ percent per annum nor more than 2¾ percent per annum. The proposed bank load agreement provides, among other things, for the payment of commitment commissions at the rate of ¼ of 1 percent per annum for the period from May 15, 1951, to December 31, 1951, on the average daily difference between the amount of the banks' commitments and the amount borrowed.

The proceeds to be derived from the proposed notes will be used by Lawrence for the payment of $100,000 face amount of presenty outstanding promissory notes and to finance temporarily its construction program through the year 1951 and to pay for the conversion costs in connection with the distribution of natural gas which the company expects will be available in the latter half of 1951.

Lawrence proposes that if any permanent financing is done, or if all or substantially all of its gas properties are sold, before the maturity of the notes proposed to be issued, it will apply the proceeds therefrom in reduction of, or in total payment of, notes then outstanding, and the balance of such amount of notes then authorized but unissued, if any, will be reduced by the amount, if any, by which such permanent financing, or the proceeds from the sale of gas properties, exceeds the notes at the time outstanding.

The declaration states that incidental services in connection with the proposed transactions will be performed, at cost, by New England Power Service Company, an affiliated service company, such cost being estimated not to exceed $1,000. Other expenses, not including the out-of-pocket expenses or counsel fees of The First National Bank of Boston as agent for the lending banks but including the printing of the bank loan agreement, are estimated not to exceed $100.

The declaration further states that no state commission has jurisdiction over the proposed transactions.

Lawrence requests that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance.

By the Commission.

BANCO DI ROMA "FRANCE"

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of Banco Di Roma "France," Paris, France, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F-27-2628.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock in any of said accounts, excepting from the foregoing, however, all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained,

is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 4, 1951.

In re: Trust Agreement dated April 12, 1924, between Baron Alfred Palm, grantor, and National Savings and Trust Company et al., trustees. File No. F-28-450-G-1.

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Order 9193, as amended, and Executive Order 9788, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That Baron Alfred von Palm, Blanca Freifrau von Eyb, nee von Palm, Verena von Palm, Josi von Palm, Silvia von Palm, Marina von Palm, Hubertus von Palm, Verena von Palm, nee Hoffmann, Irene von St. Andre, Blanka (Blanca) Cotta von Cottendorf, Alexander-Magnus von St. Andre, Roland St. Andre, Bertold St. Andre and Christa St. Andre, whose last known address is Germany, are residents of Germany and nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

2. That the issue, names unknown, of Baron Alfred von Palm, of Irene von St. Andre, and of Blanka (Blanca) Cotta von Cottendorf, who there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of Germany, are nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

3. That the property described as follows:

a. All right, title, interest and claim of any kind or character whatsoever of the persons identified in subparagraphs 1 and 2 hereof, in and to and arising out of or under that certain trust agreement dated April 12, 1924, by and between Baron Alfred Palm, Grantor, and the National Savings and Trust Company, Charles T. Tittmann and Reeves T. Strickland, trustees, including but not limited to the right of Baron Alfred von Palm to terminate, revoke and alter the said trust agreement presently being administered by the National Savings and Trust Company, Washington, D. C., and by Charles T. Tittmann, 1718 Connecticut Avenue, NW., Washington, D. C., as trustees, and

b. All property in the possession, custody or control of the said National Savings and Trust Company and of the said Charles T. Tittmann, trustees, under that certain trust agreement dated April 12, 1924, by and between Baron Alfred Palm, Grantor, and the National Savings and Trust Company, Charles T. Tittmann and Reeves T. Strickland, trustees, including particularly but not limited to:

(1) Those certain bonds described in Exhibit A, attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with any and all rights thereunder and thereto.

(2) An undivided one-third (1/3) interest in those certain shares of stock described in Exhibit B, attached hereto and by reference made a part hereof, together with all declared and unpaid dividends thereon, and

(3) The sum of $6,116.26 as of February 13, 1951, together with any and all accruals thereto, is property within the United States owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or which is evidence of ownership or control by, the aforesaid nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany);

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons named in subparagraph 1 hereof and the issue, names unknown, of Baron Alfred von Palm, of Irene von St. Andre and of Blanka (Blanca) Cotta von Cottendorf, are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country (Germany).

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 3-a hereof, and

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described in subparagraph 3-b hereof, subject to all lawful fees and disbursements of the National Savings and Trust Company, and of Charles T. Tittmann, as trustees, under that certain trust agreement dated April 12, 1924, between Baron Alfred Palm, Grantor, and the National Savings and Trust Company, Charles T. Tittmann and Reeves T. Strickland, trustees.

All such property so vested shall be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold, or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 14, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

TITLE 6—AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

Chapter IV—Production and Marketing Administration and Commodity Credit Corporation, Department of Agriculture

Subchapter C—Loans, Purchases, and Other Operations

[1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supp. 1, Soybeans]

PART 601—GRAINS AND RELATED COMMODITIES

SUBPART—1951-CROP SOYBEANS LOAN AND PURCHASE AGREEMENT PROGRAM

A price support program has been announced for the 1951 crop of soybeans. The 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, (16 F. R. 1987) issued by the Commodity Credit Corporation and containing the general requirements with respect to price support operations for grains and related commodities produced in 1951, is supplemented as follows:

Sec.
601.1151 Purpose.
601.1152 Availability of price support.
601.1153 Eligible soybeans.
601.1154 Warehouse receipts.
601.1155 Determination of quantity.
601.1156 Determination of quality.
601.1157 Maturity of loans.
601.1158 Determination of support rates.
601.1159 Warehouse charges.
601.1160 Settlement.

AUTHORITY: §§ 601.1151 to 601.1160 issued under sec. 4, 62 Stat. 1070, as amended; 15 U. S. C. 714b. Interpret or apply sec. 5, 62 Stat. 1072; secs. 301, 401, 63 Stat. 1053; 15 U. S. C. Sup., 714, 7 U. S. C. Sup., 1447, 1421.

§ 601.1151 Purpose. Sections 601.1151 to 601.1160 state additional specific requirements which, together with the general requirements contained in the 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1 (16 F. R. 1987) apply to loans and purchase agreements under the 1951-Crop Soybean Price Support Program.

§ 601.1152 Availability of price support—(a) Method of support. Price support will be made available through farm-storage and warehouse storage loans and through purchase agreements.

(b) Area. Farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans and purchase agreements will be available wherever soybeans are grown in the continental United States, except that farm-storage loans will not be available in areas where the PMA State committee determines that soybeans cannot be safely stored on the farms.

(c) Where to apply. Application for price support should be made at the office of the PMA county committee which keeps the farm-program records for the farm.

(d) When to apply. Loans and purchase agreements will be available from the time of harvest through January 31, 1952, and the applicable documents must be signed by the producer and delivered to the county committee not later than such final date.

(e) Eligible producer. An eligible producer shall be an individual, partnership, association, corporation, or other legal entity producing soybeans in 1951 as landowner, landlord, tenant or sharecropper.

§ 601.1153 Eligible soybeans. At the time the soybeans are placed under loan or delivered under a purchase agreement, they must meet the following requirements:

(a) The soybeans must have been produced in the continental United States in 1951 by an eligible producer.

(b) The beneficial interest in the soybeans must be in the producer tendering the soybeans for loan or for delivery under a purchase agreement, and must always have been in him, or must have been in him and a former producer whom he succeeded before the soybeans were harvested.

(c) The soybeans must be soybeans of any class, grading No. 4 or better and containing not in excess of 14 percent moisture.

(d) The soybeans must not grade "Garlicky" or "Weevily."

(e) If offered as security for a farm-storage loan, the soybeans must have been stored in the bin or granary at least 30 days prior to inspection for measurement, sampling, and sealing unless otherwise approved by the PMA State committee.

§ 601.1154 Warehouse receipts. Warehouse receipts must meet the following requirements in order to be pledged as security for a loan or delivered to CCC under a purchase agreement:

(a) Warehouse receipts must indicate that the soybeans are insured, must be issued in the name of the producer, must be properly endorsed in blank so as to vest title in the holder, and must be issued by a warehouse approved by CCC under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement, or a warehouse operated by eastern common carriers under tariffs approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission for which custodian agreements are in effect.

(b) Each warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate (in duplicate), properly identified with the warehouse receipt, must show: (1) Gross weight or bushels, (2) class, (3) grade, (4) test weight, (5) moisture, and (6) any other grading factor(s) when such factor(s), and not test weight or moisture determine the grade. For soybeans grading No. 3 or 4, the percentage of splits, damage, and foreign material, if any, must also be shown. In the case of warehouse receipts issued for soybeans delivered by rail or barge, the grading factors on the warehouse receipt or the warehouseman's supplemental certificate must agree with the inbound inspection certificate for the car or barge, when such certificate is issued.

(c) A separate warehouse receipt must be submitted for each grade and class of soybeans.

(d) The warehouse receipt may be subject to liens for warehouse charges only to the extent indicated in § 601.1159.

§ 601.1155 Determination of quantity. (a) The quantity of soybeans placed under farm-storage loan may be determined either by weight or by measurement. The quantity of soybeans placed under a warehouse-storage loan or delivered under a farm-storage loan or under a purchase agreement shall be determined by weight.

(b) When the quantity is determined by weight, a bushel shall be 60 pounds of soybeans free of foreign material in excess of 3 percent. In determining the quantity of sack soybeans by weight, a deduction of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a pound for each sack shall be made.

(c) When the quantity of soybeans is determined by measurement, a bushel shall be 1.25 cubic feet of soybeans testing 60 pounds per bushel. The quantity determined shall be the following percentages of the quantity determined for 60-pound soybeans.

For soybeans testing	Percent
60 pounds or over	100
59 pounds or over, but less than 60	98
58 pounds or over, but less than 59	97
57 pounds or over, but less than 58	95
56 pounds or over, but less than 57	93
55 pounds or over, but less than 56	92
54 pounds or over, but less than 55	90
53 pounds or over, but less than 54	88
52 pounds or over, but less than 53	87
51 pounds or over, but less than 52	85
50 pounds or over, but less than 51	83
49 pounds or over, but less than 50	82

§ 601.1156 Determination of quality. The class, grade, grading factors, percentage of foreign material, and all other quality factors shall be determined in accordance with the method set forth in the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Soybeans, whether or not such determinations are made on the basis of an official inspection. Foreign material which totals 3 percent or less shall not be deducted from the gross weight of the soybeans. If the total weight of foreign material is in excess of 3 percent, the excess shall be deducted from the total weight of soybeans in the determination of the net number of bushels of soybeans. For purposes of this determination, foreign material shall be computed in tenths of one percent.

§ 601.1157 Maturity of loans. Loans mature on demand but not later than May 31, 1952.

§ 601.1158 Determination of support rates. Basic county support rates for soybeans will be set forth in 1951 C. C. C. Grain Price Support Bulletin 1, Supplement 2, Soybeans. The support rate for the quality of soybeans placed under a loan or delivered under a purchase agreement shall be the applicable basic support rate adjusted in accordance with the provisions of this section.

(a) County support rates for No. 2, or better, soybeans. Both farm-storage and warehouse-storage loans will be made at the support rate established for the county in which the soybeans are stored. County support rates per bushel will be established for soybeans of the classes Green Soybeans and Yellow Soybeans meeting the minimum standards for grade No. 2, in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Soybeans.

(b) Variations for classes. County support rates per bushel for soybeans of the classes Black Soybeans, Brown Soybeans, and Mixed Soybeans meeting the minimum standards for grade No. 2, in accordance with the Official Grain Standards of the United States for Soybeans, shall be 20 cents per bushel less than the support rates for the classes Green Soybeans and Yellow Soybeans.

Discounts and premiums for other eligible grades and qualities of all classes of soybeans shall be as set forth under paragraph (c) of this section.

(c) Discounts and premiums. The basic support rates specified for the classes of soybeans in paragraph (a) of this section shall be adjusted by the discounts and premiums listed below, to determine the support rate for soybeans of other eligible grades.

SCHEDULE OF PREMIUMS AND DISCOUNTS ON BASIC SUPPORT RATE FOR 1951-CROP SOYBEANS

§ 601.1159 Warehouse charges. (a) Warehouse receipts and the soybeans represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement may be subject to liens for warehouse handling and storage charges at not to exceed the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement rates from the date the soybeans are deposited in the warehouse for storage.

(b) Where the date of deposit (the date of the warehouse receipt if the date of deposit is not shown) on warehouse receipts representing soybeans stored in warehouses operating under the Uniform Grain Storage Agreement is on or before May 31, 1952, the storage charges per bushel specified in the following table shall be deducted in computing the amount of the loan or the purchase price.

(c) Warehouse receipts and the soybeans represented thereby stored in approved warehouses operated by eastern common carriers may be subject to liens for warehouse elevation (receiving and delivering) and storage charges from the date of deposit at rates approved by the Interstate Commerce Commission.

(d) For soybeans stored in approved warehouses operated by eastern common carriers, there shall be deducted in computing the loan or purchase price the amount of the approved tariff rates for storage (not including elevation), which will accumulate from the date of deposit to the program maturity date. The county committee shall request the PMA commodity office to determine the amount of such charges. Where the producer presents evidence showing that the elevation has been prepaid, the amount of the storage charges to be deducted shall be reduced by the amount of the elevation charge prepaid by the producer.

§ 601.1160 Settlement.—(a) Farm-storage loans. (1) In the case of soybeans delivered to CCC from farm-storage under the loan program, settlement shall be made at the applicable support rate for the approved point of delivery. The support rate shall be applied to the grade and quality of the total quantity of soybeans delivered.

(2) If the soybeans under farm-storage loan are, upon delivery of a grade and or quality for which no support rate has been established, the settlement value shall be the support rate established for the grade and or quality of the soybeans placed under loan, less the difference, if any, at the time of delivery, between the market price for the grade and or quality placed under loan and the market price of the soybeans delivered, as determined by CCC.

(3) In no event shall the soybeans for which the grade and or quality is lower than the lowest grade and or quality for which settlement rates are established, have a settlement value in excess of the settlement value of the lowest grade and or quality of such soybeans for which settlement rates are established.

(4) If farm-stored soybeans are delivered to CCC prior to May 31, 1952, upon request of the producer and with the approval of CCC, the loan settlement shall be reduced by the applicable rate of storage charges per bushel, determined according to the date of such delivery to CCC as set forth in § 601.1159.

(b) Purchase agreement. Soybeans delivered to CCC under a purchase agreement must meet the requirements of soybeans eligible for loan. The purchase rate per bushel of eligible soybeans shall be the support rate established for the approved point of delivery, subject to deduction of warehouse charges in accordance with § 601.1159.

(c) Track-loading. A track-loading payment of 2 cents per bushel will be made to the producer on soybeans delivered to CCC on track at a country point.

Issued this 23d day of May 1951.

TITLE 7—AGRICULTURE

Chapter III—Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine, Department of Agriculture

PART 301—DOMESTIC QUARANTINE NOTICES

SUBPART—PINK BOLLWORM

QUARANTINE IN LOUISIANA, OKLAHOMA AND TEXAS

On December 30, 1950, there was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (15 F. R. 9522) a notice of public hearing and of proposed rule making concerning an amendment of the pink bollworm quarantine (7 CFR 301.52) to quarantine the State of Louisiana because of the pink bollworm and amendments of the regulations supplemental to said quarantine (7 CFR and Supp. 301.52–1 et seq., as amended, 15 F. R. 164) to designate as regulated areas certain specified parishes or counties in the States of Louisiana, Oklahoma, and Texas. After public hearing and due consideration of all relevant matters presented, and pursuant to section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161), the Secretary of Agriculture hereby amends §§ 301.52, 301.52–2, and 301.52–3 (c) to read as follows:

§ 301.52 Notice of quarantine. Under the authority conferred by section 8 of the Plant Quarantine Act of August 20, 1912, as amended (7 U. S. C. 161), and having held the public hearings required thereunder, the Secretary of Agriculture quarantines the States of Arizona, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma, and Texas, to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm, and under authority contained in the Plant Quarantine Act and the Insect Pest Act of March 3, 1905 (7 U. S. C. 141 et seq.), the Secretary of Agriculture hereinafter prescribes regulations governing the movement of pink bollworms and carriers thereof. Hereafter (a) okra, including all parts of the plants; (b) cotton, wild cotton, including all parts of both cotton and wild cotton plants, seed cotton, cotton lint, linters, and all other forms of unmanufactured cotton fiber, gin waste, cottonseed, cottonseed hulls, cottonseed cake, and meal; (c) bagging and other containers and wrappers of cotton and cotton products; (d) railway cars, boats, and other means of transportation which have been used in conveying regulated cotton products or which are fouled with such products; and (e) when contaminated with regulated cotton products, any other commodities, including farm products, farm household goods, and farm equipment, shall not be shipped, offered for shipment to a common carrier, received for transportation or transported by a common carrier, or carried, transported, moved, or allowed to be moved from any of said quarantined States into or through any other State or Territory or District of the United States in manner or method or under conditions other than those prescribed in the regulations hereinafter made and amendments thereto: Provided, That the requirements of this quarantine and of the rules and regulations supplemental to this subpart are hereby limited to the areas in a quarantined State now, or which may hereafter be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture as regulated areas, as long as, in the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture, the enforcement of the said rules and regulations as to such regulated areas shall be adequate to prevent the spread of the pink bollworm, except that such limitation is further conditioned upon the affected State or States providing for and enforcing control of the intrastate movement of the regulated articles under the same conditions as those which apply to their interstate movement under the provisions of the currently existing Federal quarantine regulations, and upon their enforcing such control and sanitation measures with respect to such areas or portions thereof as, in the judgment of the Secretary of Agriculture, shall be deemed adequate to prevent the intrastate spread therefrom of the said insect infestation: Provided further, That whenever the Chief of the Bureau of Entomology and Plant Quarantine shall find that facts exist as to pest risk involved in the movement of one or more of the articles to which the regulations supplemental hereto apply, making it safe to modify, by making less stringent, the requirements contained in any such regulations, he shall set forth and publish such finding in administrative instructions, specifying the manner in which the applicable regulations should be made less stringent, whereupon such modification shall become effective, for such period and for such regulated area or portion thereof or for such article or articles as shall be specified in said administrative instructions.

§ 301.52–2 Regulated areas. The following areas are hereby designated as regulated areas within the meaning of the regulations in this subpart and are further classed as heavily or lightly infested:

(a) Heavily infested areas.

Texas. Counties of Brewster, Cameron, Culberson, Jeff Davis, Hidalgo, Hudspeth, Presidio, Terrell, Willacy, and that part of El Paso County lying east of an imaginary line extending due north from the Texas-Mexico boundary to the point near U. S. Highway 80 where secs. 4, 5, 8, and 9, T. 29 S., R. 4 E. have a common corner, thence due north to the Texas-New Mexico boundary.

(b) Lightly infested areas.

Arizona. Counties of Cochise, Graham, Greenlee, and Santa Cruz, and all of Pima County[1] except that part lying west of the western boundary line of range 8 east.

Louisiana. Parishes of Acadia, Allen, Beauregard, Calcasieu, Cameron, Evangeline, Iberia, Jefferson Davis, Lafayette, St. Landry, St. Martin and Vermilion.

New Mexico. Counties of Chaves, Catron, Curry, De Baca, Dona Ana, Eddy, Grant, Hidalgo, Lea, Luna, Otero, Quay, Roosevelt, Sierra, Socorro, and Valencia.

Oklahoma. Counties of Beckham, Caddo, Comanche, Cotton, Greer, Harmon, Jackson, Jefferson, Kiowa, Stephens, Tillman and Washita.

Texas. Counties of Andrews, Aransas, Archer, Atascosa, Austin, Bailey, Bandera, Bastrop, Baylor, Bee, Bell, Bexar, Blanco, Borden, Bosque, Brazoria, Brooks, Brown, Burnet, Caldwell, Calhoun, Callahan, Chambers, Childress, Clay, Cochran, Coke, Coleman, Collingsworth, Colorado, Comanche, Comal, Concho, Coryell, Cottle, Crane, Crockett, Crosby, Dawson, De Witt, Dickens, Dimmit, Donley, Duval, Eastland, Ector, Edwards, Erath, Falls, Fayette, Fisher, Floyd, Foard, Fort Bend, Frio, Gaines, Garza, Gillespie, Glasscock, Goliad, Gonzales, Gray, Guadalupe, Hale, Hall, Hamilton, Hardeman, Haskell, Hays, Hill, Hockley, Hood, Howard, Irion, Jack, Jackson, Jefferson, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Johnson, Jones, Karnes, Kendall, Kenedy, Kent, Kerr, Kimble, King, Kinney, Kleberg, Knox, Lamb, Lampasas, LaSalle, Lavaca, Lee, Liberty, Limestone, Live Oak, Llano, Loving, Lubbock, Lynn, Martin, Mason, Matagorda, Maverick, McCulloch, McLennan, McMullen, Medina, Menard, Midland, Milam, Mills, Mitchell, Motley, Nolan, Nueces, Orange, Palo Pinto, Parker, Pecos, Reagan, Real, Reeves, Refugio, Runnels, San Patricio, San Saba, Schleicher, Scurry, Shackelford, Somervell, Starr, Stephens, Sterling, Stonewall, Sutton, Taylor, Terry, Throckmorton, Tom Green, Travis, Upton, Uvalde, Val Verde, Victoria, Ward, Webb, Wharton, Wheeler, Wichita, Wilbarger, Willamson, Wilson, Winkler, Yoakum, Young, Zapata and Zavala; and that part of El Paso County lying west of an imaginary line extending due north from the Texas-Mexico boundary to the point near U. S. Highway 80 where secs. 4, 5, 8, and 9, T. 29 S., R. 4 E. have a common corner, thence due north to the Texas-New Mexico boundary.

§ 301.52–3 Articles the movement of which is limited or prohibited. • • •

(c) Articles conditionally authorized movement.—(1) Articles requiring certification. Cotton lint and linters, either baled or unbaled, cottonseed produced in lightly infested area, cottonseed hulls, meal, and cake, and okra may be moved (i) from regulated area to points outside thereof, or (ii) from regulated area to noncontiguous regulated area, or (iii) from heavily infested to contiguous lightly infested area, only when accompanied by a certificate or permit as hereinafter provided.

(2) Articles not requiring certification. No certificates or permits are required for the movement of (i) cotton lint and linters, either baled or unbaled, cottonseed produced in lightly infested area, cottonseed hulls, meal, and cake, and okra, from a lightly infested area to a contiguous, lightly or heavily infested area, or from a heavily infested area to a contiguous heavily infested area, or (ii) samples of cotton lint and linters, weighing approximately 1½ pounds, originating in a regulated area, provided that the bales of cotton lint or linters from which the samples have been taken have been produced in an approved gin or oil mill and subsequently protected from contamination.

[1] Part of the lightly infested area in Arizona is regulated on account of the Thurberia weevil under Quarantine No. 61, and shipments therefrom must also comply with the requirements of that quarantine (7 CFR 301.61 et seq.)

The principal purposes of these amendments are to add the State of Louisiana to the pink bollworm quarantined area and to include 12 parishes of that State within the lightly infested area. The amendments also add one county in New Mexico, 4 counties in Oklahoma, and 44 counties in Texas to the area designated as lightly infested. All of these parishes and counties are newly infested or are affected by infestations in adjacent counties. Two of the counties, Catron in New Mexico and Parker in Texas, were not included in the notice of proposed rule making (15 F. R. 9522). Catron County is now included in the regulated area in order that cottonseed produced in small, isolated sections of adjacent regulated counties in New Mexico may be moved into that county for processing without the necessity for obtaining permits. Such action is being taken at the request of New Mexico quarantine officials made subsequent to the notice of proposed rule making. The pink bollworm infestation in Parker County was discovered some time after the notice of proposed rule making was issued. Prompt action on the foregoing amendments, except the one pertaining to Catron County, is necessary in order to control the movement from the added parishes and counties of articles that might spread the pink bollworm. Public interest requires prompt action on the amendment respecting Catron County in order to facilitate the movement of cottonseed from adjacent regulated areas to that county for processing.

The amendment pertaining to the movement of samples of cotton lint and linters from the regulated area, without certification, was also not referred to in the notice of proposed rule making. The effect of that amendment, however, is to relieve restrictions heretofore imposed. Such relief may be granted with safety and public interest requires that it be made available as soon as practicable.

Accordingly, pursuant to the provisions of section 4 of the Administrative Procedure Act (5 U. S. C. 1003), it is found upon good cause that further notice and public procedure in connection with such amendments are impracticable, unnecessary, and contrary to the public interest, and good cause is found for making the document effective less than 30 days after publication. Such notice and hearing are not required by any other statute.

(Sec. 8, 37 Stat. 318, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 161)

These amendments shall become effective May 29, 1951.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of May 1951.

[SEAL] C. J. McCORMICK,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 9—ANIMALS AND ANIMAL PRODUCTS

Chapter I—Bureau of Animal Industry, Department of Agriculture

PART 131—HANDLING OF ANTI-HOG-CHOLERA SERUM AND HOG-CHOLERA VIRUS

DETERMINATION RELATIVE TO BUDGET OF EXPENSES AND FIXING RATES OF ASSESSMENT FOR 1951

On April 15, 1951, a notice of proposed rule making was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 3535) regarding the budget of expenses and the fixing of the rates of assessment for the calendar year 1951 under the marketing agreement and the marketing order (9 CFR 131.1 et seq.; 15 F. R. 8154), regulating the handling of anti-hog-cholera serum and high-cholera virus. This regulatory program is effective pursuant to Public Law No. 320, 74th Congress, approved August 24, 1935 (7 U. S. C. 851 et seq.).

The notice provided a period of 10 days for interested parties to file data, views or arguments with the Hearing Clerk. Only one objection in the form of a letter was received, which objection related to the proposed increase in the salary of the Executive Secretary. After consideration of all relevant matters presented, including the proposals set forth in the aforesaid notice, it is hereby found and determined that:

(1) The expenses which will necessarily be incurred by the Control Agency, established pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement and of the marketing order, for the maintenance and functioning of said Agency during the calendar year 1951, will amount to $38,540.00 under the recommendation of the Control Agency, from which shall be deducted the unexpended balance of $6,829.86 on hand with said Control Agency on January 1, 1951, from assessments collected during the calendar year 1950, leaving a balance of $31,710.14 to be collected during the calendar year 1951, and (2) of the amount of $31,710.14 to be collected during the calendar year 1951, the sum of $23,211.82 shall be assessed against handlers who are manufacturers, and $8,498.32 shall be assessed against handlers who, as distributors, market their products principally through veterinarians or other channels. The pro rata share of the expenses of the Control Agency to be paid for the calendar year 1951 by each handler who is a manufacturer shall be $11.34 per million cubic centimeters (determined by the nearest whole number) of hyperimmune blood collected by such handler during the calendar year 1950 and the pro rata share of such expenses to be paid for the calendar year 1951 by each handler who, as a distributor, markets his products principally through veterinarians or other channels shall be $25.00 for the first million cubic centimeters or fraction thereof and $5.80 for each additional million cubic centimeters or fraction thereof of serum sold by such handler. Such assesments shall be paid by each respective handler in accordance with the applicable provisions of the marketing agreement and order.

Terms: As used herein, the terms "handler", "manufacturer", "distributor", and "serum" shall have the same meaning as is given to each such term in said marketing agreement and marketing order.

Approval of this budget shall not constitute a determination that any recommended salary increase is in accordance with the regulations, orders or determinations of the Wage Stabilization Board and, further, shall not be deemed to authorize the payment of or constitute disapproval of, such recommended increases.

Findings relative to effective date. It is hereby further found that (1) the fiscal year of the Control Agency established pursuant to the provisions of the marketing agreement and the marketing order corresponds to the calendar year, and the current calendar year 1951 is already well advanced; (2) the expenses of operating this regulatory program since January 1, 1951, have been paid with funds representing assessments collected in excess of expenses incurred during the calendar year 1950; (3) all such funds have already been expended; (4) in order for the administrative assessments to be collected, it is essential that the specification of the assessment rates be effective immediately so as to enable the Control Agency to perform its respective duties and functions under the aforesaid marketing agreement and marketing order; and (5) no preparation with respect to this determination is required of persons regulated which cannot be completed prior to the effective date hereof. Wherefore, it is hereby determined that good cause exists for making this determination effective upon its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

(Sec. 60, 49 Stat. 782; 7 U. S. C. 855)

Done at Washington, D. C., this 24th day of May, 1951, to become effective upon publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

TITLE 15—COMMERCE AND FOREIGN TRADE

Chapter III—Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce, Department of Commerce

Subchapter A—Office of Business Economics

PART 305—CENSUS OF AMERICAN DIRECT INVESTMENTS IN FOREIGN COUNTRIES

Introduction. The Census of American Direct Investments in Foreign Countries is being conducted by the Department of Commerce to provide a complete and accurate account of the amount of such investments at the end of 1950, the net change in direct investments during the year and the return on these investments.

The need for accurate information of this type has been recognized since the early 1920's when private investment funds from the United States began to flow to foreign countries in considerable volume. As a result of the demand for accurate statistics thus created, the Department of Commerce conducted the first census of foreign direct investments covering the year 1929. Subsequent censuses were taken by the Commerce Department for the years 1936 and 1940 and in 1943, the Treasury Department took a census of American-owned assets in foreign countries.

Since the conclusion of World War II, the volume of foreign investments has been at an unprecedentedly high level and the need for accurate statistics has been more widespread than ever. The time elapsed since the last complete census and the conclusion of the war and the subsequent economic and political disorders throughout the world have resulted in considerable change in the pattern and distribution of foreign investments. The economic and political significance of foreign investments has further enhanced the demand for these data, both from Federal executive agencies responsible for the administration of various phases of the Government's program for international technical assistance and economic development, and from industrial and business groups. In addition, since the end of hostilities in 1945, a number of international organizations have been established to provide a mechanism to handle more effectively international economic problems. Since foreign investments are a measure of progress of many of these programs, and at the same time a solution of many of the problems, the need of these groups for accurate foreign investment information is very great.

The data collected in this census, in addition to providing complete statistics of American direct foreign investments for 1950, will serve as a base from which current data collected in sample surveys can be expanded to reliable total estimates of capital and income movement. These current statistics constitute an important part of the total United States balance of payments.

The information requested in this census has been set up on questionnaire forms A, B, and C, described in detail in § 305.2. Forms A and B are directed toward the financial statistics required to provide current balance of payments information. Form C requests additional information not directly related to the balance of payments data, but nevertheless of importance in the direction of various phases of the Government's program of international technical assistance and economic development.

Pursuant to Executive Order 10033 of February 8, 1949 (14 F. R. 561) the National Advisory Council on International Monetary and Financial Problems has determined that the information specified on Forms A and B of this census is essential in order that the United States Government may compile current statistics on the balance of payments for the use of the United States Government and to be submitted to the International Monetary Fund in accordance with section 8 of the Bretton Woods Agreement Act (59 Stat. 515, 22 U. S. C. 286f).

In accordance with sections 2 (b) and 2 (c) of Executive Order 10033, the Director of the Bureau of the Budget has designated the Commerce Department as the Federal executive agency to collect balance of payments data and the Secretary of Commerce has assigned this responsibility to the Office of Business Economics, Department of Commerce.

Replies on forms A and B are therefore mandatory under section 8 (b) of the Bretton Woods Agreement Act cited above. Although replies to the questions listed on form C are not required under the Act, reporters are strongly urged to reply on this form insofar as the information is available to them.

This census has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget under the Federal Reports Act (Public Law No. 831, 77th Congress). All replies will be held in confidence by the Balance of Payments Division, Office of Business Economics, under the provisions of section 4 (b) of that Act and section 8 (c) of the Bretton Woods Agreement Act.

Insofar as the Administrative Procedure Act may apply to the taking of this census, I find that because of the nature of the census and the fact that these regulations are merely declaratory of the statute and executive order therein mentioned, notice and public procedure thereon are impracticable and unnecessary.

[SEAL] CHARLES SAWYER,
Secretary of Commerce.

305.10 Information regarding preparation of reports.

AUTHORITY: §§ 305.1 to 305.10 issued under R. S. 161; 5 U. S. C. 22; E. O. 10033, Feb. 8, 1949, 14 F. R. 561; 3 CFR, 1949 Supp.

§ 305.1 Who must report—(a) Basic requirement. A report is required from every corporation, partnership, estate or trust, individual, or any other person, or closely related group of persons subject to the jurisdiction of the United States, and ordinarily residing within the United States, having at the close of business on December 31, 1950:

(1) Control of a foreign business organization owned directly or in conjunction with an affiliated person, foreign or domestic. (For complete description see § 305.5 (f) and (g).)

(2) Outright ownership of real property located outside the United States, exclusive of real property held for personal use and not productive of income.

(3) Ownership of a sole proprietorship type of business enterprise, located outside of the United States.

Reports are required covering the above types of property if ownership certificates were legally in existence and held by the reporter on December 31, 1950, even though the assets may have been destroyed or expropriated by Government action prior to that date. Such holdings are to be reported as of the last date that information relating to the foreign organization is available.

(b) Estates and trusts. Direct foreign investments held in a domestic estate or trust, i. e., an estate or trust created under the laws of the United States or any subdivision thereof, shall be reported by the fiduciary and not by a beneficiary. Such property must be reported whether or not any beneficiary is subject to the laws of the United States or any subdivision thereof. Any trust actually created in the United States even though the trust instrument provides that the trust shall be subject to the laws of a foreign country must report.

(c) Persons beneficially interested in property. If direct foreign investments beneficially owned by a person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States were held by or in the name of another, only the person having the beneficial interest shall report, except as specially provided above regarding domestic estates and trusts.

(d) More than one person owning an interest in the same foreign organization or foreign property. Each person is required to report if the aggregate ownership of the affiliated persons in the foreign organization totals 25 percent or more of the voting securities unless affiliated through an estate or trust as provided in paragraph (b) of this section.

(e) United States branches and offices of foreign persons. A branch or office in the United States of a person within a foreign country shall report with respect to property in foreign countries allocated to, held for the use of, or claimed by such branch or office, but shall not report other property of the foreign person.

§ 305.2 Forms to be used.[1] Each reporter is required under the law to submit reports on two types of forms. A third form has been included in the survey, replies to which, while of considerable importance, are voluntary. The three forms are:

(a) Form A. This form is to provide, in addition to certain information identifying the reporting organization, a complete list of all foreign organizations allied with the reporter.

(b) Form B. One Form B is required for each allied foreign organization listed by the reporter on Form A. In the case of affiliated persons allied with the same foreign organization, reports on Form B are required from each. However, only one of the affiliated persons is required to complete part B of Form B. Part B may be omitted only if the reporter has definite knowledge that one of the affiliates is completing that part of the form, and all reporters remain fully liable for the complete report. In the event that part B of Form B is omitted the reporter is required to indicate, in the space provided on the form, the name of the affiliate who is including part B with its report.

(c) Form C. One Form C is requested from each reporting organization. Although this form is not mandatory under the act, respondents are urged to report as fully as possible, in view of the urgent need for the information requested.

§ 305.3 Property not to be reported; Basic requirement. Properties not specifically included in § 305.1 (a) are to be excluded from the scope of this survey and are not to be reported. Properties excluded from this survey include:

(a) Foreign currency, foreign government bonds, or other foreign government securities, except as they are included among the assets of a foreign allied organization.

(b) Notes, bonds, or other documents of indebtedness issued by a foreign organization, not allied with the reporter nor with any affiliates of the reporter, except as they are included among the assets of an allied foreign organization.

(c) Real or personal property held for the reporter's personal use, e. g., hunting lodges, homes, automobiles, etc., retained for personal use and not productive of income.

§ 305.4 Exemptions—(a) Exemption based on value of property. An individual whose property in foreign countries otherwise subject to reporting, has an aggregate value of less than $25,000, is not required to report. Value to be determined by the cost, reporters estimated market value, or the book value as carried on the books of the foreign organization converted into United States dollars, whichever is the greatest. Corporations, partnerships, and all other persons except individuals are required to report irrespective of the value of their foreign investments.

(b) Certain persons exempted regardless of the amount or kind of property. Report need not be made by any person who is within any of the following categories on or after December 31, 1950, regardless of the amount or kind of property otherwise reportable by such persons; (1) Members of the armed forces of the United States serving outside continental United States; (2) citizens of the United States who permanently reside in a foreign country; (3) officers or employees of foreign governments and members of the immediate families of such persons, provided they are not citizens of the United States; (4) religious bodies, charitable organizations and other non-profit organizations, except for the interests of such groups in foreign organizations conducting business for profit.

§ 305.5 Definitions. For the purpose of this part and any instructions or rulings issued hereunder, the following definitions are prescribed:

(a) "Person" shall include an individual, partnership, association, corporation, estate or trust, or other organization.

(b) "Person subject to the jurisdiction of the United States" shall mean (1) any citizen of the United States (but only citizens ordinarily resident in the United States are required to report); (2) any corporation or other organization created or organized under the laws of the United States or any state, territory, district, or possession thereof; (3) any individual resident in the United States on December 31, 1950, except as specifically excluded in § 305.4 (b).

(c) "United States" shall mean the 48 States, the District of Columbia and any territory or possession of the United States.

(d) "Affiliates" shall mean:

(1) (i) Individuals married to each other, their direct forebears, and their children; (ii) brothers and sisters; (iii) estates of persons, or trusts for the benefit or created by persons, who are deemed to be affiliates of such persons and of each other.

(2) Any group of United States persons who ordinarily exercise their voting rights in a foreign organization as a unit.

(3) In relation to any corporation or other organization issuing stock or similar securities, any person who, directly or indirectly, owned, controlled, or held with power to vote, ten percent or more of the outstanding voting securities thereof.

(4) As to any other organization, any person who owned or controlled ten percent or more of the comparable ownership rights therein.

Any corporation or other United States organization of which a person was an affiliate also shall be deemed to have been an affiliate of such person, and all persons who were direct affiliates of the same United States person shall be deemed to have been affiliates of each other.

(e) "Controlled" organization: The ownership of 25 percent or more of the voting securities of a corporation, or of similar certificates of ownership in other types of organizations, shall constitute control of that organization for the purposes of this census. Note that reports are required for each "allied" foreign organization as defined in paragraph (f) of this section.

(f) "Primary allied foreign organization" shall include the following organizations located in or under the jurisdiction of a foreign country:

(1) Foreign corporation. A foreign corporation shall be said to be a "primary allied foreign organization" if any one of the following conditions is met:

(i) The reporting organization owns 25 percent or more of the voting securities of the foreign corporation.

(ii) The reporting organization owns less than 25 percent of the voting securities of the foreign corporation; however affiliates, either domestic or foreign, of the reporting organization own additional voting securities in the foreign corporation which when added to the amount owned by the reporter, total 25 percent or more.

(iii) The reporting organization owns none of the voting securities of a foreign corporation, but does own bonds, notes, or other certificates of indebtedness of the foreign corporation, or has direct dealings with the foreign corporation by exchange of merchandise or rendering services; and 25 percent or more of the voting securities of the foreign corporation are owned by affiliates (domestic or foreign) of the reporter.

Examples:

1st. A United States corporation (Company DX) owns 25 percent or more of the voting securities of a foreign corporation (Company FZ). Company FZ must be reported by Company DX as a "primary allied foreign organization."

2d. A United States corporation (Company DX) owns some, but less than 25 percent of the voting securities of a foreign corporation (Company FZ). A second corporation (Company DFY) either domestic or foreign, is affiliated with Company DX and owns voting securities of the foreign corporation (Company FZ) which when added to the voting securities owned by Company DX totals 25 percent or more of voting interests of Company FZ. Company FZ must be reported as a "primary allied foreign organization" by the United States Company DX. If the affiliated Company DFY is a United States corporation, the foreign Company FZ must be reported as a "primary allied foreign organization" by both companies DX and DFY. If the affiliated Company DFY is a foreign organization, Company FZ must be reported as a "secondary allied foreign organization" as well as a "primary allied foreign organization." (See paragraph (g).)

3d. A United States corporation (Company DX) owns none of the voting securities of a foreign corporation (Company FZ). Company DX owns bonds or notes of indebtedness issued by Company FZ, or sells merchandise to or buys merchandise from Company FZ, or renders services to Company FZ. An affiliate, or a group of affiliates (either domestic or foreign) of Company DX owns a total of 25 percent or more of the voting securities of the foreign corporation (Company FZ). Company FZ must be reported as a "primary allied foreign organization" by Company DX and by each of the United States affiliates who own certificates of indebtedness or have dealings with the foreign corporation. If any or all of the affiliates of Company DX are foreign organizations, Company FZ must also be reported as a "secondary allied foreign organization." (See paragraph (g) of this section.)

(2) Partnership: A partnership in which a person under the jurisdiction of the United States is one of the partners, whether general, special, limited, or otherwise.

(3) Branch: Unincorporated foreign business of a United States person through foreign branches, or operations of United States persons operating wholly or mainly abroad, are considered branch operations for the purpose of this report. Foreign operations conducted by United States corporations in their own names and not through foreign incorporated companies are to be reported as branch operations.

(4) A business enterprise or real property owned outright by a resident of the United States.

(g) "Secondary allied foreign organization" shall be defined as:

(1) An organization located in a foreign country 50 percent of whose voting securities are owned by a "primary allied foreign organization".

(2) If the foreign organization qualifies as a "primary allied foreign organization" under paragraph (f) (1) (i) or (iii) of this section, it must also be reported as a "secondary allied foreign organization" to each of the reporting organization's foreign affiliates owning any of the voting securities of that foreign organization. (See 2d and 3d examples under paragraph (f) (1) of this section.)

(h) Parent organization: For the purpose of this survey, the parent organization is defined as the organization which owns direct interest in the allied foreign organization. In the case of a "secondary allied foreign organization" the parent organization is the "primary allied foreign organization" which owns voting securities of the "secondary allied foreign organization".

§ 305.6 Space on form insufficient. When space does not permit a full answer to any question on the form, the information required should be submitted on supplementary sheets appropriately labeled and incorporated by reference under the question. To assist respondents in fulfilling this requirement, continuation sheets have been provided. All supplementary sheets, including continuation sheets, should be attached to the form to which they pertain.

§ 305.7 Required information not available. (a) All reasonable efforts should be made to obtain information required for reporting. When communication is impossible, the latest available information should be used. In case only partial information is available, it should be given with an appropriate indication. If any information not available at the time of reporting is obtained thereafter, a supplementary report must be filed promptly with a full explanation.

(b) Every question on each form which a person is required to use in rendering his report must be answered. However, in property summaries and schedules, space not needed for supplying required information should be left entirely blank. When there is nothing to report under any question or if information is entirely lacking, state "no", "none" or "unknown", as the case may be, with an explanation if requisite to a complete understanding of the circumstances.

(c) If disclosure of the information required on any form would violate the security regulations of the country in which the foreign allied organization is located, reporters are specifically exempted from the requirement to report that information.

§ 305.8 Number of copies. A single original copy shall be filed. In addition, each person reporting should retain a copy of his report.

§ 305.9 Time and place of filing reports. Reports shall be filed on or before July 1, 1951, with the Department of Commerce, Office of Business Economics, Balance of Payments Division, Washington 25, D. C.

§ 305.10 Information regarding preparation of reports. Anyone desiring information concerning this survey may apply directly to the United States Department of Commerce, Office of Business Economics, Balance of Payments Division, Washington 25, D. C., or to any field office of the United States Department of Commerce.

[F. R. Doc. 51-6143; Filed, May 28, 1951; 8:49 a. m.]

[1] Copies of all forms and instructions filed as part of the original document and may be obtained from either the United States Department of Commerce, Office of Business Economics, Balance of Payments Division, Washington 25, D. C., or from any field office of the United States Department of Commerce.

TITLE 29—LABOR

Chapter V—Wage and Hour Division, Department of Labor

PART 700—CLAY AND CLAY PRODUCTS INDUSTRY IN PUERTO RICO

MINIMUM WAGE ORDER

Pursuant to the Administrative Procedure Act (60 Stat. 237; 5 U. S. C., Sup., 1001) notice was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER on May 5, 1951 (16 F. R. 4147), of my decision to approve the minimum wage recommendation of Special Industry Committee No. 9 for Puerto Rico for the semi-vitreous and vitreous-china food utensils division of the clay and clay products industry. The amendments to the wage order covering the clay and clay products industry in Puerto Rico which I proposed to issue to carry such recommendation into effect were published with said notice. Interested parties were given an opportunity to submit exceptions within 15 days of the date of publication of the notice.

No exceptions have been received. Accordingly, pursuant to authority under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended (52 Stat. 1060, as amended; 29 U. S. C. 201), said decision is hereby affirmed and made final, and said amendments to said wage order are hereby issued, to become effective June 25, 1951.

1. Change the heading of § 700.1 from "Wage rate" to "Wage rates."

2. Add the following new paragraph to § 700.1 immediately after paragraph (a) thereof:

(b) Wages at a rate of not less than 40 cents per hour shall be paid under section 6 of the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938, as amended, by every employer to each of his employees in the semi-vitreous and vitreous-china food utensils division of the clay and clay products industry in Puerto Rico who is engaged in commerce or in the production of goods for commerce.

3. Delete in its entirety the "Note" under § 700.3 (b) (1) thereof.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 22d day of May 1951.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Amendment 5]

CPR 7—RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN CONSUMER GOODS

ELECTION FOR SELLERS UNDER $100,000

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 5 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (16 F. R. 1872) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

At the time Ceiling Price Regulation 7 was issued it was estimated that as many as 200,000 retailers would be required to price under its provisions. Careful consideration was given to the fact, when the regulation was being drawn up, that while many of these retailers were large firms, able to devote specialized personnel to the task of preparing pricing charts, others were small firms which would find the task of preparing pricing charts, with limited specialized personnel and facilities available to them, to be a burdensome and difficult undertaking. Accordingly, it was concluded that the objectives of price stabilization would be better effectuated by permitting retailers whose annual net dollar volume of total sales in categories covered by the original regulation was less than $20,000 to remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

Amendment 2 to Ceiling Price Regulation 7, issued on April 5, 1951, brought additional thousands of items of merchandise and many additional kinds of retail businesses under the coverage of the regulation. Continued recognition of the fact that most retail firms are small and need a type of price control that is suited to the maximum possible extent to their particular ways of doing business requires a re-examination of the impact of Amendment 2 on small business. Recognition of the need for re-examination has been reinforced by strong representations that have been made to the Office of Price Stabilization concerning the difficulties faced by small retailers in certain lines of trade, in the preparation of pricing charts.

Many small retailers have found that Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is an effective and feasible method of pricing since it is well adapted to their lines of merchandise and their methods of record keeping. Generally, these are retailers who handle merchandise such as furniture, radios, television, certain types of apparel, etc. Even small-volume retailers handling this type of merchandise find Ceiling Price Regulation 7 to be a practical price-control method because they handle a relatively limited number of items in stock with a relatively high retail value per unit.

However, most of the merchandise added to the regulation by Amendment 2 consists of merchandise, such as housewares and notions, which include a relatively large variety and number of items with a relatively low retail value per unit. For this latter type of merchandise, it is burdensome and extremely difficult for small-volume retailers to prepare pricing charts as required under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Accordingly, the Office of Price Stabilization has extended the principle, first given recognition in the original Ceiling Price Regulation 7 (the election for retailers with under $20,000 volume), of permitting small-volume retailers handling certain categories of merchandise to remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation until such time as a more suitable type of regulation adapted to their needs could be devised.

This amendment permits retailers handling housewares, notions, sporting goods, china and glassware and certain other categories with total annual sales volume under $100,000 or annual sales in the above categories under $60,000, the option of pricing pursuant to the General Ceiling Price Regulation instead of being required to prepare pricing charts for those categories pursuant to Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

It is difficult, of course, to draw the line on a volume basis between retailers with facilities adequate to operate under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 and those with inadequate facilities, particularly since the regulation applies in many cases only to part of the merchandise in particular stores. Reliance, therefore, has to be placed upon the opinions of representatives of the retail trades and experts in distribution problems. Upon an evaluation of such representations and opinions the Director has concluded that the objectives of the stabilization program would not be impeded if sellers having either an over-all sales volume of less than $100,000 or a sales volume in certain categories covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 7 of less than $60,000 were permitted to remain under the General Ceiling Price Regulation as to those categories until such time as a more suitable type of regulation adapted to their needs could be devised. Likewise, small volume retailers whose methods of operations are suited to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 are permitted to proceed under that regulation. Accordingly, Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is being amended. Retailers who are permitted to make the election provided by this amendment and who have already filed their charts are permitted to recall them before July 2, 1951.

The Director of Price Stabilization is giving serious and immediate consideration to alternative methods of price control for these small volume retail establishments, which would remove them from the coverage of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

AMENDATORY PROVISION

Section 3 (a) of Ceiling Price Regulation 7 is amended to read as follows:

(a) This regulation applies to you if you are a seller whose sales to individual ultimate consumers of articles covered by this regulation constitute more than 10 percent of sales of the merchandise covered by this regulation which you buy and sell in substantially the same form. You may, however, elect to continue to fix your ceiling prices under the General Ceiling Price Regulation:

(1) For all articles covered by this regulation if all your sales to individual ultimate consumers are "accommodation sales" (see definition in section 59 of this regulation); or

(2) For articles in Categories 101 through 895; 920; and 1001 through 1030, if your annual net dollar volume of total sales of articles in those categories which you buy and sell in substantially the same form in all your departments taken together to individual ultimate consumers amounts to less than $20,000; or

(3) For articles in Categories 901 through 908; 915 through 919; 921 through 924; 940 through 951; 970 through 985,

(i) If your [18] annual net dollar volume of total sales of articles in those categories which you buy and sell in substantially the same form in all your departments taken together to individual ultimate consumers amounts to less than $60,000; or

(ii) If your [18] annual net dollar volume of total sales in all departments taken together of all merchandise which you buy and sell in substantially the same form amounts to less than $100,000.

An election in accordance with the provisions of this paragraph must, if made, apply without exception to all categories in the group as to which the particular election is permitted. You may not subsequently alter an election made under this paragraph, except that if you are a seller permitted to elect to price under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation pursuant to this paragraph, you may, if you have already filed your chart, exercise this election by requesting the return of your chart from your OPS office on or before July 2, 1951.

The election provided in this paragraph does not apply to new sellers. As used in this paragraph "annual" means your most recent calendar or fiscal year (or if you were in business less than one year the dollar volume for the period you were in business projected to cover a one year period.)

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Amendment 5]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

WOODPULP

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105) and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 5 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATION

This amendment adds woodpulp to the list of commodities and transactions in Appendix A of Ceiling Price Regulation 22. Ceiling Price Regulation 22 does not apply to the commodities listed in this Appendix.

[18] For the purpose of exercising this election, insofar as chain food stores are concerned, each retail outlet (or each department in such outlet) of the chain may be considered a seller, even though the chain determines uniform prices centrally.

The Office of Price Stabilization is now completing a tailored dollars-and-cents regulation for domestic and imported woodpulp. This regulation will be part of a joint National Production Authority—Office of Price Stabilization program designed to stabilize the supply and price situation in this industry.

This specific regulation is expected to be issued before or promptly after the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 22. Therefore, the present amendment of Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is being issued to avoid having domestic woodpulp producers determine their individual ceilings under Ceiling Price Regulation 22, which they might use for a few days at the most. This action will enable manufacturers to proceed directly from their individual ceiling prices established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation to the uniform dollars-and-cents prices to be established by the tailored regulation and thus avoid unnecessary and temporary price upheavals in the industry. Woodpulp remains under the provisions of the General Ceiling Price Regulation until the specific dollars-and-cents prices of the forthcoming regulation become effective.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is amended by adding the following to Appendix A:

(ff) Woodpulp.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective May 28, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Amendment 6]

CPR 22—MANUFACTURERS' GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

EXTENSION OF EFFECTIVE DATE AND RELATED CHANGES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The Director of Price Stabilization has determined that the effective date of CPR 22 should be extended from May 28, 1951, to July 2, 1951. At the same time any manufacturer who has completed his calculations under CPR 22 and who has complied with the reporting requirements will be permitted to commence using his new ceiling prices at any time between May 28, 1951, and July 2, 1951. Likewise, a manufacturer may continue to use his GCPR ceiling prices until July 2, 1951, even though he has already complied with the reporting requirements of CPR 22. On and after July 2, 1951, ceiling prices established under CPR 22 become mandatory, except, of course, that sales may always be made at less than ceiling prices.

Prior to issuance of CPR 22 the Director of Price Stabilization consulted with a group of representative cost accountants and controllers who generally were of the opinion that the calculations required under the regulation could readily be completed within the time allowed by the regulation. This was also the opinion of others with whom the matter was discussed. It has since developed that a number of manufacturers has advised that despite diligent efforts additional time is required. It appears that in many areas of industry, purchasers have either refused to accept deliveries or have insisted that refunds be made in the event of a price roll-back. Consequently in these cases as well as most others, it is important for manufacturers to establish their new ceiling prices as promptly as possible and there is no real inducement to delay completing the prescribed calculations.

On the basis of information available to the Director, an extension of the effective date to July 2, 1951 should provide ample time for putting the new ceilings into effect. One of the considerations in deciding upon this date was that no further extension should be granted.

The effective dates of the amendments and supplementary regulations to CPR 22 have not been formally amended. This was not considered necessary because the provisions contained therein tie directly into CPR 22 and its controlling regulatory provisions, such as section 46 (Records and reports) and section 48 (Prohibitions).

Appropriate amendments of dates mentioned in sections 30, 32 and 33 of the regulation are included. The instructions contained in Appendix D of the regulation relating to the time for filing OPS Public Form No. 8 are also amended, to conform with this extension of time.

Section 34 of the regulation which prescribes a method for determining ceiling prices by application to the Director of Price Stabilization, and which specifies that a manufacturer may not sell the commodity at the proposed ceiling price until notified by the Director of Price Stabilization is amended to permit a manufacturer to continue use of his GCPR prices pending notification of price approval by the Director of Price Stabilization.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 22, as amended, is further amended in the following respects:

1. The last paragraph of the regulation is amended to read:

Effective date. The effective date of this regulation is July 2, 1951, or such earlier date between May 28, 1951, and July 2, 1951, as you may select. If you select such an earlier date, the regulation becomes effective as to you upon that date for all of your commodities covered by the regulation.

2. The title and first sentence of paragraph (a) of section 30 are amended by deleting in each instance the words "May 27, 1951" and substituting therefor the words "the day prior to the effective date of this regulation".

3. The title and first sentence of paragraph (b) of section 30 are amended by deleting the words "subsequent to May 27, 1951" and substituting therefor the words "on or subsequent to the effective date of this regulation".

4. The third sentence of paragraph (c) of section 32 is amended by deleting the words "May 28, 1951" and substituting therefor the words "the effective date of this regulation".

5. The undesignated paragraph in section 32 (f) is amended by deleting the words "June 12, 1951" and substituting therefor the words "15 days after the effective date of this regulation".

6. Section 33 (a) (3) is amended by deleting the words "June 12, 1951" and substituting therefor the words "30 days from the date this regulation becomes effective for your most closely competitive seller of the same class selling the same commodity to the same class of purchaser or 30 days from the date this regulation becomes effective as to you, whichever is later."

7. The subparagraph following the words "Who Must File" in Appendix D is amended to read "Every manufacturer subject to CPR 22 must file this report by July 2, 1951, or such earlier effective date between May 28, 1951 and July 2, 1951 as he may select, as required by sections 46 and 48 of the regulation."

8. Section 34, as amended by Amendment 3 dated May 17, 1951, is further amended in the following respects:

a. The last sentence of paragraph (a) of section 34 is amended by substituting a comma for the period and adding the following words "except as permitted in paragraphs (b) or (d)".

b. A new paragraph (d), reading as follows, is added:

(d) If your ceiling price was determined under section 3 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, you may, after making the application prescribed in paragraph (a) of this section, continue to use your ceiling price as so determined until notified by the Director of Price Stabilization of your ceiling price under this section.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective on May 28, 1951.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 30, Amendment 3]

CPR 30—MACHINERY AND RELATED MANUFACTURED GOODS

EXTENSION OF EFFECTIVE DATE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment extends the effective date of Ceiling Price Regulation 30 from May 28, 1951, to July 2, 1951. This amendment further provides that any manufacturer who has completed his calculations under Ceiling Price Regulation 30 and who has complied with its reporting requirements will be permitted to commence using his ceiling prices determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 30 at any time between May 28, 1951 and July 2, 1951, provided that he uses his ceiling prices determined under Ceiling Price Regulation 30 for all of his commodities and services which are covered by Ceiling Price Regulation 30. Likewise, a manufacturer may continue to use his General Ceiling Price Regulation ceiling prices until July 2, 1951, even though he has already complied with the reporting requirements of Ceiling Price Regulation 30. On and after July 2, 1951, the use of ceiling prices established by Ceiling Price Regulation 30 become mandatory for all persons covered by that regulation, except, of course, that sales may always be made at less than ceiling prices.

This amendment accomplishes the same objectives and is issued for the same reasons as that portion of Amendment 6 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22, which extends the effective date of that regulation. Accordingly, that portion of the statement of considerations for Amendment 6 to Ceiling Price Regulation 22, which relates to the extension of the effective date of that regulation, is equally applicable to this amendment.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 30 is amended by amending the last paragraph of the regulation to read as follows:

Effective date. The effective date of this regulation is July 2, 1951, or such earlier date between May 28, 1951, and July 2, 1951, as you may select. If you select such an earlier date, this regulation becomes effective as to you, upon that date, for all of your commodities and services covered by this regulation.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment will become effective May 28, 1951.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 29]

GCPR, SR 29—CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN SALES AT RETAIL AND AT WHOLESALE

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation 29 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This is an interim wholesale and retail regulation which accomplishes two principal urgent objectives: (1) provides for a follow-through on price decreases and increases by manufacturers pursuant to the general manufacturers' regulation (Ceiling Price Regulation 22) and companion regulations; (2) provides for alleviation of certain replacement squeezes imposed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

The Director of Price Stabilization plans to issue, as soon as possible, regulations improving price control at the wholesale level. For classes of commodities susceptible to frequent model changes, the freeze type of control embodied in the General Ceiling Price Regulation is effective for but a limited time. For other commodities, which were in scarce supply by December 1950 and January 1951, General Ceiling Price Regulation wholesale prices were speculative prices which need to be revised. It is contemplated that the new regulations will use an appropriate margin or markup method of establishing wholesale prices and, further, that the margins used will take account of the pre-Korean experience. These margin regulations will compel reductions in wholesale prices to reflect reductions in manufacturers' prices and will permit increases in wholesale prices to offset increases granted to manufacturers to the extent which the Director deems to be appropriate under the standards of the Office of Price Stabilization.

Pending the issuance of the new wholesale regulations, certain immediate problems require correction. In the first place, the General Ceiling Price Regulation was issued at a time when prices in most industries were rising rapidly and irregularly. A freeze regulation issued during a period when prices are changing rapidly inevitably freezes distributors' prices for many commodities at levels which do not reflect replacement costs. Thus, manufacturers have ceiling prices which are based on price increases made late in the base period and not reflected in resale prices of many of their distributors, some of whom may not have received deliveries at the increased prices during the base period. Correction of this situation at the present time, even in advance of the contemplated regulations, seems desirable.

Section 3 of this regulation relieves these squeezes by permitting wholesalers and retailers to use their base period markups over their suppliers' new higher selling prices. Base period markups are determined by a comparison of each wholesaler's or retailer's ceiling price with the supplier's invoice on which the price was based. Some products are treated as the "same commodity" under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, even though produced by two or more producers. With respect to these commodities, the base period selling price, which became the ceiling price for a wholesaler or retailer, will frequently have been based on an invoice from a supplier different from the one from whom the wholesaler or retailer is now buying. Therefore, section 3 of this regulation provides that the base period markup in the case of these commodities shall be determined by reference to the last invoice from any supplier received by the wholesaler or retailer before his frozen price was established. However, if he now has multiple suppliers, and they each have different prices, the application of the permitted base period markup to these varying costs will result in his having varying ceiling prices.

A more urgent and immediate reason for an interim wholesale and retail regulation is the issuance on April 25, 1951, of Ceiling Price Regulation 22, Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation, and the issuance and imminent issuance of other regulations for which Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is the prototype. Upward and downward adjustments of manufacturers' prices under these regulations necessitate an interim method for automatic adjustment of freeze prices at the wholesale and retail levels.

Accordingly, this Supplementary Regulation 29, in addition to relieving the replacement squeeze contains provisions which assure that any ceiling price changes occasioned by the operation of Ceiling Price Regulation 22 or other similar manufacturers' regulations will be reflected in wholesale and retail ceiling prices.

The distributor handles the new manufacturers' prices by applying to these new costs the percentage markup provided by frozen prices under the General Ceiling Price Regulation or those provided by the adjusted prices under section 3 of the present supplementary regulation. This appears to the Director to be the fairest practicable formula available, taking into account the generality of this regulation, the fact that both increases and decreases are provided by CPR 22 and companion regulations, and the fact that these regulations amount in effect to an overall readjustment and realignment of the freeze regulation in this field. We are not concerned with a regulation effecting, for example, general increases in a particular industry or class of commodities, where different considerations may be applicable, and where it may be practicable and generally fair and equitable to provide a dollars-and-cents pass-through, or to specify pre-Korea margins, or to utilize some other more tailored approach.

For the most part, the increases accorded manufacturers under the general manufacturers' regulations will be to those who had not, prior to the establishment of price control, increased their prices as much as other sellers had or as swiftly as the suppliers of their raw materials had. To require their customers to sell at reduced markups while customers of other manufacturers in the same industry are permitted more normal markups solely because the latter manufacturers had increased their prices more quickly would be highly inequitable.

The correction of these problems on an interim basis can best and most expeditiously be accomplished by an adjustment of General Ceiling Price Regulation prices rather than by a substantial change in the method of price control used.

In addition, this Supplementary Regulation 29, includes a provision which permits a manufacturer who has customarily suggested uniform resale prices at wholesale for his branded commodities and which commodities have customarily been sold at wholesale at those prices to continue that type of operation. This supplementary regulation contains a provision (similar to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7) which permits a manufacturer to establish uniform prices for sales at wholesale of his branded articles where it is established that the articles customarily had been sold at wholesale at the prices suggested by the manufacturer. This type of provision has in the past accomplished effective price control at retail and its use for sales at wholesale is desirable. Since no administrative reason exists why this provision should await the promulgation of the new wholesale regulations, the Director deems it advisable to incorporate at once this provision permitting the use of manufacturers' suggested prices for certain sales at wholesale, particularly since the establishment of this type of control now will enable manufacturers adjusting their prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 22 and other similar manufacturers' regulations to eliminate confusion in establishing the resale prices of their commodities at wholesale.

This supplementary regulation does not apply to most food commodities. There are several reasons for that limitation. With respect to most food commodities, distributors are covered by Ceiling Price Regulations 14, 15, and 16. Since its issuance the General Ceiling Price Regulation has provided for a pass-through of parity increases on food commodities below parity. The relatively small inventory position of most food distributors tends to lessen the replacement squeeze for this group as compared with distributors of slower moving items. Finally, the Office of Price Stabilization is engaged in extending its specific regulations with respect to food distributors. For these reasons, it has been determined that the extension of this supplementary regulation to food commodities on an interim basis would lead to confusion rather than to the promotion of stability.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. What this supplementary regulation does.
2. Sales at wholesale or at retail to which this regulation applies; exceptions.
3. Increases in wholesale and retail ceiling prices to eliminate the replacement squeeze.
4. Changes in wholesale and retail ceiling prices to reflect suppliers' price changes permitted by certain manufacturers' regulations.
5. Increases and decreases in retailers' ceiling prices to reflect wholesalers' ceiling price changes under this regulation.
6. Wholesalers' ceiling prices for certain branded commodities.
7. Records.
8. Applicability.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 8 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this supplementary regulation does. This supplementary regulation modifies General Ceiling Price Regulation wholesale and retail ceiling prices for sales of commodities other than those listed in section 2 of this regulation in order to eliminate the replacement squeeze and to reflect manufacturers' price changes under Ceiling Price Regulation 22 ("Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation") and the following similar manufacturers' regulations: Ceiling Price Regulation 30 ("Machinery and Related Manufactured Goods"); Ceiling Price Regulation 37 ("Primary Cotton Textile Manufacturers"); Ceiling Price Regulation 18 Revision 1 ("Manufacturers' Prices for Wool Yarns and Fabrics"); Ceiling Price Regulation 41 ("Shoe Manufacturers").

Additions to this list of regulations will be made from time to time as other manufacturers' regulations are issued.

SEC. 2. Sales at wholesale or at retail to which this regulation applies; exceptions. This regulation applies only to commodities for which ceiling prices for sales at wholesale or at retail are established by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. However, ceiling prices for sales at wholesale or at retail may not be established under this regulation for:

(a) Any agricultural commodities listed in section 11 (a) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation and any food products processed from one or more of them;

(b) Fresh meats, processed pork, and semi-sterile canned meats;

(c) Soft drinks;

(d) Malt beverages; wines; or distilled spirits;

(e) Cigars.

SEC. 3. Increases in wholesalers' and retailers' ceiling prices to eliminate the replacement squeeze. If you are a wholesaler or retailer whose ceiling prices are determined under the General Ceiling Price Regulation, you may increase your ceiling price so as to eliminate a "replacement squeeze" as here defined. The term "replacement squeeze" describes the situation in which your supplier's ceiling price, determined under section 3 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation for sale of a commodity to you, is a higher cost to you that your "base period cost." "Base period cost" is the net invoice cost shown on the last invoice which you received from that supplier prior to the time when you first put in effect as a selling price the price at which you yourself were frozen by section 3 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation as originally issued, or as amended by Amendments 2 and 5. If you purchase the same commodity from two or more suppliers of the same class, your "base period cost" shall be determined from the last invoice you received for that commodity before the price to which you were frozen was established, regardless of which of your suppliers sold that shipment to you.

(a) How you recalculate your ceiling price. To eliminate the replacement squeeze, you many recalculate your ceiling price by applying to your "present net invoice cost" of the commodity the percentage markup which your former ceiling price yielded over your "base period cost" (as defined above in this section). In determining "present net invoice cost" of the commodity to which you are permitted to apply the percentage markup, you must use the last invoice received from that supplier prior to May 28, 1951; if you have received no invoice since the one which shows your base period cost, then you must use the first invoice you received on or after May 28, 1951. The invoice used in determining present net invoice cost must represent a typical purchase with respect to terms and quantity.

(b) Number of recalculations. This section does not provide continuing relief but rather is intended to permit only one recalculation of your ceiling price to offset increases in your supplier's prices. If you purchase the same commodity from two or more suppliers of the same class after recalculating the ceiling price for the sale of this commodity under this section you will have a different ceiling price for the same commodity when purchased from different suppliers whenever their prices to you differ.

Example 1. A wholesaler purchased a bicycle on October 1, 1950 at $6.60 2/10 EOM (Net invoice cost $6.47); he established a selling price of $8.75. This became his ceiling price since he continued to sell at this price throughout the base period (December 19, 1950–January 26, 1951). On January 7, 1951, his supplier increased his selling price to $7.40 which became the supplier's ceiling price. The wholesaler received no shipment at the higher price until March 20, 1951. Under this section the wholesaler may recalculate his ceiling price to eliminate this replacement squeeze. He takes the net invoice cost from the last invoice he received before establishing the price which became his frozen price ($6.47) and finds the percentage markup as follows: subtract $6.47 from $8.75 and divide the result by $6.47 ($8.75−$6.47=$2.28÷$6.47=35.2%) and finds that his base period percentage markup on cost was 35.2%. He then applies that markup to the net invoice cost on the last invoice he received before May 28 ($7.40 2/10 EOM) $7.25 net and finds that his new ceiling price for the bicycle is $9.80 ($7.25×0.352=$2.55+$7.25=$9.80).

Example 2. A wholesaler customarily bought unbleached muslin from several mills. In November 1950, he purchased muslin from Mill A at 24⅛¢ net per yard, at which time his selling price was 29¢ net per yard. On December 13, 1950, he purchased a lot of unbleached muslin from Mill B at 24⅜¢ net per yard and established a selling price of 30¢ net per yard. On January 11, 1951, he purchased another lot of the muslin from Mill C at 24⅝¢ per yard, but did not change his ceiling price. The 30¢ price became the wholesaler's frozen ceiling price. On February 28, 1951, the wholesaler purchased a lot of muslin from Mill A at 25⅛¢ net per yard; and on April 13, 1951, purchased from Mill B at 25⅜¢ net per yard. The wholesaler recalculates his ceiling price under this section as follows: He finds the percentage markup by reference to the last invoice received from any supplier before establishing the price which became his "frozen" price (i. e. the invoice from Mill C for 24⅝¢ net per yard), and determines his percentage markup with reference to his frozen price (30−24⅝=5⅜÷24⅝=21.8%) and applies the percentage markup on cost, 21.8%, to the net invoice cost on the last invoice received from each supplier prior to May 28, 1951. He finds that he has received invoices from Mill A on February 28, and from Mill B on April 13, and that as to these suppliers he will have two ceiling prices: for sales of muslin purchased from Mill A his ceiling price will be 30⅜¢ per yard (25⅛×.218=.05½+25⅛=30⅜¢); for sales of the muslin purchased from Mill B his ceiling price will be 31 ¼¢ per yard (25⅜×.218=.05⅝+25⅜=31¼¢).

(c) Use of recalculated ceiling prices under other sections. The markup you have used in recalculating a ceiling price under this section may be used in the following manner:

(1) The markup you have used in recalculating a ceiling price under this section may be used as the markup for a comparison commodity when applying section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, if the commodity repriced under this section is used as the "comparison commodity."

Example 3. Assume that the wholesaler in Example 1 is now using the bicycle for which he recalculated his ceiling price under this section as a comparison commodity for pricing a wagon under section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. He finds his selling price for the wagon by applying the percentage used in recalculating his price for the bicycle under this section to the net invoice cost of the wagon; i. e., by applying 35.2% to the net invoice cost of the wagon.

(2) The markup you have used in recalculating a ceiling price under this section may be used as your "permitted percentage markup" in applying the provisions of section 4 or 5 of this supplementary regulation.

SEC. 4. Changes in wholesale and retail ceiling prices to reflect supplier's price changes permitted by certain manufacturers' regulations. If you are a wholesaler or retailer buying from a manufacturer who has changed his price for a commodity pursuant to Ceiling Price Regulation 22 (Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation) or other similar manufacturers' regulations enumerated in section 1 of this regulation, you determine your ceiling price under this section.

(a) Increases. If your supplier has increased his price pursuant to such regulation, you may recalculate your ceiling price for sale of that commodity when purchased from that supplier after the increase is put into effect.

(b) Decreases. If your supplier has decreased his price for a commodity and all or any part of that decrease was made pursuant to one of the manufacturers' regulations listed in section 1 of this regulation, you must recalculate your ceiling price for sale of that commodity purchased from that supplier after the decrease is put into effect. Where the price to you is decreased, you must assume that the decrease was made pursuant to the manufacturers' regulation, unless you are informed in writing by your supplier that no part of the decrease is required by the manufacturers' regulations listed in section 1.

(c) How to recalculate your ceiling price under this section. You recalculate your ceiling price by applying to the new net invoice cost of the commodity your "permitted percentage markup." "Permitted percentage markup" means either the percentage markup your ceiling price yields over the most recent net invoice cost of the commodity or the percentage markup determined under section 3 of this supplementary regulation, if that section is applicable. (If you purchase the same commodity from two or more suppliers of the same class, your permitted percentage markup shall be determined from the last invoice you received for that commodity before the price to which you were frozen was established, regardless of which of your suppliers sold that shipment to you. But the permitted percentage markup must be applied, for each supplier, to your most recent net invoice cost of the commodity when purchased from him.)

Example 4. A wholesaler has been buying dominoes from a manufacturer at $7.00 per dozen 2 10 EOM and has been selling them at $8.25 per dozen which is his frozen ceiling price. On June 8, he received an invoice for dominoes from the manufacturer showing $6.50 per dozen 2 10 EOM. The wholesaler must assume that the decrease was made pursuant to a manufacturers' regulation listed in section 1, unless he is informed in writing that no part of the decrease is required by such a regulation. If the article is one which the wholesaler had repriced under section 3 of this regulation because of a replacement squeeze, he can find his new ceiling price by applying to the net invoice cost ($6.37) the percentage markup which he used in making that recalculation. If the article is one for which the wholesaler had no replacement squeeze, he finds the permitted percentage markup as follows: he subtracts the net invoice cost on his most recent invoice, $6.86, ($7.00 2 10 EOM) from his frozen ceiling price $8.25 and divides the result by the net invoice cost ($8.25−$6.86=$1.39 ÷ $6.86=20.3%) and finds that his percentage markup on cost is 20.3%. He then finds his new ceiling price for the dominoes by multiplying the new net invoice cost $6.37 by the permitted percentage markup and by adding the result to $6.37 ($6.37×.203=$1.29−$6.37=$7.66). The new ceiling price for the dominoes is $7.66.

(d) Use of recalculated prices under other sections. If a commodity priced under this section is used as a comparison commodity in pricing under section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, you must apply the markup used in redetermining the ceiling price under this section instead of determining a markup as described in section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 5. Increases and decreases in retailers' ceiling prices to reflect wholesalers' ceiling price changes under this regulation. If you are a retailer buying from a wholesaler and your supplier has changed his price pursuant to the provisions of this Supplementary Regulation 29, you recalculate your ceiling price under this section.

(a) Increases. If your supplier has increased his price, you may recalculate your ceiling price for sale of that commodity purchased from that supplier after the increase is put into effect.

(b) Decreases. If your supplier has decreased his price and all or any part of that decrease was made pursuant to this Supplementary Regulation 29, you must recalculate your ceiling price for sale of that commodity purchased from that supplier after the decrease is put into effect. Where the price to you is decreased, you must assume that the decrease was made pursuant to this regulation unless you are informed in writing by your supplier that no part of the decrease is required by this supplementary regulation.

(c) How to recalculate your ceiling price under this section. You recalculate your ceiling price by applying to the new net invoice cost of the commodity your "permitted percentage markup." "Permitted percentage markup" means either the percentage markup your ceiling price yields over the most recent net invoice cost of the commodity or the percentage markup determined under section 3 of this supplementary regulation, if that section is applicable. (If you purchase the same commodity from two or more suppliers of the same class, your permitted percentage markup shall be determined from the last invoice you received for that commodity before the price to which you were frozen was established, regardless of which of your suppliers sold that shipment to you. But the permitted percentage markup must be applied, for each supplier, to your most recent net invoice cost of the commodity when purchased from him.)

Example 5. A retailer who purchased a bicycle from a wholesaler at $8.75 2 10 EOM, net $8.57½, sold that bicycle at $12.98 during the base period which became his "frozen price." When the wholesaler recalculates his ceiling price under this supplementary regulation to $9.80 (see Example 1) the retailer then pays $9.80 2 10 EOM or $9.60 net for the bicycle. The retailer may then apply the "permitted markup" ($12.98−$8.57½=$4.40½ ÷ $8.57½=51.3%) 51.3% to the new cost of $9.60 ($9.60×.513=$4.92+$9.60=$14.52) and finds that $14.52 is his new ceiling price.

(d) Use of recalculated prices under other sections. If a commodity priced under this section is used as a comparison commodity in applying section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, the percentage markup used in determining a price under this section must be used instead of determining a percentage markup as described in section 5 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

SEC. 6. Wholesalers' ceiling prices for certain branded commodities. If you are a wholesaler of a commodity which is sold under a supplier's brand name, your ceiling price will be your supplier's suggested selling price for wholesalers if your supplier has obtained Office of Price Stabilization approval for those prices. Suppliers desiring to have uniform wholesale ceiling prices established for branded items which they sell may apply to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for approval.

(a) Contents of application. The application must state the supplier's business name and address and must include:

(1) A showing that for a period prior to January 26, 1951, the branded commodities sold by him to wholesalers were customarily sold by the wholesalers at the prices suggested by him;

(2) The brand name and the requested wholesale ceiling price; each price list which the supplier proposes to issue for wholesalers, identified by a separate numerical or alphabetical designation in addition to the company name;

(3) The ceiling price for sales to the wholesalers for each of the items and an indication of the section and regulation under which these prices were determined;

(4) A showing that the requested wholesale ceiling prices provide margins at wholesale which in general are no greater than the margins which the wholesalers received on the branded items prior to June 24, 1950. This showing must include the suggested wholesale prices for a period prior to June 24, 1950, together with the supplier's selling prices to wholesalers at that time and the wholesale margins thus provided.

(b) Office of Price Stabilization approval. The prices for sales at wholesale, proposed by the supplier will be approved or disapproved by Office of Price Stabilization but may be deemed to have been approved if the supplier has not been notified to the contrary by the Office of Price Stabilization within 15 days after the submission of the application or the filing of any additional information which may have been requested by the Office of Price Stabilization. The Office of Price Stabilization may by order revoke, modify, or alter, in whole or in part the ceiling prices established under this section, and may in such order make appropriate provisions for notification of customers.

(c) Use by wholesalers of approved prices. If you are a wholesaler you may take as your ceiling price the suggested wholesale prices in your supplier's price list as soon as you have received from him a statement in writing signed by an officer or owner of the company stating that the wholesale prices in that price list have been approved by the Office of Price Stabilization as ceiling prices for your sales at wholesale of the commodities in that price list. Such approval may be either by passage of time or by specific action of the Office of Price Stabilization.

SEC. 7. Records. The records required by this section must be retained for as long as the Defense Production Act of 1950 is in effect, and for two years thereafter. In addition to the records required by the General Ceiling Price Regulation, a wholesaler or retailer who prices under this Supplementary Regulation 29 must:

(a) Preserve and keep available for examination the invoice or other cost records used to determine percentage markups of each commodity under sections 3, 4, or 5 of this regulation;

(b) For each commodity for which a price is calculated under this Supplementary Regulation 29, list on his ceiling price list for the category, prepared under section 16 (a) (3) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, the net invoice cost of the commodity from the invoice or other cost record upon which that selling price was based and the percentage markup;

(c) In the case of a seller at wholesale who prices pursuant to a price list sent to him by a manufacturer or wholesaler, who establishes ceiling prices for sales at wholesale pursuant to section 6 of this regulation, retain and keep available for examination by the Office of Price Stabilization the written statement by his supplier that such prices have been approved by Office of Price Stabilization and all such price lists;

(d) Preserve and keep available for examination the statements of his suppliers, if any, informing him that price decreases are not required by the manufacturers' regulations listed in section 1, nor by the provisions of this supplementary regulation, upon which he relies in determining his ceiling prices.

SEC. 8. Applicability. The provisions of this regulation shall apply in the forty-eight States of the United States and in the District of Columbia.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on the 28th day of May 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 37, Amendment 1]

CPR 37—PRIMARY COTTON TEXTILE MANUFACTURERS' REGULATION

EXTENSION OF TIME AND MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738) this Amendment 1 to Ceiling Price Regulation 37 (16 F. R. 4644) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 37 extends to July 2, 1951, the date on and after which primary cotton textile manufacturers must use their ceiling prices determined pursuant to the regulation. The amendment permits such manufacturers to sell between May 16, 1951, and July 2, 1951, at ceiling prices determined under either this regulation or the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

The Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation (Ceiling Price Regulation 22), which was issued on April 25, 1951, with an effective date of May 28, 1951, stated that it was then expected that a cotton textile regulation would be issued almost simultaneously therewith. Ceiling Price Regulation 37, however, with an effective date of May 28, 1951, was not issued until May 16, 1951. Representatives of the cotton textile industry have informed the Director that the period from May 16 to May 28 does not provide sufficient time for computing and reporting ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 37, and, after investigation, the Director has extended the time.

In addition, this amendment clarifies a seeming ambiguity in section 1 as to the types of fabrics which are covered by the regulation. The revision of this section makes it clear that the regulation applies to the sales of those fabrics, such as chambrays, denims, and flannels (except printed flannels), which historically have been sold at the mill level as finished fabrics, as well as to sales of unfinished fabrics in the greige.

The amendment also revises the definition of "cotton yarn or fabric" in section 17 (d) of the regulation so as to make it clear that a yarn or fabric is excluded from the regulation when it consists entirely of imported cotton or of domestic cotton of a staple longer than 1¼ inches.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

Ceiling Price Regulation 37 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1 is amended to read as follows:

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes ceiling prices for sales of cotton yarn or fabric by manufacturers located in the United States, its territories and possessions. It applies to sales by the manufacturer of unfinished cotton yarns or fabrics, but including, however, such mill-finished fabrics as chambrays, denims, and flannels (except printed flannels) and such end-use products as blankets, diapers, pillow cases, sheets, towels and woven bedspreads. During the period between May 16, 1951, and July 2, 1951, you may use either this regulation or the General Ceiling Price Regulation. On and after July 2, 1951, you must use this regulation. This regulation shall not apply to deliveries under a military contract or subcontract for yarn or fabric exempted by Supplementary Regulation 1, as amended, or as may be amended to the General Ceiling Price Regulation. This regulation supersedes the Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation (Ceiling Price Regulation 22) for sales of yarns and fabrics covered by this regulation.

2. Section 12 (b) is amended by changing the date "May 28, 1951" to "July 2, 1951."

3. Section 14 is amended by changing the date "May 28, 1951" to "July 2, 1951."

4. Section 17 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(d) "Cotton yarn or fabric" means a yarn or fabric which consists, after production but before finishing, of 50 percent or more of domestic cotton by fiber weight and containing less than 25 percent by fiber weight of any one of either wool, rayon, nylon or other fibers. Any two or more of wool, rayon, nylon or other fibers may exceed 25 percent provided such combination does not exceed 50 percent. It does not include a yarn or fabric in which the cotton component consists entirely of imported cotton or of domestic cotton of a staple longer than 1¼ inches.

5. Section 17 (e) is amended to read as follows:

(e) "Manufacturer" of cotton yarn or fabric means a person who for his own account produces (or has produced for him) and sells (or has sold for him) a spun cotton yarn or a woven, nonwoven or knitted cotton fabric. It includes a manufacturer of such end-use products as blankets, diapers, pillow cases, sheets, towels and woven bedspreads. It does not include a converter or a finisher.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This Amendment to Ceiling Price Regulation 37 shall be effective May 28, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

Chapter IV—Wage Stabilization Board, Economic Stabilization Agency

[General Wage Regulation 10, as Amended]

GWR 10—TANDEM WAGE INCREASES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), Executive Order 10233 (16 F. R. 3503), and General Order No. 3, Economic Stabilization Administrator (16 F. R. 739), this General Wage Regulation No. 10, as amended, is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The purpose of this general wage regulation is to permit the continuation of tandem wage relationships to the extent consistent with stabilization requirements. As defined in the regulation, "tandem relationships" refers to an historical practice whereby adjustments of wages, salaries and other compensation for one group of employees have been directly related to those of another group. The other group may be employees of the same employer, or of other employers. Many of these relationships were disrupted because of the issuance of General Wage Stabilization Regulation 1 on January 26, 1951.

General Wage Regulation 10, issued on March 8, 1951, by the Economic Stabilization Administrator, was designed to permit a limited continuation of these tandem relationships. Under that regulation, the "follow-the-leader" adjustment, to be covered, would have taken effect and been applicable to work performed on or before February 9, 1951. This limitation as to date is no longer necessary or desirable. The amended regulation deletes this limitation. Experience shows that other modifications of the definition of "tandem relationship" are desirable at this time.

In addition to the changes in the definition of "tandem relationships", the amended regulation alters the procedure whereby approval of tandem wage adjustments may be obtained. Hereafter, a petition for approval must be filed at the nearest appropriate Wage and Hour office for transmittal to the Wage Stabilization Board and must include certain data specified in the regulation.

In the formulation of this amended regulation, due consideration has been given to the standards and procedures set forth in Title IV and Title VII of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

Sec.
1. Definitions.
2. Approval of adjustments to restore tandem relationships.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 and 2 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp., E. O. 10233, Apr. 21, 1951, 16 F. R. 3503.

SECTION 1. Definitions. As used in this regulation, the term:

(a) "Appropriate unit" means a group comprised of all employees in a bargaining unit; or in a plant or other establishment or in a department thereof; or in a company; or in an industry; or in a similar appropriate group; as best adapted to preserve the contractual or historical relationship.

(b) "Tandem relationship" means a well established and maintained practice whereby the timing, amount and nature of general adjustments in the wages, salaries and other compensation of employees in a given appropriate unit have been directly related to those of another unit of employees of the same employer or of other employers.

SEC. 2. Approval of adjustments to restore tandem relationships. The Wage Stabilization Board will entertain petitions for approval of adjustments required to restore tandem relationships which have been disrupted. Petitions for approval of adjustments under this regulation shall be filed with the nearest appropriate office of the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor. Such petitions shall contain (a) proof of a tandem relationship, including a statement of how adjustments in the appropriate unit involved have been related, in the past five years, to the adjustments in the unit with which the tandem relationship is claimed; (b) an explanation of the circumstances which have disrupted the tandem relationship; and (c) such other supporting data as the petitioner may deem pertinent. If the tandem relationship has existed for less than five years, a petition for approval may be filed, setting forth the circumstances in full.

Submissions of proof which have been filed under the original General Wage Regulation 10 shall be treated as petitions filed under this amended regulation, unless the petitioner notifies the Board otherwise.

NOTE: The record keeping and reporting requirement of this Regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued: May 23, 1951.

GEORGE W. TAYLOR,
Chairman,
Wage Stabilization Board.

Chapter V—National Production Authority, Department of Commerce

[NPA Order M-9 as Amended May 28, 1951]

M-9—ZINC

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority of section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this order as amended has been rendered impractical by the fact that the order affects a large number of different trades and industries.

This amendment redesignates §§ 23.1 to 23.6 as sections 1 to 6, respectively; it amends paragraph (b) of section 2 and adds a new paragraph (e) to section 2; it amends section 3 and paragraph (a) of section 6; §§ 28.7 and 28.8 are redesignated as sections 9 and 10; new sections 7 and 8 are inserted; § 28.9 is deleted; and §§ 28.10 to 28.13 are redesignated as sections 11 to 14. As so amended this order reads as follows:

2. Definitions.
3. Zinc and zinc products to which this order applies.
4. Required shipment dates.
5. Rejection of rated orders.
6. Limitations for acceptance of rated orders.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order applies particularly to producers and fabricators of zinc and dealers in zinc and zinc products and provides rules for placing, accepting, and scheduling rated orders for zinc. Its purpose is to make possible maximum production of zinc by reducing to a minimum disruption of normal distribution and by providing equitable distribution of rated orders, among all zinc producers and fabricators, and dealers in zinc and zinc products. It supplements NPA Reg. 2, but only those provisions of Reg. 2 which are contradictory to this order are superseded, and all other provisions of Reg. 2 continue to apply to the zinc industry.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes agencies of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Producer" means any person producing slab zinc, zinc dust, or zinc oxide, and any person having zinc produced for him under toll agreement.

(c) "Dealer" means any person who regularly receives physical delivery of zinc or zinc products and sells or holds same for resale without change in form.

(d) "Toll agreement" means any agreement by which title to the zinc or zinc products remains vested in a person other than the one processing such material.

(e) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from areas outside the continental United States, including territories and possessions. It includes shipments into foreign-trade zones, customs bonded warehouses, and customs custody, except when such shipments are merely in transit through the continental United States, to destinations outside the continental United States, as shown by the bills of lading or other shipping documents. However, if any such material in transit is halted or diverted to a destination in the continental United States or subjected to processing or manufacture in the continental United States, it becomes an "import" for the purposes of this order.

SEC. 3. Zinc and zinc products to which this order applies. This order applies to the following forms and products of zinc:

Slab zinc.
Zinc dust.
Zinc oxide.
Zinc base alloys.
Sheet zinc.
Strip zinc (ribbon).
Zinc wire.
Zinc rod.
Zinc shapes—rolled, drawn, and extruded.
Zinc plate.

Certain of these items are defined as follows:

(a) "Slab zinc" means zinc metal which has been produced by electrolytic, electro-thermic, or fire refining process, including zinc metal produced from scrap, dross, or other secondary material.

(b) "Zinc dust" means all grades of zinc dust produced from ores, concentrates, metallic zinc, or other primary material, and from scrap, dross or other secondary material.

(c) "Zinc oxide" means all grades of zinc oxide produced from ores, concentrates, metallic zinc, or other primary material, and from scrap, dross, or other secondary material.

(d) "Zinc-base alloy" means any alloy containing 50 percent or more by weight of the element zinc.

SEC. 4. Required shipment dates. A rated order for zinc in the forms and products listed in section 3 of this order must specify shipment on a particular date or during a particular month, which in no case may be earlier than required by the person placing the order. The zinc producer or fabricator must schedule the order for shipment within the requested month as close to the requested shipment date as is practicable considering the need for maximum production.

SEC. 5. Rejection of rated orders. Zinc producers and fabricators of the forms and products listed in section 3 of this order need not accept a rated order which is received less than 30 days prior to the first day of the month in which shipment is requested, unless specifically directed to accept the order by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 6. Limitations for acceptance of rated orders. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority:

(a) No producer shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of special high grade slab zinc (slab zinc that is 99.99 percent pure or better) in excess of 20 percent, and of all other grades of slab zinc, zinc dust, and zinc oxide in excess of 10 percent of his anticipated production of such items in terms of total tonnage for that month;

(b) No fabricator shall be required to accept rated orders for the products listed below for shipment in any one month in excess of the following percentages of his average monthly shipments of such products during the first 8 months of 1950:

	Percent
Zinc-base alloys	20
Sheet zinc	15
Strip zinc (ribbon)	15
Zinc wire	15
Zinc rod	15
Zinc shapes—rolled, drawn, and extruded	15
Zinc plate	15

SEC. 7. Contingency reserve from production and imports. In addition to filling rated orders as required by NPA Reg. 2 (as modified by section 6 of this order), commencing on June 1, 1951:

(a) Each producer shall set aside a reserve of 5 percent of his anticipated monthly production of each grade of slab zinc (including slab zinc produced for him by others under toll agreements, but not slab zinc which he produces for others under toll agreements). This reserve may be delivered only upon the specific authorization of the National Production Authority in accordance with the procedure stated in section 8 of this order.

(b) Any person who imports slab zinc shall set aside in each month a reserve of 5 percent of his anticipated imports of each grade of slab zinc during each month. This reserve shall be delivered only upon specific authorization of the National Production Authority in accordance with the procedure stated in section 8 of this order.

(c) Producers and importers of slab zinc shall report by letter not later than May 30, 1951, with respect to June 1951, and not later than the 20th day of each month thereafter, the quantity of each grade of slab zinc which they expect to set aside during the succeeding month in accordance with paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

(d) If, at the end of the month for which the set-aside reserve is created, any surplus remains which is not covered by authorizations issued by the National Production Authority as provided in section 8 of this order, such surplus may be disposed of by the producer or importer without further authorization.

SEC. 8. Application for delivery from contingency reserve. Any person who, in the public interest and within the limitations on use in NPA Order M-15, requires more slab zinc than he can obtain from commercial sources, may apply to the National Production Authority for a delivery of slab zinc from the reserve. Such application shall be submitted by letter not later than the 25th day of the month preceding the month during which delivery is desired, and shall set forth: The quantity and grade of slab zinc desired, the public interest which will be served, the desired delivery date, the applicant's anticipated receipts from regular suppliers on rated and nonrated orders, the applicant's anticipated inventory of slab zinc at the beginning of the month during which the slab zinc from the reserve is desired, and such other facts as may be pertinent. If the request is approved, the applicant will be notified that a particular supplier has been directed to make delivery and the applicant is thereby authorized to accept delivery of a specified quantity of slab zinc for a specified use.

SEC. 9. Dealers. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no dealer shall be required to accept rated orders for shipment in any one month of a total tonnage of the forms and products of zinc listed in section 3 of this order in excess of 15 percent of the total quantity of such forms and products available to him during such month.

SEC. 10. Scheduled programs. The National Production Authority will from time to time approve scheduled programs calling for the production and delivery of zinc products for stated purposes, over specified periods of time. Upon approval of major programs of this type, supplements to this order will be issued describing such programs and specifying the manner in which they are to be carried out by the zinc industry. Thereafter, directives will be issued to individual concerns establishing schedules for their participation in such programs. Such directives shall be complied with by the recipients in accordance with the terms thereof, unless otherwise directed by the National Production Authority.

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-9.

SEC. 13. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

SEC. 14. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 28, 1951.

NATIONAL PRODUCTION AUTHORITY,
MANLY FLEISCHMANN,
Administrator.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 10 issued under sec. 704 Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 1, 1 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to describe how the zinc remaining after allowing for the requirements of national defense may be distributed and used in the civilian economy. It is the policy of the National Production Authority that zinc not required to fill rated orders shall be distributed equitably through normal channels of distribution, and that due regard shall be given by suppliers to the needs of new and small business. It is the intent of this order that other materials which are not in short supply will be substituted for zinc whenever possible.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

(c) "Zinc" means slab zinc which has been produced by electrolytic, electrothermic, or fire refining process, including zinc produced from scrap, dross, or other secondary material, and any alloy in which the percentage of zinc by weight is more than 50 percent.

(d) "Manufacture" means to put into process, machine, incorporate into products, assemble, fabricate, or otherwise alter the forms and products of zinc defined in paragraph (c) of this section by physical or chemical means.

SEC. 3. Application of order. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 5 of this order, this order applies to all persons who use zinc in manufacture, processing, or construction, or for operating supplies.

SEC. 4. Use of zinc. Subject to the exemptions stated in section 5 of this order, or unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, no person shall use in manufacture, processing, construction, or for operating supplies: (a) During the calendar quarters commencing on January 1, 1951, and April 1, 1951, a total quantity by weight of zinc in excess of 80 percent of his average quarterly use of zinc during the base period: Provided, however, That his use of zinc in any one month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted quarterly use.

(b) During the calendar quarter commencing on July 1, 1951, and each calendar quarter thereafter, a total quantity by weight of Special High Grade Zinc (zinc that is 99.99 percent pure or better) in excess of 70 percent of his average quarterly use of Special High Grade Zinc during the base period, and a total quantity by weight of all other zinc in excess of 80 percent of his average quarterly use of such other zinc during the base period: Provided, however, That his use of either type of zinc in any one month shall not exceed 40 percent of the permitted quarterly use.

SEC. 5. Exemptions. (a) The use of zinc to fill an order that is rated under the priority system established by NPA Reg. 2, or to meet any mandatory order of the National Production Authority, is permitted in addition to the use of zinc authorized by the provisions of section 4 of this order.

(b) Zinc acquired by a rated order or to meet a scheduled program of the National Production Authority may be used in addition to the quantity permitted by the provisions of section 4.

(c) The provisions of section 4 do not apply to persons who use less than 3,000 pounds of zinc during any calendar quarter.

(d) The provisions of section 4 do not apply to the use of zinc:

(1) To comply with safety regulations issued under governmental authority which require the use of zinc;

(2) In research laboratories where and to the extent that the physical or chemical material requirements make the use of any other material impracticable; or

(3) In electroplating where it replaces cadmium.

SEC. 6. Inventories. In addition to the provisions of NPA Reg. 1, relating to Inventory Control, it is considered that a more exact requirement applying to users of zinc is necessary. No person obtaining zinc for use in manufacture, processing, or construction, or for operating supplies, may receive or accept delivery of a quantity of zinc if his inventory is, or by such receipt would become, in excess of that necessary to meet his deliveries or supply his services on the basis of his scheduled method and rate of operation pursuant to this order during the succeeding 30-day period, or in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" (as defined in NPA Reg. 1) whichever is less. NPA Reg. 1 will apply to zinc except as modified by this section.

SEC. 7. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In examining requests for adjustment, claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 8. Records and reports. (a) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(b) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

(c) Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 9. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M–15.

SEC. 10. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All record-keeping and reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 28, 1951.

[NPA Order M-20, as Amended May 28, 1951]

M–20—IRON AND STEEL SCRAP

This amendment to Order M–20 is found necessary and appropriate to promote the National Defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the issuance of this amendment consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects NPA Order M–20 as follows:

Sections 24.1 through 24.11 are redesignated to be sections 1 through 11 respectively; section 1 is amended by adding a sentence thereto; and the word "part" is changed to "order" wherever it appears throughout. As amended NPA Order M–20 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Restrictions on shippers.
4. Restrictions on consumers.
5. Allocations and directives.
6. Applications for adjustment or exception.
7. Communications.
8. Records.
9. Audit and inspection.
10. Reports.
11. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order establishes inventory limitations for iron and steel scrap and subjects such scrap to allocation to assure its distribution in the interest of national defense. (The delivery and acceptance of used rails and used axles is also subject to the provisions of NPA Order M–64.)

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Scrap" means all ferrous materials, either alloyed or unalloyed, of which iron or steel is the principal component, which are the waste of industrial fabrication or objects that have been discarded on account of obsolescence, failure, or other reasons, including therein iron and steel rail and axles for rerolling purposes.

(c) "Shipper" means any person engaged in the business of scrap dealer, scrap broker, or automobile wrecker, and any person (except a person engaged in demolition, shipbreaking, or other long-term projects) engaged in any business in the course of which scrap results, accumulates, or is generated or produced.

(d) "Consumer" means any person who melts scrap in the course of manufacture of iron, steel, or ferro-alloys, and includes persons engaged in the operating of blast furnaces or in the rerolling of iron or steel rails or axles. If the business of any consumer is carried on in or by more than one operating unit, each operating unit shall constitute a consumer within the meaning and intent of this order.

SEC. 3. Restrictions on shippers. (a) No shipper, in any 60-day period, may receive delivery of any scrap the total of which will have the effect of increasing his inventory working position beyond a practicable minimum working inventory or beyond the average of his inventory position during the last preceding 60-day period, whichever is the lesser: Provided, however, That the prohibition set forth in this section shall not extend to those engaged in normal seasonal accumulation of scrap for subsequent water shipments.

(b) No shipper shall accept an order for, sell, or deliver scrap which, or any part of which, he knows or has reason to believe will be accepted, received, held, or used in violation of any provision of this order.

SEC. 4. Restrictions on consumers. The National Production Authority from time to time may establish, with respect to the scrap inventory of consumers, limitations either greater or less than the limitations established by the provisions of NPA Reg. 1. The permissible scrap inventory of a consumer which is subject to a limitation established under this section and differing from the limitation established by the provisions of NPA Reg. 1 shall, for the purposes of this section, be known as an emergency inventory. No consumer may receive or accept delivery of scrap if his inventory thereof is, or by such receipt would become, more than a practicable minimum working inventory, or, if NPA shall have established with respect to such consumer an emergency inventory, more than such emergency inventory as of the date of the proposed receipt. In figuring his inventory a consumer must include all scrap in his possession or held for his account by others, but not that held by him for the account of others.

SEC. 5. Allocations and directives. The National Production Authority from time to time may allocate scrap and specifically direct the manner and quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or classes of persons or for particular uses or classes of uses shall be made or suspended; and from time to time may issue specific directives to any person as to the source, destination, consignee, or amount of scrap to be delivered or acquired by such person.

SEC. 6. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 7. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. M–20.

SEC. 8. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 9. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

SEC. 10. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the National Production Authority as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act (5 U. S. C. 139–139F).

SEC. 11. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order as amended shall take effect on May 28, 1951.

[NPA Order M-38, as Amended May 28, 1951]

M–38—LEAD

This order as amended is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense, and is issued pursuant to authority granted by section 101 of the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, as amended, there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations. However, consultation with representatives of all trades and industries affected in advance of the issuance of this order as amended has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action, and because the order affects a large number of users in different trades and industries.

Order M–38 is hereby amended to provide for the creation of a set-aside reserve of pig lead to take care of hardship cases where consumers of lead are unable to secure their full requirement for DO orders, to increase the required acceptance of rated orders by dealers, to include lead chemicals in the definition of lead products, and to exempt the printing and publishing industry from the toll provisions and from some of the inventory provisions of the order. As so amended, NPA Order M–38 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Definitions.
3. Lead forms and materials to which this order applies.
4. Limitations on acceptance of rated orders.
5. Set aside from production.
6. Limitations on use of lead.
7. Restrictions on toll agreements.
8. Assistance in placing rated orders.
9. Inventories.
10. Records and reports.
11. Applications for adjustments.
12. Communications.
13. Violations.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 13 issued under sec. 704, Public Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order sets forth certain limitations on the acceptance of rated orders so as to provide for the equitable distribution of such orders, provides for the creation of a set-aside reserve of pig lead to meet emergency situations, and establishes limitations on the use of lead and lead products. It places limitations on lead scrap toll agreements and on inventories of pig lead, lead alloys, and lead products. It explains the conditions under which reports are required in connection with production, receipt, shipment, use, and inventories of lead and materials containing lead.

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons and includes any agency of the United States or any other government;

(b) "Primary refiner" means any person who produces lead in refinery shapes mainly from lead ores and concentrates, or who has such lead produced for him on toll agreement;

(c) "Secondary refiner" means any person who produces lead in refinery shapes mainly from lead scrap;

(d) "Dealer" means any person who receives physical deliveries of pig lead, lead-base alloy, lead scrap, or lead products, and sells or holds same for resale without change in form.

(e) "Import" means to transport in any manner into the continental United States from areas outside the continental United States, including territories and possessions. It includes shipments into foreign-trade zones, customs bonded warehouses, and customs custody, except when such shipments are merely in transit through the continental United States, to destinations outside the continental United States, as shown by the bills of lading or other shipping documents. However, if any such material in transit is halted or diverted to a destination in the continental United States or subjected to processing or manufacture in the continental United States, it becomes an "import" for the purposes of this order.

(f) "Base period" means the 6-month period ending June 30, 1950.

SEC. 3. Lead forms and materials to which this order applies. This order applies to the following lead forms and materials: Pig lead, lead-base alloys, lead scrap, and lead products. For the purpose of this order these items are defined as follows:

(a) "Pig lead" means and includes soft lead and antimonial lead in refinery shapes current in the trade.

(b) "Lead-base alloy" means any alloy containing 50 percent or more of lead metal by weight.

(c) "Lead scrap" means all materials or objects which are the waste or by-product of industrial fabrications or processes, or which have been discarded for obsolescence, failure, or other reason, and which contain lead commercially recoverable as pig lead or lead-base alloy.

(d) "Lead products" means lead chemicals containing 50 percent or more lead by weight, and semiprocessed materials, parts or subassemblies which have been produced from pig lead or lead-base alloy.

SEC. 4. Limitations on acceptance of rated orders. Unless specifically directed by the National Production Authority, commencing on May 1, 1951:

(a) No primary refiner or secondary refiner (as defined in section 2 of this order), and no producer of lead products (as defined in section 3 of this order) shall be required to accept rated orders for any of the lead forms and materials defined in section 3 for shipment in any one month in excess of 20 percent of his scheduled production of such materials during that month.

(b) No dealer (as defined in section 2) shall be required to accept rated orders for such lead forms and materials for shipment in any one month in excess of 25 percent of the quantity of such materials available to him during that month.

(c) No person shall be required to accept rated orders for such lead forms and materials which are not received at least 15 days prior to the first day of the month in which shipment is requested.

SEC. 5. Set aside from production. (a) In addition to filling rated orders as required by NPA Reg. 2 (as modified by section 4 of this order), commencing on July 1, 1951, each primary refiner (as defined in section 2 of this order) shall set aside a reserve of 5 percent of his anticipated monthly production of pig lead. This reserve may be delivered only upon specific authorization of the National Production Authority as provided in this section. Each primary refiner shall report by letter not later than June 20, 1951, with respect to July 1951, and not later than the 20th day of each month thereafter, the quantity of pig lead he expects to set aside during the succeeding month.

(b) The National Production Authority will issue directives to primary refiners from time to time setting forth the persons to whom delivery from the set-aside reserve established by paragraph (a) of this section shall be made, and the quantities such persons are authorized to receive from such reserve. If, at the end of the month for which the reserve is created, any surplus remains which is not covered by such directives, such surplus shall be released from the reserve and may be disposed of by the producer.

SEC. 6. Limitations on use of lead. (a) Commencing on May 1, 1951, or unless specifically authorized by the National Production Authority, no person, except in the production of pig lead, shall put into process or otherwise use in manufacturing, treating, installation, or construction, or for maintenance, repair, and operating supplies during any one month, a total quantity of pig lead, lead-base alloy, lead scrap, and lead products, measured by weight of lead content, in excess of 100 percent of his average monthly use of such forms of lead during the base period; and no person shall use any of such forms of lead for any purpose or purposes other than the purpose or purposes for which such forms of lead were used by him during the base period.

(b) Pig lead, lead-base alloy, or lead products acquired by a rated order or to meet a scheduled program of the National Production Authority, may be used in addition to the quantities permitted by the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) The use of pig lead, lead-base alloy, or lead products to fill an order rated under the priorities system established by NPA Reg. 2, or to meet any mandatory order of the National Production Authority, is permitted in addition to the use of such materials authorized by the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section.

(d) The provisions of paragraph (a) of this section do not apply to any person who consumes less than 5 short tons of pig lead, lead-base alloy, lead scrap, and lead products in any month or to the use of such materials in research laboratories where and to the extent that physical or chemical material requirements make the use of any other material impracticable.

SEC. 7. Restrictions on toll agreements (a) Except with the written approval of the National Production Authority, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of lead scrap for converting, remelting, or other processing under any existing or future toll agreement or other arrangement by which title to the scrap remains vested in any person other than the processor, or pursuant to which any of the forms of lead defined in section 3 of this order in any quantities, equivalent or otherwise, is to be returned to the person delivering or owning the scrap. Application for such approval may be made by the person delivering or owning the lead scrap, or the person for whose benefit the conversion, remelting, or other processing will be effected. The provisions of this paragraph apply with equal effect to any agency or other relationship which results in a toll arrangement similar to that above-described.

(b) No person shall sell or deliver any lead forms or materials defined in section 3 to any person subject to either an express or implied condition of sale, that the lead scrap remaining after the use of the delivered material will be resold or returned to the person originally supplying such material.

(c) Persons requesting approval of toll agreements shall file with the National Production Authority a letter setting forth: the names and addresses of the parties to any existing or proposed toll or conversion agreement; the kind, grade, and form of the scrap involved; the tonnage of the scrap and the estimated tonnage of the lead forms and materials resulting; the estimated rate and the dates of delivery of such materials; the length of time such agreement or other similar agreement between the same parties has been in force; the duration of the agreement; the purpose for which such materials are to be used; and such other information as may seem pertinent and necessary.

(d) The provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section shall not apply to: (1) Any agreement covering lead scrap or other lead forms or materials delivered by the General Services Administration or the Armed Forces of the United States, including the United States Coast Guard, to any person for converting, remelting, or other processing; or (2) lead-base alloy used and owned by printers or publishers for printing plates of any kind (including type metal, electrotype metal, or stereotype metal) whether in the form of used plates, scrap, or dross.

SEC. 8. Assistance in placing rated orders. Any person who is unable to place a rated order for pig lead, lead-base alloy, or lead products due to the limitations imposed by section 4 of this order, should apply to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-38, specifying the persons who refuse to accept the order. The National Production Authority will arrange to assist him in locating sources of supply.

SEC. 9. Inventories. (a) No person shall receive or accept delivery of a quantity of pig lead, lead-base alloy, or lead products, if his inventory of all such material is, or by such receipt would become, more than the smallest quantity of such material which he reasonably requires to meet his deliveries or maintain his currently scheduled rate of operations during the next succeeding 30-day period, or in excess of a "practicable minimum working inventory" as defined in NPA Reg. 1., whichever is less.

(b) No dealer shall receive or accept delivery of any quantity of lead scrap, unless during the 60 days immediately preceding the date of such acceptance he shall have made delivery or otherwise disposed of such scrap to an amount at least equal in weight to his inventory of scrap on the date of such acceptance, exclusive of the delivery to be accepted.

(c) A person may import any materials to which paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section apply acquired prior to landing without regard to the inventory restrictions of this section. However, if his inventory of such material thereby becomes in excess of the amount permitted, he may not receive further deliveries of it from domestic sources until his inventory is reduced to permitted levels. The inventory restrictions of this section do apply to any deliveries of the imported materials he makes, and to the amount of it that any person accepting delivery from him is permitted to receive.

(d) Printers and publishers who use lead-base alloy (including type metal, electrotype metal or stereotype metal) may receive and accept delivery of a quantity by weight of pig lead, lead-base alloy or lead products in any month which does not exceed one-sixth of the total quantity by weight of printing plates used by them and lead scrap and dross generated in their own operations which has been delivered by them to a smelter to be refined in the preceding 6 months. However, printers and publishers may receive or accept delivery of lead, lead-base alloy, or lead products in excess of the amount permitted by the preceding sentence if their inventory of such materials is not, or by such receipt would not become, larger than permitted by paragraph (a) of this section.

SEC. 10. Records and reports. (a) Any primary refiner who produces or ships 10 short tons or more of pig lead during any month, or who has 10 short tons or more of pig lead in his possession or under his control on any day of any month, shall complete and file Bureau of Mines report form 6-1075-M, in duplicate, on or before the 25th day of February 1951 with respect to January 1951, and on or before the 20th day of each month thereafter with respect to such transaction or possession during the preceding month.

(b) Any secondary refiner who produces or ships 10 short tons or more of pig lead during any month, or who has 10 short tons or more of pig lead in his possession or under his control on any day of any month shall complete and file Bureau of Mines report form 6-1116-M, in duplicate, on or before the 25th day of February 1951 with respect to January 1951, and on or before the 20th day of each month thereafter with respect to such transaction or possession during the preceding month.

(c) Any dealer who receives or ships 5 short tons or more of pig lead during any month, or who has 10 short tons or more of pig lead in his possession or under his control on any day of any month shall complete and file Bureau of Mines report form 6-1078-M, in duplicate, on or before the 25th day of February 1951, and on or before the 20th day of each month thereafter with respect to such transactions or possession during the preceding month.

(d) Any person who puts into process 5 short tons or more of pig lead in any month, or who on any day of any month has in his possession or under his control 10 short tons or more of pig lead, shall complete and file Bureau of Mines report forms 6-1078-M, in duplicate, on or before the 25th day of February 1951 with respect to January 1951, and on or before the 20th day of each month thereafter with respect to such transactions or possession during the preceding month.

(e) All reports required by this order shall be addressed to the Bureau of Mines, Washington 25, D. C., ref: M-38, together with such number of copies as may be specified on the report form.

(f) Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, production, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction whether the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

(g) All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the National Production Authority.

SEC. 11. Applications for adjustments. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that his business operation was commenced during or after the base period, or because any provision otherwise works an undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing and shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 12. Communications. All communications concerning this order other than reports, shall be addressed to the National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-38.

SEC. 13. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the National Production Authority or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

NOTE: All reporting and record-keeping requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C. 139-139F).

This order as amended shall take effect on May 28, 1951.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 11 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.; sec. 101, E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.; sec. 2, E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61.

SECTION 1. What this order does. The purpose of this order is to conserve used rails and used axles and to provide for their distribution and use so as best to serve the interest of the national defense program and of defense-supporting activities by promoting the distribution of unserviceable axles to bar mills and forging plants and promoting the distribution of unserviceable rails to rerolling mills and to foundries. It prohibits, subject to certain exceptions, deliveries of used rails and used axles except by authorizations to be issued from time to time by the National Production Authority (hereinafter called "NPA").

SEC. 2. Definitions. As used in this order:

(a) "Person" means any individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, and includes any agency of the United States or any other government.

(b) "Rail" means the steel rolling mill shape known as "tee rail", and includes high tee or flange rail from streetcar tracks.

(c) "Used rail" means rail (weighing not less than 20 pounds or more than 160 pounds per yard in length, weight determination based on standard rail descriptions) which has been released from track by the laying of new replacement rail or used rail, or by withdrawal of the track as a transportation facility.

(d) "Axle" means the steel rolling mill shape or forging billet shape known as solid steel car or locomotive axle.

(e) "Used axle" means any axle which has been released from railroad passenger car, locomotive, or freight car equipment.

SEC. 3. Directives. NPA may, from time to time, issue directives as to deliveries or use of used rails and used axles and, unless otherwise provided therein, such directives will prevail over the provisions of this order.

SEC. 4. Written authorization required. (a) After May 31, 1951, no person shall deliver or accept delivery of used rails or used axles, including, but not limited to, any used rails or used axles generated as a result of an abandonment or dismantling, in any quantity exceeding 10 tons of each item in any one month, except in accordance with the terms of a written authorization issued by NPA.

(b) An application for a written authorization must be filed with the NPA by letter or telegram by the owner of the materials. The application should state the quantity of used rails or used axles involved, the grade, contemplated party or parties to the transaction or transactions, and the location of the material.

(c) NPA will, from time to time, allocate the supply of used rails and used axles and specifically authorize the quantities in which deliveries to particular persons or for particular uses may be made or withheld.

SEC. 5. Exceptions to authorization requirement. The provisions of section 4 of this order shall not apply to the delivery of:

(a) Used rails by a common carrier for use in industrial sidings or for use in its own tracks.

(b) Used axles by a common carrier for use in repairing its own rolling stock.

(c) Any grades of used rails or used axles to a person for use in his own tracks or in his own rolling stock.

(d) Used axles of serviceable grade, and used rails of relayer grade, for use in repairing or re-equipping rolling stock or for laying tracks.

In any case where a delivery of used rails or used axles (except delivery of used rails of relayer grade or used axles of serviceable grade by a parent to a subsidiary railroad corporation, or by a lessor railroad to a lessee railroad) is to be made under the provisions of this section, the person making such delivery shall first obtain from the person to whom delivery is to be made a certificate signed manually. This certificate shall be in substantially the following form and shall be filed with each purchase order placed with the person selling or delivering used rails or used axles.

To _____ supplier:

The undersigned certifies, subject to statutory penalties, that the (used rails) (used axles) classified in the accompanying order are for use by the undersigned, and that the use thereof by the undersigned will be in compliance with NPA Order M-64.

SEC. 6. Applications for adjustment or exception. Any person affected by any provision of this order may file a request for adjustment or exception upon the ground that such provision works on undue or exceptional hardship upon him not suffered generally by others in the same trade or industry, or that its enforcement against him would not be in the interest of the national defense or in the public interest. In considering requests for adjustment claiming that the public interest is prejudiced by the application of any provision of this order, consideration will be given to the requirements of the public health and safety, civilian defense, and dislocation of labor and resulting unemployment that would impair the defense program. Each request shall be in writing, shall set forth all pertinent facts and the nature of the relief sought, and shall state the justification therefor.

SEC. 7. Communications. All communications concerning this order shall be addressed to National Production Authority, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-64.

SEC. 8. Records. Each person participating in any transaction covered by this order shall retain in his possession for at least 2 years records of receipts, deliveries, inventories, and use, in sufficient detail to permit an audit that determines for each transaction that the provisions of this order have been met. This does not specify any particular accounting method and does not require alteration of the system of records customarily maintained, provided such records supply an adequate basis for audit. Records may be retained in the form of microfilm or other photographic copies instead of the originals.

SEC. 9. Audit and inspection. All records required by this order shall be made available at the usual place of business where maintained for inspection and audit by duly authorized representatives of the NPA.

SEC. 10. Reports. Persons subject to this order shall make such records and submit such reports to the NPA as it shall require, subject to the terms of the Federal Reports Act of 1942 (5 U. S. C., 139-139F).

SEC. 11. Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or any other order or regulation of the NPA or who wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information in the course of operation under this order is guilty of a crime and, upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition, administrative action may be taken against any such person to suspend his privilege of making or receiving further deliveries of materials or using facilities under priority or allocation control and to deprive him of further priorities assistance.

This order shall take effect on May 28, 1951.

[DSFA Order SFO-1, Amendment No. 1]

SFO-1—COAL MINES, COKE PLANTS, AND COAL AND COKE PREPARATION AND PROCESSING PLANTS

INFORMATION REQUIRED

This amendment is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order, consultation with industry representatives has been rendered impracticable due to the necessity for immediate action.

This amendment affects DSFA order SFO-1 as follows:

It amends section 3 of DSFA order SFO-1 to extend the final date for filing Form DSFA-1 with DSFA from May 15, 1951 to June 30, 1951.

Section 3 of DSFA order SFO-1 is hereby amended to read as follows:

SEC. 3. Information required. On or before June 30, 1951, each producer shall file with DSFA on Form DSFA-1 the information asked for thereon with respect to each coal mine, coke plant, and coal or coke processing plant operated by him. Four copies of Form DSFA-1 shall be completely filled out and filed for each mine or plant: Provided, however, That coke producers who file monthly reports with the Bureau of Mines, either on Bureau of Mines Form 6-1365 or on Bureau of Mines Form 6-1366, need not complete Form DSFA-1, but need only indicate thereon the type of operation conducted. Additional copies of Form DSFA-1 may be obtained by writing to DSFA. The individual company information submitted on Form DSFA-1 is for use in connection with the defense mobilization program. Persons who have access to such individual company information are subject to penalties for unauthorized disclosure.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

This order shall take effect on May 29, 1951.

TITLE 39—POSTAL SERVICE

Chapter I—Post Office Department

PART 34—CLASSIFICATION AND RATES OF POSTAGE

FORWARDING OR RETURN OF AIR PARCEL POST

In § 34.88 Postage rates for air parcel post (39 CFR 34.88) amend paragraph (b) (8) to read as follows:

(8) Forwarding or return. Air parcel post undeliverable as addressed is subject to forwarding and return postage. Such articles shall be promptly forwarded by air if a new address is available, properly rated up at the applicable zone rate. If a new address is not available, air parcel post shall be returned to the sender, or other person the sender may designate, by surface means unless the piece bears specific instructions that it be returned by air. When air parcels are returned to sender by surface means the "Air Parcel Post" endorsements shall be crossed off and the piece rated for collection of the proper rate of postage according to the class of mail involved. Parcels returned by air at the sender's direction shall, of course, be rated for collection of postage at the air zone rate.

IDAHO

ORDER PROVIDING FOR OPENING OF PUBLIC LANDS

MAY 23, 1951.

Pursuant to the provisions of the Carey Act of August 18, 1894 (28 Stat. 422; 43 U. S. C. 641), the State of Idaho found that the hereinafter-described lands are unsuitable for irrigation and reclamation, and accordingly reconveyed such lands to the United States;

BOISE MERIDIAN

T. 5 S., R. 11 E.,
Sec. 24, S½SW¼, NW¼SE¼;
Sec. 26, SE¼SE¼, NW¼NE¼.
T. 5 S., R. 12 E.,
Sec. 27, NW¼NW¼, W½SW¼;
Sec. 29, S½NW¼;
Sec. 30, S½NE¼, SE¼NW¼;
Sec. 34, NW¼SW¼, E½NW¼;
Sec. 35, NW¼SW¼, S½NE¼.

T. 6 S., R. 13 E.,
Sec. 10, S½NW¼;
Sec. 13, SW¼SE¼;
Sec. 14, NW¼NE¼, NW¼, NE¼SW¼;
Sec. 15, E½NE¼, NW¼NE¼, SE¼SE¼, SW¼SW¼;
Sec. 22, E½NE¼, W½SE¼;
Sec. 23, SW¼NE¼, W½SE¼, SW¼SW¼, SE¼NW¼;
Sec. 24, W½NE¼, E½NW¼;
Sec. 25, NE¼NE¼.
T. 6 S., R. 14 E.,
Sec. 29, SE¼NE¼, NW¼NE¼.

The lands are not susceptible to practical irrigation or the profitable growing of crops.

No applications for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small tract, desert-land, or any other nonmineral public-land laws, unless the lands have already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application, or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

At 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279-284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m., on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land and Survey Office, Boise, Idaho, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Boise, Idaho.

WILLIAM ZIMMERMAN, JR.,
Associate Director.

WYOMING

REVOCATION OF ORDERS OPENING LANDS TO ENTRY UNDER THE FOREST HOMESTEAD ACT

MAY 23, 1951.

Pursuant to requests of the Department of Agriculture and in accordance with Departmental Order No. 2583, sec. 2.22 (a) of August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5643), it is ordered as follows:

Subject to any valid intervening adverse claims, the orders listed below opening lands in the Shoshone National Forest, Wyoming, to entry under the act of June 11, 1906, as amended, 34 Stat. 233 (16 U. S. C. 506-509), are hereby revoked so far as they affect the following-described lands:

Date of order of opening	List No.	Land
Nov. 10, 1919	2-2441	T. 47 N., R. 102 W., 6th P. M., sec. 20, NE¼NE¼; sec. 21, SE¼NE¼, SW¼NW¼; containing 120 acres.
Sept. 10, 1930	2-2752	A tract described by metes and bounds in unsurveyed sec. 31, T. 56 N., R. 101 W., 6th P. M., containing 102.59 acres, as shown upon diagram accompanying List 2-2752.

COLORADO

PARTIALLY REVOKING ORDER OF SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR OF SEPTEMBER 16, 1889, WITHDRAWING PUBLIC LANDS FOR EXAMINATION

MAY 23, 1951.

Upon the recommendation of the National Park Service, and in accordance with Departmental Order No. 2583, sec. 2.22 (a) of August 16, 1950 (15 F. R. 5643), it is ordered as follows:

The order of the Secretary of the Interior of September 16, 1889, withdrawing certain public lands in Colorado from disposal pending examination with a view of ascertaining their condition and historical value, is hereby revoked as to the following-described lands:

NEW MEXICO PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 36 N., R. 17 W.,
Sec. 4, S½.

The area described contains 320 acres.

The above-described lands are primarily valuable for grazing. They will not be subject to occupancy or disposition until they have been classified. It is unlikely that they will be classified as suitable for homestead, desert-land, or small-tract use.

This order shall become effective at 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date hereof. At that time the above-described lands shall become subject to application, petition, location, and selection, subject to valid existing rights, the provisions of existing withdrawals, the requirements of applicable law, and the 90-day preference right filing period for veterans and others entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944 (58 Stat. 747; 43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended.

Information showing the periods during which and the conditions under which veterans and others may file applications for these lands may be obtained on request from the Manager, Land and Survey Office, Denver, Colorado.

CIVIL AERONAUTICS BOARD

[Docket No. 3589]

PAN AMERICAN WORLD AIRWAYS, INC.; REOPENED NORTH ATLANTIC ROUTE TRANSFER CASE

NOTICE OF HEARING FOR DETERMINATION OF CERTAIN EMPLOYEE SENIORITY PROBLEMS

In the matter of the reopened North Atlantic Route Transfer case for determination of certain employee seniority problems.

Notice is hereby given that pursuant to the Civil Aeronautics Act of 1938, as amended, that hearing in the above-entitled proceeding is assigned to be held on June 5, 1951, at 10:00 a. m. e. d. s. t., in Conference Room A, Departmental Auditorium, on Constitution Avenue between Twelfth and Fourteenth Streets NW., Washington, D. C., before Examiner Thomas L. Wrenn.

Without limiting the scope of the issues in the proceeding, particular attention will be directed to:

(a) Whether the Board should prescribe an integrated seniority list for each class or craft of employees of Pan American World Airways, Inc., for which such a list has not been established by agreement or arbitration or should prescribe a method of establishing such list or should prescribe some other method for establishing seniority, and

(b) If so, what the lists or the method of establishing them or the method of establishing seniority should be;

and to take such action as may be necessary or proper to make such determination effective.

For further details of the issues involved in the proceeding, interested persons are referred to the order reopening the proceeding, the prehearing conference report, and the orders entered in the proceeding, all of which are on file with the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Notice is further given that any person, other than a party of record, desiring to be heard in opposition to the proceeding must file with the Board on or before June 5, 1951, a written statement setting forth the issues of fact or law raised by the proceeding which he desires to controvert.

Dated at Washington, D. C., May 23, 1951.

TENNESSEE GAS TRANSMISSION CO.

ORDER FIXING DATE OF HEARING

On April 10, 1951, Tennessee Gas Transmission Company (Applicant) a Delaware corporation having its principal office in the Commerce Building, Houston, Texas, filed an application for a certificate of public convenience and necessity pursuant to section 7 (c) of the Natural Gas Act authorizing the construction and operation of a sales meter station and the sale of natural gas as fully described in the application which is on file with the Commission and open to public inspection.

The Commission finds: This proceeding is a proper one for disposition under the provisions of § 1.32 (b) (18 CFR 1.32 (b)) of the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. Applicant having requested that its application be heard under the shortened procedure provided by the aforesaid rule for non-contested proceedings, and no request to be heard, protest, or petition having been filed subsequent to the giving of due notice of the filing of the application, including publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER on April 25, 1951 (16 F. R. 3543).

The Commission orders:

(A) Pursuant to the authority contained in and subject to the jurisdiction conferred upon the Federal Power Commission by sections 7 and 15 of the Natural Gas Act, as amended, and the Commission's rules of practice and procedure, a hearing be held on June 14, 1951 at 9:45 a. m. e. d. s. t., in the Hearing Room of the Federal Power Commission, 1800 Pennsylvania Avenue NW., Washington, D. FLORIDA POWER CORP.

NOTICE OF AMENDMENT TO APPLICATION

MAY 24, 1951.

Take notice that on May 21, 1951, Florida Power Corporation filed an amendment to its application in this docket (notice of the original application was published on April 18, 1951, 16 F. R. 3390), pursuant to section 204 of the Federal Power Act, seeking an order authorizing it to issue up to but not in excess of 100,000 shares of its Common Stock to Florida Power & Light Company as consideration for the electric facilities proposed to be acquired from the latter company, as set forth in the notice of the original application. The amendment to the application also requests that the proposed issuance of securities be exempted from the competitive bidding requirements of the Commission's General Rules and Regulations; all as more fully appears in the application as amended on file with the Commission.

Any person desiring to be heard or to make any protest with reference to said amendment to the application should, on or before the 7th day of June 1951, file with the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., a petition or protest in accordance with the Commission's rules of practice and procedure. The application and amendment thereto are on file with the Commission for public inspection.

FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

[File No. 21–431]

RADIO AND TELEVISION INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HOLDING OF TRADE PRACTICE CONFERENCE

Notice is hereby given that a trade practice conference, under the auspices of the Federal Trade Commission, will be held for the Radio and Television Industry in the Auditorium National Archives Building, Pennsylvania Avenue at Eighth Street NW., Washington, D. C., on June 21, 1951, commencing at 9 a. m., e. s. t., 10 a. m., d. s. t.

All persons, firms, corporations, and organizations engaged in the manufacture, sale or distribution in commerce of radio or television receiving sets, radio-television combination sets, or parts or accessories therefor, are cordially invited to attend or to be represented at the conference and to take part in the proceedings.

The conference and further proceedings in the matter will be directed toward the eventual establishment and promulgation by the Commission of trade practice rules for the industry under which unfair methods of competition, unfair or deceptive acts or practices, and other trade abuses, may be eliminated and prevented. Such rules as may be established and promulgated as a result of the conference and subsequent proceedings will supplant the trade practice rules promulgated by the Commission on July 22, 1939, for the Radio Receiving Set Manufacturing Industry.

Issued: May 24, 1951.

By direction of the Commission.

[File No. 70-2597]

DUQUESNE LIGHT CO. AND PHILADELPHIA CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING INCREASE OF STATED VALUE OF COMMON STOCK, RECLASSIFICATION OF SUCH STOCK, AND EXCHANGE OF PORTION OF RECLASSIFIED STOCK FOR OUTSTANDING COMMON STOCK

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of May 1951.

Duquesne Light Company ("Duquesne"), a public utility company, and its parent, Philadelphia Company ("Philadelphia"), a registered holding company, having filed a joint application-declaration and amendments thereto, pursuant to sections 6 (a), 7, 9 (a), 10, 12 (c), 12 (d), 12 (f) and 12 (g) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") and Rules U-42, U-43, and U-44 promulgated thereunder, with respect to the following transactions:

Duquesne has outstanding 2,152,828 shares of common stock, without par value, stated at $56,813,120. Its authorized common stock aggregates 4,500,000 shares stated at $112,500,000. All of the outstanding shares are owned by Philadelphia. Duquesne proposes (a) to increase on its books the stated value of its outstanding common stock to $57,500,000 by the transfer of $686,880 from earned surplus; (b) to increase the stated capital of such shares, as stated in returns filed with the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, from $53,820,700 to $57,500,000; and (c) to reclassify the 4,500,000 shares of authorized common stock (whether issued or unissued) to 7,000,000 authorized shares, par value $10 per share, as follows: The 2,152,828 outstanding shares will be changed and converted into 5,750,000 shares and the 2,347,172 unissued shares into 1,250,000 shares.

Philadelphia proposes to exchange its holdings of 2,152,828 shares of Duquesne common stock, without par value, for 5,750,000 shares of common stock, par value $10 per share.

Applicants-declarants state that the transactions are proposed in conjunction with Step 1 of the plan, dated February 8, 1951, for compliance by Philadelphia and its parent, Standard Gas and Electric Company, also a registered holding company, with the provisions of section 11 of the act, filed with this Commission at File No. 54-191. (See Holding Company Act Release No. 10413.)

Said application-declaration having been filed on March 26, 1951, and the last amendment thereto having been filed on May 2, 1951, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed in Rule U-23 promulgated under the act, and the Commission not having received a request for a hearing on said amended application-declaration within the period specified in said notice, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing with respect thereto; and

The Commission finding with respect to the proposed transactions that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder are satisfied and that no adverse findings are necessary, and further finding that the estimated fees and expenses in connection with the proposed transactions are not unreasonable, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application-declaration, as amended, be granted and permitted to become effective forthwith:

It is ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said application-declaration, as amended, be, and it hereby is, granted and permitted to become effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24.

By the Commission.

NATIONAL FUEL GAS CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED PURCHASE OF COMMON STOCK OF PENNSYLVANIA GAS COMPANY

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of May A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that National Fuel Gas Company ("National"), a registered holding company, has filed an application pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and has designated sections 9 (a) and 10 of the act as being applicable to the proposed transactions.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the offices of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed, which are summarized as follows:

National proposes to purchase from Theresa H. Marso, 7,000 shares of the common stock of Pennsylvania Gas Company ("Pennsylvania") at a price of $16.50 per share, pursuant to a purchase agreement. National states that it presently owns 58.30 percent of the outstanding shares of common stock of Pennsylvania and that the 7,000 shares proposed to be purchased represent an additional 1.21 percent.

National further proposes to purchase from other stockholders of Pennsylvania, not to exceed 20,000 shares of the latter company's stock, pursuant to an offer to such stockholders at a price of $16.50 per share. Said offer to purchase, on the part of National, would be limited, however, to a period of 20 days following the date of mailing a notice of such offer to all stockholders of Pennsylvania, which notice National proposes to mail on a date as early as practicable after approval of the application by the Commission.

National represents that no brokerage fees or commissions will be paid in connection with the proposed purchase of Pennsylvania's stock and that no approval of any other governmental body (Federal or State) is required in order for National to acquire said stock.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 5, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest, and the issues of fact or law raised by said application, as filed or as subsequently amended, which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after June 5, 1951, said application, as filed or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

By the Commission.

GAS SERVICE CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED SALE OF $5,400,000 PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 22d day of May A. D. 1951.

Notice is hereby given that a declaration has been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act") by the Gas Service Company ("Gas Company"), a subsidiary of Cities Service Company, a registered holding company. Declarant has designated sections 6 (a) and 7 of the act as applicable to the proposed transaction.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 5, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., e. d. s. t., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest and the issues of fact or law raised by said declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after June 5, 1951, said declaration, as filed or as amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act or the Commission may exempt such transaction as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transaction therein proposed, which is summarized as follows:

Gas Company, a gas utility company incorporated in Delaware and doing business in the States of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska, proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50, $5,400,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds due 1971, to be issued under and secured by an Indenture of Mortgage and Deed of Trust, dated as of September 1, 1949, and a Supplemental Indenture to be dated as of June 1, 1951. The net proceeds from the sale of the bonds will be applied, in part, to the prepayment of the outstanding 2¼ percent promissory note issued by Gas Company on December 4, 1950 in the principal amount of $1,300,000 and which matures on September 4, 1951. The remaining proceeds will be used to provide for the construction of additional improvements to Gas Company's properties, and to reimburse its treasury in part for construction work heretofore completed.

The declaration states that the proposed transaction is subject to the jurisdiction of the Public Service Commission of Missouri, the State Corporation Commission of Kansas, and the Nebraska State Railway Commission, and that the orders of those Commissions will be filed by amendment to the instant declaration.

By the Commission.

(m) Office of the assistant administrator for special services—(1) Mission. The primary mission of the office of the assistant administrator for special services is to help the hospitalized veteran-patient to get well. In the performance of this mission, special services programs are planned in coordination with the department of medicine and surgery and conducted by special services personnel for patients whose participation in the special services program has been cleared or specified by appropriate medical authorities. The office of the assistant administrator for special services formulates policies, plans, and procedures for the special services program of the Veterans' Administration; exercises direct supervision over activities under immediate jurisdiction of the central office; and maintains staff supervision over activities located in field stations.

(2) Major functions. The office of the assistant administrator for special services performs the following major functions:

(i) Develops and recommends for publication directives to effectuate policies, plans, and procedures covering all special services activities. Within general policies and decisions of the Administrator, formulates and issues, either orally or by letter, such instructions as may be necessary to carry into effect those policies and decisions within the functional field of special services.

(ii) Develops and recommends policies and procedures relative to the voluntary service program in Veterans' Administration. Coordinates and integrates the use of volunteer assistance in the Veterans' Administration with concerned Veterans' Administration services and with the participating voluntary service organizations.

(iii) Develops and conducts programs for the orientation and training of special services personnel in collaboration with the office of the assistant administrator for personnel.

(iv) Develops and recommends policy relative to the acceptance of gifts and donations offered to the Veterans' Administration.

(v) Allocates from that part of the general post fund balance which is controlled exclusively by central office on the basis of developed needs at hospitals and domiciliaries.

(vi) Formulates policies, plans, procedures, techniques, and standards of performance relative to guest quarters of the Veterans' Administration and exercises staff supervision over guest quarters at field stations.

(3) Organization. The office of the assistant administrator for special services consists of the executive assistant, management and planning staff, veterans canteen service, recreation service, fiscal and administrative service, chaplaincy service, library service, and the voluntary service.

AUTHORITY: §§ 929.0 to 929.111 inclusive, issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup. 608c.

§ 929.0 Findings and determinations—(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing the formulation of marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held upon a proposed marketing agreement and a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order and all of the terms and conditions thereof, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The parity prices of milk produced for sale in the said marketing area as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds and other economic conditions which affect market supplies of and demand for such milk, and the minimum prices specified in the order, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk and be in the public interest;

(3) The said order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held;

(4) All milk and milk products handled by handlers, as defined in this order, are in the current of interstate commerce or directly burden, obstruct, or affect interstate commerce in milk or its products; and

(5) It is hereby found that the necessary expenses of the market administrator for the maintenance and functioning of such agency will require the payment by each handler, as his pro rata share of such expense, 4 cents per hundredweight or such amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all receipts within the month of (i) other source milk which is classified as Class I milk, and (ii) milk from producers including such handler's own production.

(b) Determinations. It is hereby determined that handlers (excluding cooperative associations of producers who are not engaged in processing, distributing, or shipping milk covered by this order which is marketed within the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area) of more than 50 percent of the milk which is marketed within the said marketing area, refused or failed to sign the proposed marketing agreement regulating the handling of milk in the said marketing area, and it is hereby further determined that:

(1) The refusal or failure of such handlers to sign said proposed marketing agreement tends to prevent the effectuation of the declared policy of the act;

(2) The issuance of this order is the only practical means, pursuant to the declared policy of the act, of advancing the interests of producers of milk which is produced for sale in the said marketing area; and

(3) The issuance of this order is approved or favored by at least two-thirds of the producers who participated in a referendum on the question of approval of its issuance, and who, during the determined representative period (March 1951), were engaged in the production of milk for sale in the said marketing area.

Order relative to handling. It is therefore ordered that on and after the effective date hereof the handling of milk in the Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area shall be in conformity to and in compliance with the following terms and conditions:

DEFINITIONS

§ 929.1 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress, as amended, and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

§ 929.2 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture or other officer or employee of the United States authorized to exercise the powers or to perform the duties of the said Secretary of Agriculture.

§ 929.3 Department. "Department" means the United States Department of Agriculture or other Federal agency authorized to perform the price reporting functions specified in this part.

§ 929.4 Person. "Person" means any individual, partnership, corporation, association, or any other business unit.

§ 929.5 Cooperative association. "Cooperative association" means any cooperative marketing association of producers which the Secretary determines (a) to be qualified under the provisions of the Act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," (b) to have full authority in the sale of milk of its members, and (c) to be engaged in making collective sales or marketing milk or its products for its members.

§ 929.6 Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area. "Muskogee, Oklahoma, marketing area," hereinafter called the marketing area, means all the territory lying within the boundaries of the cities of Muskogee, McAlester, and Tahlequah, Oklahoma.

§ 929.7 Approved plant. "Approved plant" means (a) any milk plant approved by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area from which milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, or cream are disposed of for fluid consumption in the marketing area on wholesale or retail routes (including plant stores), or (b) any milk plant approved by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area which serves as a receiving station by receiving, weighing, and commingling producer milk and from which such milk is normally transferred to a plant specified in paragraph (a) of this section.

§ 929.8 Unapproved plant. "Unapproved plant" means any milk manufacturing, processing, bottling, or distributing plant other than an approved plant.

§ 929.9 Handler. "Handler" means (a) any person in his capacity as the operator of an approved plant; or (b) any cooperative association with respect to the milk of any producer which it causes to be diverted to an unapproved plant for the account of such cooperative association.

§ 929.10 Producer. "Producer" means any person, other than a producer-handler, who produces milk which is received at an approved plant: Provided, That such milk is produced under a dairy farm inspection permit or inspection rating issued by any health authority having jurisdiction in the marketing area for the production of milk to be disposed of for consumption as Grade A milk. This definition shall include any such person who is regularly classified as a producer but whose milk is caused to be diverted by a handler to an unapproved plant, and milk so diverted shall be deemed to have been received at an approved plant by the handler who causes it to be diverted. This definition shall not include a person with respect to milk produced by him which is received at a plant operated by a handler who is subject to another Federal marketing order and who is partially exempt from the provisions of this part pursuant to § 929.61.

§ 929.11 Producer milk. "Producer milk" means all skim milk and butterfat in milk produced by a producer which is received by a handler either directly from producers or from other handlers.

§ 929.12 Other source milk. "Other source milk" means all skim milk and butterfat other than that contained in producer milk.

§ 929.13 Producer-handler. "Producer-handler" means any person who produces milk and operates an approved plant, but who receives no milk from producers.

§ 929.14 Base milk. "Base milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is not in excess of each producer's daily average base computed pursuant to § 929.90 multiplied by the number of days in such month for which the handler received milk from the producer.

§ 929.15 Excess milk. "Excess milk" means producer milk received by a handler during any of the months of April through June which is in excess of base milk received from each producer during such month, and shall include all milk received from producers for whom no daily average base can be computed pursuant to § 929.90.

MARKET ADMINISTRATOR

§ 929.20 Designation. The agency for the administration of this part shall be a market administrator, selected by the Secretary, who shall be entitled to such compensation as may be determined by, and shall be subject to removal at the discretion of, the Secretary.

§ 929.21 Powers. The market administrator shall have the following powers with respect to this part:

(a) To administer its terms and provisions;

(b) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations;

(c) To make rules and regulations to effectuate its terms and provisions; and

(d) To recommend amendments to the Secretary.

§ 929.22 Duties. The market administrator shall perform all duties necessary to administer the terms and provisions of this part, including but not limited to the following:

(a) Within 45 days following the date on which he enters upon his duties, or such lesser period as may be prescribed by the Secretary, execute and deliver to the Secretary a bond effective as of the date on which he enters upon such duties and conditioned upon the faithful performance of such duties, in an amount and with surety thereon satisfactory to the Secretary;

(b) Employ and fix the compensation of such persons as may be necessary to enable him to administer its terms and provisions;

(c) Obtain a bond in reasonable amount and with reasonable surety thereon covering each employee who handles funds entrusted to the market administrator;

(d) Pay out of funds provided by § 929.88 the cost of his bond and of the bonds of his employees, his own compensation, and all other expenses (except those incurred under § 929.87) necessarily incurred by him in the maintenance and functioning of his office and in the performance of his duties;

(e) Keep such books and records as will clearly reflect the transactions provided for in this part, and upon request by the Secretary, surrender the same to such other person as the Secretary may designate;

(f) Submit his books and records to examination by the Secretary and furnish such information and reports as may be requested by the Secretary;

(g) Audit all reports and payments by each handler by inspection of such handler's records and of the records of any other handler or person upon whose utilization the classification of skim milk or butterfat for such handler depends;

(h) Publicly announce, at his discretion, by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate, the name of any person who, within 10 days after the day upon which he is required to perform such acts, has not:

(1) Made reports pursuant to §§ 929.30 through 929.32;

(2) Maintained adequate records and facilities pursuant to § 929.33; or

(3) Made payments pursuant to §§ 929.80 through 929.88;

(i) On or before the 12th day after the end of each month, report to each cooperative association which so requests the amount and class utilization of milk received by each handler from producers who are members of such cooperative association. For the purpose of this report, the milk received shall be prorated to each class in the proportion that the total receipts of producer milk by such handler were used in each class;

(j) Publicly announce by posting in a conspicuous place in his office and by such other means as he deems appropriate the prices determined for each month as follows:

(1) On or before the 5th day of each month the minimum prices for Class I milk pursuant to § 929.51 (a) and the Class I butterfat differential pursuant to § 929.52 (a), both for the current month; and the minimum price for Class II milk pursuant to § 929.51 (b) and the Class II butterfat differential pursuant to § 929.52 (b), both for the preceding month; and

(2) On or before the 12th day of each month, the uniform price(s) computed pursuant to § 929.71 or § 929.72, as applicable, and the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.82, both applicable to milk delivered during the preceding month; and

(k) Prepare and disseminate to the public such statistics and other information as he deems advisable and as do not reveal confidential information.

REPORTS, RECORDS, AND FACILITIES

§ 929.30 Reports of receipts and utilization. On or before the 7th day after the end of each month, each handler, except a producer-handler, shall report to the market administrator in the detail and on forms prescribed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in milk received from producers, and, for the months of April through June, the aggregate quantities of base milk and excess milk;

(b) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in (or used in the production of) receipts from other handlers;

(c) The quantities of skim milk and butterfat contained in receipts of other source milk (except Class II products disposed of in the form in which received without further processing or packaging by the handler);

(d) The utilization of all skim milk and butterfat required to be reported pursuant to this section;

(e) The disposition of Class I products on route(s) wholly outside the marketing area; and

(f) Such other information with respect to receipts and utilization as the market administrator may prescribe.

§ 929.31 Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day of each month, each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer payroll for deliveries of the preceding month which shall show:

(a) The total pounds of milk received from each producer and cooperative association, the total pounds of butterfat contained in such milk and the number of days on which milk was received from such producers, including for the months of April through June such producer's deliveries of base and excess milk;

(b) The amount of payment to each producer or cooperative association; and

(c) The nature and amount of any deductions or charges involved in such payments.

§ 929.32 Other reports. (a) Each producer-handler shall make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may prescribe.

(b) Each handler who causes milk to be diverted to an unapproved plant shall, prior to such diversion, report to the market administrator and to the cooperative association of which such producer is a member, of his intention to divert such milk, the proposed date or dates of such diversion, and the plant to which such milk is to be diverted.

§ 929.33 Records and facilities. Each handler shall maintain and make available to the market administrator or to his representative during the usual hours of business such accounts and records of his operations and such facilities as are necessary for the market administrator to verify or establish the correct data with respect to:

(a) The receipts and utilization of all receipts of producer milk and other source milk;

(b) The weights and tests for butterfat and other content of all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products handled;

(c) Payments to producers and cooperative associations; and

(d) The pounds of skim milk and butterfat contained in or represented by all milk, skim milk, cream and milk products on hand at the beginning and end of each month.

§ 929.34 Retention of records. All books and records required under this part to be made available to the market administrator shall be retained by the handler for a period of three years to begin at the end of the month to which such books and records pertain: Provided, That if, within such three-year period, the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that the retention of such books and records, or of specified books and records, is necessary in connection with a proceeding under section 8c (15) (A) of the act or a court action specified in such notice, the handler shall retain such books and records, or specified books and records, until further written notification from the market administrator. In either case, the market administrator shall give further written notification to the handler promptly, upon the termination of the litigation or when the records are no longer necessary in connection therewith.

CLASSIFICATION

§ 929.40 Basis of classification. All skim milk and butterfat received within the month by a handler and which is required to be reported pursuant to § 929.30 shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 929.41 through 929.46.

§ 929.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 929.43 and 929.44, the classes of utilization shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat disposed of in fluid form as milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk, flavored milk drinks, cream, cultured sour cream, and any other product required by the appropriate health authority of the City of Muskogee, Oklahoma, to be made from Grade A milk, and all skim milk and butterfat not specifically accounted for under paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat:

(1) Used to produce any product other than those specified in paragraph (a) of this section; (2) disposed of for livestock feed; (3) in shrinkage allocated to receipts of milk from producers, but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts of skim milk and butterfat, (4) in shrinkage allocated to receipts of other source milk; and (5) in inventory variations of milk, skim milk, cream, or any Class I product.

§ 929.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall allocate shrinkage over a handler's receipts as follows:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the resulting amounts between the receipts of skim milk and butterfat in producer milk and in other source milk.

§ 929.43 Responsibility of handlers. All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat can prove to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

§ 929.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream, to the approved plant of another handler (except a producer-handler) unless utilization in Class II is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 7th day after the end of the month within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That the skim milk or butterfat so assigned to Class II shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in Class II in the plant of the transferee-handler after the subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 929.46 and any additional amounts of such skim milk or butterfat shall be assigned to Class I: And provided further, That if either or both handlers have received other source milk, the skim milk or butterfat so transferred or diverted shall be classified at both plants so as to allocate the greatest possible Class I utilization to producer milk.

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to a producer-handler.

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted in the form of milk or skim milk to an unapproved plant located more than 185 miles from the approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator.

(d) As Class I milk if transferred in the form of cream under Grade A certification to an unapproved plant located more than 185 miles from an approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator, and as Class II milk if so transferred without Grade A certification.

(e) As Class I milk, if transferred or diverted in the form of milk, skim milk or cream to an unapproved plant located not more than 185 miles from the approved plant by the shortest highway distance as determined by the market administrator from which transferred or diverted, unless the market administrator is permitted to audit the records of receipts and utilization at such unapproved plant, in which case the classification of all skim milk and butterfat received at such unapproved plant shall be determined and the skim milk and butterfat transferred or diverted from the approved plant shall be allocated to the highest use remaining after subtracting, in series beginning with Class I milk, receipts of skim milk and butterfat at such unapproved plant directly from dairy farmers who the market administrator determines constitute the regular source of supply for fluid usage of such unapproved plant in markets supplied by such plant.

§ 929.45 Computation of the skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each month, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the monthly report submitted by each handler and shall compute the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 929.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. After making the computations pursuant to § 929.45, the market administrator shall determine the classification of milk received from producers as follows:

(a) Skim milk shall be allocated in the following manner:

(1) Subtract from the total pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk determined pursuant to § 929.41 (b) (3);

(2) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk in other source milk: Provided, That if the receipts of skim milk in other source milk are greater than the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the pounds of skim milk in Class I;

(3) Subtract from the remaining pounds of skim milk in each class the skim milk received from other handlers according to its classification as determined pursuant to § 929.44 (a);

(4) Add to the remaining pounds of skim milk in Class II the pounds of skim milk subtracted pursuant to subparagraph (1) of this paragraph; and

(5) If the remaining pounds of skim milk in both classes exceed the pounds of skim milk received from producers, subtract such excess from the remaining pounds of skim milk in series beginning with Class II milk. Any amount so subtracted shall be called "overage."

(b) Butterfat shall be allocated in accordance with the same procedure outlined for skim milk in paragraph (a) of this section.

(c) Determine the weighted average butterfat content of Class I and Class II milk computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

MINIMUM PRICES

§ 929.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in determining the price per hundredweight of Class I milk shall be the highest of the prices computed pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section and § 929.51 (b) for the preceding month.

(a) The average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid or to be paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department, divided by 3.5 and multiplied by 4.0:

Present Operator and Location

Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) The price per hundredweight computed by adding together the plus values pursuant to subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) From the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) per pound of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the month, subtract 3 cents, add 20 percent thereof, and multiply by 4.0.

(2) From the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the weighted averages of carlot prices per pound for nonfat dry milk solids, spray and roller process, respectively, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area as published for the period from the 26th day of the preceding month through the 25th day of the current month by the Department, deduct 5.5 cents, multiply by 8.5 and then multiply by 0.96.

§ 929.51 Class prices. Subject to the provisions of §§ 929.52 and 929.53, the minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for milk received at his plant from producers during the month shall be as follows:

(a) Class I milk. The price for Class I milk shall be the basic formula price plus $1.45 for the months of April, May, and June, and plus $1.85 for all other months: Provided, That for each of the months of September, October, November, and December, such price shall not be less than that for the preceding month, and that for each of the months of April, May, and June, such price shall not be more than that for the preceding month.

(b) Class II milk. The average of the basic or field prices reported to have been paid or to be paid for ungraded milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the month at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or to the Department:

Present Operator and Location

American Foods Co., Miami, Okla.
Beatrice Dairies, Tulsa, Okla.
Muskogee Dairy Products Co., Muskogee, Okla.
Pet Milk Co., Siloam Springs, Ark.

§ 929.52 Butterfat differentials to handlers. If the average butterfat content of the milk of any handler allocated to any class pursuant to § 929.46 is more or less than 4.0 percent, there shall be added to the respective class price, computed pursuant to § 929.51, for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such milk is above 4.0 percent or subtracted for each one-tenth of 1 percent that such average butterfat content is below 4.0 percent an amount equal to the butterfat differential computed by multiplying the simple average, as computed by the market administrator, of the daily wholesale selling price per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month specified below by the applicable factor listed and dividing the result by 10:

(a) Class I milk. Multiply such price for the preceding month by 1.25;

(b) Class II milk. Multiply such price for the current month by 1.15.

§ 929.53 Location adjustment credit to handlers. For that portion of milk which (a) is received directly from producers at an approved plant described in § 929.7 (b) which is located at Poteau, or Miami, Oklahoma; and (b) is moved to an approved plant in the marketing area in the form of milk, skim milk, or cream, the prices specified in § 929.51 shall be subject to a location adjustment credit to the handler, computed as follows:

Location of plant:	Cents per hundredweight
Poteau, Okla.	21
Miami, Okla.	23

APPLICATION OF PROVISIONS

§ 929.60 Producer-handlers. Sections 929.40 through 929.46, 929.50 through 929.53, 929.70 through 929.72, 929.80 through 929.88, 929.90 and 929.91, shall not apply to a producer-handler.

§ 929.61 Milk priced under other Federal orders. In case skim milk or butterfat which is priced under another Federal milk marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act is disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing area on a route operated by or for a person subject to regulations as a handler as defined in such other agreement or order, the provisions of this part shall not apply except as follows:

(a) The handler shall, with respect to his total receipts of skim milk and butterfat make reports to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may require and allow verification of such reports by the market administrator.

(b) If the price which such handler is required to pay under the other Federal order to which he is subject for skim milk and butterfat which would be classified as Class I milk under this part is less than the price provided by this part, such handler shall pay to the market administrator for deposit into the producer-settlement fund (with respect to all skim milk and butterfat disposed of as Class I milk within the marketing area) an amount equal to the difference between the value of such skim milk or butterfat as computed pursuant to this part and its value as determined pursuant to the other order to which he is subject.

DETERMINATION OF UNIFORM PRICE

§ 929.70 Computation of value of milk. The value of milk received during each month by each handler from producers shall be a sum of money computed by the market administrator by multiplying the pounds of such milk in each class by the applicable class prices, adding together the resulting amounts and deducting therefrom the values of all location adjustments computed at the applicable rates set forth in § 929.53: Provided, That if the handler had overage of either skim milk or butterfat, there shall be added to the above values an amount computed by multiplying the pounds of overage deducted from each class pursuant to § 929.46 by the applicable class prices.

§ 929.71 Computation of uniform prices. For each of the months of July through March the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 929.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 929.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 929.80 and 929.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the aggregate of the values of all allowable location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 929.81;

(c) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance on hand in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 929.85;

(d) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.82 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(e) Divide the resulting amount by the total hundredweight of milk included in these computations; and

(f) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (e) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

§ 929.72 Computation of uniform prices for base milk and excess milk. For each of the months of April through June the market administrator shall compute the uniform prices per hundredweight for base milk and for excess milk, each of 4.0 percent butterfat content, as follows:

(a) Combine into one total the values computed pursuant to § 929.70 for all handlers who made the reports prescribed in § 929.30 and who made the payments pursuant to §§ 929.80 and 929.84 for the preceding month;

(b) Add the aggregate of the values of all allowable location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 929.81;

(e) Add not less than one-half of the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund less the total amount of the contingent obligations to handlers pursuant to § 929.85;

(d) Subtract if the average butterfat content of the milk included in these computations is greater than 4.0 percent, or add if such average butterfat content is less than 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 4.0 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.32 and multiplying the resulting figure by the total hundredweight of such milk;

(e) Compute the total value on a 4.0 percent butterfat basis of excess milk included in these computations by multiplying the hundredweight of such milk not in excess of the total quantity of Class II milk included in these computations by the price for Class II milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, multiplying the hundredweight of such milk in excess of the total hundredweight of such Class II milk by the price for Class I milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content, and adding together the resulting amounts;

(f) Divide the total value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (e) of this section by the total hundredweight of such milk, and adjust to the nearest cent. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for excess milk of 4.0 percent butterfat received from producers.

(g) Subtract the value of excess milk obtained in paragraph (e) of this section from the value of all milk obtained in paragraph (d) of this section and adjust by any amount involved in adjusting the uniform price of excess milk to the nearest cent;

(h) Divide the amount obtained in paragraph (g) of this section by the total hundredweight of base milk included in these computations; and

(i) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents from the amount computed pursuant to paragraph (h) of this section. The resulting figure shall be the uniform price for base milk of 4.0 percent butterfat content received from producers.

PAYMENTS

§ 929.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment to producers as follows:

(a) On or before the 15th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, to each producer (1) at not less than the uniform price computed pursuant to § 929.71 for all milk received from such producer if such preceding month was any of the months of July through March, or (2) at not less than the uniform price for base milk computed pursuant to § 929.72, with respect to base milk received from such producer, and at not less than the uniform price for excess milk computed pursuant to § 929.72 with respect to excess milk received from such producer, if such preceding month was any of the months of April through June, in each case adjusted by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to § 929.62, subject to location adjustments to producers pursuant to § 929.81, less the amount of the payment made pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association which is authorized to collect payment for such milk, the handler shall, if the cooperative association so requests, pay such cooperative association, on or before the 13th day after the end of the month, an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments payable to such producers in accordance with this paragraph: And provided further, That if such handler has not received full payment for such month pursuant to § 929.85, he may reduce his total payments to all producers uniformly by not more than the amount of the reduction in payments from the market administrator; and the handler shall after receipt of such payment from the market administrator complete the payments to those producers not later than the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following after receipt of the balance from the market administrator.

(b) On or before the last day of each month, each handler shall make payment for milk received from producers during the first 15 days of the month to each producer at not less than the Class II price for the preceding month: Provided, That with respect to producers whose milk was caused to be delivered to such handler by a cooperative association, which is authorized to collect payments for such milk, if the cooperative association so requests, the handler shall pay such cooperative association an amount equal to the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers in accordance with this paragraph.

§ 929.81 Location adjustments to producers. In making payments to producers pursuant to § 929.80, a handler may deduct per hundredweight of milk received from producers at an approved plant described in § 929.7 (b) which is located at Poteau, or Miami, Oklahoma, the applicable amounts set forth below:

Location of plant:	Cents per hundredweight
Poteau, Okla.	21
Miami, Okla.	23

§ 929.82 Producer-butterfat differential. In making payments pursuant to § 929.80, there shall be added to or subtracted from the uniform price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of the milk received from the producer is above or below 4.0 percent, an amount computed by multiplying by 1.2 the simple average as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices per pound (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter at Chicago as reported by the Department during the month, dividing the resulting sum by 10, and rounding to the nearest one-tenth of a cent.

§ 929.83 Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund," into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to §§ 929.61 (b), 929.84 and 929.86, and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to §§ 929.85 and 929.86.

§ 929.84 Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 13th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, shall pay to the market administrator the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers as determined pursuant to § 929.70 is greater than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 929.80, or any amount required pursuant to § 929.61 (b).

§ 929.85 Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 14th day after the end of the month during which the milk was received, the market administrator shall pay to each handler, including a cooperative association which is a handler, the amount, if any, by which the value of the milk received by such handler from producers during the month as determined pursuant to § 929.70 is less than the amount required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to § 929.80: Provided, That if the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available.

§ 929.86 Adjustment of accounts. Whenever audit by the market administrator of any handler's reports, books, records, or accounts discloses errors resulting in moneys due (a) the market administrator from such handler; (b) such handler from the market administrator; or (c) any producer or cooperative association from such handler, the market administrator shall promptly notify such handler of any amount so due and payment thereof shall be made on or before the next date for making payments set forth in the provisions under which error occurred.

§ 929.87 Marketing services. (a) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler, in making payments to producers (other than himself) pursuant to § 929.80, shall deduct 5 cents per hundredweight or such amount not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight as may be prescribed by the Secretary, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of each month. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to sample, test, and check the weights of milk received and to provide producers with market information.

(b) In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association is actually performing the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deduction specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by the membership agreement or marketing contract between such cooperative association and such producers on or before the 15th day after the end of each month pay such deduction to the cooperative association of which such producers are members accompanied by a statement showing the amount of any such deductions, and the amount and average butterfat test of milk for which such deduction was computed for each producer. In lieu of such statement a handler may authorize the market administrator to furnish such cooperative association the information with respect to such producers reported pursuant to § 929.31.

§ 929.88 Expenses of administration. As his pro rata share of the expense of administration of this part, each handler shall pay to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of the month, 4 cents per hundredweight, or such amount not exceeding 4 cents per hundredweight as the Secretary may prescribe, with respect to all receipts within the month of (a) other source milk which is classified as Class I milk, and (b) milk from producers including such handler's own production.

§ 929.89 Termination of obligation. The provisions of this section shall apply to any obligation under this part for the payment of money.

(a) The obligation of any handler to pay money required to be paid under the terms in paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section, terminate two years after the last day of the calendar month during which the market administrator receives the handler's utilization report on the milk involved in such obligation, unless within such two-year period the market administrator notifies the handler in writing that such money is due and payable. Service of such notice shall be complete upon mailing to the handler's last known address, and it shall contain but need not be limited to, the following information:

(1) The amount of the obligation;

(2) The month(s) during which the milk, with respect to which the obligation exists, was received or handled; and,

(3) If the obligation is payable to one or more producers or to an association of producers, the name of such producer(s) or association of producers, or if the obligation is payable to the market administrator, the account for which it is to be paid.

(b) If a handler fails or refuses, with respect to any obligation under this part, to make available to the market administrator or his representatives all books and records required by this part to be made available, the market administrator may, within the two-year period provided for in paragraph (a) of this section, notify the handler in writing of such failure or refusal. If the market administrator so notifies a handler, the said two-year period with respect to such obligation shall not begin to run until the first day of the calendar month following the month during which all such books and records, pertaining to such obligation are made available to the market administrator or his representatives.

(c) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section, a handler's obligation under this part to pay money shall not be terminated with respect to any transaction involving fraud or willful concealment of a fact material to the obligation, on the part of the handler against whom the obligation is sought to be imposed.

(d) Any obligation on the part of the market administrator to pay a handler any money which such handler claims to be due him under the terms of this part shall terminate two years after the end of the calendar month during which the milk involved in the claim was received if an underpayment is claimed, or two years after the end of the calendar month during which the payment (including deduction or set-off by the market administrator) was made by the handler if a refund on such payment is claimed, unless such handler, within the applicable period of time, files, pursuant to section 8c (15) (A) of the act, a petition claiming such money.

DETERMINATION OF BASE

§ 929.90 Computation of daily average base for each producer. For the months of April through June of each year the market administrator shall compute a daily average base for each producer as follows, subject to the rules set forth in § 929.91:

(a) Divide the total pounds of milk received by a handler(s) from such producer during the months of October through January immediately preceding by the number of days not to be less than ninety, of such producer's delivery in such period.

§ 929.91 Base rules. (a) A base shall apply to deliveries of milk by the producer for whose account that milk was delivered during the base forming period;

(b) Bases may be transferred by notifying the market administrator in writing on or before the last day of any applicable base paying month that such base is to be transferred to the person named in such notice only as follows:

(1) In the event of the death, retirement, or entry into military service of a producer the entire base may be transferred to a member(s) of such producer's immediate family who carries on the dairy herd operations.

(2) If a base is held jointly and such joint holding is terminated, the entire base may be transferred to one of the joint holders.

(c) A producer who ceases to deliver milk to a handler for more than 45 consecutive days shall forfeit his base.

EFFECTIVE TIME, SUSPENSION OR TERMINATION

§ 929.100 Effective time. The provisions of this part or any amendment to this part shall become effective at such time as the Secretary may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated pursuant to § 929.101.

§ 929.101 Suspension or termination. The Secretary may suspend or terminate this part or any provision of this part whenever he finds this part or any provision of this part obstructs or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This part shall terminate in any event whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

§ 929.102 Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions of this part, there are any obligations thereunder, the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any person (including the market administrator), such further acts shall be performed notwithstanding such suspension or termination.

§ 929.103 Liquidation. Upon the suspension or termination of the provisions of this part, except this section, the market administrator, or such other liquidating agent as the Secretary may designate, shall if so directed by the Secretary liquidate the business of the market administrator's office, dispose of all property in his possession or control, including accounts receivable, and execute and deliver all assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to effectuate any such disposition. If a liquidating agent is so designated, all assets, books and records of the market administrator shall be transferred promptly to such liquidating agent. If, upon such liquidation, the funds on hand exceed the amounts required to pay outstanding obligations of the office of the market administrator and to pay necessary expenses of liquidation and distribution, such excess shall be distributed to contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 929.110 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this part.

§ 929.111 Separability of provisions. If any provision of this part or its application to any person or circumstances, is held invalid, the application of such provision and the remaining provisions of this part, to other persons or circumstances, shall not be affected thereby.

Issued at Washington, D. C., this 29th day of May 1951, to be effective on and after the 1st day of July 1951.

[SEAL] CHARLES F. BRANNON,
Secretary of Agriculture.

[5th Gen. Rev. of Export Regs., Amdt. P. L. 50 [1]]

PART 399—POSITIVE LIST OF COMMODITIES AND RELATED MATTERS

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Section 399.1 Appendix A, Positive List of Commodities is amended in the following particulars:

[1] This amendment was published in Current Export Bulletin No. 621, dated May 24, 1951.

1. The following commodities are added to the Positive List:

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
	Electric therapeutic apparatus, and parts, n.e.s., except X-ray (specify type):
7072500	Short wave diathermy units, 500 megacycles and over		SATE	None	RO
7072600	Short wave diathermy units, under 500 megacycles		SATE	None	R
	Construction equipment, and parts, n.e.s.:
7291000	Concrete block machines, high speed		CONS	100	R
	Organic chemicals not of coal-tar origin, n.e.s.:
8329500	Cadmium acetate	Lb.	SALT	25	RO
8410000	Cadmium iodide and iodate	Lb.	SALT	25	RO
	Other industrial chemicals:
8396000	Cadmium salts and compounds, except cadmium oxide [1]		SALT	25	RO
	Chemical pigments, n.e.s.:
8425000	Cadmium pigments	Lb.	SALT	25	RO

[1] Cadmium oxide, Schedule B No. 839600, is already on the Positive List as an RO commodity.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of 12:01 a. m., May 29, 1951.

2. The following commodities are changed from R to RO commodities. These were formerly included in the entry on the Positive List for bromine, bromides, and bromates, Schedule B No. 834400, validated license required R.

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
834400	Cadmium bromide and bromate [1]	Lb.	SALT	25	RO

[1] By this amendment the GLV dollar-value limit for those commodities is reduced from $100 to $25 and the commodity description for the R commodities is revised to read as follows: "834400, Other bromine, bromides, and bromates, GLV value 100, validated license required, R."

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of 12:01 a. m., May 29, 1951.

3. The following revisions are made in commodity descriptions. The revisions include changes in validated license control.

Dept. of Commerce Schedule B No.	Commodity	Unit	Processing code and related commodity group	GLV dollar value limits	Validated license required
3605[illegible]	Hair, Angora goat (mohair); and alpaca [1]	Lb.	TEXT	250	RO
3629[illegible]	Wool noils and waste, mill waste (garnetted, picked, and carded included) except noils of cashmere goat (mohair), camel, and vicuna [2]	Lb.	TEXT	250	RO

[1] The effect of this amendment is to delete from the Positive List, cashmere goat hair (including wool), camel's hair, and vicuna wool and other like hair except those types included in the above revised entry.
[2] The effect of this amendment is to delete from the Positive List noils of cashmere goat (mohair), camel, and vicuna.

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of May 24, 1951.

4. The dollar value limits in the column headed "GLV dollar-value limits" set forth opposite the commodities listed below are amended to read as follows:

Dept. of Comm. Sched. B No.	Commodity	GLV dollar-value limits
[illegible]	Tungsten carbide tool blanks, tips, and [illegible] cement (sintered carbide tool blanks, tips, and [illegible] cement) for machine operation in 7[illegible]	25
[illegible]	Metal and chemical composition manufactures	25
[illegible]	Automotive manufactures	25
[illegible]	Automotive manufactures	25
[illegible]	Rubber tread manufactures	25
[illegible]	Brake linings, bituminite	25
[illegible]	Clutch facings, laminated	25
[illegible]	Friction material, bituminite	25
[illegible]	Gaskets	None
[illegible]	Jewel bearings	25
[illegible]	Metal special articles (fully machined)	25
[illegible]	Watch [illegible], metal metal	25
[illegible]	Tool [illegible], molybdenum	25

This part of the amendment shall become effective as of 12:01 a. m., May 29, 1951.

Shipments of any commodities removed from general license to Country Group R or Country Group O destinations, or whose GLV dollar-value limits were reduced, as a result of changes set forth in Parts 1, 2 and 4 of this amendment which were on dock, on lighter, laden aboard an exporting carrier, or in transit to a port of exit pursuant to actual orders for export prior to 12:01 a. m., May 29, 1951, may be exported under the previous general license provisions up to and including June 23, 1951. Any such shipment not laden aboard the exporting carrier on or before June 23, 1951, requires a validated license for export.

TITLE 32A—NATIONAL DEFENSE, APPENDIX

Chapter III—Office of Price Stabilization, Economic Stabilization Agency

[Ceiling Price Regulation 41]

CPR 41—SHOE MANUFACTURERS' REGULATION

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.) Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Ceiling Price Regulation 41 is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

The need for this regulation. This regulation establishes ceiling prices for sales of shoes by shoe manufacturers.

The general objectives of this regulation are essentially the same as those underlying the recently-issued Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation (Ceiling Price Regulation 22): To roll back margins widened after the Korean outbreak; to restore more normal cost-price relationships by ironing out distortions created by the General Ceiling Price Regulation; and to grant needed relief to manufacturers from the general freeze order. The Statement of Considerations contained in Ceiling Price Regulation 22 is generally applicable to this regulation.

This regulation is designed to establish a pricing formula more closely related to the customary practices in the industry than is possible under a regulation applicable to manufacturers generally. The need for a special regulation of this type was announced at the time Ceiling Price Regulation 22 was issued.

GENERAL NATURE OF THE REGULATION

In many aspects, this regulation parallels Ceiling Price Regulation 22 in the determination of ceiling prices because of similarities existing in all manufacturing industries. There is a requirement for a return of prices to pre-Korean levels, with adjustments to reflect increases in material and labor costs from a selected base period to a comparatively current date. Provision is made for the selection of a base period, consisting of a calendar quarter, from the period between July 1, 1949 to June 24, 1950. A manufacturer may select a different base period for each different category of production.

The allowable cost increases in material and labor are limited to advances in costs affecting the labor and materials actually required for the production of the shoes. The items of material and labor to be considered in these increases are specifically defined.

Provision is made for adjustment of ceiling prices where over-all loss in operations results.

This regulation recognizes the need for a computation method in conformity with the accounting methods prevailing in the industry. The shoe manufacturers are permitted to utilize cost sheets reflecting a breakdown of labor and material costs allocable to each unit shoe, which is the method of allocation generally prevalent in the industry. An alternative method is provided for those manufacturers who do not use cost sheets.

The material and labor cost increases are calculated by a simple arithmetical process. The price line method of merchandising is preserved and cost increases are computed on an average basis. The importance of styles in the merchandising practices of the shoe manufacturing industry is recognized by identifying present price lines and shoes with those dealt in during the base period by substantial similarity in general make-up in type, quantity and quality of material and by similarity in pattern. The shoes, of course, must be in the same category.

Where shoes or groups of shoes sold by the price line method are not the same as those dealt in during the base period, detailed methods for computing the pass-through of cost increases based on comparable shoes is specified in the regulation.

Manufacturer-retailers, that is, those who both produce shoes and sell to the ultimate consumer through their own retail outlets, determine their increase in manufacturing cost in the same manner as do other manufacturers. A "transfer price" technique permits the addition of the base period margin, to fix a ceiling price to the ultimate consumer.

Provision is made, also, for establishing ceiling prices for new sellers, for new categories, and for sellers who cannot price their shoes under other provisions of the regulation.

Further, the regulation permits a limited "rounding" of prices to conform to the merchandising method prevailing in the shoe industry.

Provision is made for application by shoe manufacturers for adjustment, under certain conditions, of ceiling prices established by this regulation as to bona fide contracts validly entered into under pre-existing ceiling price regulations.

FOOTWEAR EXEMPTED FROM THE REGULATION

This regulation does not apply to shoes made of felted, knitted and/or woven fabrics, which normally are not produced by a shoe manufacturer, nor to rubber footwear vulcanized as a single unit and which is normally produced by rubber manufacturers.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR

The provisions of this regulation and their effect upon business practices, cost practices, or methods, or means or aids to distribution in the industry have been carefully considered. Generally only such changes in normal practices have been effected as are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation and to effectuate the policies of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

In formulating this regulation the Director has consulted with representatives of the industry to the extent practicable under the circumstances and has given consideration to their recommendations.

He has also given due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

In the judgment of the Director, based upon an analysis of the presently available data, the provisions of this regulation and the ceiling prices established are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 31 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105, 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. (a) This regulation fixes ceiling prices for the sales of shoes by manufacturers (including manufacturer-retailers) located in the United States, its territories and possessions. This regulation does not apply to shoes made of felted, knitted and/or woven fabrics, and which normally are not produced by a shoe manufacturer, nor to rubber footwear vulcanized as a single unit and which is normally produced by rubber manufacturers. Moreover, this regulation does not apply to deliveries of shoes under a military contract or subcontract covered by Supplementary Regulation 1, as amended, and as it may be amended, to the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

(b) Manufacturer-retailers who sell to other than the ultimate consumer are considered manufacturers for the purposes of those sales only and determine their ceiling prices for those sales under sections 2 through 14, or 15 of this regulation. Manufacturer-retailers who sell to the ultimate consumer determine their ceiling prices for such sales under sections 16 or 15 of this regulation.

(c) Between the effective date of this regulation and July 2, 1951, you may use either this regulation or the General Ceiling Price Regulation. On and after July 2, 1951, you must use this regulation.

CEILING PRICES OF SHOES WITHIN PRICE LINES DEALT IN BETWEEN JULY 1, 1949, AND JUNE 24, 1950

SEC. 2 Category and price lines. The terms "category" and "price line" are used in the following sections. "Category" refers to the classification of shoes according to the following groupings: men's dress shoes; men's work shoes; boys' and youths' shoes; women's and growing girls' shoes; misses' and children's shoes; infants' shoes; house slippers; athletic shoes; and safety shoes. "Price line" refers to a merchandising method whereby shoes in the same category are grouped together to sell at one price although the cost of the shoes may vary from each other. A group of shoes is within a price line only when the entire group is sold or offered for sale at the price line price without restricting the purchaser's option to choose any reasonable quantity of any style or styles from the group.

SEC. 3. General description of pricing method for shoes within base period price lines. One price line is the same as another price line when the shoes included therein are in the same category and are of substantially the same general make-up in type, quantity and quality of material and when it includes shoes of the same or similar pattern or style. Your ceiling price for a shoe within a price line which is the same as a price line in which you dealt at any time between July 1, 1949, and June 24, 1950, is your base period selling price for the shoe with certain adjustments for increases in cost of material and labor. Section 4 of this regulation tells you how to obtain your base period price. If you add to, withdraw from, or make substitutions within the group of unit shoes comprising a price line for which a ceiling price has been established under this regulation, the price line then becomes a new price line, and you must determine your ceiling price for this new price line under sections 13 or 15, of this regulation, whichever is applicable. Section 5 of this regulation tells you how to compute your material cost increases; section 6 of this regulation tells you how to compute your labor cost increase.

SEC. 4. How to obtain your base period price—(a) Base period. You may select either April 1, 1950 through June 24, 1950, or any previous calendar quarter which ended not earlier than September 30, 1949. The quarter you select is your base period for all shoes within the same category. You may select a different base period for each category.

(b) Base period price. (1) Find the class of purchaser which, during the base period for the price line which is the same as the price line you are now pricing, bought the largest dollar volume of shoes in that line. In finding this largest class of purchaser, exclude the United States or any agency thereof or any person for whom your base period price is established by a written contract of at least six months' duration entered into prior to the base period, unless the United States or such other contract purchaser was your only class of purchaser.

(2) Your base period price for shoes in your base period price line is obtained as follows:

(i) If, during your base period, you delivered the shoes or contracted in writing to sell the shoes at a firm price, you find the highest price to your largest class of purchaser at which such a delivery or such a contract of sale was made.

(ii) If you did not make such a delivery or contract, you find the highest price at which you made a written offer for base period delivery to your largest class of purchaser.

(iii) Instead of the price under subdivision (i) or (ii) of this subparagraph you may use the price, to your largest class of purchaser, which you announced in writing in a price list, catalogue, or similar statement showing your prices for one or more shoes. To use this paragraph you must either have announced the prices during your base period, or have announced them previously and had them in effect during your base period; you must have communicated the prices to the trade or a substantial number of customers in your usual way; and you must have made substantial deliveries at these prices after your written announcement of the prices. If you use this paragraph for any shoes you must also use it for all other shoes in the same category which are covered by the same announcement.

(3) If your base period price is expressed as a list price less discounts, you should apply the discount to your largest class of purchaser to obtain the net base period selling price for that price line to that class of purchaser.

SEC. 5. How to compute your material cost increase—(a) Material costs and method of computation. Material cost means the cost of all materials entering directly into the completed shoe or used directly in the manufacturing processes from which the shoe results. In addition, it includes the costs of packaging material, machinery royalties and rentals, machine replacement parts, lasts, dies, and patterns allocable to the unit shoe you desire to price. It includes also the total cost of manufacturing material which you produced in one unit of your business and transferred to another unit of your business and which you used in producing the shoes you desire to price. It does not include the cost of materials used in replacing, maintaining or expanding your plant. If you customarily use cost sheets, you must use the cost sheet effective on the last day of your selected base period and on March 15, 1951. If you do not customarily use cost sheets, your material cost is your replacement cost on those days. In allocating the unit cost of material used in producing a shoe under this regulation you must allocate the permitted material cost according to your customary accounting method. The same accounting method for allocation and determination of costs must be used in all calculations of unit costs of materials.

(b) Average material cost increase. Determine the material cost of each "unit shoe" included in the price line during the base period. "Unit shoe" means a pair of shoes which is identifiable by a stock number or other definite designation. Add the material costs of, and divide by the number of, all unit shoes in the price line to obtain the average material cost for the shoes in such price line in the base period. Then, using the same method, compute your average material cost as of March 15, 1951, for the shoes in the price line you are now pricing. Subtract the former from the latter to determine your average material cost increase since the base period for the shoes in the price line you are now pricing.

SEC. 6. How to compute your labor cost increase—(a) Labor costs and method of computation. Labor cost means the cost of labor that enters directly into the fabrication of the shoe and is paid for at hourly or piece rates. In addition, it includes the cost of labor for factory supervision, materials control, ordinary maintenance, warehouse help and inspection allocable to the unit shoe you desire to price. It may include the allocable equivalent on an hourly or piece rate basis of so-called "fringe benefits" (for example, pension plans, paid vacation, make-up pay and insurance). It does not include the cost of labor for general administration, sales, advertising, research, major repairs or replacement and expansion of plant and equipment. If you customarily use cost sheets, you must use the cost sheet effective on the last day of your selected base period and on March 15, 1951. If you do not customarily use cost sheets, your labor cost is your labor cost on those days. In allocating the cost of labor for a shoe under this regulation, you must allocate the permitted labor costs according to your customary accounting method. The same accounting method for allocation and determination of costs must be used in all calculations of unit costs of labor.

(b) Average labor cost increase. Determine the labor cost of each unit shoe included in the price line during the base period. Add the labor costs of, and divide by the number of, all such unit shoes to obtain the average labor cost for the shoes in such price line in the base period. Then, using the same method, compute your average labor cost as of March 15, 1951, for the shoes in the price line you are now pricing. Subtract the former from the latter to determine your average labor cost increase since the base period for the price line you are now pricing.

SEC. 7. Net ceiling price. Add the sum of the amounts obtained in sections 5 (b) and 6 (b) of this regulation to your net base period selling price obtained in section 4 of this regulation. This will give you your net ceiling price to your largest class of purchaser. If, however, your base period price is expressed as a list price less discounts, you must add to your net base period selling price the necessary amount which, when the discount to your largest class of purchaser is applied, will equal the net ceiling price to that class of purchaser for your price line. This is your list ceiling price, to which you must apply your customary price differentials as provided in section 18 of this regulation.

Example: Your base period "list" price of a price line of shoes is $10.00 less 5 percent to your largest class of purchaser. Your net base period selling price for that price line to that class of customer is $9.50. Your total increase of labor and material cost is determined to be $1.00. Your net ceiling price of the price line to that class of purchaser is $10.50. You can find your list ceiling price by dividing your net ceiling price by 95 percent (100 percent less your discount of 5 percent), giving $11.05.

CEILING PRICES OF SHOES OUTSIDE PRICE LINES BUT THE SAME AS UNIT SHOES DEALT IN BETWEEN JULY 1, 1949 AND JUNE 24, 1950

SEC. 8. Same shoe and general description of pricing method. A shoe is the "same" as another shoe when it is in the same category, is of substantially the same make-up in type, quantity and quality of material, and is of the same or similar style or pattern. Your ceiling price for a shoe not within a price line which is the same as a unit shoe outside a price line dealt in at any time between July 1, 1949 and June 24, 1950 is your base period price for the same shoe with adjustments for certain increases in costs of materials and labor.

SEC. 9. Base period price. (a) Find the class of purchaser which, during the base period for the same shoe as the one you are now pricing, bought the largest dollar volume of that shoe. In finding this largest class of purchaser, exclude the United States or any agency thereof or any person in respect to whom your base period price is established under a written contract of at least six months' duration entered into prior to the base period, unless the United States or such other contract purchaser was your only class of purchaser.

(b) Your net base period selling price for that shoe is obtained as follows:

(1) If, during your base period, you delivered the shoe or contracted in writing to sell the shoe at a firm price, you find the highest price to your largest class of purchaser at which such a delivery or such a contract of sale was made.

(2) If you did not make such a delivery or contract, you find the highest price at which you made a written offer for base period delivery to your largest class of purchaser.

(3) Instead of the price under subparagraph (1) or (2) of this paragraph you may use the price, to your largest class of purchaser, which you announced in writing in a price list, catalogue, or similar statement showing your prices for one or more shoes. To use this subparagraph you must either have announced the prices during your base period, or have announced them previously and had them in effect during your base period; you must have communicated the prices to the trade or a substantial number of customers in your usual way; and, you must have made substantial deliveries at these prices after your written announcement of the prices. If you use this subparagraph for any shoes you must also use it for all other shoes in the same category and which are covered by the same announcement.

(c) If your base period price is expressed as a list price less discounts, you should apply the discount to your largest class of purchaser to obtain the net base period selling price for that price line to that class of purchaser.

SEC. 10. How to compute your material and labor cost increases. Compute base period and your March 15, 1951 cost of material and labor for that shoe by the methods prescribed in sections 5 (a) and 6 (a) of this regulation. Subtract the March 15, 1951 total material and labor cost from the base period total material and labor cost to determine your total cost increase for that shoe.

SEC. 11. Net ceiling price. Add your total cost increase to your net base period selling price for the same shoe to determine your ceiling price for that shoe. This will give you your net ceiling price to your largest class of purchaser. If, however, your base period price is expressed as a list price less discounts, you must add to your net base period selling price the necessary amount which, when the discount to your largest class of purchaser is applied, will equal the net ceiling price to that class of purchaser for that shoe. This is your list ceiling price to which you must apply the customary price differentials as provided in section 18 of this regulation.

CEILING PRICES FOR NEW PRICE LINES AND NEW SHOES

SEC. 12. General description of method. If you wish to sell a price line which you did not sell in the base period you selected for the category, or if you wish to sell a shoe which is not within a price line and which you did not sell in the base period selected for the category, you determine your ceiling price by taking a comparison price line or a comparison shoe, as the case may be, and adjust, in accordance with the provisions of sections 13 and 14 of this regulation, for differences in material replacement costs and labor costs.

SEC. 13. Ceiling prices for new price lines. (a) Find a comparison price line. To be a comparison price line, the price line must be comprised of shoes in the same category as those included in the price line you are now pricing; must include shoes of substantially the same make-up in type, quantity and quality of material as the price line you are now pricing; and must have a ceiling price established under section 7 of this regulation.

(b) Your ceiling price for new price lines is determined in accordance with the first of the following which is applicable:

(1) Select a comparison price line which has the same average replacement material cost as that of the price line you are now pricing. The ceiling price determined in section 7 of this regulation for the comparison price line is your ceiling price for the price line you are now pricing.

(2) If you have no comparison price line with the same average replacement material cost as that of the price line you are now pricing, select the comparison price line with the next lower average replacement material cost. Add to the ceiling price as determined in section 7 of this regulation for the comparison price line the difference between the average replacement material costs of the comparison price line and the price line you are now pricing. You cannot adjust for differences in labor cost.

(3) If you have no comparison price line with the same or lower average replacement material cost than that of the price line you are pricing, select the comparison price line with the next higher average material replacement cost. Subtract from the ceiling price of the comparison price line the difference between the average material replacement costs of that price line and the price line you are now pricing. You must make a similar adjustment for differences in labor cost if the labor costs for your comparison price line are higher than the labor costs of your new price line.

(c) Your ceiling price for your new price line determined in accordance with the instructions in paragraph (b) of this section is your ceiling price to the same class of purchaser as the one you used to establish your base period price for the comparison price line. To this ceiling price apply the provisions of section 18 of this regulation.

SEC. 14. Ceiling prices for new unit shoes outside a price line. (a) Find a comparison shoe in the same category as the shoe you are pricing. To be a comparison shoe, that shoe must be most nearly like the new shoe in make-up and style or pattern and must have a ceiling price established under section 11 of this regulation.

(b) Your ceiling price for a new shoe not within a price line is determined in accordance with the first of the following which is applicable:

(1) Select a comparison shoe which has the same replacement material cost as that of your new shoe. Your ceiling price for the new shoe is the same as the ceiling price established under section 11 of this regulation for the comparison shoe.

(2) If you have no comparison shoe with the same replacement material cost as that of your new shoe, select the comparison shoe with the next lower replacement material cost. Add to the ceiling price of the comparison shoe determined under section 11 the difference between the replacement material costs of your comparison and the new shoe. You cannot adjust for differences in labor cost.

(3) If you have no comparison shoe with the same or lower replacement material cost than that of your new shoe, select the comparison shoe with the next higher material replacement cost. Subtract from the ceiling price for that comparison shoe the difference between its material replacement cost and the material replacement cost of the new shoe you are now pricing. You must make a similar adjustment for differences in labor cost if the labor costs for your comparison shoe are higher than the labor costs of your new shoe.

(c) Your ceiling price for your new shoe determined in accordance with the instructions in paragraph (b) of this section is your ceiling price to the same class of purchaser as the one you used to establish your base period price for the comparison shoe. To this ceiling price apply the provisions of section 18 of this regulation.

NEW SELLERS; NEW CATEGORIES; SELLERS WHO CANNOT PRICE UNDER OTHER SECTIONS

SEC. 15. Ceiling prices for new sellers; for new categories and for other sellers who cannot price under other sections. If you are unable to determine your ceiling price for a shoe or price line under any of the other sections of this regulation, you may apply in writing to the Consumer Soft Goods Division, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., for the establishment of a ceiling price. This application shall contain an explanation of why you are unable to determine your ceiling price under any other provision of this regulation. In addition, your application must contain the following information: The name and address of your company; a description of each shoe, and if you price a price line, for each shoe in the price line, including the category into which it falls, the make-up, style or pattern, and the quantity and type of material entering into the shoe; your replacement costs of the material entering into the shoe; a breakdown of your labor costs allocable to the shoe; the classes of purchasers with whom you will be dealing; a statement of your customary price differentials; and, if you are starting a new business, a statement as to whether you or the principal owner of your business are now or during the past twelve months have been engaged in any capacity in the same or a similar business at any other establishment, and if so, the trade name and address of each such establishment. You must also submit the ceiling price established under this regulation for a comparable shoe or price line by your most closely competitive seller to the same class of purchaser, the customary price differentials of your most closely competitive seller and your reasons for selecting him as your most closely competitive seller. You cannot use a ceiling price determined under this section until you have been notified by the Office of Price Stabilization of the prices you are authorized to use.

SHOES SOLD TO ULTIMATE CONSUMERS BY MANUFACTURER-RETAILERS

SEC. 16. Ceiling prices for shoes sold to ultimate consumers by manufacturer-retailers. (a) If you are a manufacturer-retailer, that is, if you customarily maintain retail outlets within the same legal entity and sell to the ultimate consumer shoes which you manufacture, you must determine your ceiling prices for sales to ultimate consumers as follows:

(1) Find the price at which during your base period you transferred your shoe or group of shoes comprising a price line (or if you did not have that shoe or price line in the base period, the comparison shoe or price line), from your manufacturing unit to the unit which sells to the ultimate consumer. This transfer price is the price which was recorded on invoices or other documents at the time of transfer of the shoe or group of shoes comprising a price line.

(2) Subtract your transfer price in the base period from your selling price to the ultimate consumer in the base period to obtain your dollars-and-cents markup. Then, divide this markup by your base period transfer price to determine your percentage markup for that shoe or price line in the base period.

(3) Compute, in the manner prescribed in this regulation for determining ceiling prices for manufacturers, your ceiling transfer price for the shoe or price line which you wish to price.

(4) Multiply the ceiling transfer price of that shoe or price line by the percentage markup found in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph. Add the result to your ceiling transfer price to obtain your ceiling price for the sale of the shoe or price line to the ultimate consumer.

(b) If a ceiling price for sale to the ultimate consumer of a brand shoe or price line of shoes has been established by an order issued under section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the price so established for that brand shoe or price line of shoes may be used as your ceiling price under this regulation. If, however, you determine your ceiling price for sales of a brand name shoe or price line of shoes to the ultimate consumer by the method stated in paragraph (a) of this section, you must continue to use this method for all subsequent sales of that brand name shoe or price line of shoes to ultimate consumers.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

SEC. 17. Rounding ceiling prices. If you normally round your prices to the nearest cent or multiple of five cents, you may round your ceiling prices determined under any of the preceding sections of this regulation so that they will be expressed in the nearest cent or multiple of five cents. If you elect to do so, you must similarly round the ceiling prices for all of your shoes and price lines customarily priced by you upon the same basis to reflect decreases, as well as increases. If you normally rounded your prices to the nearest cent, you may round your ceiling price to the next highest cent only if your ceiling price is expressed in a fraction higher than one-half. If you normally rounded your prices to the nearest multiple of five cents, you may round your ceiling price to the next higher multiple of five cents only if your ceiling price is more than $2\frac{1}{2}$ cents above the next lower multiple of five cents. In no event, however, can you increase your ceiling price by more than 1 percent of your ceiling price as determined before rounding.

SEC. 18. Conditions of sale and classes of purchasers. Your ceiling price must carry the same terms, discounts, and other conditions of sale as your base period price for the same unit, shoe, or price line, or comparison shoe or price line. If you have classes of purchasers other than the class of purchaser you used in determining your base period price your ceiling price for sales to such other classes of purchasers are fixed by applying your customary price differentials in effect during the base period. In the event you made no base period sales to a particular class of purchaser, you apply your customary differentials last in effect prior to the base period, or, if none, then those first in effect after the base period but prior to the issuance date of this regulation.

SEC. 19. Excise, sales and other similar taxes—(a) Where the tax is included in the base period price. If the base period price of a shoe or price line you are using to determine your ceiling price for that shoe or price line, includes any excise, sales or other similar tax which is not separately stated, you must first ascertain the amount of any such tax and exclude it from the base period price. The base period price, with any such tax so excluded, may then be used in making any appropriate computations for determining your ceiling price. After completing the computations, you may then add on the appropriate amount of any such tax for inclusion as part of your ceiling price.

(b) Where the tax is separately stated and collected. In addition to your price determined under this regulation, you may collect the amount of any excise, sales or other similar taxes paid by you as such only if it has been your practice to state and collect such taxes separately from your selling price for the same or similar shoes. In the case of such a tax imposed by law which is not effective until after the effective date of this regulation, you may collect the amount of the tax actually paid as such by you, if not prohibited by the tax law. You must in all such cases state separately the amount of the tax.

SEC. 20. Export sales. Your sales for export are subject to the provisions of this regulation. If you have determined your ceiling price for sale of a shoe or price line to a domestic purchaser, you may adjust it to take account of your customary differentials for export sales.

SEC. 21. Adjustment of ceiling prices where over-all loss in operations results. (a) This section permits you to apply for an upward adjustment of your ceiling prices established by this regulation, if as a result of these ceiling prices, you would operate at a loss.

(b) You may apply under this section if:

(1) Your total manufacturing operations have been conducted at a net loss for a period of operation under this regulation of at least one month, or would have been conducted at a loss if you had manufactured the shoes covered by this regulation in your customary quantities and proportions;

(2) The loss was attributable to the level of prices established by this regulation, and not to any of the following:

(i) Seasonal, non-recurring or temporary factors affecting your operations; or

(ii) A reduction in volume of production below the normal economical capacity of your plant; or

(iii) The payment of unlawful wages or excessive salaries or of unlawful or excessive prices for materials; or

(iv) The incurring of factory overhead costs or of selling, administrative and general costs which are abnormally high relative to sales or other costs unless such excess is demonstrated by clear and convincing evidence to have been unavoidable in the exercise of sound business judgment and management; or

(v) Any transactions with affiliated corporations or businesses which either are of a kind which would not result from arm's-length bargaining or differ from the transactions which you have customarily had with such affiliated corporations or businesses; or

(vi) Reserves for contingencies.

(3) The adjusted prices for which you apply will not be substantially out of line with the ceiling prices for similar shoes established for other sellers under this regulation.

(c) If you make application under this section, you must supply:

(1) Your name, address, a description of your manufacturing facilities and of the shoes you manufacture, a statement of the principal types of customers to whom you sell;

(2) A detailed annual profit and loss statement for your firm for the years 1946 through 1949, and both an annual profit and loss statement, and if you regularly prepare them, quarterly profit and loss statements covering the year 1950 and each quarter since then;

(3) A detailed profit and loss statement covering a period of operations of one month or more under this regulation, together with a careful explanation of how it was prepared, including particularly a justification of any estimating procedures used in its preparation.

(4) For shoes covered by this regulation, either (i) a statement of your base period and ceiling prices to your largest class of purchaser (including delivery terms, cash, trade and volume discounts, allowances, premiums and extras, deductions, guarantees, servicing terms and other terms and conditions of sale) and a schedule of your price differentials to your other classes of purchasers; or (ii) a copy of the report required and submitted to the Office of Price Stabilization; together with (iii) a statement of the section or sections under which you established your ceiling prices.

(5) A showing that the loss in your current operations was not due to any of the six factors in paragraph (b) (2) of this section.

(6) A list of your principal competitors, and a statement of their ceiling prices under this regulation for shoes similar to yours, together with data showing the past relationship of your prices to those they have charged for the same or similar shoes.

(7) A proposed schedule of adjusted ceiling prices for shoes covered by this regulation, and a demonstration that, if these prices were charged, your operations would be a break-even position.

(8) The application must refer specifically to this section of the regulation, must be signed by a responsible officer of your company, and should be sent to the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

(d) Within thirty days of the receipt of your application, the Director will grant or deny your application in full or in part, or request further information. The Director may, as a condition of granting your application in full or in part, require you to submit reports of subsequent operations and may revoke or modify the adjustment at any time. If, thirty days after the acknowledgement of receipt of your application, none of the actions listed above has been taken, you may sell at your proposed ceiling prices until such time as the Director shall notify you that these prices have been disapproved.

SEC. 22. Redetermination of ceiling prices. Your ceiling price for a shoe or price line of shoes as determined under this regulation cannot thereafter be redetermined except for the purpose of correcting a purely arithmetical error. Any such correction must be promptly reported to the Consumer Soft Goods Division of the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. The Director of Price Stabilization expects in due course to issue an amendment to this regulation providing for a redetermination of your ceiling prices hereunder. The primary purpose of this redetermination would be to reflect more accurately your materials prices established by other ceiling price regulations.

SEC. 23. Adjustable pricing. Nothing in this regulation shall be construed to prohibit your making a contract or offer to sell a shoe or price line at (a) the ceiling price in effect at the time of delivery or (b) the lower of a fixed price or the ceiling price in effect at the time of delivery. You may not, however, deliver or agree to deliver a shoe or price line at a price to be adjusted upward in accordance with any increase in a ceiling price after delivery.

SEC. 24. Modification of ceiling prices by the Director of Price Stabilization. The Director of Price Stabilization may at any time disapprove or revise ceiling prices proposed to be used or being used under this regulation so as to bring them into line with the level of ceiling prices otherwise established by this regulation.

SEC. 25. Temporary adjustments to carry out existing contracts—(a) Who may apply for adjustment. If at any time prior to the issuance date of this regulation, you entered into a bona fide contract for delivery of shoes at a firm price subsequent to the effective date of this regulation, and if your ceiling price as determined under this regulation is lower than the contract price, you may apply to the Director of Price Stabilization for an adjustment of your ceiling price; Provided:

(1) The contract for future delivery was required by seasonal demands or normal business practices.

(2) The contract, if entered into subsequent to January 26, 1951, called for deliveries at a price which was lawful under ceiling price regulations in effect at that time.

(3) You acquired needed materials after the date of the contract at lawful prices in reliance upon and in order to fulfill the terms of the contract.

(b) Calculation of the amount of the adjustment. The adjusted ceiling price will be fixed in the following way:

(1) Compute, in accordance with section 5 of this regulation, the total cost of all materials entering directly into the completed shoe acquired in reliance upon, and necessary in order to fulfill, the contract.

(2) Compute, in accordance with section 5 of this regulation, what the total cost of these same materials would be as of March 15, 1951.

(3) Subtract the figure arrived at in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph from that arrived at in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph. The result is the total amount of the adjustment. If the figure arrived at in subparagraph (1) is no higher than that arrived at in subparagraph (2), you cannot apply for adjustment under this section.

(4) Divide the total amount of the adjustment by the number of units of the shoes called for by the contract. This gives you the adjustment per unit of the shoes.

(5) Add the adjustment per unit of the shoes under subparagraph (4) of this paragraph to your ceiling price for those shoes. The result is your adjusted ceiling price. In no event, however, may you obtain an adjusted ceiling price higher than the contract price.

(c) What your application must contain. Applications for adjustment under this section must be filed on or before August 15, 1951, with the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. Attached to the application should be the following:

(1) A copy of the contract.

(2) Copies of invoices covering the materials acquired in reliance upon and in order to fulfill the contract.

(3) Copies of invoices or other supporting data which indicate your material cost as of March 15, 1951.

(4) A copy of the work sheets used in the calculation of your ceiling price.

(5) A report of your adjusted ceiling price and a detailed calculation showing how this price was arrived at.

(d) Action on your application. You may not receive payment of any amount in excess of your ceiling price until 30 days after receipt by the Director of Price Stabilization of any application filed under this section. If the Director of Price Stabilization does not revise or modify the adjusted ceiling price reported by you or notify you that further information is required, you may after these 30 days have elapsed receive payment at the adjusted ceiling prices for all deliveries made since the date of filing. The Director may, however, at any time revise or modify the adjusted ceiling price, but such revision or modification will not apply to deliveries already made.

SEC. 26. Records. You must keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Stabilization the following records:

(a) All invoices, contracts, memoranda of sales, inventory records and other documents evidencing the costs of materials (see explanation of material costs, section 5 (a) of this regulation) during the base period and for the date of determination of your ceiling prices under this regulation.

(b) Payroll records and other records from which you derived your labor cost data (see explanation of labor costs, section 6 (a) of this regulation) during the base period and on the date of your determination of ceiling prices under this regulation.

(c) Work sheets by which you calculated your labor and material cost increases and your comparisons under sections 5, 6, 13 and 14 of this regulation for each shoe or price line for which you have determined a ceiling price under this regulation. See Appendix A to this regulation for examples of charts which will reflect the final determination of your ceiling prices. You must, in addition to your work sheets, keep your charts as part of your records. You must keep such records available for inspection.

(d) Your ceiling prices for shoes or price lines determined under this regulation and your selling price for the same shoe or price line during your base period.

(e) A list of your base periods for each category of shoes.

SEC. 27. Reserved.

SEC. 28. What acts are prohibited by this regulation. On and after July 2, 1951, regardless of any contract or other obligation, the following practices are forbidden:

(a) Charging more than ceiling prices. You are prohibited from selling or delivering shoes at a price higher than that permitted by this regulation. A lower price may, of course, be charged.

(b) Buying for more than ceiling prices. All persons are prohibited from buying or receiving, in the course of trade or business, any shoes sold or delivered in violation of this regulation.

(c) Evasion. No person shall evade or circumvent this regulation by any direct or indirect methods in connection with the sale, purchase, delivery or transfer of shoes alone or in conjunction with any other commodity or material, or by way of commission, transportation charge, or other charge, or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by upgrading, tying-in agreement, trade understanding, or otherwise.

(d) Attempts to violate. All persons are prohibited from agreeing, offering, soliciting, or attempting to do any of the acts prohibited by this regulation.

SEC. 29. Penalties. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, and suits for treble damages provided for by the Defense Production Act of 1950.

SEC. 30. Petitions to amend this regulation. Any person seeking an amendment of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with Price Procedural Regulation 1, Revised.

SEC. 31. Definitions. (a) "Category" is explained in section 2 of this regulation.

(b) "Class of purchaser" refers to the practice adopted by a seller in setting different prices for sales to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, retailer, government agency, public institution or individual consumer), or to purchasers located in different areas.

(c) "Delivered". A shoe or price line of shoes shall be deemed to have been delivered if they were received by the purchaser or by any carrier, including a carrier owned or controlled by the seller, for shipment to the purchaser.

(d) "Manufacturer" means a person who for his own account sells shoes he fabricates. It does not include a person who sells to ultimate consumers from his own regular establishment shoes he has fabricated to the individual specifications and at the special order of the consumers.

(e) "Person" means an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representatives of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any other government and their political subdivisions or agencies.

(f) "Price line" is explained in section 2 of this regulation.

(g) "Sale to the ultimate consumer" means any sale to a user other than a commercial, industrial, governmental or institutional user.

(h) "Sell" includes sell, supply, dispose, barter, exchange, transfer, and contracts and offers to do any of the foregoing. The terms "sell," "selling," "seller," "buy," "purchase," and "purchaser" shall be construed accordingly. An offer to sell means an offer in writing and includes a written list the contents of which are communicated to a substantial number of your customers in your ordinary manner.

(i) "Shoe" means a pair of shoes when used in this regulation and includes all classes of footwear covered by this regulation.

(j) "Substantially the same" as used in this regulation refers to a standard of comparison whereby shoes are determined to be the same when they meet the same standards of quality and quantity in four major constituents, namely: upper stock, lining stock, insole stock, sole stock, and in construction methods. The differences may be only in minor variations in trimmings, e. g., eyelets, type of toe, counter, shank, edge trim, welting, ornament pattern, etc.

(k) "Written offer" refers to an offer for sale made by means of the seller's price list or, if he had no price list, a written offer otherwise made in the seller's customary manner. This term does not include an offer at a price intended to withhold the shoe or price line of shoes from the market or used as a bargaining price by a seller who usually sells at a price lower than his asking price.

(l) "Unit shoe" means a pair of shoes which is identifiable by a stock number or other definite designation.

(m) The pronoun "you" as used in this regulation indicates the person subject to the regulation.

(n) All other trade terms used in this regulation have the meanings generally accepted in the trade.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective on June 4, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE
Director of Price Stabilization.

MAY 29, 1951.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Amendment 13]

GENERAL CEILING PRICE REGULATION

MISCELLANEOUS AMENDMENTS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 13 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 808) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This Amendment No. 13 to the General Ceiling Price Regulation is issued primarily to revise and to collate the provisions of section 11 of that regulation. Some of the changes involve mere clarification in the language, whereas others were found to be necessary to correct inequities and to conform section 11 to the provisions of the Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 22). This amendment also alters two paragraphs of section 14 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation and, finally, revises section 1 to conform to the sections amended herein.

All of what was section 11 (a), exclusive of the list of agricultural commodities to which the provisions of section 11 are applicable, is now embodied in a new section 11 (h). The language of section 11 (h) which relates to the effect of the removal of any commodity from the section 11 (a) list, has been simplified and made consistent with the other subsections as now amended.

Finally, section 11 (h), along with section 1, has been altered to clarify the method by which manufacturers and distributors are to calculate their ceiling prices for products processed from listed agricultural commodities after the prices of these commodities have reached the legal minimum as defined in section 402 (d) (3) of the Defense Production Act of 1950. It is provided, as before, that those sellers, who determine their ceilings under section 3, are to apply that section in figuring these ceilings. However, they are to use as a "base period" under that section the most recent five-week period ending no later than the date on which the Director of Price Stabilization deletes the agricultural commodity from the section 11 (a) list. The ceiling price so calculated is to become effective on the date prescribed by the Director of Price Stabilization. It has been found to be unnecessary to provide for automatic deletion of a commodity from the section 11 (a) list upon publication in "Agricultural Prices" of a price for it which satisfies the legal minimum. When such a price is attained the Director is able to promptly take any action he finds to be desirable by amendment of the list. Such an amendment has the advantage of avoiding confusion by serving clear notice as to the state of each individual commodity. Even more important, the Director now has the control necessary to maintain a balanced price structure; whereas the former clause, which permitted unconsidered automatic deletion, might have resulted in distorted relationships between the prices of individual commodities.

The list of agricultural commodities in section 11 (a) has also been altered to include those commodities which were reported, in the publication "Agricultural Prices," to be selling at below parity prices as of April 15, 1951. The list is also revised to delete those commodities which, subsequent to the issuance of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, as previously amended, attained prices equaling or exceeding the minimum requirements of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

Section 11 (b) has been amended by the addition of a paragraph which prevents manufacturers and processors from increasing their ceiling prices to reflect increases in the cost of below-parity commodities (or products processed therefrom) until such time as they have sold an amount of their product equal to the amount of finished product on hand at the date they would otherwise be entitled to raise their price. This provision prevents inventory windfalls which, previous to this, have resulted from applying the "pass-through" price increase to those units of product processed from supplies of the listed commodities (or their products) previously purchased at the lower price, as well as to units of product processed from supplies currently purchased at the increased price. A similar provision is contained in the Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation. Thus, equality of treatment is assured all manufacturers, and in respect to all products processed from the listed commodities (or their products).

Next, the language of section 11 (c) has been changed to allow distributors of products processed from listed agricultural commodities to pass through increases in the price to them of such products, even though that price increase was not effected by the manufacturer pursuant to section 11 (b). This change was necessary in order to include within the scope of the permitted "pass-through" to distributors, increases in the cost of processed commodities taken by manufacturers under the parity adjustment provisions of CPR 22.

As originally issued, section 14 (s) (1) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation exempted from control all sales of raw and unprocessed agricultural commodities by the producers of those commodities. By a subsequent amendment this exemption was limited to sales by producers only of those commodities on the section 11 (a) list, and was to be effective only so long as those commodities were on that list. It was further provided that sales by any seller of a listed raw and unprocessed agricultural commodity were to be exempt.

The present amendment reverts to the technique of section 14 (s) (1) as first written. Sales by producers of all raw and unprocessed agricultural commodities are thus excluded from control by the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Sales by subsequent distributors, however, are controlled by the General Ceiling Price Regulation except to the extent that other provisions of that regulation may exempt them. The Director has found this to be the best method of control of such commodities. Any attempt to apply the freeze technique to sales by individual farmers is administratively impracticable but, by regulating the prices of subsequent sellers (as is done here) a generally effective method of ultimate control is provided. Such subsequent sellers are, of course, still entitled to their historical margins under the provisions of section 11.

Since all sellers, subsequent to the producer, of unprocessed agricultural commodities are now controlled it is no longer necessary to make special provision for eggs, dry edible beans and peas, and popcorn. It was formerly specifically provided that sales of such products were uncontrolled only when sold by producers. This was done because it was customary for first handlers to perform processing operations on them which took them out of the class of unprocessed commodities to which the exemption of sales by subsequent sellers applied. However, as said above, the present amendment clearly extends control to such sales by subsequent sellers and thereby eliminates the need for special language with respect to those commodities.

Finally, the language of the exemption of fresh fruits and vegetables from control has been slightly changed and mohair, when sold by the producer, has been exempted by amendments to section 14 (s) (7) and (3), respectively. Section 14 (s) (3) previously contained an exemption only for the producer of raw wool. The Director of Price Stabilization has, however, been advised that similar treatment should be afforded mohair producers, whose problems are substantially similar to those of producers of raw wool.

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization this amendment is generally fair and equitable and is necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

The General Ceiling Price Regulation is amended in the following respects:

1. The last sentence of section 1 is changed, after the word "date", to read: "the Director of Price Stabilization deletes the commodity from the list of agricultural commodities in section 11 (a)."

2. Section 11 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 11. "Parity" adjustments in ceiling prices.—(a) Commodities covered by this section. This section applies to the following listed agricultural commodities and to products processed from any one or more of them.

LISTED AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES

Field crops:
- Barley.
- Beans, dry edible.
- Buckwheat.
- Corn.
- Flaxseed.
- Hay.
- Oats.
- Peanuts.
- Peas, dry field.
- Rye.
- Sorghums for grain.
- Wheat.

Livestock and Livestock products:
- Butterfat.

(b) Processors and manufacturers. This section applies to you only if:

(1) You sell a product which you process from one or more of the listed agricultural commodities (or from a product processed from them), the prices of which are below the legal minimum, and you are not, as to that processing operation, a manufacturer covered by the Manufacturers' General Ceiling Price Regulation (CPR 22), and

(2) The cost to you of a current customary purchase of the listed agricultural commodity (or the product processed therefrom) exceeds the highest price you incurred or paid during the base period. In such case you may increase the ceiling price (as otherwise determined in this regulation) for your product by the dollar-and-cent difference per unit between the highest price incurred or paid by you for a customary purchase during the base period and the cost to you of the most recent customary purchase.

If you have previously increased the ceiling price for your product, you may increase your present ceiling price for the product by the dollar-and-cent difference per unit between the price upon which your last previous increase was based and the cost to you of the most recent customary purchase.

You may not, however, after May 30, 1951, put the ceiling price increase into effect unless and until you have first sold an amount of your product at least equal to the quantity of finished product owned by you at the close of business on the day you otherwise would have been entitled to put that ceiling price increase into effect under this section.

Example: You are a processor of evaporated milk, a product processed from a listed agricultural commodity.

The highest price paid by you for a customary purchase of manufacturing milk in the base period was $3.80 per cwt. The cost to you of the most recent purchase is $4.00 per cwt.—a difference of 20 cents or 2 10 cent per lb. At the time you made the $4.00 purchase you have an inventory of 100 cases of evaporated milk.

If you use 94 lbs. of milk to produce a case of evaporated milk, you are entitled to increase your maximum price per case by 18.8 cents per case (94 × 2 10 cent). But you may not put that increase into effect until after you have first sold 100 cases.

If, subsequent to this adjustment, the price you pay for a customary purchase of manufacturing milk should increase to $4.10—a further increase of $0.10 per cwt. or 1 10 cent per lb.—you may, after first selling the number of cases equal to your inventory on the date you made the $4.10 purchase, add an additional 94¢ to your maximum price per case (94 × 1 10 cent).

(3) (i) If (a) you are a producer-processor, and (b) you cannot otherwise determine your ceiling price under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph because you do not customarily purchase any amount of a listed agricultural commodity from independent producers wholly unaffiliated with you, you may, for purposes of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, use as your costs the prices (with adjustment for difference in delivery costs) paid for a customary purchase by your nearest competitor. Such competitor must be one who receives delivery of the same quality of the commodity as you do, in the same quantities (baskets, tons, carloads, etc.), at firm prices for processing.

(ii) If (a) you are a processor who purchases the listed agricultural commodity under "open" price or deferred payment contracts, which relate the price you pay the producer to facts unknown both at the time the raw agricultural commodity is delivered to you, and at the time of sale of the processed product, and (b) you cannot otherwise determine your ceiling price under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph because you do not customarily purchase any amount of a listed agricultural commodity at prices finally determined at the time of sale, you may, for purposes of subparagraph (2) of this paragraph, use as your costs the prices (with adjustment for differences in delivery costs) paid for a customary purchase by your nearest competitor. Such competitor must be one who receives delivery of the same quality of the commodity as you do, in the same quantities (bushels, tons, carloads, etc.), at firm prices for processing.

(iii) If (a) you are a producer-owned cooperative processor, and (b) you cannot otherwise determine your ceiling price under subparagraph (2) of this paragraph because you do not customarily purchase any amount of a listed agricultural commodity from independent producers wholly unaffiliated with you, you may increase your ceiling price (as determined under the other sections of this regulation) for products processed from such commodities if the entire dollar-and-cent increase in total gross sales revenue derived from that increase in your ceiling price is passed back to producers within 30 days after the end of each normal accounting period. The amount so passed back must be in addition to the full amount you would normally have passed back to producers had you sold the processed product at the ceiling price determined under the other sections of this regulation.

(c) Distributors. This section applies to you only if:

(1) You buy and resell in substantially the same form one or more of the listed agricultural commodities or a product processed from them and

(2) The cost to you of a current customary purchase of that commodity or product exceeds the highest price you incurred or paid for it during the base period.

In such case you may increase your ceiling price (as otherwise determined in this regulation) for the commodity or product by the dollar-and-cent difference per unit between the highest price incurred or paid by you for a customary purchase during the base period and the cost to you of the most recent customary purchase.

If you have previously increased your ceiling price for the commodity or product, you may increase your present ceiling price for that commodity or product by the dollar-and-cent difference per unit between the price upon which your last previous increase was based and the cost to you of the most recent customary purchase.

(d) Method for computing "parity" adjustments where no customary purchase was made during the base period. If you cannot figure your increase under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section because you made no customary purchase during the base period, then the highest price you paid during the most recent five-week period prior to the base period in which you made a customary purchase shall be your highest price within the meaning of paragraphs (b) (2) and (c) (2) of this section.

(e) Method for computing "parity" adjustments where prices have been based customarily on commodity exchange quotations. In case any of the above listed commodities or products processed from them are traded regularly upon a recognized commodity exchange that maintains daily records of transactions or quotations, and if it has been both your own practice and the general practice of your industry to figure selling prices on the basis of commodity exchange quotations, the increase per unit you are entitled to add under paragraphs (b) and (c) of this section shall be the difference in dollars and cents between (1) the quotation upon which your ceiling price under this regulation was based, and (2) the comparable current quotation.

(f) Notice of "parity" adjustment increases. (1) If you are a processor or a manufacturer to whom the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) of this section are applicable, you may not increase your ceiling price for such commodity until you first notify the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail giving the following information:

(i) Your existing ceiling price and the description of the commodity;

(ii) The highest price you paid for a customary purchase (or, if applicable, the commodity exchange quotation) of the commodity during the base period, or, if you have previously increased your price, then the price upon which you based your existing ceiling price;

(iii) The new cost or new commodity exchange quotation, whichever is applicable;

(iv) The increased ceiling price.

In the case of increased cost of ingredients, furnish the figures substantiating the conversion of your increase in cost to the increase in the ceiling price of the commodity.

(2) If you are either a producer-processor pricing under paragraph (b) (3) (i) of this section, or a processor operating under "open" price or deferred payment contracts and pricing under paragraph (b) (3) (ii) of this section, you may not increase your ceiling price for such commodity until you first notify the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail giving the following information:

(i) The name and address of your nearest competitor selected pursuant to paragraph (b) (3) (i) or (ii) of this section;

(ii) The highest price paid for the listed agricultural commodity in the base period by your nearest competitor, or his ceiling price (determined before application of this section), or your dollar-and-cent per unit margin in the base period (determined by taking your ceiling price, as determined under this regulation before application of this section, and subtracting from it the highest per unit price paid by your nearest competitor for a customary purchase in the base period).

(iii) The current price paid for a customary purchase of the listed agricultural commodity by your nearest competitor.

(iv) Your ceiling price, as determined under this regulation, before application of this section.

(v) The increased ceiling price.

In the case of increased cost of ingredients, furnish the figures substantiating the conversion of your increase in cost to the increase in the ceiling price.

(3) If you are a cooperative-processor pricing under paragraph (b) (3) (iii) of this section, you may increase your ceiling price without first giving any notice, but must, within 30 days after the end of each normal accounting period during which you increased your ceiling price, notify the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail giving the following information:

(i) The amount retained by you per unit of the processed commodity sold in the last normal accounting period before February 1, 1951.

(ii) The amount passed back to producers per unit of the processed commodity sold in the last normal accounting period before February 1, 1951.

(iii) The amount retained by you per unit of the processed commodity sold in the most recent normal accounting period.

(iv) The amount passed back to producers per unit of the processed commodity sold in the most recent normal accounting period.

(g) Effect of notification of "parity" adjustment. Upon mailing the notification required in paragraph (f) of this section, you may charge the new ceiling price. If, in the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization, the increase is deemed unreasonable, excessive or otherwise improper, he may disapprove the price and restore the old ceiling price or establish a new ceiling price and may apply it retroactively.

(h) Effect of removal from list of agricultural commodities. This section shall cease to apply to a commodity if, after consultation with the Secretary of Agriculture, the Director of Price Stabilization determines that the requirements of the Defense Production Act of 1950 are satisfied as to such commodity. The ceiling price for the seller of any product processed from any such commodity shall thereafter be determined under the provisions of this regulation, except that, if such ceiling price is determined under section 3, the "base period" shall be the most recent five-week period preceding the date the Director of Price Stabilization deletes the commodity from the list. Such ceiling prices shall become effective on the date determined by the Director.

Notwithstanding anything contained in this paragraph (h) of this section to the contrary, the ceiling price for fluid milk, which is sold and bought pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended, or any marketing agreement, license or order, or provision thereof or amendment thereto, shall be no less than the price determined pursuant to that act, and, for purposes of such sales and purchases only, fluid milk shall be deemed to remain on the list of agricultural commodities.

3. Section 14 (s) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) Sales by producers of any agricultural commodity in its raw or natural state, or if the commodity is not customarily sold by producers generally in its raw or natural state, in the first form or state in which it is customarily sold by producers generally.

4. Subparagraphs (3) and (7) of section 14 (s) are amended to read as follows:

(3) Raw wool when sold by the producer and mohair when sold by the producer.

* * * * *

(7) All fresh fruits, including berries and tree nuts, and all fresh vegetables.

(Sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.)

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective May 28, 1951.

EDWARD F. PHELPS, Jr.,
Acting Director of Price Stabilization.

CORRECTION

Due to an error the words "Office of Price Stabilization," instead of the words "Office of Price Administration," appear in the last two sentences of the fourth paragraph of the statement of considerations for Amendment 2. Accordingly, the last two sentences of the fourth paragraph are corrected to read as follows: While the lack has not been completely satisfied, and the ceilings set by this amendment may require revision, consultation with industry representatives indicates that there probably have been no substantial changes requiring departure from the rates fixed by the Office of Price Administration. This amendment, therefore, fixes ceiling prices for trucker-merchants at the Office of Price Administration levels.

[General Ceiling Price Regulation, Supplementary Regulation 30]

GCPR, SR 30—WHISKEY IN BULK, WINES, ALCOHOLIC BEVERAGES AND MALT BEVERAGE BOTTLE DEPOSIT CHARGES

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong.), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105) and Economic Stabilization Agency Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Supplementary Regulation to the General Ceiling Price Regulation (16 F. R. 808) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This supplementary regulation prescribes a new basis for computation of "parity" adjustments for increases in costs of grain used in distilling whiskey for bulk sale. This is provided as an alternative to the basis now established under section 11 (b) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. In addition, adjustments in ceiling prices are permitted for increases in costs of cooperage.

This regulation also permits certain adjustments to be made in the ceiling prices established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation for manufacturers, bottlers, and blenders of wine and fruit distillates. These adjustments are intended to take care of increases in costs of fruits as between 1949 and 1950 vintages.

The regulation also makes provision for alleviating inequities arising from the combined impact of the General Ceiling Price Regulation and State and local laws which (1) require some form of advance notice to be given when price increases in alcoholic beverages are contemplated, or (2), in the case of sales of alcoholic beverages by State owned or operated distributors, provide for price changes to be posted at specified times.

Finally, in the interest of conservation of glass which is now in short supply, the regulation authorizes bottlers of malt beverages to increase their customary deposit charges for glass containers, the increased charge not to exceed replacement costs. The resulting increases are permitted to be carried through at other levels of distribution.

The provisions of this supplementary regulation are only temporary and will be replaced by specific regulations tailored to the special character of the industries involved as soon as more complete data are available.

WHISKEY DISTILLING

The objective of the provision of a new alternative method for making the "parity" adjustment for increases in the cost of grain is to more closely conform the General Ceiling Price Regulation to the practice of the industry. It is customary for most whiskey distillers who distill for current bulk sale to recompute their sale prices each month. A basic factor in the recomputation is the average cost of grain in a selected prior period such as the preceding calendar month or the last month of the preceding calendar quarter. By reason of this pricing practice, January 1951 prices were generally established on the basis of December 1950 costs and the freezing of the January prices has made it impossible to deal with the cost-price lag in the normal manner. The regulation, therefore, provides that distillers will be able to take into account increased grain costs in a manner which will mesh with the practice of the industry.

Since whiskey is not ordinarily offered for sale to the ultimate consumer until several years after its production, this new method of computation will not cause any increases in consumer prices in the near future. Available data indicate that, in any event, such increases would be very small.

Increased cooperage costs are not now permitted to be added to ceiling prices established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation. These costs are a substantial factor in the cost of production of whiskey in bulk. Prices of current whiskey during the period December 19, 1950, to January 26, 1951, were generally between $1.50 and $1.60 per gallon. These prices were in line with a cooperage cost of $18.00 per barrel or 36 cents per gallon. Cooperage prices rose rapidly during late 1950 and January 1951. The cost to distillers was stabilized at approximately $28.00 per barrel. This increase of 20 cents per gallon represents approximately 13 percent of the prevailing General Ceiling Price Regulation ceilings on current whiskey.

It is clear that the purposes of the stabilization program cannot be accomplished if each seller is permitted to increase his price whenever material costs increase. In this particular case, however, the amount of the increase in cooperage costs is so great and this element represents such a large percentage of the selling price that it is obvious that absorption of the increase would force sellers of current whiskey to sell at a loss. Therefore, the Director has concluded that the general objective of reasonable absorption should not be made applicable in this particular case.

MANUFACTURE, BLENDING AND BOTTLING OF WINE AND FRUIT DISTILLATES

In the manufacture of wine and fruit distillates, the cost of raw material has been calculated historically in terms of the average cost of the previous season's vintage. Moreover, in regard to bulk goods, the sale price pattern for the ensuing year ordinarily takes form around the first of March. This is due to the fact that the major wine producing areas are subject to State marketing orders which, for all practical purposes, prohibit the sale of wine produced from the vintage of one year before March 1 of the following year. As to case goods, the annual price pattern is ordinarily established three months later, that is, around the first of June.

Bulk and bottled goods delivered during the base period fixed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation were generally those produced from the 1949 vintage. Pursuant to the custom of the trade, sale prices for the bulk goods were for the most part established around March 1, 1950, and for bottled goods around June 1, 1950. The bulk product now offered for sale was largely produced from the 1950 vintage, and here the price pattern would normally have been determined around March 1, 1951. The bottled product price pattern would be established around June 1, 1951. The General Ceiling Price Regulation froze prices before the normal patterns could take shape.

Since fruit prices for the 1950 vintage were substantially higher than those for the 1949 vintage, it is necessary, as a matter of equity, to permit the ceiling prices involved to be recalculated substantially in accord with customary practice. Accordingly, this regulation allows wine and fruit distillate ceiling prices to be revised to reflect increases in the average inventory cost of the fruit used in their preparation. More specifically, the regulation permits to be added to the highest bulk goods selling price for the period February 24, 1950, to March 24, 1950, the difference between the average inventory cost per wine gallon for fruit from the 1949 vintage and that for fruit from the 1950 vintage. The regulation permits a similar revision of ceiling prices for case goods, using the highest selling prices during the period May 24, 1950 through June 24, 1950, as the prices to which increased costs may be added. Where bottlers do not produce their own bulk wine but purchase it from vintners, the regulation permits them to add to their highest selling price during May 24, 1950 through June 24, 1950, the increase in cost over the weighted average cost of bulk wine in the period February 24, 1950 through March 24, 1950. This calculation is consistent with the normal price-cost relationship for these bottlers because June prices for case goods ordinarily reflect March bulk wine costs. These provisions are permissive and those to whom they apply may elect to continue to be governed by the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

INCREASES UNDER PRICE POSTING AND SIMILAR LAWS

Under a number of State and local laws increases in the sale prices of alcoholic beverages must be posted or designated authorities must be notified in advance of the effective date of such increases. In many cases price increases which had been posted or for which notice had been given were rendered ineffective by the issuance of the General Ceiling Price Regulation. Moreover, in a number of States owning or operating alcoholic beverage distribution facilities price changes are regularly posted at specified times. These changes normally reflect increases in suppliers' prices up to the time of posting. In many instances suppliers increased their prices after the last posting date preceding the General Ceiling Price Regulation and before the next regular posting date. As a consequence, it was not possible in both the situations described to raise selling prices to reflect increased costs. The regulation, therefore, permits ceiling prices in such cases to be increased so as to reflect the increased costs.

BOTTLE DEPOSIT CHARGES; MALT BEVERAGES

As a result of orders of the National Production Authority, the use of cans by manufacturers of malt beverages has been curtailed. The effect of this curtailment has been an increased demand for glass containers. That demand has now become so great that glass manufacturers have established a system of allocations for their customers, including the brewers.

Conservation of glass has become an obvious necessity in forwarding the defense effort. A considerable amount of glass is constantly wasted because purchasers of malt beverages fail to return empty bottles despite deposit charges. Increased deposit charges, within the limits of replacement costs, will encourage the return of empty bottles and thereby make them available for reuse. This regulation permits such increased deposit charges, but not beyond replacement costs, which are, of course, fixed as a result of the General Ceiling Price Regulation.

FINDINGS OF THE DIRECTOR

In the judgment of the Director of Price Stabilization the ceiling prices established by this supplementary regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to effectuate the purposes of Title IV of the Defense Production Act of 1950.

So far as practicable the Director of Price Stabilization gave due consideration to the national effort to achieve maximum production in the furtherance of the objectives of the Defense Production Act of 1950; to parity prices and the other minimum requirements of the law including prices prevailing during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive; and to relevant factors of general applicability.

To the extent practicable, persons representing substantial segments of the industries concerned have been consulted in regard to the provisions of this supplementary regulation.

REGULATORY PROVISIONS

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 10 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply Title IV, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; 3 CFR, 1950 Supp.

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. The purposes of this regulation are (a) to permit whiskey distillers to use in connection with bulk sales a method alternative to the one prescribed in section 11 (b) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation for computing the "parity" adjustment for grain and to revise their ceiling prices to take account of certain increases in cooperage costs; (b) to permit makers, bottlers, blenders, and other similar users of wine and fruit distillates to revise their ceiling prices to take account of certain increases in costs of fruit and bulk wine and fruit distillates; (c) to permit all sellers of alcoholic beverages subject to State or local price posting laws to increase their ceiling prices to the extent that they would have been able normally to do so under such laws, and State sellers to add higher costs to their ceiling prices; and (d) to permit makers of malt beverages to increase their customary bottle deposit charges within the limits of replacement costs, and subsequent sellers of such beverages to pass through such increases to their purchasers.

SEC. 2. Applicability. The provisions of this regulation are applicable to the United States, its Territories and possessions, and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Distillers of whiskey for bulk sale; increased cost of grain and cooperage. (a) If you are a distiller of whiskey or neutral spirits, or both, for bulk sale, you may increase your ceiling price as otherwise established under sections 3, 4, 6 or 7 of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, as amended, by the dollars and cents increase per gallon of (1) the average cost per gallon of grain used in the month preceding the current month over (2) the average cost per gallon of grain used in December 1950.

(b) You may also increase your ceiling price otherwise established under the General Ceiling Price Regulation by the dollars and cents increase per gallon of (1) the average cost per gallon of cooperage used in any month subsequent to December 1950 but not later than March 1951 over (2) the average cost per gallon of cooperage used in December 1950.

SEC. 4. Compliance with General Ceiling Price Regulation, section 11. Irrespective of whether you use the alternative method authorized under section 3 (a) of this regulation or the method now provided in section 11 (b) of the General Ceiling Price Regulation, your increases in ceiling prices will not be effective unless you comply with all other applicable provisions of section 11 of the General Ceiling Price Regulations, as amended.

SEC. 5. Makers of wine for bulk sale; increased cost of fruit. If you make wine or fruit distillates for bulk sale, you may establish your ceiling prices for such commodities in the following manner:

(a) Determine the highest unit price at which you delivered the commodity, or offered it for delivery, during the period from February 24, 1950 to March 24, 1950, inclusive;

(b) Add to the price so determined the dollars and cents increase per unit of wine or fruit distillate of (1) the weighted average cost of the fruit you used in making the class of commodity involved during the calendar year 1950 over (2) the weighted average cost of the fruit you used for that purpose during the calendar year 1949.

Example: You are making dessert and table wines and your highest prices between February 24, 1950 and March 24, 1950 were $.55 a gallon for a given dessert wine and $.38 a gallon for a given table wine.

The weighted average cost of the grapes you used in 1949 for making wine was $30.00 a ton. The weighted average cost of the grapes you used in 1950 for making wine was $60.00 a ton, an increase of $30.00 a ton over the 1949 cost.

If one ton of grapes yields 80 gallons of dessert wine, it now costs you $.375 a gallon more ($30 ÷ 80 gallons = $.375) to make dessert wine. Your ceiling price for the particular dessert wine referred to is, therefore, $.925 ($.55 plus $.375) a gallon. Similarly, if one ton of grapes produces 150 gallons of table wine, it now costs you $.20 a gallon more ($30 ÷ 150 gallons = $.20) to make table wine. Your ceiling price for the particular table wine referred to is, therefore, $.58 ($.38 plus $.20) a gallon.

(c) If in each of the two calendar years involved you purchased at least ten percent by weight of the fruit you used, treat the weighted average cost of the fruit you so purchased as the weighted average cost of the total amount of fruit you used for the class of commodity. On the other hand, if you purchased less than ten percent by weight of the fruit you used in either calendar year, you may not establish a ceiling price under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. You may instead establish a ceiling price in the following manner:

(1) Determine your most closely competitive seller's ceiling price established under this section for his commodity most similar to the one you are pricing, and his ceiling price for that commodity prior to the effective date of this regulation.

(2) Calculate for your commodity a price which will bear to your competitive seller's new price the same ratio as your former price and his former price bore to each other.

Thus for example:

$$\frac{X \text{ (your new price)}}{1.50 \text{ (his new price)}} = \frac{1.00 \text{ (your old price)}}{1.25 \text{ (his old price)}}$$

$X = 1.20$

(d) To determine the "weighted average cost" per ton (or other unit) of fruit used or purchased, as the case may be, in either year, compute the total dollar cost of the fruit used in the year and divide it by the number of tons (or other unit) used, or purchased, in that year.

SEC. 6. Makers of wine for bottled sale; increased cost of fruit. If you make wine or fruit distillates for bottled sale, you may establish your ceiling prices for the bottled commodities in the following manner:

(a) Determine the highest unit price at which you delivered the commodity, or offered it for delivery, during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive;

(b) Add to the price so determined the dollars and cents increase per unit of wine or fruit distillate of (1) the weighted average cost of the fruit you used in making the class of commodity involved during the calendar year 1950 over (2) the weighted average cost of the fruit you used for that purpose during the calendar year 1949.

(c) If in each of the calendar years involved you purchased at least ten per cent by weight of the fruit you used, treat the weighted average cost of the fruit you so purchased as the weighted average cost of the total amount of fruit you used for the class of commodity. On the other hand, if you purchased less than ten percent by weight of the fruit you used in either calendar year, you may not establish a ceiling price under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section. You may instead establish a ceiling price in the following manner:

(1) Determine your most closely competitive seller's ceiling price established under this section for his commodity most similar to the one you are pricing, and his ceiling price for that commodity prior to the effective date of this regulation.

(2) Calculate for your commodity a price which will bear to your competitive seller's new price the same ratio as your former price and his former price bore to each other.

Thus:

$$\frac{X \text{ (your new price)}}{1.50 \text{ (his new price)}} = \frac{1.00 \text{ (your old price)}}{1.25 \text{ (his old price)}}$$

$X = 1.20$

(d) To determine the "weighted average cost" per ton (or other unit) of fruit used or purchased, as the case may be, in either year, compute the total dollar cost of the fruit used in the year and divide it by the number of tons (or other unit) used, or purchased, in that year.

SEC. 7. Bottlers and blenders of wine and fruit distillates. If you obtain wine or a fruit distillate in bulk and bottle it directly or after blending or other processing, you may establish your ceiling price for the bottled commodity in the following manner:

(a) Determine the highest unit price at which you delivered the commodity, or offered it for delivery, during the period from May 24, 1950 to June 24, 1950, inclusive;

(b) Add to the price so determined the dollars and cents increase per unit of the bottled commodity of (1) the weighted average cost of the bulk goods you used in making that class of commodity during the period February 24, 1951 to March 24, 1951, inclusive, over (2) the weighted average cost of the bulk goods you used for that purpose during the period February 24, 1950 to March 24, 1950, inclusive.

(c) To determine the "weighted average cost" per barrel (or other unit) of the bulk goods you used in either year, compute the total dollar cost of the bulk goods used in the year and divide it by the number of barrels (or other unit) used in that year.

SEC. 8. Notice of ceiling price increases. Any ceiling price you establish under section 5, 6, or 7 of this regulation will not become effective until after you have sent a notice to the Director of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., by registered mail, setting forth the proposed ceiling price and data showing that that price conforms to all applicable requirements of this regulation.

SEC. 9. Sellers of alcoholic beverages covered by price posting and similar laws. (a) If you are a seller of alcoholic beverages and before or during the base period you gave notice pursuant to State or local law of your intention to increase your selling prices after the base period, you may establish as your ceiling prices the prices of which you gave notice. This provision applies irrespective of whether you gave notice by posting or by some other method established by applicable State or local law.

(b) If you are a State owned or operated distributor selling alcoholic beverages and if any customary supplier announced in writing a price increase, applicable to you, after your list price posting and prior to January 26, 1951, you may increase your ceiling price for the commodity involved by the dollars and cents difference between the highest price you paid prior to your last posting and the announced price of your supplier.

SEC. 10. Bottle deposit charges for malt beverages. (a) If you are a bottler of malt beverages and have customarily charged a deposit for bottles, you may increase that deposit charge to an amount equal to, but not more than, your average current replacement cost for the type of bottle involved. You may, however, round off to the nearest cent a fraction of one half cent or more in any deposit charge increased under this section.

(b) If you are a seller of malt beverages in bottles and your supplier has, pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, increased his bottle deposit charge to you, you may increase your deposit charge for such bottles in the same dollars and cents amount as your supplier has increased his charge to you.

Effective date. This regulation shall become effective June 1, 1951.

NOTE: The record-keeping and reporting requirements of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Director of Price Stabilization.

[General Overriding Regulation 3, Amendment 1]

GOR 3—EXEMPTION OF CERTAIN RUBBER, CHEMICAL AND DRUG COMMODITY TRANSACTIONS

ADDITIONAL EXEMPTIONS

Pursuant to the Defense Production Act of 1950 (Public Law 774, 81st Congress), Executive Order 10161 (15 F. R. 6105), and Economic Stabilization Agency General Order No. 2 (16 F. R. 738), this Amendment 1 to General Overriding Regulation 3 (16 F. R. 3216) is hereby issued.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS

This amendment to General Overriding Regulation 3 extends the coverage of that exempting regulation. Experimental rubber products are exempted for limited sales just as experimental chemicals have been. An experimental rubber product is defined as one made in an experimental mold, in a research or testing laboratory, by hand process, or with temporary equipment. As in the case of experimental chemicals, the exemption of such rubber products would have slight, if any, effect on the cost of living and inflation, while relieving this office of much administrative burden.

This amendment also adds a clause enabling the revocation of an exemption of an experimental rubber or chemical product. Such revocation is automatic when the commercial stage of production as specified by the reporting manufacturer is attained. But, in addition, revocation may be found advisable in some instances after an earlier exemption has been allowed even before the specified commercial production is reached, due to changes in circumstances or subsequent reappraisal of the report filed. The accompanying amendment provides the basis for such revocation action.

AMENDATORY PROVISIONS

General Overriding Regulation 3 is hereby amended in the following respects:

1. The last sentence of section 2 (b) is hereby amended by deleting the period at the end thereof and substituting ", or until the Office of Price Stabilization notifies the manufacturer that his report has been disapproved."

2. A new section designated section 4 is added to read as follows:

SEC. 4. Exemption of certain rubber commodity transactions. No price regulation issued by the Office of Price Stabilization shall apply to the following:

(a) Experimental rubber products. (1) Sales by a manufacturer of an experimental rubber product, on condition, however, that before making any sale of any such rubber product which would bring the total sales thereof to a sum in excess of $1,000, the manufacturer must file with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington, D. C., a report setting forth his name and address and a description of the experimental rubber product, the reasons for believing such rubber product to be experimental the prices he proposes to charge for that product while it is experimental, and the monthly volume which he believes would represent commercial production as opposed to experimental production. Unless the Office of Price Stabilization by letter disapproves this report or requests further information within 20 days sales of the rubber product shall continue to be exempted from price control until the volume of production specified in the report as commercial production is reached, or until the Office of Price Stabilization notifies the manufacturer that his report has been disapproved.

(2) An experimental rubber product is a product made substantially or in whole of natural, synthetic, substitute, reclaimed, or any other kind of rubber, in a temporary mold, or in a research or testing laboratory, or by hand process, or with temporary equipment.

Effective date. This Amendment 1 shall become effective June 2, 1951.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Chapter XI—Defense Electric Power Administration, Department of the Interior

[DEPA Order EO-2, as amended]

EO-2—MATERIALS AND EQUIPMENT REQUESTS FOR PROCUREMENT ASSISTANCE

This order, as amended, is found necessary and appropriate to promote the national defense and is issued pursuant to the authority granted by the Defense Production Act of 1950. In the formulation of this order there has been consultation with industry representatives, including trade association representatives, and consideration has been given to their recommendations.

This amendment affects DEPA Order EO-2 as follows: It amends section 3; it deletes section 4 and redesignates sections 5 and 6 as sections 4 and 5, respectively. As amended, DEPA Order EO-2 reads as follows:

Sec.
1. Qualifications for obtaining procurement assistance.
2. Information required—general.
3. Information required—special assistance.
4. Cross-reference to other applications.
5. Communications.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 5 issued under sec. 704, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong. Interpret or apply sec. 101, Pub. Law 774, 81st Cong., E. O. 10161, Sept. 9, 1950, 15 F. R. 6105; E. O. 10200, Jan. 3, 1951, 16 F. R. 61; DPA Delegation 1, 16 F. R. 738.

SECTION 1. Qualifications for obtaining procurement assistance. Requests for assistance in connection with the construction of electric utility power facilities should be filed only after the applicant has exhausted every reasonable effort to obtain the equipment or material required and has completely investigated all possibilities of substituting non-critical material for critical material. It is imperative that orders for materials be placed sufficiently in advance to allow manufacturers reasonable time in which to make required deliveries. Moreover, delivery dates specified should not be earlier than actually required to meet fabrication, construction or installation schedules. The design of power plant facilities should be restricted to the use of standard sizes and shapes of steel whenever possible.

SEC. 2. Information required; general. The following information should be supplied in requesting assistance in procuring equipment or materials for each project.

(a) Project information should be submitted as specified in sections 1 and 2 of Form DPA-2, "Electric Utility Statement of a Current or Proposed Construction Project." If Form DPA-2 has already been submitted for the project, supply cross-reference information as specified in section 4 of this order.

(b) It should be noted that a current progressive construction schedule must under order EO-1 be filed with Form DPA-2 and revised schedules must be used to keep changes in the construction schedule on a current basis. If this has not been filed, it must be furnished at the time the request for priorities assistance for a major plant addition is made.

SEC. 3. Information required; special cases. The following additional information should be supplied in duplicate when an order has been placed and the promised delivery date is inadequate to meet the construction schedule or when a priority is requested by the supplier prior to accepting an order:

(a) Description as shown on applicant's purchase order, including dollar value, quantity, and (where applicable) weights.

(b) Number and date of applicant's purchase order. (A purchase order number should be provided even though an order has not been accepted.)

(c) Current promised delivery date.

(d) Latest delivery date required to meet fabrication, construction, or other needs of applicant.

(e) Name and address of supplier or manufacturer with whom order has been placed, the manufacturer's shop order number, and name of supplier or manufacturer who will accept order with priority assistance.

(f) Justification for requested items.

SEC. 4. Cross-reference to other applications. If any of the information specified in this order has been previously submitted to any Government agency in connection with another application, it will not be necessary to resubmit such information. However, the applicant should furnish, with respect to such previous application, the name of the Government agency to which it was submitted, the form number, date of application, serial number, if known, affixed to the application by the Government agency, action taken by the Government agency and date of such action.

SEC. 5. Communications. All communications concerning this order and requests for Forms DPA-2 shall be addressed to the Defense Electric Power Administration, Department of the Interior, Washington 25, D. C.

This order shall take effect immediately.

CLIFFORD B. MCMANUS,
Administrator,
Defense Electric Power Administration.

Chapter XVIII—National Shipping Authority, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce

[NSA Order 6 (INS-1)]

INS-1—MARINE PROTECTION AND INDEMNITY INSURANCE INSTRUCTIONS UNDER GENERAL AGENCY AND BERTH AGENCY AGREEMENTS

Sec.
1. What this order does.
2. Insurers.
3. Assured.
4. Vessels insured and terms of insurance.
5. Assumption of risks by owner and attachment date of commercial insurance.
6. Issuance of policies or certificates by underwriters.
7. Insurance premiums.
8. Reports of accidents and occurrences.
9. Settlement of claims.
10. Litigation and employment of counsel.
11. Cargo risks.
12. Claims reports.
13. Application and interpretation of instructions.
14. Previous insurance instructions.

AUTHORITY: Sections 1 to 14 issued under sec. 204, 49 Stat. 1987, as amended; 46 U. S. C. 1114.

SECTION 1. What this order does. Effective as of March 23, 1951, this order prescribes instructions required to be observed by the Agents with respect to the placing of Protection and Indemnity insurance and the handling of claims of a protection and indemnity insurance nature under General Agency and Berth Agency Agreements entered into with the National Shipping Authority referred to in this order as "Owner".

SEC. 2. Insurers. An insuring agreement was entered into between the Owner and the following named protection and indemnity underwriters, effective as of March 23, 1951: American Steamship Owners Mutual Protection and Indemnity Association, Inc., Marine Office of America, Fireman's Fund Insurance Company and Fulton P. & I. Underwriting Agency, Inc.

SEC. 3. Assured. The assured shall be the United States of America, acting by and through the Director, National Shipping Authority, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C., but only in so far as its interest in the insured vessel is concerned, and its General Agents, and Berth Agents and Sub-Agents acting on their behalf.

SEC. 4. Vessels insured and terms of insurance. The underwriters have agreed to and will provide protection and indemnity insurance with respect to Liberty type and Victory type cargo vessels owned by the United States of America at an annual rate of $1.90 per gross registered ton, attaching as provided for in section 5 (a) and (b), on a prorata daily basis, and terminating December 31, 1951, with adjustments if vessels are withdrawn prior to the aforesaid termination date, at a valuation of $1,250,000 per vessel with deductible averages of $500 on personal injury, illness or death claims for each accident or occurrence; $5,000 on cargo claims on each outward or homeward voyage including baggage and personal effects; and $250 on claims of other types for each accident or occurrence.

SEC. 5. Assumption of risk by owner and attachment date of commercial insurance—(a) Vessels allocated under General Agency Agreement 4-4-42. On vessels allocated and delivered to General Agents for husbanding services and repairing under General Agency Agreement 4-4-42, the Maritime Administration will assume all risks of a protection and indemnity insurance nature. As of the date of delivery to the General Agent under General Agency Agreement 3-19-51, the protection and indemnity risks will be insured with underwriters as outlined in section 2 and the General Agents will make application either direct or through brokers to these underwriters for insurance to attach as of the date of delivery of the vessel under General Agency Agreement 3-19-51.

(b) Vessels allocated under General Agency Agreement 3-19-51. On vessels allocated and delivered to General Agents at fleet sites directly under General Agency Agreement 3-19-51, the Maritime Administration will also assume all risks of a protection and indemnity insurance nature until departure from repair yard. Marine protection and indemnity risks will be insured as of that time on full commercial basis with underwriters as outlined in section 2, and the General Agents will make application either directly or through brokers to these underwriters for insurance to attach as of the date and hour of departure from repair yard as per log book entry.

SEC. 6. Issuance of policies or certificates by underwriters. Each underwriter providing insurance under the Agreement will, upon receipt of application from General Agents, execute and deliver to them policies and or certificates with respect to each vessel named in such application. The underwriter will furnish as many copies of policies and or certificates as may be needed by the National Shipping Authority and by the General Agents. The original and one copy of all certificates and or policies are to be forwarded by the General Agent to the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Department of Commerce, Washington 25, D. C. Upon withdrawal from or redelivery by a General Agent of a vessel, endorsements with respect to each vessel will be issued by the underwriters showing cancellation date and amount of return premium.

SEC. 7. Insurance premiums—(a) Payment of premiums. Premiums for protection and indemnity insurance provided under policies are to be paid by the agents in advance as to all vessels covered from the time of attachment of the risks to December 31, 1951, midnight, e. s. t. The underwriters have limited the discount to brokers to 5 percent instead of the usual 10 percent.

(b) Return premiums. General Agents shall be responsible for collecting or obtaining credit for return premiums for all vessels insured under the Agreement. Statements or credit memoranda are to be obtained in duplicate from the insuring underwriter and the original filed in the General Agent's office subject to inspection by the Administration's auditors and the duplicate copy forwarded to the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 8. Reports of accidents and occurrences—(a) Reports to underwriters. All occurrences of a protection and indemnity nature arising subsequent to the attachment of commercial protection and indemnity insurance, as outlined in section 5, which may result in claims against the vessels, are to be reported promptly to the underwriters by the General Agents together with all available information. The General Agents will obtain from their underwriters the names of their outport representatives. This information should be supplied to the master of each vessel so that he may in an emergency obtain the assistance of a representative of the underwriter.

(b) Reports to owner. Occurrences of a protection and indemnity nature arising prior to attachment of the commercial protection and indemnity insurance should be reported to the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

SEC. 9. Settlement of claims—(a) Commercial protection and indemnity policies. General Agents of vessels specified above are hereby authorized to settle claims for amounts that do not exceed the deductible averages provided for in the commercial protection and indemnity insurance polices. Claims in excess of those amounts must be approved by the underwriters before payment by the General Agents who will claim reimbursement from the underwriters. The deductible average is a vessel operating expense, and will be accounted for in accordance with accounting and auditing instructions. When making settlement of claims, the claimant is to be advised that such settlement is not to be construed as an admission of liability by or on behalf of the Owner, but that the settlement agreed upon is a compromise of a disputed liability. The General Agents will be expected to apply sound judgment and follow standard practices of steamship operators in settling or disposing of claims of this nature and shall make use of the advice and assistance of the underwriters, as well as the General Agent's own counsel, and may consult, when necessary or desired, any District Counsel of the Maritime Administration. Berth Agents shall furnish reports and render all assistance necessary to the General Agents in disposing of marine protection and indemnity insurance claims. Claims shall be settled only when liability is clear and the amount of the claim is reasonable and adequately supported and when the settlement is to the best interests of the United States. All claims which General Agents are authorized to settle by these instructions shall be approved by an officer of such General Agent designated for that purpose. The Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., is to be advised promptly after receipt of these instructions, as of the name of the officer so designated.

(b) Assumed risk. General Agents are hereby authorized to settle on their own authority claims of a protection and indemnity nature assumed by the owner as outlined in section 5 (a) and (b), provided such claims do not exceed $1,000. Claims in excess of this amount must be approved by the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., before payment by the General Agents. Such claims are to be treated as vessel operating expence. When settling a claim hereunder, General Agents shall be governed by the procedure and instructions set forth in paragraph (a) of this section insofar as applicable.

SEC. 10. Litigation and employment of counsel. General Agents shall not incur any legal expense in connection with any claim covered by commercial protection and indemnity insurance, to which these instructions apply, unless approved in advance by the underwriters. As to any suit based upon an occurrence arising during the period of assumption of risk by the owner, as outlined in section 5 (a) and (b), General Agents must forward copy of the pleadings and any other legal documents to the General Counsel, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., sending copy of letter of transmittal to the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., and no special counsel shall be employed for the account of the Maritime Administration without the prior approval of the General Counsel, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C. In connection with attachment or seizure of a vessel, General Agents will notify the General Counsel, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., by telephone, telegraph, radio, or cable immediately.

SEC. 11. Cargo risks—(a) Ad valorem cargo. With respect to the carriage of cargo having a declared value in excess of $500 per package or in case of goods not shipped in packages per customary freight unit, the General Agents are instructed not to arrange any additional insurance as the Maritime Administration assumes all protection and indemnity risks in excess of those covered by the policy. The Agent will forward a written notice or memorandum of the excess amounts declared to the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

(b) Special cargo. With respect to special cargo which is not covered by the terms of customary protection and indemnity insurance, it is the policy of the Maritime Administration to assume, rather than insure, such risk or liability.

SEC. 12. Claims reports. All General Agents shall submit to the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., semiannual reports of claims, the first report to be submitted as of September 30, 1951, for all claims settled and pending as of that date. These reports are to be prepared as follows: Claims closed and paid in excess of the deductible average and claims within the deductible averages, giving in each case the name of the vessel, date and nature of accident, name of claimant, total amount paid in settlement, and amount collected from the underwriter; pending claims, giving the same information as to vessel, accident, claimant, etc., amount paid to date, if any, or amount of loss or damage estimated as probable future cost and current status.

SEC. 13. Application and interpretation of instructions. General Agents shall communicate directly with the Office of Comptroller, Division of Insurance, Maritime Administration, Washington 25, D. C., regarding all questions of application, interpretation, meaning or intent of these instructions.

SEC. 14. Previous insurance instructions. These instructions apply only to Marine Protection and Indemnity insurance on vessels allocated to General Agents under General Agency Agreement 4-4-42 and under General Agency Agreement 3-10-51, and all Marine Protection and Indemnity insurance instructions previously issued are hereby cancelled.

[SEAL] C. H. MCGUIRE,
Director, National Shipping Authority.

TITLE 43—PUBLIC LANDS: INTERIOR

Chapter I—Bureau of Land Management, Department of the Interior

Appendix—Public Land Orders

[Public Land Order 721]

WASHINGTON

EXCLUSION OF CERTAIN LANDS FROM THE OLYMPIC NATIONAL FOREST

By virtue of the authority vested in the President by the act of June 4, 1897, 30 Stat. 11, 36 (16 U. S. C. 473), and pursuant to Executive Order No. 9337 of April 24, 1943, and upon the recommendation of the Secretary of Agriculture, it is ordered as follows:

The following-described public lands in the State of Washington are hereby excluded from the Olympic National Forest:

WILLAMETTE MERIDIAN

T. 30 N., R. 5 W.,
Sec. 7, NE¼ and E½SE¼;
Sec. 17, E½NE¼.
T. 27 N., R. 10 W.,
H. E. S. Nos. 119, 120, 121, 122, and 274;
Sec. 30, lots 6, 12, and 13.

Sec. 14, NW¼ and S½;
Sec. 15, SE¼;
Sec. 23, NW¼, N½SW¼, SE¼SW¼, and S½SE¼.

The areas described aggregate 8786.98 acres.

All of the lands described are patented, with the exception of lots 6, 12, and 13, sec. 30, T. 27 N., R. 10 W., and lot 2, sec. 26, T. 27 N., R. 11 W. Lot 6, sec. 30 is within Power Site Classification No. 159 established December 10, 1926. The unreserved, unpatented lots which are subject to aplication aggregate 2.30 acres.

Effective upon the signing of this order, the jurisdiction over and administration of such unreserved, unpatented lands shall be vested in the Department of the Interior and any other Department or agency of the Federal Government according to—their respective interests then of record.

No application for these lands may be allowed under the homestead, small-tract, desert-land laws, or any other non-mineral public-land laws unless the land has already been classified as valuable or suitable for such type of application or shall be so classified upon consideration of an application.

This order shall not otherwise become effective to change the status of such lands until 10:00 a. m. on the 35th day after the date of this order. At that time the said lands shall, subject to valid existing rights and the provisions of existing withdrawals, become subject to application, petition, location, and selection as follows:

(a) Ninety-one day period for preference-right filings. For a period of 91 days, commencing at the hour and on the day specified above, the public lands affected by this order shall be subject only to (1) application under the homestead or the desert-land laws or the Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, 52 Stat. 609 (43 U. S. C. 682a), as amended, by qualified veterans of World War II and other qualified persons entitled to preference under the act of September 27, 1944, 58 Stat. 747 (43 U. S. C. 279–284), as amended, subject to the requirements of applicable law, and (2) application under any applicable public-land law, based on prior existing valid settlement rights and preference rights conferred by existing laws or equitable claims subject to allowance and confirmation. Applications under subdivision (1) of this paragraph shall be subject to applications and claims of the classes described in subdivision (2) of this paragraph. All applications filed under this paragraph either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 35th day after the date of this order shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at that time. All applications filed under this paragraph after 10:00 a. m., on the said 35th day shall be considered in the order of filing.

(b) Date for non-preference-right filings. Commencing at 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this order, any lands remaining unappropriated shall become subject to such application, petition, location, selection, or other appropriation by the public generally as may be authorized by the public-land laws. All such applications filed either at or before 10:00 a. m., on the 126th day after the date of this order, shall be treated as though filed simultaneously at the hour specified on such 126th day. All applications filed thereafter shall be considered in the order of filing.

A veteran shall accompany his application with a complete photostatic, or other copy (both sides), of his certificate of honorable discharge, or of an official document of his branch of the service which shows clearly his honorable discharge as defined in § 181.36 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, or constitutes evidence of other facts upon which the claim for preference is based and which shows clearly the period of service. Other persons claiming credit for service of veterans must furnish like proof in support of their claims. Persons asserting preference rights, through settlement or otherwise, and those having equitable claims, shall accompany their applications by duly corroborated statements in support thereof, setting forth in detail all facts relevant to their claims.

Applications for these lands, which shall be filed in the Land Office, Spokane, Washington, shall be acted upon in accordance with the regulations contained in § 295.8 of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations and Part 296 of that title, to the extent that such regulations are applicable. Applications under the homestead laws shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 166 to 170, inclusive, of Title 43 of the Code of Federal Regulations, and applications under the desert-land laws and the said Small Tract Act of June 1, 1938, shall be governed by the regulations contained in Parts 232 and 257, respectively, of that title.

Inquiries concerning these lands shall be addressed to the Land Office, Spokane, Washington.

DALE E. DOTY,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

[Public Land Order 722]

NEW MEXICO

RESERVATION OF PUBLIC LANDS FOR USE OF DEPARTMENT OF THE NAVY IN CONNECTION WITH EXPERIMENTAL WORK

By virtue of the authority vested in the President and pursuant to Executive Order No. 9337 of April 24, 1943, it is ordered as follows:

Subject to valid existing rights, the following-described public lands in New Mexico are hereby withdrawn from all forms of appropriation under the public-land laws, including the mining and mineral-leasing laws, and reserved for the use of the Department of the Navy in connection with experimental work:

NEW MEXICO PRINCIPAL MERIDIAN

T. 2 S., R. 1 W.,
Sec. 33
T. 3 S., R. 1 W.,
Secs. 4, 5, 8, 9, and 17.

The areas described aggregate 3,894.95 acres.

This order shall take precedence over but not otherwise affect the order of March 27, 1936 of the Secretary of the Interior establishing New Mexico Grazing District No. 2, so far as such order affects any of the above-described lands.

It is intended that the lands described herein shall be returned to the administration of the Department of the Interior when they are no longer needed for the purpose for which they are reserved.

DALE E. DOTY,
Acting Secretary of the Interior.

TITLE 46—SHIPPING

Chapter I—Coast Guard, Department of the Treasury

Subchapter O—Regulations Applicable to Certain Vessels During Emergency

[CGFR 51-27]

PART 154—WAIVERS OF NAVIGATION AND VESSEL INSPECTION LAWS AND REGULATIONS

PROCEDURES FOR EFFECTING GENERAL WAIVERS

The purpose of the following waiver orders is to modify certain statutory requirements relating to manning to such extent and in such manner and upon such terms as are set forth below. These waiver orders are published in both 33 CFR Part 19 and 46 CFR Part 154. Because of the urgency of providing general waiver authority in the interest of national defense, it is found that compliance with the notice of proposed rule making procedure thereon, and effective date requirements of the Administrative Procedure Act is impracticable and contrary to the public interest.

By virtue of the authority vested in me as Commandant, United States Coast Guard, by an order of the Acting Secretary of the Treasury, dated January 23, 1951, and identified as CGFR 51-1 and published in the FEDERAL REGISTER dated January 26, 1951 (16 F. R. 731), these waiver orders are hereby promulgated and shall become effective on and after June 1, 1951.

§ 154.08 Able seamen employed on Great Lakes merchant cargo and tank vessels—(a) Waiver. I hereby waive compliance with the provisions of section 13 of the act of March 4, 1915, as amended (38 Stat. 1169, sec. 1, 50 Stat. 199; 46 U. S. C. 672 (a)), to the extent that when properly qualified able seamen are not available to man merchant cargo and tank vessels of the United States navigating the Great Lakes, to allow certificated ordinary seamen who have served a minimum of 8 months on deck at sea or on the Great Lakes, to compose not more than one-half the number of able seamen required by such section to be shipped or employed on any Great Lakes merchant cargo and tank vessel.

(b) Terms and conditions. The employment of certificated ordinary seamen who have served at least 8 months on deck at sea or on the Great Lakes, as herein authorized, shall be permitted only to the extent of the nonavailability of properly qualified able seamen, as determined after reasonable efforts made by the master, owner and others concerned to secure the employment of properly qualified seamen, and in no event to exceed one-half the number of able seamen required by law to be employed on any merchant cargo and tank vessels of the United States navigating the Great Lakes; to allow seamen certificated for other engine room ratings who have served a minimum of 3 months in the fireroom of coal burning Great Lakes vessels to serve as qualified members of the engine department in the rating of fireman on such vessels.

(b) Terms and conditions. The employment of certificated seamen who have served at least 3 months in the fireroom on coal burning Great Lakes vessels, as herein authorized, shall be permitted only to the extent of the nonavailability of qualified members of the engine department in the rating of fireman, as determined after reasonable efforts made by the master, owner, or others concerned to secure the employment of properly qualified seamen. Any seaman employed under this waiver shall present to the master of the vessel at the time of being employed authentic evidence of at least 3 months' service in the fireroom of coal burning Great Lakes vessels. This evidence shall consist of one or more certificates of discharge or other properly authenticated record of service showing the name of the vessel or vessels and the dates employed thereon.

(c) Penalties. The failure of the master of any Great Lakes merchant cargo or tank vessel sailing with a deficiency in the required complement of qualified members of the engine department to comply with the conditions required by this waiver shall be considered misconduct within the meaning of R. S. 4450, as amended, 46 U. S. C. 239, and shall constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of the license of such master and shall subject him and the owners to all other penalties provided by law. No penalty shall be imposed as a consequence of any waiver made effective pursuant hereto.

(d) Effective date. This order shall be in effect on and after June 1, 1951.

§ 154.09 Qualified members of engine department on Great Lakes merchant cargo and tank vessels—(a) Waiver. I hereby waive compliance with the provisions of section 13 of the act of March 4, 1915, as amended (46 U. S. C. 672 (e)), to the extent that when qualified members of the engine department in the rating of fireman are not available for employment on coal burning merchant cargo and tank vessels of the United States navigating the Great Lakes; to allow seamen certificated for other engine room ratings who have served a minimum of 3 months in the fireroom of coal burning Great Lakes vessels to serve as qualified members of the engine department in the rating of fireman on such vessels.

(c) Penalties. The failure of the master of any vessel sailing with a deficiency in the required complement of able seamen to comply with the conditions required by this waiver shall be considered misconduct within the meaning of R. S. 4450, as amended, 46 U. S. C. 239, and shall constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of the license of such master; and shall subject him and the owners to all other penalties provided by law. No penalty shall be imposed as a consequence of any waiver made effective pursuant hereto.

(d) Effective date. This order shall be in effect on and after June 1, 1951.

§ 154.10 Able seamen employed on merchant cargo and tank vessels other than Great Lakes vessels—(a) Waiver. I hereby waive compliance with the provisions of section 13 of the act of March 4, 1915, as amended (38 Stat. 1169, sec. 1, 50 Stat. 199; 46 U. S. C. 672 (a)), to the extent that when properly qualified able seamen are not available to man merchant cargo and tank vessels of the United States other than those navigating the Great Lakes, to allow seamen examined and rated able seamen under said section after having served on deck 12 months at sea or on the Great Lakes, to compose not more than one-half of the number of able seamen required by such section to be shipped or employed on merchant cargo and tank vessels other than those navigating the Great Lakes.

(b) Terms and conditions. The employment of seamen examined and rated able seamen after having served on deck 12 months at sea or on the Great Lakes, as herein authorized, shall be permitted only to the extent of the nonavailability of properly qualified able seamen, as determined after reasonable efforts made by the master, owner and others concerned to secure the employment of properly qualified able seamen, and in no event to exceed one-half the number of able seamen required by law to be employed on any merchant cargo and tank vessel other than those navigating the Great Lakes, and as specified in the vessel's certificate of inspection.

(c) Penalties. The failure of the master of any vessel sailing with a deficiency in the required complement of able seamen to comply with the conditions required by this waiver shall be considered misconduct within the meaning of R. S. 4450, as amended, 46 U. S. C. 239, and shall constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of the license of such master; and shall subject him and the owners to all other penalties provided by law. No penalty shall be imposed as a consequence of any waiver made effective pursuant hereto.

(d) Effective date. This order shall be in effect on and after June 1, 1951.

§ 154.11 Crew of non-subsidized merchant vessels—(a) Waiver. I hereby waive compliance with the provisions of 46 U. S. C. 672a to the extent that the percentage of citizens required in the crew of non-subsidized merchant vessels is reduced in the amount necessary to permit one-half the number of able seamen required on such vessels to be alien seamen who hold currently valid United States certification as able seamen.

(b) Terms and conditions. The number of properly certificated able seamen who are aliens and who are employed under this waiver shall not exceed one-half the total number of able seamen required on a non-subsidized vessel; and, the employment of properly certificated able seamen shall be permitted only to the extent of the nonavailability of properly qualified able seamen who are citizens of the United States as determined after reasonable efforts made by the master, owner, and others concerned to obtain properly qualified able seamen, and further provided the alien able seamen can speak and understand the English language to the extent required by their shipboard duties including emergency duties.

(c) Penalties. The failure of the master of any vessel sailing with a deficiency in the required complement of able seamen to comply with the conditions required by this waiver shall be considered misconduct within the meaning of R. S. 4450, as amended, 46 U. S. C. 239, and shall constitute grounds for suspension or revocation of the license of such master; and shall subject him and the owners to all other penalties provided by law. No penalty shall be imposed as a consequence of any waiver made effective pursuant hereto.

(d) Effective date. This order shall be in effect on and after June 1, 1951.

(e) Termination date. The terms of this waiver shall cease to be in effect after September 1, 1951, Provided, That any vessels the crew of which was engaged on or before September 1, 1951 under the terms of this waiver may continue with such deficiencies in its crew for the remainder of the period for which the entire crew is signed on, and no penalty of law shall be imposed because of failure to comply with the provisions of 46 U. S. C. 672a which are relaxed by this waiver.

TITLE 47—TELECOMMUNICATION

Chapter I—Federal Communications Commission

PART 11—INDUSTRIAL RADIO SERVICES

FREQUENCIES AVAILABLE FOR BASE AND MOBILE STATIONS

At a session of the Federal Communications Commission held at its offices in Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of May 1951;

The Commission having under consideration the desirability of providing a replacement frequency for 1602 kc. as proposed in the Commission's public notice dated September 21, 1949, in Docket No. 9461 (Mimeo 40450) with attachment of public notice Mimeo No. 40209, "United States of America ITU Region 2 Frequency List 1605–2000 kc.", in which all interested parties were requested to submit their comments; and

It appearing, that all comments received were favorable to the listing on 1614 kc. of the stations now assigned 1602 kc.; and

It further appearing, that it would be in the public interest, convenience, or necessity to shift assignments from 1602 kc. to 1614 kc. in order to facilitate the bringing into force of the new international table of frequency allocations by amendment of Part 11 of the Commission's rules to include the frequency of 1614 kc. and that authority therefore is contained in sections 4 (i), 303 (c), and (r) of the Communications Act of 1934, as amended; and

It further appearing, That since the amendment codifies a change in frequency availability which has been the subject of public proceedings as indicated above, notice of proposed rule making under section 4 (a) of the Administrative Procedure Act is not required:

It is ordered, That effective July 2, 1951, § 11.302 (b) of Part 11 of the Commission's rules is amended by deleting the frequency of 1602 kc. and substituting therefor the frequency of 1614 kc.

It is further ordered, That stations now authorized to operate on the frequency 1602 kc. in the Petroleum Radio Service or in the former Geological Radio Service shall discontinue use of this frequency no later than one year from the effective date of this order or on the date the current station license expires, whichever is later.

PART 95—CAR SERVICE

SUBSTITUTION OF REFRIGERATOR CARS FOR BOX CARS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 25th day of May A. D. 1951.

Upon further consideration of Service Order No. 851 (15 F. R. 3486, 4825, 7138; 16 F. R. 989, 4550), and good cause appearing therefor: It is ordered, that:

Section 95.851 Substitution of refrigerator cars for box cars, of Service Order No. 851 be, and it is hereby further amended by substituting the following paragraph (a) (1) for paragraph (a) (1) thereof:

(a) (1) Except as provided in paragraph (a) (2), common carriers by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act transporting carload freight from origins in the States of Oregon, California, Arizona or Nevada, and destined to points in the States of Oregon, California, Arizona or Nevada, may, at their option, furnish and transport not more than three (3) refrigerator cars of SFRD, FFE or WP ownership, not suitable for transporting commodities requiring protective service, in lieu of each box car ordered, subject to the carload minimum weight which would have applied if shipment had been loaded in a box car.

Effective date. This amendment shall become effective at 11:59 p. m., May 25, 1951.

It is further ordered, that a copy of this amendment and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. PROPOSED RULE MAKING

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

Production and Marketing Administration

[7 CFR, Part 953]

[Docket No. AO-144-A3]

HANDLING OF LEMONS GROWN IN CALIFORNIA AND ARIZONA

DECISION WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO AMENDED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND ORDER

Pursuant to Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (May 12, 1933), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), and the applicable rules of practice and procedure governing proceeding to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Los Angeles, California, on May 15, 1951, pursuant to notice thereof published in the FEDERAL REGISTER (16 F. R. 4354), upon proposed amendments to Marketing Agreement No. 94, as amended, hereinafter referred to as the "marketing agreement," and Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953), hereinafter referred to as the "order," regulating the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona.

Material issues. The material issues presented on the record of the hearing are as follows:

(1) Whether the marketing agreement and order should be amended to provide that credit be given to each handler on the prorate base for lemons exported to foreign markets other than Canada during the estimated storage life of such fruit.

(2) Whether the facts presented on the record warrant the omission of a recommended decision and an opportunity to file exceptions thereto.

(3) Recodification of the marketing agreement and order in accordance with Federal Register rules and regulations.

Findings and conclusions. The findings and conclusions on the aforementioned material issues are based upon the evidence introduced at the hearing and the record thereof:

(a) The marketing agreement and order should be amended to provide that credit be given to each handler on the prorate base for lemons exported to countries other than Canada during the estimated storage life of such fruit.

Allotment issued to each handler under the marketing agreement and order is based (i) on the lemons such handler has picked and assembled, (ii) in the event he does not have facilities available, on the lemons which he could have picked and assembled if facilities were available, and (iii) on the lemons such handler has marketed in other than fresh fruit channels which could have been held in storage during the period for which the prorate base is fixed. The portion of a handler's prorate base calculated pursuant to (iii) is usually referred to as "advanced count."

Credit for "advance count" is given handlers marketing lemons for by-product purposes under the present provisions of the marketing agreement and order. Provisions are not made, however, for such "advance count" and credit on the prorate base for lemons exported to other than Canada. Provisions of the marketing agreement and order regulating the handling of lemons exported to Canadian markets are the same as those regulating the handling of lemons marketed in the United States. Such provisions should not be changed inasmuch as Canadian and United States markets have substantially the same characteristics.

Lemon production in the States of California and Arizona is in excess of that which can be marketed in fresh fruit channels at fair prices to growers. Production of lemons in these States during the 1950-51 season is estimated at 13 million boxes and it is anticipated that only about 8 million boxes of this supply can be marketed in fresh fruit channels in the United States and Canada at reasonable prices to growers. The remaining 5 million boxes must be sold in by-product channels or in export markets other than the Canadian market. The fresh lemon market in the United States and Canada is the premium market and returns to growers for lemons sold in the by-product market are much less than returns for lemons sold in the fresh fruit market. Some lemons which must be sold for by-product purposes under the surplus condition existing in the California-Arizona lemon industry do not even return the cost of handling and harvesting. Under such conditions, these lemons would be held in storage to the end of their storage life if provisions were not made for "advance count" credit.

The marketing agreement and order became effective April 10, 1941. Since that time exports to foreign markets other than Canada have been negligible. Conditions in Italy and Spain this season have not been favorable for the development of the lemon crops in those countries. As a result, the demand for lemons in Europe is good and opportunities exist for the exportation of a substantial quantity of United States lemons. However, costs involved in exporting United States lemons to European markets are substantial and net returns to growers from lemons sold in those countries would be only slightly above the low return to growers from lemons marketed in by-product channels. In view of this situation and because "advance count" credit is not given on lemons exported to Europe, handlers are now refusing to sell lemons to these markets.

Provisions for crediting handlers on the prorate base for the estimated storage life of lemons exported other than to Canada will provide an incentive for such export sales. This incentive will encourage the exportation of fruit which will aid in reducing the surplus supply of lemons which now exists in the United States, create new markets, enhance the returns to producers, foster orderly marketing and will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

Very little difficulty should be experienced in administering the provisions for "advance count" credit on the prorate base for handlers who export lemons to other than Canadian markets. Such provisions are identical to those which have been in effect with respect to lemons marketed in by-product channels since the inception of the marketing agreement and order.

(b) The due and timely execution of the functions of the Secretary of Agriculture under the act imperatively and unavoidably requires the omission in this instance of a recommended decision by the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, and exceptions thereto.

The hearing record establishes that the opportunity for marketing lemons in export markets, other than Canadian markets, will occur in the next 60 to 90 days, or during the summer months. Some handlers have already turned down orders for lemons to be exported to Europe due to the unfavorable position which would result to such handlers prorate base in the event of shipment. Testimony showing the need for these amendments was adduced at the hearing by marketing organizations which market practically the entire tonnage of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona. Those organizations stressed the need of prompt and timely action in making the proposed amendments effective.

The condition of the lemon crops in Italy and Spain did not become known to the California-Arizona lemon industry until April 1951. There has been, therefore, no undue delay on the part of the industry in instituting proceedings on the proposed amendment to the marketing agreement and order.

In view of the imminence of the export marketing season and the short period available for marketing, it is imperative that the amendment to be made effective at the earliest date possible in order to accomplish the purposes of the amendment to alleviate the existing surplus, create new markets and enhance the returns to producers. The time which would necessarily be consumed in preparing and issuing a recommended decision, allowance of a reasonable period for the filing of exceptions thereto, and the consideration of any such exceptions preliminary to the issuance of a decision would unduly delay the effective date of the amendment and thereby defeat the purposes of such amendment.

(c) The format of the order should be revised by renumbering the sections, paragraphs, subparagraphs, and subdivisions thereof in accordance with the revised Federal Register regulations; and similar changes should be made in the marketing agreement in order to facilitate cross reference between the order and the marketing agreement. The recasting of the format is not intended, nor shall it be deemed to make any substantive change in the order other than the changes effectuated by the following amendments.

Rulings on proposed findings and conclusions. The period ending May 16, 1951, was set by the presiding officer at the hearing as the date by which briefs should be filed by interested parties with respect to facts presented in evidence at the hearing and the findings and conclusions which should be deduced therefrom. No brief or proposed finding or conclusion was submitted within the prescribed time.

General findings. (1) The marketing agreement as hereby proposed to be amended, and the order as hereby proposed to be amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The marketing agreement as hereby proposed to be amended and the order as hereby proposed to be amended regulate the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona in the same manner as, and are applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, the marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held;

(3) The marketing agreement as hereby proposed to be amended and the order as hereby proposed to be amended are limited in their application to the smallest regional production area that is practicable, consistently with carrying out the declared policy of the act; and the issuance of several orders applicable to subdivisions of such regional production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act; and

(4) The marketing agreement as hereby proposed to be amended and the order as hereby proposed to be amended prescribe such different terms, applicable to different marketing areas, as are necessary to give due recognition to differences in the marketing of such lemons.

Effective January 1, 1950, the parity price for lemons grown in the production area is to be computed in accordance with the provisions of the Agricultural Act of 1948 and the Agricultural Act of 1949. On the basis of information now available, the seasonal average farm price for the 1950-51 crop of lemons grown in the production area is not expected to exceed the aforesaid effective parity price level.

Amendments to the marketing agreement and order. The following amendments to the marketing agreement and order have been decided upon as the appropriate and detailed means of effectuating the foregoing conclusions:

1. Delete paragraph (4) of section 4 (d) of the marketing agreement and subparagraph (4) of § 953.4 (d) of the order, and substitute therefor the following:

(4) In the event any handler has lemons which he desires to market in channels other than fresh-fruit channels in the United States and Canada, he may request the committee to compute the number of weeks that such lemons could be held in storage, under commercial storage conditions, and, at the expiration of such period, would meet the requirements for marketing under applicable laws. Any such lemons shall be in containers and shall be assembled at one or more of the central points which may be approved by the committee. If the said handler is satisfied with the committee's computation, he shall give the committee written notification thereof and shall dispose of such lemons in channels other than fresh-fruit channels in the United States and Canada. The committee shall include such lemons as a part of the available lemons of such handler for the number of weeks computed, and such lemons shall not be included thereafter in any computation made pursuant to subparagraph (3) of this paragraph.

Annexed hereto and made a part hereof are two documents entitled, respectively, "Agreement Amending the Marketing Agreement, as amended, Regulating the Handling of Lemons Grown in the States of California and Arizona,"[1] and "Order Amending the Order, as Amended, Regulating the Handling of Lemons Grown in the States of California and Arizona" which include the aforesaid amendments. The aforesaid amendments shall not become effective unless and until the requirements of § 900.14 of the aforesaid rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders have been met.

Determination of representative period. The period beginning November 1, 1949, and ending October 31, 1950, is hereby determined to be a representative period for ascertaining whether the issuance of the order amending the order, as amended, regulating the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona, is approved or favored by producers who, during such period, have been engaged in the production of lemons within such area.

It is hereby ordered, That all of this decision, except the attached agreement amending the marketing agreement as amended, be published in the FEDERAL REGISTER. The regulatory provisions of the said agreement are identical with those contained in the attached order which will be published with this decision.

Done at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of May 1951.

AUTHORITY: §§ 953.0 to 953.92 issued under sec. 5, 49 Stat. 753, as amended; 7 U. S. C. and Sup., 608c.

§ 953.0 Findings and determinations. The findings and determinations hereinafter set forth are supplementary to and in addition to the findings and determinations made in connection with the issuance of this order and the findings and determinations made in connection with the issuance of the previously issued amendments thereto; and all of said previous findings and determinations are hereby ratified and affirmed, except insofar as such findings and determinations may be in conflict with the findings and determinations set forth herein.

(a) Findings upon the basis of the hearing record. Pursuant to the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (48 Stat. 31, as amended; 7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.), hereinafter referred to as the "act," and the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR Part 900), a public hearing was held at Los Angeles, California, on May 15, 1951, upon proposed amendments to the marketing agreement, as amended, and to Order No. 53, as amended (7 CFR Part 953), regulating the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona. Upon the basis of the evidence introduced at such hearing and the record thereof, it is found that:

(1) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(2) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, regulates the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona in the same manner as, is applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in, a marketing agreement upon which hearings have been held;

(3) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, prescribes so far as practicable, such different terms, applicable to different production areas, as are necessary to give due recognition to the differences in production and marketing of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona; and

(4) The said order, as amended and as hereby further amended, is limited in its application to the smallest regional production area that is practicable, consistent with carrying out the declared policy of the act, and the issuance of several orders applicable to any subdivision of such regional production area would not effectively carry out the declared policy of the act.

It is therefore ordered, That, on and after the effective date hereof, the handling of lemons grown in the States of California and Arizona shall be in conformity to, and in compliance with, the terms and conditions of the aforesaid amended order as hereby amended as follows:

DEFINITIONS

§ 953.1 Secretary. "Secretary" means the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States of America.

§ 953.2 Act. "Act" means Public Act No. 10, 73d Congress (48 Stat. 31), as amended and as reenacted and amended by the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937 (50 Stat. 246), as amended.

§ 953.3 Person. "Person" means an individual, partnership, corporation, association, legal representative, or any organized group of individuals.

§ 953.4 Lemons. "Lemons" means all varieties of lemons grown in the State of California or in the State of Arizona.

§ 953.5 Grower and producer. "Grower" and "producer" are synonymous and mean any person who produces lemons for market.

§ 953.6 Handler. "Handler" means any person (except a common carrier of lemons owned by another person), who handles lemons in fresh form.

§ 953.7 Handle. "Handle" means to transport, ship, sell, or in any other way to place lemons in the current of interstate commerce or commerce with Canada, or so as directly to burden, obstruct, or affect such interstate commerce or such commerce with Canada.

§ 953.8 Carload. "Carload" means a quantity of lemons equivalent to 406 packed boxes of lemons.

§ 953.9 Box. "Box" means a standard lemon box which has inside dimensions of 10 inches in depth, 13 inches in width, and 23⅝ inches in length.

§ 953.10 Season and fiscal year. "Season" and "fiscal year" are synonymous and mean the twelve-month period beginning on November 1 of each year and ending October 31 of the following year.

§ 953.11 Committee. "Committee" means the Lemon Administrative Committee established pursuant to § 953.20.

§ 953.12 Available lemons. "Available lemons" means all lemons available for current shipment, as determined pursuant to § 953.53.

§ 953.13 Central marketing organization. "Central marketing organization" means any organization which markets the lemons for more than one handler pursuant to a written contract between such organization and each such handler.

ADMINISTRATIVE BODY

§ 953.20 Establishment and membership. A Lemon Administrative Committee, consisting of six members, is hereby established. For each member of the committee there shall be an alternate member who shall have the same qualifications as the member.

§ 953.21 Term of office. The initial members and alternate members shall hold office for a term beginning on the date designated by the Secretary and ending October 31, 1942, or until their successors are selected and have qualified. Thereafter, the term of office of members and alternate members shall begin on the first day of November and continue for two years or until their successors are selected and have qualified. The Secretary may, by order issued not later than September 1 of any year, direct that the term of office of the members and alternate members then serving shall expire on October 31 following the date of such order, or as soon thereafter as their respective successors are selected and have qualified.

§ 953.22 Nominations. (a) Any cooperative marketing organization, or the growers affiliated therewith, as may be provided pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, which marketed more than sixty percent of the total volume of lemons marketed in fresh form during the fiscal year which ends on the date nearest to the date on which nominations for members and alternate members of the committee are to be submitted, shall nominate not less than six growers for three members and six growers for three alternate members of the committee.

(b) All cooperative marketing organizations which are not qualified under paragraph (a) of this section, or the growers affiliated therewith, as may be provided pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, shall nominate not less than two growers for a member and two growers for an alternate member of the committee.

(c) All lemon growers who are not included under paragraph (a) or (b) of this section shall nominate not less than two growers for a member and two growers for an alternate member of the committee.

(d) When voting for nominees, each grower shall be entitled to cast one vote, which vote shall be cast on behalf of himself, his agents, subsidiaries, affiliates, and representatives.

(e) The time, method, and manner of nominating members and alternate members of the committee shall be prescribed by the Secretary.

(f) Nominations for the initial members and alternate members of the committee may be made prior to, and, in any event, shall be submitted to the Secretary not later than fifteen days after the effective date of this subpart. Nominations for successors to the initial members and alternate members of the committee shall be submitted to the Secretary not later than fifteen days preceding the date of expiration of the terms of the members and alternate members.

(g) The five members of the committee selected by the Secretary pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 953.23, shall meet upon a date designated by the Secretary and, by a concurring vote of at least four members, shall nominate two persons for a member and two persons for an alternate member of the committee, which persons shall not be growers or handlers, or employees or agents of a grower or a handler, or in any other way associated directly with the lemon industry.

§ 953.23 Selection. (a) From the nominations submitted pursuant to paragraph (a) of § 953.22, the Secretary shall select three members and three alternate members of the committee. From the nominations submitted pursuant to paragraphs (b) and (c) of § 953.22, the Secretary shall select one member and one alternate member of the committee from each of the groups of nominations.

(b) From the nominations made pursuant to paragraph (g) of § 953.22, the Secretary shall select one member and one alternate member of the committee.

§ 953.24 Failure to nominate. In the event nominations are not made pursuant to, and within the time specified in, § 953.22, the Secretary may select the members and alternate members of the committee, without regard to nominations, which selection shall be made on the basis of the representation provided for in § 953.23.

§ 953.25 Acceptance. Any person selected by the Secretary as a member or as an alternate member of the committee shall qualify by filing a written acceptance with the Secretary within ten days after being notified of such selection.

§ 953.26 Vacancies. To fill any vacancy occasioned by the failure of any person selected as a member or as an alternate member of the committee to qualify, or in the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of any qualified member or alternate member, a successor for his unexpired term shall be selected by the Secretary from nominations made in the manner specified in § 953.22. If the names of nominees to fill any such vacancy are not made available to the Secretary within fifteen days after such vacancy occurs, the Secretary may fill such vacancy without regard to nominations, which selection shall be made on the basis of the representation provided for in § 953.23.

§ 953.27 Alternate members. An alternate member of the committee shall act in the place and stead of the member from whom he is an alternate, during such member's absence, unless such member has designated another alternate member, who has been nominated by the same group which nominated the member; in which event, the alternate member so designated shall serve in the absence of the member who designated him. In the event of the death, removal, resignation, or disqualification of a member, his alternate shall act for him until a successor of such member is selected and has qualified.

§ 953.28 Procedure. (a) A majority of the committee shall constitute a quorum, and any action of the committee shall require four concurring votes.

(b) The committee may provide for voting by telegraph, telephone, or other means of communication; and any such vote so cast shall be confirmed promptly in writing.

§ 953.29 Expenses and compensation. The members of the committee, and their respective alternates when acting as members, shall be reimbursed for expenses necessarily incurred by them in the performance of their duties and in the exercise of their powers under § 953.30, and shall receive compensation at a rate to be determined by the committee, which rate shall not exceed $5.00 for each day, or portion thereof, spent in attending meetings of the committee.

§ 953.30 Powers. The committee shall have the following powers:

(a) To administer the provisions of this subpart in accordance with its terms;

(b) To make rules and regulations to effectuate the terms and provisions of this subpart;

(c) To receive, investigate, and report to the Secretary complaints of violations of the provisions of this subpart; and

(d) To recommend to the Secretary amendments to this subpart.

§ 953.31 Duties. It shall be the duty of the committee:

(a) To act as intermediary between the Secretary and any grower or handler;

(b) To keep minutes, books, and records which will clearly reflect all of the acts and transactions of the committee, including all transactions and operations pursuant to §§ 953.50 through 953.62. Such minutes, books, and records shall be subject to examination at any time by the Secretary;

(c) To investigate the growing, shipping, and marketing conditions with respect to lemons, and to assemble data in connection therewith;

(d) To furnish to the Secretary such available information as he may request;

(e) To select a chairman and such other officers as may be necessary, and to adopt such rules and regulations for the conduct of its business as it may deem advisable;

(f) At the beginning of each fiscal year, to submit to the Secretary a budget of its expenses for such fiscal year, together with a report thereon;

(g) To cause the books of the committee to be audited by a competent accountant at least once each fiscal year, and at such other times as the committee may deem necessary or as the Secretary may request. The report of such audit shall show the receipt and expenditure of funds collected pursuant to this subpart, and a copy of each such report shall be furnished to the Secretary;

(h) To appoint such employees, agents, and representatives as it may deem necessary, and to determine the salaries and define the duties of such persons;

(i) Subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to take such other action as may be necessary, to appear in and defend any legal proceeding against the committee, its members, or alternate members (whether any such proceeding is against them as individuals or as members or alternate members of the committee), or any officers or employees of such committee, arising out of the exercise of their powers or the performance of their duties pursuant to the provisions of this subpart; and the action of the committee in connection with any such defense shall be binding upon all the members and alternate members of the committee; and

(j) To perform such duties as may be assigned to it by the Secretary in connection with the administration of section 32 of the act to amend the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and for other purposes, Public Act No. 320, 74th Congress (approved August 24, 1935 (49 Stat. 774), as amended.

§ 953.32 Obligation. Upon the removal or expiration of the term of office of any member of the committee, such member shall account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property and funds, together with all books and records, in his possession, to his successor in office, and shall execute such assignments and other instruments as may be necessary or appropriate to vest in such successor full title to all of the property, funds, and claims vested in such member pursuant to this subpart.

EXPENSES AND ASSESSMENTS

§ 953.40 Expenses. The committee is authorized to incur such expenses as the Secretary finds may be necessary to carry out the functions of the committee pursuant to the provisions of this subpart during each fiscal year. The funds to cover such expenses shall be acquired by levying assessments as provided in § 953.41.

§ 953.41 Assessments. (a) Each handler who first handles lemons shall, with respect to the lemons so handled by him, pay to the committee, upon demand, such handler's pro rata share of the expenses which the Secretary finds will be necessarily incurred by the committee for its maintenance and functioning during each fiscal year. Such handler's pro rata share of such expenses shall be equal to the ratio between the total quantity of lemons handled by him as the first handler thereof, during the applicable fiscal year, and the total quantity of lemons handled by all handlers as the first handlers thereof, during the same fiscal year. The Secretary shall fix the rate of assessment to be paid by such handlers.

(b) At any time during or after a fiscal year, the Secretary may increase the rate of assessment in order to secure sufficient funds to cover any later finding by the Secretary relative to the expenses of the committee. Such increase shall be applicable to all lemons handled during the given fiscal year. In order to provide funds to carry out the functions of the committee, handlers may make advance payment of assessments.

§ 953.42 Accounting. (a) If, at the end of a fiscal year, it shall appear that assessments collected are in excess of expenses incurred, each handler entitled to a proportionate refund of the excess assessments shall be credited with such refund against the operations of the following fiscal year. If any handler ceases to handle lemons he may demand payment of such refund, in which case such sum shall be paid to him.

(b) The committee may, with the approval of the Secretary, maintain in its own name or in the name of its members, a suit against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of the expenses of the committee.

§ 953.43 Funds. All funds received by the committee pursuant to any provisions of this subpart shall be used solely for the purposes specified in this subpart and shall be accounted for in the manner provided in this subpart. The Secretary may, at any time, require the committee and its members to account for all receipts and disbursements.

REGULATION

§ 953.50 Marketing policy. At the beginning of each fiscal year, the committee shall prepare and submit to the Secretary a report setting forth its proposed policy for the marketing of lemons during such fiscal year. In the event it becomes advisable to deviate from such marketing policy, because of changed demand and supply conditions, the committee shall formulate a new marketing policy and shall submit a report thereon to the Secretary. The committee shall notify handlers of the contents of such reports.

§ 953.51 Recommendations for regulation. (a) It shall be the duty of the committee to investigate the supply and demand conditions for lemons. Whenever the committee finds that such conditions make it advisable to regulate, pursuant to § 953.52, the handling of lemons during any week of the fiscal year, it shall recommend to the Secretary the quantity of lemons which it deems advisable to be handled during such week in each district defined in § 953.64. Thereafter, the committee shall promptly report such findings and recommendations, together with supporting information, to the Secretary.

(b) In making such recommendations, the committee shall give due consideration to the following factors: (1) Quantity of lemons in storage; (2) lemons on hand in, and en route to, the principal markets; (3) trend in consumer income; (4) present and predicted weather conditions; (5) present and prospective prices of lemons; and (6) other relevant factors.

(c) At any time during a week for which the Secretary, pursuant to § 953.52, has fixed the quantity of lemons which may be handled during such week, the committee may, if it deems such action advisable because of unusual or unforeseen changes in the demand for lemons, recommended to the Secretary that such quantity be increased for such week. Any such recommendation, together with supporting information, shall be submitted promptly to the Secretary.

§ 953.52 Issuance of regulations. Whenever the Secretary shall find, from the recommendations and information submitted by the committee, or from other available information, that to limit the quantity of lemons which may be handled during a specified week in each district, as aforesaid, will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act, he shall fix such a quantity of lemons which may be handled during such week in each such district, which quantity may, at any time during such week, be increased by the Secretary. The committee shall be informed immediately of any such regulation issued by the Secretary and shall promptly give adequate notice thereof to handlers.

§ 953.53 Prorate bases. (a) As used in this section, "handler" means the person who is, or proposes to be, the person who handles lemons as the first handler thereof; and each such handler shall submit to the committee, at such time as may be designated by it, a written application for a prorate base and for allotments, as provided in this subpart.

(b) Whenever the committee proposes to make recommendations for regulation, pursuant to § 953.51, it shall, with respect to each handler who has filed an application for a prorate base, compute the quantity of available lemons which, as of 12.01 a. m., on the Sunday nearest the date on which such computation is made, meets the requirements of marketing under applicable laws. Such computation shall be made every two weeks, beginning with a date in each fiscal year to be fixed by the committee, and continuing so long as such recommendations are proposed. In computing each handler's available lemons, the committee shall consider only such lemons as the handler owns or has contracted to buy, or has authority to market under a written contract.

(c) In computing the quantity of lemons which, for the applicable two-week period, each handler has available for current shipment, the committee shall compute the quantity of lemons which each handler has picked from the trees and has assembled at an established shipping point within the area of production.

(d) In the event any handler has lemons which he desires to market in channels other than fresh-fruit channels in the United States and Canada, he may request the committee to compute the number of weeks that such lemons could be held in storage, under commercial storage conditions, and, at the expiration of such period, would meet the requirements for marketing under applicable laws. Any such lemons shall be in containers and shall be assembled at one or more of the central points which may be approved by the committee. If the said handler is satisfied with the committee's computation, he shall give the committee written notification thereof and shall dispose of such lemons in channels other than fresh-fruit channels in the United States and Canada. The committee shall include such lemons as a part of the available lemons of such handler for the number of weeks computed, and such lemons shall not be included thereafter in any computation made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section.

(e) Any handler who submits evidence satisfactory to the committee that such handler has lemons available for current shipment during the applicable two-week period, but, because of unavailable facilities, the quantity of such lemons cannot be computed satisfactorily, pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, the committee shall compute, pursuant to uniform rules adopted by the committee and approved by the Secretary, the quantity of lemons which each such handler has available for current shipment during such period.

(f) The quantity of each handler's available lemons, as computed pursuant to this section, shall be reported by the committee to the Secretary and shall constitute the recommendation of the committee as the quantity of lemons to be used by the Secretary in determining the prorate base for each such handler: Provided, That such quantity may be adjusted by (1) the deduction of any undershipments, as provided for in § 953.58, or (2) the addition of any overshipments, as provided for in § 953.57, in the event any such handler makes an undershipment or an overshipment during the week preceding that in which such quantity was computed. Such report shall be made on the basis of the total quantity of each handler's available lemons in each of the aforesaid districts.

(g) Upon the basis of the recommendations and reports submitted by the committee, or other available information, the Secretary shall fix a prorate base for each handler who has made application therefor to the committee. Such prorate base shall represent the ratio between the quantity of each such handler's available lemons in a district, as aforesaid, and the quantity of all such handlers' available lemons in the same district, and shall be applicable for the two-weeks period immediately following the week in which it is fixed by the Secretary.

(h) During any two-week period in which a prorate base is effective for a handler, the committee may recommend to the Secretary that the prorate base of such handler be modified. In any such case, the committee shall submit a report to the Secretary showing the reasons therefor. Upon the basis of such recommendation and report, or other available information, the Secretary may modify the prorate base of any handler.

(i) The Secretary shall notify the committee of the prorate base fixed for each handler, and of any modifications thereof, and the committee shall give adequate notice to each handler of the prorate base fixed for him, or of any modification thereof.

(j) Any handler who has reason to believe that the computation made by the committee with respect to the quantity of such handler's available lemons is not accurate, may appeal to the Secretary for a recomputation thereof. Any such appeal shall be supported by evidence which shall show the inaccuracy of the committee's computation. Whenever a handler takes such an appeal to the Secretary, the handler shall, at the same time, notify the committee of such appeal and submit to the committee a copy of the evidence in support thereof. Upon receipt thereof, the committee shall immediately submit a report to the Secretary, setting forth the manner in which the quantity of the handler's available lemons was computed, and other data pertinent to a determination on the appeal.

§ 953.56 Allotments. Whenever the Secretary has fixed the quantity of lemons which may be handled during any week in a district, as aforesaid, and has fixed the handlers' prorate bases, the committee shall calculate the quantity of lemons which may be handled by each such handler during such week. The said quantity shall be the allotment of each such handler and shall be in an amount equal to the product of the handler's prorate base and the quantity of lemons fixed by the Secretary as the quantity which may be handled during such week in such district. The committee shall give adequate notice to each handler of the allotment computed for him pursuant to this section.

§ 953.57 Overshipments. During any week for which the Secretary has fixed the quantity of lemons which may be handled, any handler (when not required to reduce the quantity of lemons which he may handle, as provided in this section) may handle, in addition to his allotment, an amount of lemons equivalent to ten percent of said allotment, or one carload, whichever is greater. The quantity of lemons handled in excess of a handler's allotment (but not exceeding the quantity permitted to be handled, as provided in this section) shall be deducted from his allotment for the next week in which the handling of lemons is regulated under this subpart. If such allotment is in an amount less than such excess quantity of lemons permitted to be handled by a handler, such quantity handled in excess of his allotment shall be deducted from succeeding weekly allotments until such excess has been entirely offset.

§ 953.58 Undershipments. If a handler during any week handles a quantity of lemons less than his allotment for that week, such handler may, in addition to his allotment for the next succeeding week, handle only during such next succeeding week, a quantity of lemons equivalent to such undershipment.

§ 953.59 Allotment loans. (a) A handler for whom a prorate base has been established may lend allotments to other handlers: Provided, That such loans are confined to the same district, as defined in § 953.64, and evidenced by a bona fide written agreement, filed with the committee within 48 hours after the agreement has been entered into, under the terms of which such allotments are to be repaid during the current season.

(b) Allotments shall be loaned only during the week in which such allotments are issued and can be used by the borrower only during the week in which the loan is secured. Handlers securing repayment of allotment loans shall use such allotments only during the week in which the repayment is made.

(c) The committee may act as agent for handlers in arranging loans of allotments. In each such case, the committee shall confirm all such transactions by memoranda, addressed to the parties thereto, immediately after the completion thereof; and the signing and return of such memoranda by each such handler shall satisfy the requirements of paragraph (a) of this section with respect to bona fide agreements evidencing such loans.

(d) No allotment which has been loaned may again be loaned by the borrower, or by the lender after repayment thereof.

§ 953.60 Transfer of allotments. Allotments shall not be transferred except upon the transfer of a quantity of lemons equal to the allotment which has been transferred.

§ 953.61 Priority of allotments. During any week in which a handler receives an allotment, and has the right to handle a quantity of lemons in addition to the quantity represented by his allotment, by reason of (a) an undershipment of lemons pursuant to § 953.58; or (b) a transferred allotment, pursuant to § 953.60; or (c) the repayment of a loaned allotment, pursuant to § 953.59; or (d) an assignment of an allotment, pursuant to § 953.63; or (e) a borrowed allotment, pursuant to § 953.59, and such handler handles a quantity of lemons which is less than the total quantity of lemons which such handler may handle during such week, the amount of lemons handled shall first apply to such handler's current weekly allotment (or to that portion thereof which is not used pursuant to §§ 953.57, 953.59, 953.60, or 953.63), and the remainder, if any, shall be applied in the following order: first, to any undershipment of lemons, pursuant to § 953.58; second, to any allotment repaid to him, pursuant to § 953.59; third, to any allotment transferred to him, pursuant to § 953.60; fourth, to any allotment assigned to him, pursuant to § 953.63; and fifth, to any allotment borrowed, pursuant to § 953.59.

§ 953.62 Information to central marketing organizations. (a) In order further to facilitate arranging allotment transactions pursuant to this subpart, the committee shall give any central marketing organization upon its request, the same notice with respect to prorate bases and allotments, applicable to each handler for whom it markets lemons, as is given to such handlers.

(b) Any central marketing organization which, pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section, receives information from the committee regarding prorate bases and allotments, applicable to handlers for whom it markets lemons, and which arranges allotment transactions for or on behalf of any of such handlers, shall keep records which will accurately reflect all such allotment transactions and such records shall be subject to examination by the committee and the Secretary. Any such central marketing organization shall make such reports and furnish such other information with respect thereto as may be required by the committee. If the Secretary finds that any such central marketing organization has failed to keep such records, or has assisted in effecting allotment transactions contrary to the provisions of this subpart, the provisions of paragraph (a) of this section shall not be applicable to such central marketing organization during such period as may be determined by the Secretary.

§ 953.63 Assignment of allotments. Any person who acquires lemons to be handled by him, and who does not have a prorate base on such lemons, may handle such lemons pursuant to an assignment of an allotment from the handler from whom such lemons were acquired and to whom the allotment had been issued, which assigned allotment shall be equal to the quantity of lemons acquired by such person.

Any such assignment shall be evidenced by a certificate which shall be in such form, and issued in such manner, as shall be prescribed by the committee.

§ 953.64 Districts. (a) "District 1" shall include that part of the State of California which is north of a line drawn due east and west through the Tehachapi mountains.

(b) "District 2" shall include that part of the State of California which is south of a line drawn due east and west through the Tehachapi mountains, but shall exclude Imperial County, California, and that part of Riverside County, California, situated south and east of the San Gorgonio Pass.

(c) "District 3" shall include the State of Arizona and that part of the State of California not included in District 1 and District 2.

REPORTS

§ 953.70 Weekly report. On or before such day of each week as may be designated by the committee, each handler shall report to the committee, on forms prepared by it, the following information with respect to lemons marketed by such handler during the immediately preceding week: (a) Quantity handled; (b) quantity shipped for distribution to persons on relief, including quantity donated for charitable purposes; (c) quantity sold or transported for consumption in fresh form in California or Arizona; (d) quantity sold or otherwise disposed of for canning or for manufacture into by-products; and (e) quantity disposed of otherwise.

§ 953.71 Other reports. Upon request of the committee made with the approval of the Secretary every handler shall furnish to the committee, in such manner and at such times as it prescribes (in addition to such other reports as are specifically provided for in paragraph (a) of this section), such other information as will enable the committee to perform its duties and to exercise its powers under this subpart.

MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

§ 953.80 Lemons not subject to regulation. Nothing contained in this subpart shall be construed to authorize any limitation of the right of any person to handle lemons (a) for consumption by charitable institutions or distribution by relief agencies; (b) for conversion into by-products; or (c) for export to foreign countries other than Canada; nor shall any assessment be levied on lemons so handled. The committee may prescribe adequate safeguards to prevent lemons handled for the purposes designated under paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section from entering commercial fresh fruit channels of trade contrary to the provisions of this subpart. The term "by-product" as used in this section includes all processed and manufactured products of lemons, including canned or bottled lemon juice.

§ 953.81 Compliance. Except as provided in this subpart, no handler shall handle lemons, during any week in which a regulation issued by the Secretary, pursuant to § 953.52, is in effect, unless such handler has an allotment, or an assignment of an allotment, covering such lemons, issued pursuant to this subpart, or unless such handler is otherwise permitted to handle such lemons, under the provisions of this subpart; and no handler shall handle lemons except in conformity to the provisions of this subpart.

§ 953.82 Right of the Secretary. The members of the committee (including successors and alternates), and any agent or employee appointed or employed by the committee, shall be subject to removal or suspension by the Secretary at any time. Each and every order, regulation, decision, determination or other act of the committee shall be subject to the continuing right of the Secretary to disapprove of the same at any time. Upon such disapproval, the disapproved action of the said committee shall be deemed null and void, except as to acts done in reliance thereon or in compliance therewith prior to such disapproval by the Secretary. In the event the committee, for any reason, fails to perform its duties or exercise its powers under this subpart, the Secretary may designate another agency to perform such duties and to exercise such powers.

§ 953.83 Effective time. The provisions of this subpart shall become effective April 10, 1941, and shall continue in force until terminated in one of the ways specified in § 953.84.

§ 953.84 Termination. (a) The Secretary may, at any time, terminate the provisions of this subpart by giving at least one day's notice by means of a press release or in any other manner which he may determine.

(b) The Secretary may terminate or suspend the operation of any or all of the provisions of this subpart whenever he finds that such provisions do not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act.

(c) The Secretary shall terminate the provisions of this subpart at the end of any fiscal year whenever he finds that such termination is favored by a majority of producers who, during the preceding fiscal year, have been engaged in the production for market of lemons: Provided, That such majority has, during such year, produced for market more than fifty percent of the volume of such lemons produced for market; but such termination shall be effected only if announced on or before October 31 of the then current fiscal year.

(d) The provisions of this subpart shall, in any event, terminate whenever the provisions of the act authorizing them cease to be in effect.

§ 953.85 Proceedings after termination. (a) Upon the termination of the provisions of this subpart, the then functioning members of the committee shall continue as trustees, for the purpose of liquidating the affairs of the committee, of all the funds and property then in the possession of or under control of the committee, including claims for any funds unpaid or property not delivered at the time of such termination. Action by said trusteeship shall require the concurrence of a majority of the said trustees.

(b) The said trustees shall continue in such capacity until discharged by the Secretary; shall, from time to time, account for all receipts and disbursements and deliver all property on hand, together with all books and records of the committee and of the trustees, to such persons as the Secretary may direct; and shall, upon request of the Secretary, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title and right to all of the funds property and claims vested in the committee or the trustees pursuant to this subpart.

(c) Any person to whom funds, property, or claims have been transferred or delivered by the committee or its members, pursuant to this section, shall be subject to the same obligations imposed upon the members of the committee and upon the said trustees.

§ 953.86 Effect of termination or amendment. Unless otherwise expressly provided by the Secretary, the termination of this subpart or of any regulation issued pursuant to this subpart, or the issuance of any amendment to either thereof, shall not (a) affect or waive any right, duty, obligation, or liability which shall have arisen or which may thereafter arise in connection with any provision of this subpart or any regulation issued under this subpart, or (b) release or extinguish any violation of this subpart or of any regulation under this subpart, or (c) affect or impair any rights or remedies of the Secretary or of any other person with respect to any such violation.

§ 953.87 Duration of immunities. The benefits, privileges, and immunities conferred upon any person by virtue of this subpart shall cease upon the termination of this subpart, except with respect to acts done under and during the existence of this subpart.

§ 953.88 Agents. The Secretary may, by designation in writing, name any person, including any officer or employee of the Government, or name any bureau or division in the United States Department of Agriculture, to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions of this subpart.

§ 953.89 Derogation. Nothing contained in this subpart is, or shall be construed to be, in derogation or in modification of the rights of the Secretary or of the United States to exercise any powers granted by the act or otherwise, or, in accordance with such powers, to act in the premises whenever such action is deemed advisable.

§ 953.90 Personal liability. No member or alternate of the committee, nor any employee or agent thereof, shall be held personally responsible, either individually or jointly with others, in any way whatsoever, to any handler or to any person for errors in judgment, mistakes, or other acts, either of commission or omission, as such member, alternate, or employee, except for acts of dishonesty.

§ 953.91 Separability. If any provision of this subpart is declared invalid, or the applicability thereof to any person, circumstance, or thing is held invalid, the validity of the remainder of this subpart, or the applicability thereof to any other person, circumstance, or thing, shall not be affected thereby.

§ 953.92 Amendments. Amendments to this subpart may be proposed, from time to time, by the committee or by the Secretary.

HANDLING OF MILK IN SOUTH BEND-LA PORTE, INDIANA, MARKETING AREA

NOTICE OF RECOMMENDED DECISION AND OPPORTUNITY TO FILE WRITTEN EXCEPTIONS WITH RESPECT TO PROPOSED AMENDMENTS TO TENTATIVELY APPROVED MARKETING AGREEMENT AND TO ORDER, AS AMENDED

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure, as amended, governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and orders (7 CFR, 900.1 et seq.), notice is hereby given of the filing with the Hearing Clerk of this recommended decision of the Assistant Administrator, Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, with respect to proposed amendments to the tentatively approved marketing agreement and to the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the South Bend-La Porte, Indiana, marketing area, to be effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U. S. C. 601 et seq.).

Interested parties may file exceptions to this recommended decision with the Hearing Clerk, Room 1353, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on the 5th day after its publication in the FEDERAL REGISTER.

A public hearing was called by the Production and Marketing Administration, United States Department of Agriculture, following a request of the Pure Milk Association, and was held February 15–16, 1951. Proposed amendments to the order were submitted by the Pure Milk Association, the La Porte County Milk Producers Association, Inc., the Reliable Dairy Company, Inc., et al., and the Dairy Branch, Production and Marketing Administration.

The major issues presented on the record of the hearing and covered by this decision were whether the order should be amended to provide for:

(1) Revision of the levels of price differentials for skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk and Class II milk and of the method of computing the separate prices of skim milk and butterfat in each class;

(2) Revision of the Class II milk definition to include butter cream, filled cream, yogurt, cottage cheese and shrinkage of butterfat in producer milk over 2 percent, and redesignation of classes;

(3) Modification of the provisions relating to exempt milk;

(4) Semi-monthly payments to producers;

(5) Expansion of the marketing area;

(6) Certain changes of an administrative character.

Findings and conclusions. The following findings and conclusions on the issues decided herein are hereby made upon the basis of the record of the hearing:

(1) The class price differentials should be revised to the extent necessary to maintain alignment between the prices under the South Bend-La Porte order for milk utilized as fluid milk and fluid cream and the prices of milk for such uses under the order regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area.

A producers' association proposed that the Class I price differential be increased as follows: For September, October, November and December, $0.40 and for January, February, March, July and August, $0.20. The Class II price differential would be increased in the September-December period by $0.20 and by $0.10 in the other specified months. The differentials effective for the remainder of the year would be left unchanged. The Class I price differential would be made to apply only to skim milk used in such class whereas the Class II price differential would be made to apply only to butterfat in Class II milk. In support of their proposal for increased prices producers pointed to the relatively short milk supply, the low level of milk prices in relation to prices of other agricultural commodities, such as beef animals and hogs, increasing costs of feeds and farm machinery, the tighter labor market resulting from high industrial activity, high wage rates for urban labor, and the need for manpower by the armed services. It was contended that such increases are necessary to keep present producers on the market, to attract new producers, to encourage greater fall milk production as compared with other seasons and to insure an adequate total milk supply.

The relationship between prices for milk as compared with other agricultural commodities, the current prices of commodities farmers buy, and the short supply of farm labor are not problems confined to this market or to any other fluid milk market alone, but rather are problems confronting the dairy industry as a whole. They indicate the propriety of a readjustment in the general level of dairy prices. In the past few months such a readjustment has been taking place. Official notice is taken of the recently announced increases in support prices for dairy products designed to encourage additional milk production nationally. Official notice is taken also of recent advances in the prices of manufacturing milk and milk product prices which determine the level of Class I and Class II prices under the order. These price changes had been experienced only in part at the time of the hearing.

The record indicates close similarity of production conditions between the South Bend-La Porte milkshed and the inner zone of the Chicago supply area. Farms of producers supplying milk to the Chicago and South Bend-La Porte marketing areas are intermingled in the area between the two markets. At least one handler under the Chicago order operates distribution routes in the South Bend-La Porte marketing area in competition with South Bend-La Porte handlers. A South Bend handler currently receives his total supply of milk in bottled form from a plant regulated by the Suburban Chicago order. It was testified that as much as 15–20 percent of the bottled milk distributed in the marketing area originates at plants under the Chicago or Suburban Chicago orders. It appears that Grade A milk priced under the latter orders is readily available to the South Bend-La Porte marketing area. In recognition of the exceedingly close competitive relationship among the three market areas as to both the purchase of milk from producers and the distribution of milk by handlers, it was concluded in March 1950 that the basic price formula under the South Bend-La Porte order should be revised to correspond with a change made about that time in the basic formula price provisions of the other two orders. The result has been to maintain a close relationship of prices for milk disposed of in fluid form as milk and cream in the three markets. Over the past three-year period, for which the record contains data, the annual average Class I prices under the South Bend-La Porte order on a 3.5 percent butterfat basis have varied only slightly from the Chicago Class I prices for the 70-mile zone. In 1950, such annual averages for the two markets were the same; in 1949 they varied by 1.5 cents per hundredweight; and in 1948 they were about 4 cents per hundredweight apart.

It is concluded in view of these circumstances that the Class I price differential should be set so as to keep the Class I prices (for Class I milk as revised) in close relationship with the prices of milk disposed of for fluid milk consumption under the Chicago order. It has been recommended that a "supply-demand" adjustment provision be included in the Chicago order to vary the Class I price differential automatically as changes occur in the relationship between producer receipts and Class I and Class II sales. In view of the showing of a high degree of similarity in conditions affecting the production of milk for fluid use in the two market areas, any adjustment in the Class I price differential under such provision of the Chicago order would be equally appropriate at this time in connection with the Class I price differential under the South Bend-La Porte order and should be made.

As further means to maintain a proper price relationship between the markets the fall price differential should be made to apply under the South Bend-La Porte order from July through November rather than to the September-December period and the Class I price differential should be increased 10 cents per hundredweight. Although there is a slight variation between the two markets in the seasonal patterns of production in relation to the need for milk supplies, it is deemed more important in light of the small differences in seasonal production patterns, to bring about a close alignment of price levels than to vary the seasonal price periods.

Producers proposed further that an additional 4 cents per hundredweight be paid on all producer milk received at plants serving the South Bend-La Porte marketing area. It was stated that such added rate of payment over and above the present class prices would be equivalent to a payment proposed for plants located in the Chicago marketing area and regulated by the Chicago order and is necessary "in order that the market still remain in a competitive situation price-wise." In connection with the decision issued April 27 on amendments to the Chicago order such a payment above the class prices for the 55–70 mile zone is adopted for plants within the revised Chicago marketing area. Official notice is taken of such decision. In consideration of such payment at plants within the Chicago marketing area which increases class prices at such plants above the 55–70 mile zone (under the proposed revision of the Chicago order this would be comparable with prices at the perimeter of the 70-mile zone under the present Chicago order) level and of the fact that the method of determining the amount of milk in each class used in the South Bend-La Porte order results in a return for milk somewhat less than the method employed in the Chicago order at the same class price levels, it is concluded that a 10 cent per hundredweight increase in the Class I price differential is warranted to provide a reasonable return to South Bend-La Porte producers in relation to returns received by Chicago producers.

A revision of the method of computing the prices of skim milk and butterfat in the various classes was proposed also by producers. Under the amendment offered the total amount of the Class I price differential (over the basic formula price) would be made applicable to skim milk in Class I while the Class II price differential would be made applicable to the butterfat in Class II. The Class I price of butterfat would be equal to the Class IV butterfat price and the Class II price of skim milk would be equal to the price of skim milk in Class IV. The contention was that skim milk in Class I milk (as now defined) is more important from a volume standpoint than butterfat and therefore should carry the full weight of the amount by which the Class I price exceeds the manufacturing price level. In the case of Class II milk, it was stated that the opposite situation occurs, i. e., butterfat is the more important from a volume standpoint, and should provide the full return to producers for Class II milk utilization (as now defined) above a manufacturing price. It was stated further that the 30–70 percentage relationship of skim milk and butterfat prices to the price of milk (3.5 percent butterfat content basis) in the various classes, respectively, does not provide realistic prices for skim milk and butterfat in such classes under current conditions.

Review of the mechanics of computing the class prices of skim milk and butterfat indicates that revision of the method of deriving such separate prices for skim milk and butterfat from the hundredweight price of 3.5 percent milk would be appropriate at this time. In this connection it is concluded that the Class I price differential per hundredweight of 3.5 percent milk should be reflected partly in the price for skim milk in Class I and partly in the price for Class I butterfat. It appears appropriate to align closely the level of the price for butterfat under the revised definition of Class I milk with the price of Class II milk under the Chicago order since cream from plants under the latter order is readily available for use in fluid form in the South Bend-La Porte marketing area. This relationship has been taken into account in connection with the method adopted for computing the prices for butterfat in Class I milk. In view of the necessity for inspected milk supplies to meet all Class I milk needs, it is concluded that butterfat in milk disposed of as fluid milk and other Class I milk products should not be priced at a lower level than butterfat in fluid cream. Thus, the price of butterfat computed in the above manner will be applicable to butterfat in all Class I milk uses.

The prior method of computing the Class II prices of skim milk and butterfat is replaced by one which will base the Class II butterfat price directly on the producer butterfat differential and will derive the Class II skim milk price by subtracting such price for Class II butterfat from the prevailing average price to dairy farmers at specified manufacturing plants in the milkshed. Thus, the Class II price per hundredweight of milk will be in line with local prices for manufacturing milk. A "floor" is provided also in order to prevent the new Class II price from decreasing below what was formerly the Class IV price. In the present order such a floor is provided under the Class IV price.

A revision of the basic price formula which employs the market prices of butter and nonfat dry milk solids has been made to provide for the use of the prices of spray process nonfat dry milk solids in lieu of the average of prices of nonfat dry milk solids by both spray process and roller process. This change is made to keep the formula in line with the butter-nonfat dry milk solids formula in the Chicago order as revised in the decision of April 27 referred to above. The level of the price to result from such formula will not be affected appreciably by this change under present conditions.

(2) Butter cream, filled cream, yogurt, cottage cheese and shrinkage of butterfat in producer milk over 2 percent should not be reclassified as proposed by producers; however, a redesignation of classes should be made.

It was proposed by producers that the Class II milk definition (as currently in effect) should be expanded to include butter cream, filled cream, eggnog, cottage cheese, yogurt, shrinkage of butterfat in producer milk in excess of 2 percent. Proponents advocated this revision partly in view of their proposed revision of the method for computing skim milk and butterfat prices as described above and in part because inspected milk is utilized generally in the production of such products by handlers.

Under another proposal submitted for hearing Class I and Class II milk as now defined would be combined into a single class.

It is concluded that Class I milk and Class II milk as defined in the present order should be combined into one class, to be called Class I milk. Milk and milk products included in both such classes are required under inspection requirements in the marketing area to be made from approved milk. The prices of such classes have been identical for a considerable period of time and it appears that the order may be simplified by such action. On the other hand, the products named above proposed for inclusion in the present definition of Class II milk are not required to be made of inspected milk. When such products are made from inspected milk they must meet competition within the marketing area from similar products derived from manufacturing milk. For this reason they should not be grouped with the products now covered by Class II milk.

The record discloses also that handlers regulated by the order do not produce in substantial amounts any of the products, such as butter, cheddar cheese, nonfat dry milk solids, etc., covered by the present Class IV milk definition. When handlers have surpluses of milk to dispose of such surpluses are transferred or diverted to nearby manufacturing plants engaged primarily in the processing of evaporated milk or other products covered by the present definition of Class III milk. It is concluded therefore that Classes III and IV should be combined and that the resulting class of milk (to be termed Class II milk) should be priced in line with prices for manufacturing milk prices locally, as previously indicated.

The allocation provisions should be revised to permit the deduction of milk and milk products covered by the Class I milk definition from total Class I milk utilization when received by a handler in consumer packages from a plant where milk is priced under the class price provisions of another Federal marketing agreement or order and then disposed of without repackaging. This will remove the necessity of allocating such type of other source milk in series beginning with Class II milk and will enable handlers to distribute such products on a price basis equivalent to handlers under the Chicago order who distribute in the South Bend-La Porte marketing area.

(3) The provisions relating to exempt milk should not be revised.

Certain modifications of the provisions relating to exempt milk were proposed. The problems raised in this connection appeared to be concerned, however, with the allocation provisions rather than with the provisions for exempt milk. In view of the revision made in the allocation provisions it is concluded that the exempt milk provisions should not be changed.

(4) Producers should receive a partial payment on or before the 4th day of each month with respect to milk delivered during the preceding month.

It was proposed by a producers' association that producers should receive payment on or before the 4th day of each month for 50 percent of the value of milk delivered during the preceding month, based on the most recent announced uniform price. The balance owing producers for the preceding month would be paid in full on the 18th day of the current month.

In support of the proposal it was testified at the hearing that of the twenty-one handlers in the market approximately fifteen have adopted the practice of making partial payments to all of their producers in advance of the final date for payment as a routine procedure, while three handlers are making such partial payments to some producers. It was contended that since the majority of producers in the market are receiving partial payments, dissatisfaction is present among producers who are not so paid; also that many milk manufacturing plants in the milkshed pay their producers either twice monthly or on a cash delivery basis. It was stated that in order to meet out-of-pocket expenses (in the case of farm labor the custom in the area is to pay wages on a weekly basis) producers necessarily must limit the length of time they deliver milk without reimbursement.

Handlers in opposition to the proposed semi-monthly payments to producers contended that it would increase costs and interfere with their schedule for compiling milk utilization reports which are due on the 9th day of each month. They testified also that it would be difficult to pay producers more promptly than the order currently requires since much of their business is conducted on a credit basis.

In view of the testimony presented it is concluded that provisions requiring semi-monthly payments by all handlers should be incorporated in the order. Since the partial payments would be based on the last announced uniform price, handlers could compute the amount of such payments based on deliveries of producers during the first half of the month at any time after the 16th day of each month. The fact that handlers may extend credit to their customers does not provide an adequate basis for withholding moneys due producers for more than a 15-day period.

(5) The marketing area should not be enlarged.

It was proposed by several South Bend handlers prior to the hearing that the marketing area be expanded to cover, in addition to the municipalities now under regulation, most of St. Joseph County, Indiana, and certain townships in Berrien and Cass counties, Michigan. During the hearing this proposal was revised to limit the suggested expansion to those townships within St. Joseph County other than Olive, Liberty and Lincoln. Under the proposal only milk qualified for labeling as "Grade A milk" and milk of the quality equivalent of Grade A milk would be subject to pricing and payment as required by the order.

Proponents alleged that they cannot compete on an equal basis for the wholesale and retail trade in suburban areas adjoining the city of South Bend with milk distributors entering St. Joseph County from other Indiana and Michigan communities, particularly from Niles, Michigan. It was testified also that, in the belief of the proponent handlers, the order does not cover necessarily all milk which might be disposed of within the four municipalities now included in the marketing area since the order provides that only milk "approved" by an applicable health authority is priced.

In respect of the latter contention reference was made to the fact that as much as 15–20 percent of the bottled milk distributed within the city of South Bend is priced under another Federal order. The allegation was made that the pricing and pooling of such milk under another order rather than the South Bend-La Porte order results in an inequitable situation for South Bend handlers. It may be noted that the order prices producer milk at all plants "approved by the appropriate health authorities * * * for the processing and distribution of fluid milk and from which a route is operated wholly or partially within the marketing area" unless such milk is exempt from the order because it is subject to pricing under another marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act. There is no basis in the record for concluding that milk has been, or may be, distributed in fluid form within the city of South Bend in competition with South Bend handlers or in other parts of the marketing area by persons not under this or another order. The prices paid for milk and cream distributed in fluid form within the city of South Bend by persons regulated by the Chicago and Suburban Chicago orders have been at levels comparable with the Class I and Class II prices under the South Bend-La Porte order. It may not be concluded from the record that handlers under the South Bend-La Porte order are at a disadvantage with other persons in disposing of fluid milk within the city of South Bend or within any other municipality in the marketing area.

Concerning the contention that South Bend handlers cannot compete on an equal basis with unregulated milk distributors from Niles, Michigan, and other communities outside the marketing area, as to distribution in the suburban area adjoining the city of South Bend, it is noted that producer prices reported in the record by distributors from Niles have not been sufficiently out of line with the prices handlers have been required to pay under the order for Class I milk to warrant the coverage of all milk which might be sold in such adjacent communities for the purpose of eliminating price disadvantage. Under present circumstances it does not appear from the evidence presented that enlargement of the area as proposed would assist materially in improving marketing conditions for the producers whose milk is covered by the order at present or is necessary to remove hardship in the case of South Bend handlers in their competition. The dairy farmers whose milk would be likely to come under the regulation through expansion of the marketing area have not requested the assistance afforded by the terms of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended.

A producers' organization supported the handlers' proposal for marketing area expansion on the grounds that the competition offered by unregulated distributors in the suburban communities of South Bend may result in a loss of Class I milk sales from regulated milk and consequently a decrease in the producers' price. This was presented as a potential rather than a current problem. It was proposed in this connection that either separate pools for "Grade A milk" and "Grade B milk" should be established or, in the alternative, that "compensatory payment" provisions should be provided. For the purposes of pooling and pricing milk under inspection by the health authorities of certain outside communities, namely Elkhart, Nappanee, Goshen, and Niles, would be considered as Grade A milk along with milk under regulation at present, and milk under the inspection of other outside communities together with milk not under any formal inspection would be considered as Grade B milk. Such association, however, opposes expansion of the marketing area unless one of the above pooling procedures is employed.

The record does not disclose a current problem which necessitates the pricing of so-called Grade B milk sold in the suburban area close to South Bend. Although milk not produced under the formal health standards of any municipality may be, and is, disposed of within St. Joseph County, South Bend handlers do not complain of loss of business to such ungraded milk. It would be difficult to conclude from the present record that such milk is resulting in disorderly marketing conditions for South Bend producers. Also, if only the milk of certain outside communities were allowed to be priced on a comparable basis with milk approved by marketing area health authorities while other milk meeting in full the requirements of the marketing area health authorities would be pooled and priced on a different basis serious price inequity would be possible.

From the above it is concluded that the marketing area should not be expanded at this time.

7. Certain changes of an administrative character should be made.

The amendments adopted require revision of certain other provisions of the order in order to provide consistency of language and effect. It is concluded that these and other minor revisions made for the purpose of clarification should be adopted.

General findings. (a) The proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, and all of the terms and conditions thereof will tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act;

(b) The parity prices of milk as determined pursuant to section 2 of the act are not reasonable in view of the price of feeds, available supplies of feeds, and other economic conditions which affect market supply and demand for milk in the marketing area, and the minimum prices specified in the proposed marketing agreement and the order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, are such prices as will reflect the aforesaid factors, insure a sufficient quantity of pure and wholesome milk, and be in the public interest; and

(c) The proposed order, as amended, and as hereby further amended, will regulate the handling of milk in the same manner as, and will be applicable only to persons in the respective classes of industrial and commercial activity specified in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held.

Rulings on briefs. A brief was filed on behalf of the Reliable Dairy Company, Inc., et al. The brief contained proposed findings of fact, conclusions and argument with respect to the proposals discussed at the hearing. Every point covered in the brief was carefully considered along with the evidence in the record in making the findings and reaching the conclusions hereinbefore set forth. To the extent that such suggested findings and conclusions contained in the brief are inconsistent with the findings and conclusions contained herein, the request to make such findings or to reach such conclusions are denied on the basis of the facts found and stated in connection with the conclusions in this decision.

Recommended marketing agreement and order. The following proposed amendments to the order are recommended as the detailed and appropriate means by which these conclusions may be carried out. The proposed amendments to the marketing agreement are not included because the regulatory provisions thereof would be the same as those contained in the proposed amendments to the order:

1. Delete §§ 967.8 and 967.9 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.8 Approved plant. "Approved plant" means a milk plant which is approved by the health authorities of any of the following municipalities: South Bend, Kishawaka, La Porte, or Michigan City, Indiana, for the processing and distribution of milk for consumption in fluid form and from which a route is operated wholly or partially within the marketing area.

§ 967.9 Producer. "Producer" means any person except a producer-handler, who produces milk (other than milk exempt pursuant to § 967.60) which is received at an approved plant, provided such milk is eligible for consumption as milk in fluid form within the marketing area under the approval or certification of one or more of the health authorities referred to in § 967.8. This definition shall include any such person who is regularly classified as a producer but whose milk is caused to be temporarily diverted by a handler from an approved plant to a plant not an approved plant.

2. Delete § 967.12 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.12 Route. "Route" means a delivery (including a sale at a plant store) of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1) to a wholesale or retail stop other than a milk processing or distributing plant.

3. Delete in § 967.22 (i) (1) the cross-reference "§ 967.5" and substitute therefor the cross-reference "§ 967.51."

4 Delete §§ 967.40 through 967.46, inclusive, and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.40 Skim milk and butterfat to be classified. All skim milk and butterfat, in any form, received within the delivery period by a handler, in producer milk, in other source milk and from another handler shall be classified by the market administrator pursuant to the provisions of §§ 967.41 to 967.46, inclusive.

§ 967.41 Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in §§ 967.43 and 967.44, the skim milk and butterfat described in § 967.40 shall be classified by the market administrator on the basis of the following classes:

(a) Class I milk shall be all skim milk (including reconstituted skim milk) and butterfat (1) disposed of (except as provided in paragraph (b) (1) of this section) in the form of milk, skim milk, flavored milk, flavored milk drink, buttermilk; (2) disposed of as cream (sweet or sour) and as any fluid mixture of cream and milk (or skim milk) containing not less than 6 percent butterfat (but not including ice cream or other frozen dessert mixes disposed of to a commercial processor, or any mixture disposed of in containers or dispensers under pressure for the purpose of dispensing a whipped or aerated product); (3) disposed of as concentrated (including frozen) milk, flavored milk, and flavored milk drink not sterilized and not otherwise specified under paragraph (b) of this section, and as eggnog; (4) in shrinkage of receipts of producer milk computed pursuant to § 967.42 which is in excess of 2 percent of such receipts; and (5) not specifically accounted for as any item named in this paragraph or as Class II milk.

(b) Class II milk shall be all skim milk and butterfat (1) disposed of in bulk in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, and cream to any manufacturer of candy, soup or bakery products and used in such products; (2) in condensed milk or skim milk (sweetened or unsweetened) disposed of to commercial food processors; (3) disposed of (or used to produce, in the case of ice cream and frozen desserts and mixes (liquid or powdered) for such products, and aerated cream products) as sweetened condensed milk in hermetically sealed cans, evaporated milk, cottage cheese, ice cream, ice cream mix, other frozen deserts and mixes, storage cream, butter, cheese and nonfat dry milk solids; (4) dumped or disposed of for livestock feed as skim milk (including that in whole milk dumped), flavored milk, flavored milk drinks and buttermilk; (5) disposed of as a milk product other than any of those specified in paragraph (a) (1) and subparagraphs (1), (2), (3) and (4) of this paragraph; (6) contained in monthly inventory variations; (7) in actual shrinkage of receipts of producer milk computed pursuant to § 967.42 but not in excess of 2 percent of such receipts; and (8) in actual shrinkage of other source milk computed pursuant to § 967.42.

§ 967.42 Shrinkage. The market administrator shall determine the shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in producer milk and in other source milk in the following manner:

(a) Compute the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, for each handler; and

(b) Prorate the total shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section between that in producer milk and in other source milk.

§ 967.43 Responsibility of handlers and reclassification of milk. (a) All skim milk and butterfat shall be Class I milk, unless the handler who first receives such skim milk or butterfat proves to the market administrator that such skim milk or butterfat should be classified otherwise.

(b) Any skim milk or butterfat classified (except that transferred to a producer-handler) in one class shall be reclassified if used or reused by such handler or by another handler in another class.

§ 967.44 Transfers. Skim milk or butterfat disposed of by a handler either by transfer or diversion shall be classified:

(a) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to another handler (except a producer-handler) in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3) unless utilization as Class II milk is mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both handlers on or before the 9th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transaction occurred: Provided, That skim milk or butterfat so assigned to a particular class shall be limited to the amount thereof remaining in such class in the plant of the transferee handler after the subtraction of other source milk pursuant to § 967.46, and any excess of such skim milk or butterfat, respectively, shall be assigned to the other class;

(b) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a producer-handler in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3);

(c) As Class I milk if transferred or diverted to a plant not an approved plant in the form of any item named in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2), or (3), unless (1) the transferor handler claims Class II milk on the basis of utilization mutually indicated in writing to the market administrator by both the receiver and transferor handler on or before the 8th day after the end of the delivery period within which such transaction occurred, (2) the receiver maintains books and records showing the utilization of all skim milk and butterfat at his plant which are made available if requested by the market administrator for the purpose of verification, and (3) in such receiver's plant there actually had been used during such delivery period in the use indicated in such statement, not less than an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat derived by him from milk or cream: Provided, That if upon inspection of such receiver's records of such plant, there had not been used in such indicated use an equivalent amount of skim milk and butterfat so derived, the remaining pounds shall be classified as Class I milk.

§ 967.45 Computation of skim milk and butterfat in each class. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall correct for mathematical and for other obvious errors the delivery period report submitted by each handler and compute the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, in Class I milk and Class II milk for such handler.

§ 967.46 Allocation of skim milk and butterfat classified. The pounds of skim milk and butterfat, respectively, remaining in each class after the following computations shall be the pounds in each class allocated to producer milk;

(a) Subtract, respectively, from the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk which is disposed of as Class I milk in bottles on a route outside the marketing area; Provided, That the health authority having jurisdiction over the plant from which such distribution is made has granted approval for receiving and processing for fluid distribution both approved milk and other source milk in such plant, the handler maintains adequate accounts and records of, and practices complete segregation of, producer milk and other source milk used in his Class I milk operations, and that such other source milk is disposed of on a route on which no producer milk is disposed of as Class I milk;

(b) Subtract, respectively, from the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in Class I milk the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk which is (1) received in consumer packages as any item specified in § 967.41 (a) (1), (2) or (3) from a plant where milk is subject to the class price provisions of a Federal marketing agreement or order issued pursuant to the act for another fluid milk marketing area, and (2) disposed of without repackaging;

(c) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class (other than the pounds in inventory variations and plant shrinkage of skim milk and butterfat pursuant to § 967.41 (b) (7)), in series beginning with Class II milk, the pounds of skim milk and butterfat in other source milk excluding that subtracted pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section;

(d) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class the pounds of skim milk and butterfat received from other handlers and assigned to such class pursuant to § 967.44; and

(e) Subtract, respectively, from the remaining pounds of skim milk and butterfat in each class in series beginning with Class II milk, the pounds by which such pounds of skim milk and butterfat in all classes exceed, respectively, the total pounds of skim milk and butterfat received in milk from producers.

5. Delete §§ 967.50 through 967.53, inclusive, and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.50 Basic formula price. The basic formula price to be used in computing the price of Class I milk for the delivery period shall be the highest of the prices computed by the market administrator for the delivery period immediately preceding pursuant to paragraphs (a), (b) and (c) of this section:

(a) Compute the arithmetical average of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices are reported to the market administrator or to the Department by the companies listed below:

Present Operator and Location
Borden Co., Black Creek, Wis.
Borden Co., Greenville, Wis.
Borden Co., Mount Pleasant, Mich.
Borden Co., New London, Wis.
Borden Co., Orfordville, Wis.
Carnation Co., Berlin, Wis.
Carnation Co., Jefferson, Wis.
Carnation Co., Chilton, Wis.
Carnation Co., Oconomowoc, Wis.
Carnation Co., Richland Center, Wis.
Carnation Co., Sparta, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Belleville, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Coopersville, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., Hudson, Mich.
Pet Milk Co., New Glarus, Wis.
Pet Milk Co., Wayland, Mich.
White House Milk Co., Manitowoc, Wis.
White House Milk Co., West Bend, Wis.

(b) Compute a price per hundredweight as follows:

(1) Multiply the simple average of the daily average wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade A (92-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago as reported by the Department during the delivery period, by 6;

(2) Add 2.4 times the simple average, as published by the Department, of the prices determined per pound of "Cheddars" on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin, for the trading days that fall within the month;

(3) Divide by seven, add 30 percent thereof, and multiply by 3.5;

(c) Compute a price per hundredweight by adding together the amounts resulting pursuant to subparagraph (1) and (2) of this paragraph:

(1) Multiply by 8.2 the weighted average of carlot prices per pound for spray process nonfat dry milk solids, for human consumption, f. o. b. manufacturing plants in the Chicago area, as published by the period from the 26th day of the immediately preceding delivery period through the 25th day of the current delivery period by the Department, and from the result thus obtained deduct 64.2 cents;

(2) Multiply by 4.24 the simple average, as computed by the market administrator of the daily wholesale selling prices (using the midpoint of any price range as one price) of Grade AA (93-score) bulk creamery butter per pound at Chicago, as reported by the Department during the delivery period: Provided, That if no price is reported for Grade AA (93-score) butter, the highest of the Grade A (92-score) butter prices for that day shall be used in lieu of the price for Grade AA (93-score) butter, and from the result thus obtained deduct 11 cents;

§ 967.51 Class I milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for skim milk and butterfat in producer milk received and classified as Class I milk for each delivery period shall be computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) Add to the basic formula price (3.5 percent milk) the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $0.60; July through November, inclusive, $1.00; and all others, $0.80: Provided, That for each percent that the most recent "current supply-demand ratio" computed pursuant to paragraph (d) of this section is greater or less than the applicable percentage contained in the schedule set forth in paragraph (d) (4) of this section, the Class I price computed prior to this proviso shall be increased or decreased, respectively, by the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $0.02; July, August, September, October, and November, $0.04; all others, $0.03: And provided further, That any adjustment made pursuant to the above proviso of this paragraph shall be limited to 18 cents in May and June; 30 cents in the July–November period; and 24 cents in all other delivery periods; but in no event shall the Class I price differential computed pursuant to this paragraph be less than 50 cents.

(b) Divide by 0.035 the amount computed pursuant to § 967.50 (c) (2) for the next preceding delivery period and add the following amount for the delivery period indicated: May and June, $8.25; July through November, inclusive, $13.75; and all others, $11.00: Provided, That such amount for the delivery period indicated shall be increased or decreased as the case may be, by the amount per hundredweight resulting from the provisos of paragraph (a) of this section divided by 0.035. The resulting amount shall be the price of butterfat in Class I milk.

(c) Subtract from the price computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section the amount computed in paragraph (b) of this section times 0.035, and divide the remainder by 0.965. The resulting amount shall be the price of skim milk in Class I milk.

(d) On or before the last day of each delivery period the market administrator shall make the following computations based upon the reported receipts and utilization of handlers as defined in the order, as amended, regulating the handling of milk in the Chicago, Illinois, marketing area, as computed by the market administrator under the latter order:

(1) Determine the total receipts of Grade A milk from all producers (including receipts from own farm production) for the most recent 6-month period and divide the result by 6;

(2) Determine the total pounds of Grade A milk actually utilized in Class I milk and Class II milk products during the most recent 6-month period and subtract therefrom (i) the amount of Class I and Class II milk disposed of in bulk outside the surplus milk manufacturing area, and (ii) the amount of Class II milk represented by frozen cream and plastic cream moving into storage during such 6-month period, and divide the result by 6;

(3) Divide the amount obtained in subparagraph (2) of this paragraph by the amount obtained in subparagraph (1) of this paragraph and round to the nearest full percent, which resulting percentage shall be known as the "current supply-demand ratio";

(4) Determine the number of percentage points that the current supply-demand ratio is above or below the percentage for the corresponding 6-months' period appearing in the following schedule:

6-months included in supply-demand ratio computation	Percent	Delivery period subject to adjustment
January through June	62	August.
February through July	62	September.
March through August	64	October.
April through September	67	November.
May through October	71	December.
June through November	76	January.
July through December	81	February.
August through January	79	March.
September through February	76	April.
October through March	72	May.
November through April	68	June.
December through May	61	July.

(5) In making the computations specified in subparagraphs (1) and (2) of this paragraph, the market administrator shall use the reported receipts and utilization of handlers of Grade A milk under both Orders 41 and 69 when it is necessary to use data for delivery periods prior to the effective date of this section.

§ 967.52 Class II milk prices. The minimum prices per hundredweight to be paid by each handler for skim milk and butterfat in producer milk received and classified as Class II milk for each delivery period shall be computed by the market administrator as follows:

(a) The price of butterfat in Class II milk shall be the producer butterfat differential computed for such delivery period pursuant to § 967.81 times 1000.

(b) The price of skim milk in Class II milk shall be computed by subtracting the hundredweight price of butterfat computed pursuant to paragraph (a) of this section times 0.035, from the price determined pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section, and divide the remainder by 0.965.

(c) Compute the arithmetical average of the basic (or field) prices per hundredweight reported to have been paid, or to be paid, for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received from farmers during the delivery period at the following plants or places for which prices have been reported to the market administrator or the Department by the companies listed below:

Present Operator and Location

Goshen Milk Condensing Co., Goshen, Ind.
Litchfield Creamery Co., Warsaw, Ind.
New Paris Creamery Co., New Paris, Ind.

Provided, That the price so determined shall not be less than the per hundredweight price of milk determined pursuant to § 967.50 (c) for such delivery period.

6. Delete from § 967.60 the words "and Class II."

7. Delete from § 967.70 the phrase "from the various classes"; delete also from such section the cross-reference "§ 967.46 (d)" and substitute therefor "§ 967.46 (c)."

8. Delete § 967.80 and substitute therefor the following:

§ 967.80 Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payments as follows:

(a) On or before the 18th day after the end of each delivery period, to each producer, except producers for whom payment is made to a cooperative association pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section, at not less than the uniform price for such delivery period pursuant to § 967.71 adjusted by the producer butterfat differential pursuant to § 967.81, for all milk received from such producer during such delivery period and less payment to such producer made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section: Provided, That if by such date such handler has not received full payment for such delivery period pursuant to § 967.84, he may reduce such payments uniformly per hundredweight for all producers by an amount not in excess of the per hundredweight reduction in payment from the market administrator: And provided further, That such handler shall make such balance of payment to those producers to whom it is due on or before the date for making payments pursuant to this paragraph next following that on which such balance of payment is received from the market administrator.

(b) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, to a cooperative association with respect to milk caused to be delivered from producers' farms to such handler by such association for its account during such delivery period, not less than the value of skim milk and butterfat in such milk computed at the minimum class prices, less payments to such association made pursuant to paragraph (c) of this section. For the purpose of determining the classification of skim milk and butterfat in such milk, such skim milk and butterfat shall be ratably apportioned among the quantities of skim milk and butterfat in such handler's Class I milk and Class II milk allocated to producer milk pursuant to § 967.46.

(c) Partial payments: On or before the 4th day of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to each producer, or to a cooperative association authorized to collect payment, not less than the uniform price for 3.5 percent milk last announced by the market administrator, for milk received from such producer or caused to be delivered to such handler by such cooperative association during the first 15 days of the preceding delivery period: Provided, That in the event any producer or cooperative association discontinues shipping to such handler during any delivery period, such partial payments shall not be made and full payment for all milk received from such producer or cooperative association during such delivery period shall be made on the 18th day after the end of such delivery period pursuant to paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section.

PREVAILING MINIMUM WAGE FOR BATTERY INDUSTRY

NOTICE OF HEARING

Pursuant to the provisions of the Walsh-Healey Public Contracts Act (act of June 30, 1936, 49 Stat. 2036, 41 U. S. C. secs. 35–45) it is proposed to hold a hearing for the purpose of determining the prevailing minimum wage in the Battery Industry.

The Battery Industry, for the purpose of this hearing, is defined as that Industry which manufactures or furnishes any of the following products:

Primary batteries (dry); primary batteries (wet); lead acid storage batteries; and storage batteries; other than lead acid.

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that a public hearing will be held on June 26, 1951 at 10:00 a. m. in Room 5406, Department of Labor Building, 14th Street and Constitution Avenue, N. W., Washington, D. C., before the Administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, or a representative designated to preside in his place, at which hearing all interested persons may appear and submit data, views and argument: (1) As to what are the prevailing minimum wages in the Battery Industry; (2) as to whether there should be included in any determination for this Industry provision for employment of learners and/or apprentices at subminimum rates, and if so, in what occupations, at what subminimum rates, and with what limitations, if any, as to length of period and number or proportion of such subminimum rate employees; and (3) as to the adequacy of the proposed definition.

Persons intending to appear are requested to notify the Administrator of their intention in advance of the hearing. Written statements in lieu of personal appearance may be filed by mail at any time prior to the date of the hearing, or may be filed with the presiding officer at the hearing. An original and four copies of any such statement should be filed.

Copies of the results of a wage survey made by the Bureau of Labor Statistics, based on a payroll period in August 1950, will be made available to interested persons upon request to the Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, United States Department of Labor, Washington, D. C. Interested persons are invited to submit wage data, including data as to changes which may have taken place in the wage structure of the industry since the time of the survey.

In the discretion of the presiding officer, a period not to exceed 30 days may be allowed for the filing of comment on the evidence and statements introduced into the record of the hearing. If such supplemental statements are received, an original and four copies of each should be filed.

Signed at Washington, D. C., this 25th day of May 1951.

F. GRANVILLE GRIMES, JR.,
Acting Administrator, Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions.

FEDERAL POWER COMMISSION

[18 CFR, Part 141]

[Docket No. R-121]

FORM OF THE ANNUAL REPORT, FPC FORM NO. 1, REQUIRED OF ELECTRIC UTILITIES AND LICENSEES (CLASSES A AND B)

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MAY 22, 1951.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Effective for the filing of annual reports for 1951, the Commission proposes to amend § 141.1 of Part 141 of the general rules and regulations (18 CFR, Part 141) by revising five schedules of the general information section of the Annual Report, FPC Form No. 1, required of Class A and B electric utilities and licensees.

3. The proposed revisions are set forth in the attachment hereto[1] and may be identified as follows:

(a) Schedule entitled, "General Information"—Instruction No. 5 has been added.

(b) Schedule entitled, "Officers"—Instruction No. 1 is retained without change; Instructions Nos. 2, 3, 4 and 5 have been added; and previously existing Instruction No. 2 has been renumbered as No. 6.

(c) Schedule entitled, "Directors"—Instruction No. 1 is retained without change; Instruction No. 2 is new; and Instruction No. 3 is the previously existing No. 2 without change.

(d) Schedule entitled, "Security Holders and Voting Powers"—Instruction No. 4 is new and the previously existing Instructions Nos. 4, 5 and 6 have been renumbered as Nos. 5, 6 and 7.

(e) Schedule entitled, "Important Changes During The Year"—Instructions Nos. 10 and 11 have been added and previous Instruction No. 10 has been renumbered as No. 12.

The new instructions are designed to secure information as to the amounts and classes of the reporting company's securities registered on exchanges and the names of such exchanges; information as to the amounts of options, warrants or rights to purchase securities of the reporting company, including prices, expiration dates, and other material information relating to the exercise of such options, warrants, or rights; information as to the financial interests and benefits of officers and directors derived from the reporting company; information as to materially important legal proceedings and transactions to which the corporation was a party or to which an officer, director, security holder, voting trustee or associated company was a party.

4. The proposed amendments are believed to be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Federal Power Act and, in addition, are expected to enable electric utilities under obligation to file SEC Form 10–K with the Securities and Exchange Commission to comply fully with that requirement by filing with that Commission FPC Form No. 1. This should result in substantial savings in report preparation where electric utilities are under obligation to this Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission to file SEC Form 10–K and Form FPC No. 1.

5. In the formulation of the proposed amendments consideration has been given to suggestions of the Advisory Council on Federal Reports, which had suggested amendments to FPC Form No. 1 so as to meet the reporting requirements of this Commission and the SEC, and to the suggestions of the Bureau of the Budget. The proposed amendments were also the subject of the conferences between the staffs of both commissions and have been concurred in by them. The proposed amendments were submitted to the Committee on Statistics and Accounts of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners with the understanding that it would be assumed that the proposals have the Committee's approval if no expression to the contrary were received by May 1, 1951. No objections have been received from the Committee.

6. The amendments to FPC Form No. 1 herein referred to and set forth in the attachment hereto are proposed to be issued under the authority granted the Federal Power Commission by the Federal Power Act, particularly sections 3 (13), 4 (a) through (c), 301 (a), 304 (a), 309 and 311 thereof (49 Stat. 838, 839, 854, 855, 858, 859; 16 U. S. C. 796 (13), 797 (a) through (c), 825 (a), 825c (a), 825h and 825j).

7. Any interested person may submit to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than June 29, 1951, data, views and comments in writing concerning the proposed amendments. An original and two copies should be filed of any such submittals. The Commission will consider these written submittals before acting upon the proposed amendments.

[Docket No. R-122]

FORM OF THE ANNUAL REPORT, FPC FORM NO. 2, REQUIRED OF CLASS A AND B NATURAL GAS COMPANIES

NOTICE OF PROPOSED RULE MAKING

MAY 22, 1951.

1. Notice is hereby given of proposed rule making in the above-entitled matter.

2. Effective for the filing of annual reports for 1951, the Commission proposes to amend § 260.1 of Part 260 of the general rules and regulations (18 CFR, Part 260) by revising five schedules of the general information section of the Annual Report form, FPC Form No. 2, required of Class A and B natural gas companies subject to the provisions of the Natural Gas Act, and operating, statistical, balance sheet and income schedules thereof, all as set forth with particularity and in detail in the attachment hereto, and all of which proposed amendments are readily identifiable in the attachment.

3. The proposed amendments to the five schedules of the general information section are designed to secure information as to the amount and nature of the reporting company's securities registered on exchanges and the names of such exchanges; information as to the amounts of options, warrants or rights to purchase securities of the reporting company, including prices, expiration dates, and other material information relating to the exercise of such options, warrants, or rights; information as to the financial interests and benefits of officers and directors derived from the reporting company; information as to materially important legal proceedings and transactions to which the corporation was a party or to which an officer, director, security holder, voting trustee or associated company was a party.

4. The proposed amendments to the five schedules of the general information section are believed to be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and, in addition, are expected to enable natural gas companies under obligation to file SEC Form 10–K with the Securities and Exchange Commission to comply fully with that requirement by filing with that Commission FPC Form No. 2. This should result in substantial savings in report preparation where natural gas companies are under obligation to this Commission and the Securities and Exchange Commission to file both forms.

5. In the formulation of the proposed amendments to the five schedules of the general information section, consideration has been given to suggestions of the Advisory Council on Federal Reports, which had suggested amendments to FPC Form No. 2 so as to meet the reporting requirements of this Commission and the SEC, and to the suggestions of the Bureau of the Budget. The proposed amendments were also the subject of conferences between the staffs of both commissions and have been concurred in by them. The proposed amendments were submitted to the Committee on Statistics and Accounts of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners with the understanding that it would be assumed that the proposals have the Committee's approval if no expression to the contrary was received by May 1, 1951. No objections have been received from the Committee.

6. The proposed amendments to the operating, statistical, balance sheet and income schedules of FPC Form No. 2 are believed to be necessary or appropriate to carry out the provisions of the Natural Gas Act and are designed to harmonize the accounting classifications of FPC Form No. 2 with the revisions of the Uniform System of Accounts prescribed for natural gas companies made effective January 1, 1951, by the Commission's order issued September 6, 1950, in Docket No. R–118. The proposed amendments to the operating and statistical section of FPC Form No. 2 also reflect the Commission's experience as to the need for additional information in the administration of the provisions of the Natural Gas Act. Generally, the proposed additions to FPC Form No. 2 are designed to secure more useful information as to inventories of gas stored underground, storage plant and expenses, products extraction operations, contracted gas supply, gas reserves and system peaks. In addition, minor editorial changes are necessary in the balance sheet, statement of income, materials and supplies and distribution of salaries and wages schedules because of the changes in account classification made effective January 1, 1951, by the Commission's order issued September 6, 1950.

7. The proposed amendments referred to in paragraph 6 hereof were developed in collaboration with the Committee on Statistics and Accounts of the National Association of Railroad and Utilities Commissioners and reflect the views of that Committee.

8. The amendments of FPC Form No. 2 referred to in this notice and set forth in the attachment hereto[1] are proposed to be issued under the authority granted the Federal Power Commission by the Natural Gas Act, as amended, particularly sections 8, 10 and 16 thereof (52 Stat. 821, 825, 826 and 830; 15 U. S. C. 717g, 717i and 717o).

9. Any interested person may submit to the Federal Power Commission, Washington 25, D. C., not later than June 29, 1951, data, views and comments in writing concerning the proposed amendments. An original and two copies should be filed of any such submittals. The Commission will consider these written submittals before acting upon the proposed amendments.

SECURITIES AND EXCHANGE COMMISSION

[File No. 70-2611]

GEORGIA POWER CO.

ORDER PERMITTING SALE OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF BONDS AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of May 1951.

Georgia Power Company ("Georgia Power"), a public utility subsidiary of The Southern Company, a registered holding company, having filed an application and an amendment thereto pursuant to section 6 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") and Rule U-50 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Georgia Power proposes to issue and sell, pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 under the act, $20,000,000 principal amount of its First Mortgage Bonds, -- percent series, due 1981, to be issued under and secured by Georgia Power's present indenture dated as of March 1, 1941, as heretofore supplemented, and to be supplemented by an indenture to be dated as of June 1, 1951. The interest rate (to be a multiple of 1/8 of 1 percent) and the price, exclusive of accrued interest, to the company for the bonds will be determined by competitive bidding, except that the invitation for bids will specify that the price to the company shall not be less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount. The proceeds of the sale of the bonds will be utilized in connection with Georgia Power's construction program which the company estimates will require expenditures aggregating $99,220,000 during the three-year period 1951 through 1953. The company also estimates that in order to finance its construction program it will be necessary to raise from the sale of additional securities the sum of $24,000,000 in 1952 and $15,000,000 in 1953.

The proposed issuance and sale of bonds have been approved by the Georgia Public Service Commission.

Notice of the filing of the application having been duly given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to the act and the Commission not having received a request for hearing and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The Commission finding with respect to the application, as amended, that all of the applicable statutory standards are satisfied and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and in the interest of investors and consumers that said application, as amended, be granted effective forthwith:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to said Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, that said application, as amended, be, and the same hereby is, granted effective forthwith, subject to the terms and conditions prescribed in Rule U-24 and to the following additional terms and conditions:

(1) That the proposed issuance and sale by Georgia Power of $20,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, -- percent Series, due 1981, shall not be consummated until the results of competitive bidding, held with respect thereto, shall have been made a matter of record in this proceeding and a further order shall have been entered by this Commission in the light of the record so completed, which order shall contain such further terms and conditions, if any, as may then be deemed appropriate, for which purposes jurisdiction be, and the same hereby is, reserved; and

(2) That jurisdiction be reserved with respect to any and all fees and expenses incurred or to be incurred in connection with the consummation of the proposed transactions.

By the Commission.

APPALACHIAN ELECTRIC POWER CO. AND CENTRAL APPALACHIAN COAL CO.

ORDER AUTHORIZING PROPOSED ADVANCE TO SUBSIDIARY

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of May A. D. 1951.

Appalachian Electric Power Company ("Appalachian"), an electric utility subsidiary company of American Gas & Electric Company, a registered holding company, and Central Appalachian Coal Company ("Coal Company"), a non-utility subsidiary company of Appalachian, having filed a joint declaration pursuant to section 12 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and Rule U-45 promulgated thereunder with respect to the following transactions:

Appalachian proposes to advance not to exceed $3,400,000 to Coal Company on open account from time to time prior to December 31, 1954, at an initial interest rate of 3 percent per annum. Appalachian expects that as part of a financing program to be consummated within the next 12 months, it will issue some long-term unsecured indebtedness. In the event that such unsecured indebtedness of Appalachian bears an annual interest rate other than 3 percent, the annual interest rate on the proposed advances to Coal Company will be adjusted to equal such rate. The joint declaration states that the proceeds from the proposed transaction will be used by Coal Company to pay the costs of construction of additional coal production facilities during the years 1951 to 1954.

The joint declaration having been filed on April 16, 1951, and notice of said filing having been given in the form and manner prescribed by Rule U-23 promulgated pursuant to said act, and the Commission not having received a request for hearing with respect to said joint declaration within the period specified, or otherwise, and not having ordered a hearing thereon; and

The State Corporation Commission of Virginia and the Public Service Commission of West Virginia having duly entered their respective orders approving the proposed transactions; and

The Commission finding with respect to the said joint declaration that the requirements of the applicable provisions of the act and the rules promulgated thereunder are satisfied, and deeming it appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that said joint declaration be permitted to become effective, and also deeming it appropriate to grant the request of the joint declarants that the Commission's order become effective at the earliest date possible:

It is hereby ordered, Pursuant to Rule U-23 and the applicable provisions of the act, and subject to the terms and conditions prescribed by Rule U-24, that said joint declaration be, and the same hereby is, permitted to become effective forthwith.

By the Commission.

NORTH PENN GAS CO.

NOTICE OF FILING FOR AUTHORITY TO AMEND CORPORATE CHARTER AND TO ISSUE AND SELL PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF DEBENTURES AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of May 1951.

Notice is hereby given that an application-declaration, and an amendment thereto, have been filed with this Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 (the "act") by North Penn Gas Company ("North Penn"), a registered holding company and a gas utility company which is a subsidiary of Pennsylvania Gas & Electric Corporation, also a registered holding company. North Penn has designated sections 6 and 7 of the act, and Rule U-50 thereunder, as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 6, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission, in writing, that a hearing be held on such matter, stating the reasons for such request, the nature of his interest, and the issues of fact or law raised by said amended application-declaration which he desires to controvert, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed as follows: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street NW., Washington 25, D. C. At any time after 5:30 p. m., on June 6, 1951, said application-declaration, as filed or as further amended, may be permitted to become effective as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated under the act, or the Commission may exempt the proposed transactions as provided in Rule U-20 (a) and Rule U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said amended application-declaration which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized as follows:

North Penn proposes to amend its Charter to provide for an authorized maximum indebtedness of the company of $8,100,000. Thereafter North Penn proposes to issue $2,700,000 principal amount of -- Percent Sinking Fund Debentures, due June 1, 1971, and to sell such Debentures at competitive bidding in accordance with the provisions of Rule U-50 under the act.

The invitations for bids will provide that each bid shall specify the coupon rate for the Debentures, which shall be a multiple of 1/8 percent and the price to be paid the company, exclusive of accrued interest, which price shall be not less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount of said Debentures, plus accrued interest from June 1, 1951.

The proceeds from the proposed sale are to be used to retire all of the $2,700,000 principal amount of presently outstanding notes of North Penn which are payable to banks and mature October 22, 1951. Such notes were issued during 1950 for the purpose of refinancing previously outstanding First Mortgage and Lien Bonds, 5 1/2 percent Series, due 1957, of North Penn.

The provisions of the proposed new Debentures, which will be authorized in the principal amount of $2,700,000, are set forth in an Agreement, to be dated June 1, 1951, between North Penn and the Chase National Bank of the City of New York, the proposed trustee. Such provisions will include, among others, a provision for annual sinking fund payments in the amount of 3 percent of the principal amount of Debentures initially issued.

The amended application-declaration indicates that the proposed issuance of Debentures has been authorized by the Pennsylvania Public Utility Commission, the State Commission of the State in which North Penn is organized and conducts its operations.

North Penn requests that the Commission's order herein become effective upon issuance.

By the Commission.

MISSOURI POWER & LIGHT CO.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED SALE OF PRINCIPAL AMOUNT FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS AT COMPETITIVE BIDDING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the city of Washington, D. C., on the 23d day of May 1951.

Notice is hereby given that an application has been filed with the Commission pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 ("act"), and the General Rules and Regulations promulgated thereunder, by Missouri Power & Light Company ("Missouri Power"), a public utility subsidiary of Union Electric Company of Missouri and The North American Company, both registered holding companies, in which section 6 (b) of the act and Rules U-20, U-23, U-24, and U-50 promulgated thereunder are designated as applicable to the proposed transactions.

Notice is further given that any interested person may, not later than June 6, 1951, at 5:30 p. m., request the Commission in writing that a hearing be held on such matter stating the nature of his interest, the reasons for such request, and the issues, if any, of fact or law raised by said application proposed to be controverted, or may request that he be notified if the Commission should order a hearing thereon. Any such request should be addressed: Secretary, Securities and Exchange Commission, 425 Second Street, N. W., Washington 25, D. C. At any time thereafter such application as filed, or as amended, may be granted as provided in Rule U-23 of the rules and regulations promulgated pursuant to said act, or the Commission may exempt such transactions as provided in Rules U-20 (a) and U-100 thereof.

All interested persons are referred to said application which is on file in the office of this Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

Missouri Power proposes to issue and sell, at competitive bidding pursuant to the provisions of Rule U–50, $4,000,000 principal amount of First Mortgage Bonds, -- percent series due 1981 ("new bonds").

The invitations for bids will provide that each bid shall specify the coupon rate for the new bonds, which shall be a multiple of 1/8 percent and the price to be paid the company, exclusive of accrued interest, which price shall be not less than 100 percent nor more than 102.75 percent of the principal amount of said bonds, plus accrued interest from June 1, 1951.

The new bonds will be issued under and secured by a Mortgage and Deed of Trust between the applicant and Harris Trust and Savings Bank and Clark Cox, as Trustees, dated July 1, 1946, as last supplemented on November 1, 1949, and to be further supplemented by a third Supplemental Indenture, to be dated June 1, 1951.

Applicant proposes to apply the net proceeds received from the sale of the new bonds in part to the pyament of its unsecured promissory notes aggregating $2,400,000. to reimburse its treasury for capital expenditures previously made and, in part, to the payment of the cost of property additions during 1951, estimated in the amount of $3,610,000.

Applicant has filed an application with the Public Service Commission of Missouri regarding the proposed transactions.

The applicant has requested that the Commission's order herein issue on or before June 7, 1951, and be effective upon issuance.

By the Commission.

ECONOMIC STABILIZATION AGENCY

Office of Price Stabilization

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 29]

JANTZEN KNITTING MILLS, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Jantzen Knitting Mills, Inc., Jantzen Center, Portland 14, Oregon, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of men's, women's and children's swimming wear, sun clothes, sandals, tee shirts and sweaters manufactured by Jantzen Knitting Mills, Inc., having the brand name(s) "Jantzen" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Jantzen Knitting Mills, Inc., in its application dated March 28, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Jantzen Knitting Mills, Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $_____

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Jantzen Knitting Mills, Inc. must comply, as to each such article, with the pricketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$_____ per _____	{unit, dozen, etc.} $_____
Terms _____ (net or percent EOM, etc.)

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

MAY 28, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 30]

WEMBLEY, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Wembley, Inc., New Orleans 5, Louisiana, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of neckwear manufactured by Wembley, Inc., having the brand name(s) "Wembley" and "Wembley Nor-East" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Wembley, Inc., in its application dated March 19, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Wembley, Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $_____

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Wembley, Inc., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$_____ per _____	{unit, dozen, etc.} $_____
Terms _____ (net or percent EOM, etc.)

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 31]

ELIAS SAYOUR & CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Elias Sayour & Co., 31 East 31st St., New York 16, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of feminine lounging apparel manufactured by Elias Sayour & Co., having the brand name(s) "Saybury" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Elias Sayour & Co., in its application dated March 9, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Elias Sayour & Co., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Elias Sayour & Co., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$..... per	(unit, dozen, etc.
Terms ..... (net or percent EOM, etc.) $.....

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

ECUADORIAN PANAMA HAT CO., INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Ecuadorian Panama Hat Co., Inc., 297-303 Mercer Street, New York 3, New York, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of Ladies' and Men's Panama Hats manufactured by Ecuadorian Panama Hat Co., Inc. having the brand name(s) "Supernatural" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Ecuadorian Panama Hat Co., Inc., in its application dated April 5, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Ecuadorian Panama Hat Co., Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $--------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Ecuadorian Panama Hat Co., Inc., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$..... per	(unit, dozen, etc.
Terms ..... (net or percent EOM, etc.) $.....

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 36]

DUTCHESS UNDERWEAR CORP.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Dutchess Underwear Corporation, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of under garments manufactured by Dutchess Underwear Corporation, having the brand name(s) "Dutchess Individually Yours" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Dutchess Underwear Corporation in its application dated March 24, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Dutchess Underwear Corporation must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $--------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Dutchess Underwear Corporation, must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$------- per -------{unit, dozen, etc.}
Terms ------- (net or percent EOM, etc.) $-------|

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

SIMMONS CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Simmons Company, 230 Park Avenue, New York 17, N. Y., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of springs, mattresses, sofa-beds, living room furniture, studio couches, and studio divans, manufactured by Simmons Company having the brand name(s) "Simmons" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Simmons Company in its application dated March 15, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. (and supplemented and amended in the manufacturer's application dated March 22, 1951).

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Simmons Company must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $--------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Simmons Company must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1
$------- per -------{unit, dozen, etc.}
Terms ------- (net or percent EOM, etc.) $-------|

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is effected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months' period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months' period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months' period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Phillipps-Jones Corporation, must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

4. Within 15 days after the effective date of this special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of this special order to each purchaser for resale to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date, the manufacturer had delivered any article covered in paragraph 1 of this special order. The manufacturer shall annex to that order a notice, listing the cost and discount terms to retailers for each article covered by this order and the corresponding retail ceiling price fixed by this order for an article of that cost. The notice shall be in substantially the following form:

PHOENIX HOSIERY CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Phoenix Hosiery Co., Milwaukee 1, Wisconsin, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of men's and women's hosiery and men's ties manufactured by Phoenix Hosiery Co., having the brand name(s) "Phoenix" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Phoenix Hosiery Co., in its application dated March 8, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. (and supplemented and amended in the manufacturers application dated May 7, 1951).

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Phoenix Hosiery Co., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Phoenix Hosiery Co. must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1

$_____ per _____ {unit, dozen, etc.}
Terms _____ (net or percent EOM, etc.) $_____

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

[Ceiling Price Regulation 7, Section 43, Special Order 42]

THE DAYTON RUBBER CO.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, The Dayton Rubber Company, 2342 Riverview Ave., Dayton 1, Ohio, has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of pillows manufactured by The Dayton Rubber Company having the brand name(s) "Koolfoam", shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by The Dayton Rubber Company in its application dated April 17, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C.

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, The Dayton Rubber Company must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, The Dayton Rubber Company, must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1

$_____ per _____ {unit, dozen, etc.}
Terms _____ (net or percent EOM, etc.) $_____

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

MICHAEL V. DISALLE,
Director of Price Stabilization.

BATES FABRICS, INC.

CEILING PRICES AT RETAIL

Statement of considerations. In accordance with section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, the applicant named in the accompanying special order, Bates Fabrics, Inc., has applied to the Office of Price Stabilization for maximum resale prices for retail sales of certain of its articles. Applicant has submitted the information required under this section and has produced evidence which in the judgment of the Director indicates that the applicant has complied with other stated requirements.

The Director has determined on the basis of information available to him, including the data and certified conclusions of fact submitted by the applicant, that the retail ceiling prices requested and which are established by this special order are no higher than the level of ceiling prices under Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

The special order contains provisions requiring each article to be marked by the applicant with the retail ceiling price established by the accompanying special order. The applicant is required to send purchasers of the articles a copy of this special order, a notice listing retail ceiling prices for each cost line and, in specified cases, of subsequent amendments of this special order.

The special order also requires applicant to file with the Distribution Price Branch regular reports setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which applicant has delivered during the reporting period. This requirement conforms with the provisions of section 43, Ceiling Price Regulation 7.

Special provisions. For the reasons set forth in the statement of considerations and pursuant to section 43 of Ceiling Price Regulation 7, this special order is hereby issued.

1. The ceiling prices for sales after the effective date of this special order by any seller at retail of bedspreads manufactured by Bates Fabrics, Inc., having the brand name(s) "George Washington's Choice" shall be the proposed retail ceiling prices listed by Bates Fabrics, Inc., in its application dated April 6, 1951, and filed with the Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C. (and supplemented and amended in the manufacturers application dated April 27, 1951).

2. The retail ceiling price of an article fixed in paragraph 1 of this special order shall apply to any other article of the same type which is otherwise priceable under Ceiling Price Regulation 7 by retailers subject to that regulation, having the same selling price and terms of sale to the retailer, the same brand or company name and first sold by the manufacturer after the effective date of this special order.

3. On and after June 28, 1951, Bates Fabrics, Inc., must mark each article for which a ceiling price has been established in paragraph 1 of this special order with the retail ceiling price under this special order, or attach to the article a label, tag or ticket stating the retail ceiling price. This mark or statement must be in the following form:

OPS—Sec. 43—CPR 7
Price $------

On and after July 28, 1951, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is marked or tagged in the form stated above. Prior to July 28, 1951, unless the article is marked or tagged in this form, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

Upon issuance of any amendment to this special order which either adds an article to those already listed in the manufacturer's application or changes the retail ceiling price of a listed article, Bates Fabrics, Inc., must comply, as to each such article, with the preticketing requirements of this paragraph within 30 days after the effective date of the amendment. After 60 days from the effective date, no retailer may offer or sell the article unless it is ticketed in accordance with the requirements of this paragraph. Prior to the expiration of the 60-day period, unless the article is so ticketed, the retailer shall comply with the marking, tagging, and posting provisions of the regulation which would apply in the absence of this special order.

(Column 1)	(Column 2)
Our price to retailers	Retailer's ceilings for articles of cost listed in column 1

$_____ per _____ {unit, dozen, lot.}
Terms _____ (net or percent EOM, etc.) $_____

Copies shall be sent to all other purchasers on or before the date of the first delivery of any such article subsequent to the effective date of the special order, and shall be accompanied by copies of each amendment thereto (if any) issued prior to the date of the delivery. Within 15 days after the effective date of any subsequent amendment to the special order, the manufacturer shall send a copy of the amendment to each purchaser to whom, within two months immediately prior to the effective date of such amendment, the seller had delivered any article the sale of which is affected in any manner by the amendment.

5. Within 45 days of the expiration of the first 6 months period following the effective date of this special order and within 45 days of the expiration of each successive 6 months period, the manufacturer shall file with the Distribution Price Branch, Office of Price Stabilization, Washington 25, D. C., a report setting forth the number of units of each article covered by this special order which he has delivered in that 6 months period.

6. The provisions of this special order establish the ceiling price for sales at retail of the articles covered by it regardless of whether the seller is otherwise subject to Ceiling Price Regulation 7 or any other regulation.

7. This special order or any provision thereof may be revoked, suspended, or amended by the Director of Price Stabilization at any time.

8. The provisions of this special order are applicable to the United States and the District of Columbia.

Effective date. This special order shall become effective May 29, 1951.

CREDIT SUISSE

In re: Stock registered in the name of Credit Suisse, Zurich, Switzerland, and owned by persons whose names are unkown. F-63-60 (Zurich).

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: Those certain shares of stock described in Exhibit A, set forth below and by reference made a part hereof, registered in the name of Credit Suisse, together with all declared and unpaid dividends thereon, excepting from the foregoing, however, those shares of stock described in Exhibit A, together with all declared and unpaid dividends thereon, concerning which, on or prior to the effective date of this vesting order, the issuing corporation or its transfer agent in the United States has received a license or a copy of a license removing such property from the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or has been advised in writing by a banking institution in the United States of the removal of such restrictions and of the authorization therefor;

is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan. The term "banking institution" as used herein shall have the meaning prescribed in section 5F of Executive Order 8389, as amended.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 10, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

CREDIT SUISSE

In re: Accounts maintained in the name of Credit Suisse, Zurich, Switzerland, and owned by persons whose names are unknown. F–63–60 (Zurich).

Under the authority of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, Executive Orders 9193, as amended, 9788 and 9989, and pursuant to law, after investigation, it is hereby found:

1. That the property described as follows: All property, rights and interests in the accounts identified in Exhibit A set forth below and by reference made a part hereof, together with

(a) Any other property, rights and interests which represent accumulations or accruals to, changes in form of, or substitutions for, any of the property, rights and interests in said identified accounts on October 2, 1950, and which are now held in other accounts being maintained as blocked or otherwise subject to the restrictions of Executive Order 8389, as amended, or regulations, rulings, orders or instructions issued thereunder, and

(b) Any and all rights in, to and under any securities (including, without limitation, bonds, coupons, mortgage participation certificates, shares of stock, scrip and warrants) and any and all declared and unpaid dividends on any shares of stock, in any of said accounts,

excepting from the foregoing, however, all property, rights and interests which are expressly excluded in Exhibit A, and all lawful liens and setoffs of the respective institutions in the United States with whom the aforesaid accounts are maintained,

is property within the United States;

2. That the property described in subparagraph 1 hereof is owned or controlled by, payable or deliverable to, held on behalf of or on account of, or owing to, or is evidence of ownership or control by persons, names unknown, who, if individuals, there is reasonable cause to believe are residents of a designated enemy country and which, if partnerships, associations, corporations, or other organizations, there is reasonable cause to believe are organized under the laws of a designated enemy country or on or since the effective date of Executive Order 8389, as amended, have had their principal places of business in a designated enemy country;

3. That the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are nationals of a designated enemy country;

and it is hereby determined:

4. That to the extent that the persons referred to in subparagraph 2 hereof are not within a designated enemy country, the national interest of the United States requires that such persons be treated as nationals of a designated enemy country.

All determinations and all action required by law, including appropriate consultation and certification, having been made and taken, and, it being deemed necessary in the national interest,

There is hereby vested in the Attorney General of the United States the property described above, to be held, used, administered, liquidated, sold or otherwise dealt with in the interest of and for the benefit of the United States.

The terms "national" and "designated enemy country" as used herein shall have the meanings prescribed in section 10 of Executive Order 9193, as amended, and the term "designated enemy country" has reference to Germany or Japan.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 10, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

MARTIN LINDSAY AND HEDWIG BARTH

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO RETURN VESTED PROPERTY

Pursuant to section 32 (f) of the Trading With the Enemy Act, as amended, notice is hereby given of intention to return, on or after 30 days from the date of the publication hereof, the following property, subject to any increase or decrease resulting from the administration thereof prior to return, and after adequate provision for taxes and conservatory expenses:

Claimant, Claim Nos., Property, and Location

Martin Lindsay, Trustee u/w of Hedwig Barth, Chicago, Ill.; Claims Nos. 5578 and 5579; $46,187.81 in the Treasury of the United States.

Any return to be made in these cases will be made for the sole purpose of enabling Martin Lindsay, Trustee, to reconstitute the above-described property as part of the corpus of the trust presently being administered by him under the will of Redwig Barth, deceased, and under the judicial supervision of the County Court of Milwaukee County, Wisconsin. Reserved from any return and retained expressly in the Attorney General will be all the rights and interests in and to the property which were formerly owned by Helene von Bredow, Margrit Taege and Dorathea Schieckel and the issue, names unknown, of these persons.

Executed at Washington, D. C., on May 23, 1951.

For the Attorney General.

[SEAL] HAROLD I. BAYNTON,
Assistant Attorney General,
Director, Office of Alien Property.
